The American pork panic has reached Austria, and that nation has barred out the obnoxious meat. And all the while the American people are devouring ham and spareribs with impunity, and with no fear of the trichinosis and hog cholera which is agitating the European capitals. Either their alarm is groundless, or we are much tougher.—Portland Advertiser.

New Hampshire Items.

George B. Manser, the popular clerk of the Washington house at Seabrook, at the recent town meeting was elected a fire-ward, a fish and game warden, and fence-viewer.

Mr. Charles F. Stevens, of New Ipswich, has been appointed agent of the N. H. S. P. C. A. for his town and its vicinity.

The number of hawks killed in Seabrook last year was 539, the bounty on the same amounting to $71.80.

Political.

The Connecticut senate has passed a bill giving women the right to vote in school meetings, and making them eligible for election upon boards of education. No registration is required.

Gov. Plaisted of Maine has vetoed the act of the legislature incorporating the Casco bank, and in his veto message says: "I am not aware that the people of this state have petitioned the legislature for a return to the old system of state banks. I can not believe they are in favor of a banking system that has proved a vortex in which the fortunes of the people have been so mercilessly swallowed up." Gov. Plaisted is evidently not the worst man who could have been selected for the position he now holds.

Senator Blaine has been shut up in his Washington home with an attack of acute rheumatism. Which we wish to remark that rheumatism has done what no other man in either house of Congress could do.—Ex.

Mexican Society.

There exists no other society on the planet, not even in India, where there is more distinction of caste and class than is found in Mexico. On the Gulf coast, by consequence of the unfortunate amalgamation of the white and the Indian and the Chinese and the black races, there are said to exist at least a dozen separate classes of humanity, of different color, or at least of different characteristics. In the capital such is not the case. There are Castilians and Creoles, or children of Indian mothers and Spanish fathers, and full-blooded Indians. The Creoles are noted for their intelligence, their symmetry of form and feature, and their personal courage. Their complexion may be said to resemble that of the far-famed caballeros of Andalusia. The males are tall and shapely, while the ladies are generally very beautiful, are well formed, possess delicately molded hands and feet, and the most beautiful eyes of any of the human family. The belles of the south of France, of the mountains and plains of Spain, of the sierras and coasts of Portugal, and of the famous cities of Italy, must yield to their charming sisters of the Latin Republics in the beauty, shape, size and expression of the eyes. They are so exceedingly expressive, a glance from between their long fringes seem to melt into the very soul.

The term "Ojos Creollos," or Creole eyes, has become a proverb, while few, very few travellers from the hyperborean regions have returned from their Mexican tour heart whole, while very many who returned carried with them the holy balm for a wounded spirit. The better class of Mexicans are in the highest acceptance of the term, gentlemen. They are easy and unrestrained in their manners, and are extremely polished and polite. They are very intellectual and are invariably well educated; can speak several languages, perform on the piano and guitar, and are generally writers and poets, essayists and authors of ability. Indeed, it would be difficult to find a race that exhibits such singular paradoxes of genius.

The most celebrated mathematician and military engineer has written the most successful play. The most famous partisan officer of the war of the French invasion produced the most popular sentimental novel, while the greatest Mexican financier and political economist has given to the world the most touching and beautiful poem ever published in Latin America. Many of the younger authors, whose ages range between eighteen and twenty-five years, have acquired local reputations. Were they Americans or Europeans their names would be pronounced with respect and admiration throughout Christendom.

The Mexican ladies are exemplary wives, and fond and loving mothers. Their home to them is their entire world; their husbands the idols of their hearts, while their children are the angels which make their homes their heaven. Yet, strange to say, there is no word in the Spanish language that can express the idea conveyed in our dear old hearty Anglo-Saxon word "home." The nearest approach to it is found in hogar, which may be translated "hearthstone," or "hearth" simply. Yet, notwithstanding this, the ties of family are more binding in Mexican society than among any other race under heaven. The repentant outcast knows that he or she can always return to the friendly shelter of the family roof, where the prodigal son invariably finds the arms of the indulging and forgiving parent open to receive him, for among the Spanish Creoles, "blood is, indeed, thicker than water," and tears of affection which stream from a mother's eyes have often wiped away the stains on an erring daughter's reputation. In Latin countries one false step is not so often followed by a parent's curse, nor is the door shut to the return of one who may have, in the senseless parlance of society, irretrievably fallen.—New Orleans Democrat.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

Schooner Rover's Bride is to be new copped from her water line.

Steamer Pinafore came in from the Shoals on Friday. She is to have a new shaft put in.

Mr. Edward E. Shaw, the optician, is in town, and will fit glasses for those wishing. See advertisement.

The first dandelions of the season were exhibited in the window of a grocery store on Market street, Friday.

The schooner Christie Campbell has given up fishing in the bay, and will fit out for a trip to the western banks.

Messrs. John P. Sweetser and Charles H. Hayes left town on Friday for a brief trip to Baltimore and Washington, we learn.

An arrest was made on Friday of persons supposed to be connected with the stealing of fish from Messrs. Randall & Caswell's wharf on Wednesday night of this week.

On Wednesday of this week the schooner Cabot arrived at E. F. Sise & Co.'s wharf with 300 tons of coal, and the schooner Fannie Pike at C. E. Walker & Co.'s with 250 tons.

Fish are coming in slowly. The arrivals on Friday were the schooners Golden Eagle with 800 lbs.; Comet, 1200; Rover's Bride, 1000; Ev. Nichols, 3000; Grace Choate, 3700; small boats, 1500.

One of the plans which have been talked of by the projectors of the proposed new factory is a building 380 feet long, ninety-two feet wide, and five stories in height. The length of the former building was 200 feet.

Twenty-nine shares in the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad sold at the brokers' board in Boston on Friday at $115 per share; 126 shares in the Eastern railroad went at $88 each. Eastern railroad 4 1-2s brought 104 3-4.

Mr. William Ward is fitting up the store on Market street lately occupied by J. Howard Dodge, for a wholesale liquor store and rectifying establishment. His business office will also be in this store, and connected with his distillery by telephone.

The Newburyport Herald says "Pickpockets are doing a lively business on the Eastern railroad, despite the warning by the arrest of one of the thieves at Lynn. Alice Hammond of Danvers had her pocket picked of twenty dollars in the depot at Salem on the 15th inst."

Of special interest to the ladies is the advertisement in another column of the "Great Hair Sale" at No. 65 Congress street, M. E. Johnson's. A very large stock of goods in that line is always kept there, and the prices are greatly reduced. Hair nets for crimps, heavy puffs and extra-long switches are all sold at very low rates.

As yet, we have no news of the appointment of postmaster. There is evidently some trouble. It is a question in the minds of many which of the rival candidates is to be appointed.—Times, 18th.

Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., who was nominated on the 16th inst. for re-appointment as postmaster of this city, was confirmed by the Senate on the 18th.

The water in the artesian well at the Eastern depot was lowered eighteen inches by steady pumping from seven o'clock in the morning to four in the afternoon, Friday. This fall in the water was in the eight-inch pipe, and not in the original well, from which no water is now taken. The flow is abundant for the needs of the road, and the costly drilling operations will prove economical in the end.

"Dreydoppel's White Borax Soap," received the first prize medal at Paris, and Centennial exhibitions. Chas. E. Laighton & Son.

Mr. James McGill, employed in the freight yard of the Eastern railroad at Charlestown, Mass., was killed on Friday morning. He was ahead of the engine, and slipped, the engine going over him, and he died in two hours from his injuries. Mr. McGill was twenty years of age. He was recently employed at the Eastern railroad station in this city as a night shifter, and went to Boston two months ago. He was an exemplary young man, and much respected by those who knew him.

On the 16th of January last the barn of Samuel Haley of Epping was entered, and the wool of twenty-five sheep stolen. On Friday last Sheriff Kent went to Haverhill, Mass., and there arrested Alfred H. Walker of Durham, twenty-one years old, and a former employe of Haley's, for the theft. Walker confessed stealing the wool, which he sold at Sawyer's Mills, Dover. He was brought to this city and complained of before Judge Batchelder, pleaded guilty, and in default of sureties in $600 was put in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

THE GALLEY SLAVE.

Bartley Campbell's great play, the "Galley Slave," will be performed at Music hall on Monday evening. In all the requirements of a strong acting play the "Galley Slave" is acknowledged to be one of the best that a native writer has yet offered the American public. The characters in the piece are mainly Americans, but in order to secure the most picturesque background, the most forcible and impressive incidents, and a wide diversity of character, Mr. Campbell has laid the scene in Italy and France. This gives him many other advantages, most deftly turned to account. While the heroine of the piece is an American, the strongly marked character of the Italian model, Francesca Brabant, grasps the sympathies of the audience and divides the interest with the principal. The grouping of personages accidentally met in a foreign country is most happily and artistically handled, and the movement of the drama is enlarged to meet the variations of character and race proclivity.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Wentworth Lodge of Knights of Pythias, of Newcastle, was instituted at Pythian hall in this city on the evening of the 17th inst. by the following officers, composing the Grand Lodge of this state:

Past Grand Chancellor, Rufus B. Foss, of Farmington;
Grand Chancellor, F. W. McKinley, Manchester;
Grand Vice Chancellor, G. P. Appleton, Suncook;
Grand Master of Exchequer, L. K. Peacock, Concord;
Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, F. J. Pillsbury, Concord;
Grand Prelate, W. A. Fryr, Newmarket;
Grand Master at Arms, A. T. Pinkham, Dover;
Grand Inner Guard, F. G. Evans, Suncook;
Grand Outer Guard, C. A. Bagley, Nashua.

The following are the officers of the Wentworth Lodge:

P. C., William V. Meloon;
C. C., Jesse O. White;
V. C., Rufus A. Preble, Jr.;
P., Willard P. Yeaton;
M. of Ex., Charles Neal;
M. of F., Charles W. Cole;
K. of R. and S., Abbot H. Bickford;
M. at A., Benjamin F. Curtis;
I. G., Silas Harding;
O. G., Oliver K. Randall.

Members of the order were present from Dover, Newmarket, Farmington, Great Falls, Exeter, Manchester, Suncook, Concord and Franklin. Dana Z. Smith, of Salem, Mass., grand chancellor, and Francis A. Chase of Boston, grand keeper of records and seals of Massachusetts, were also present, and assisted during the work of the evening, which commenced at half-past seven o'clock. Afterward the knights to the number of over a hundred sat down to a choice supper, and this was followed by speeches, sentiments, etc., the festivities closing at three o'clock Friday morning. The new lodge was organized with twenty charter members, and took the title of Wentworth Lodge, No. 22.

The Wentworth Lodge have leased the building in Newcastle formerly occupied by Mr. Benjamin Curtis as a grocery store, and will add another story to it for their hall.

THE U. S. S. LANCASTER.

Work on the Lancaster is being dragged along at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H. The battery is to be breach-loading rifles, converted from old guns. The mechanical system of ventilation by aspiration is being fitted, and large rectangular air ports have been cut in the sides. The old two-bladed screw has been removed and a substantial four-bladed one substituted. New boilers have been put in and the old engines have given place to an engine built during the war. Great things are expected of the Lancaster, but let us tell you that she is the same old flat-bottomed, bluff-bowed model that she always was, and the new machinery was intended for sufficient power to drive the vessel eleven knots an hour. We refer you to the report of the secretary of the navy for 1875 for particulars.—Nautical Gazette.

Constructor Wilson has paid the strictest attention to the repairs made on this ship, and the work has been done in the most substantial manner, while the cost will be less than that of similar work done in other navy yards. The lines of the vessel have not been materially altered, excepting that she has been made sharper below her water lines both forward and aft, which no doubt will have a tendency to increase her speed, and she will average a fair rate with other vessels of the navy.

Work on this ship has been somewhat delayed owing to the lack of money to complete her, but within a short time the force in the department of construction and repair has been increased, and the work is now rapidly being pushed forward; and it is intended to have the ship ready to go in commission in August, when she will probably be ordered as flagship of the European squadron.

A CARD.

Mr. Editor: Having reference to the card of Drs. Parsons and Hall in your issue of the 17th inst., I wish to say a few words:

First, with regard to the medical examination. It is said that it was arranged without consultation with Dr. Donaldson and without his assent. That remark requires some explanation. While we were in doubt as to the cause of my sister's sickness, Dr. Donaldson proposed and urged that an examination should be made by some responsible physicians not hostile to him and unprejudiced in the matter, claiming that such an inquiry would exonerate him from any criminal act or illegal practice, and it was upon the day afterwards that our attorney decided to have an examination; and not previous to this time had any such action been spoken of by any other person except Dr. Donaldson. Therefore Dr. Donaldson had assented to such an examination as was had, and if a different selection of doctors had been made, the whole business would have been in full accord with his own plan. The public will decide whether the statement of my father and mother, that "the examination was made at the request of Dr. Donaldson," is substantially correct or not.

Now, with regard to the "inducement" clause of the card. We were induced to change our feelings towards Dr. Donaldson because we were informed by the board of examining physicians, represented by Dr. Hall, that there was no evidence that any crime had been committed. Dr. Hall told this to me, and gave it as the mutual decision of Dr. Parsons and himself. At my request he made the same statement to our attorney, and we supposed that, as far as the public was concerned, the matter was at an end.

Without having any reference to the card I will say here that the story being circulated that there was any payment or promise of money, or that we were influenced by any mercenary motives, to desist from any further proceedings against Dr. Donaldson, is simply a base lie.

Resuming reference again to the card, and to that part alluding to the state of my sister's mind, I will say that all the members of our family and several other people were fully aware of its unsettled condition for several days before Dr. Donaldson was informed of it. Dr. Hall was in attendance, and in commenting upon the case said "her trouble is more mental than physical." Therefore the statement that Dr. Donaldson was the first to advance the theory of insanity, falls to the ground.

In conclusion I will say that our family is fully satisfied that the material part of my sister's statement, upon which certain scandalous stories now prevalent in this city have been based, was made while she was in an unsound mental condition, and therefore has no foundation in fact.

The above-made statements are true. No man dares deny them. I have not dealt in cowardly insinuations, but have made my statements in positive language, knowing them to be indisputable. If this communication gives offence to any person or persons, I hope they will be manly enough to seek redress in a manner not wholly dishonorable.

I hope further that this will end all public controversy over a matter that never should have been discussed in the columns of a newspaper.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 18th, 1881.

[Note. Against what we then thought to be and now know to have been our better judgment, we were induced to allow the first reference to be made to this matter in our columns. Since then we have allowed all responsible interested persons who wished to make statements concerning it over their own signatures, to do so. If the public are not weary, we are; and we shall feel compelled to refuse any further communications on the subject, as no possible benefit to any of the parties concerned can result from a continued discussion.—Ed. Chronicle.]

Great Fire in Newburyport.

The alarm of fire shortly before one o'clock this morning was occasioned by a fire at Newburyport, aid having been asked from this city. The steamer Col. Sise was sent off with all speed, starting in less than fifteen minutes from the first stroke of the alarm bell. At two o'clock three cotton mills were reported to be in flames—the Ocean (two) and Bartlett.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Concord, N. H., Patriot.

—A newspaper called the Anon has just been started. The publisher announces that it "will be published either occasionally or semi-occasionally, according to the demand which may show itself for paper to kindle fires, and scallop for pantry shelves. Its aims, like its price, will be high."

18 Negroes!

Who left the United States for Liberia last year, have lately returned, being unable to stand the climate. Everybody going to a new climate should have a bottle of Sulphur Bitters with them as a safeguard against disease.—Hartford Courant.

—The merciful man is merciful to his beast. "You can tell a merciful farmer," says the Detroit Free Press, "as soon as he stops his team at a post. He takes the blanket off his wife's lap and spreads it over the poor horses."

In certain cases of sickness it is important to obtain pure Whiskey. Such is the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon," bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston. Ask your druggist or grocer for it.

—Frederick Marriott, a San Francisco editor, has invented a flying machine. It is only by some such scheme as this that an editor can ever get away from the town where he lives as long as the bloated monopolies that control railroads are permitted to charge fare.—Chicago Journal.

GREENBURG, Pa., Jan. 20th, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS:

Dear Sir: Allow me to inform you that I have used Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites during the last four or five years in cases of consumption, and other lung and throat diseases, with the most gratifying results. D. A. ARTER, M. D.

—A poor memory is a very inconvenient thing. So a man found it who lately called on a friend, and in the course of the conversation asked him how his good father was. "He is dead; did you know it?" answered the friend. "Indeed! I am distressed to hear it," said the visitor. "I had no idea of it;" and he proceeded to express his sympathy. A year after he called again and forgetfully asked, "And how is your good father?" The reply was, "Still dead."

Delay is dangerous. Do not longer cling to the old method of curing coughs and colds with rum and molasses, it is a dangerous remedy. Adamson's Botanic Balsam is a sure cure every time, pleasant to take and works like charm.

—A famous New York physician observes: "You can double your circulation by washing the feet with cold water before going to bed at night and after getting up in the morning." This is a highly important discovery for newspaper proprietors.

My mother resides at Lansing, Mich. Two years ago she was attacked with dyspepsia, became reduced from 160 to 110 pounds. The doctors gave her up to die. Three bottles D. R. W. G. has cured her; you are at liberty to use my name for benefit of others. L. D. Bruce, Syracuse, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will be pleased to recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, his room is are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured, give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret in no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch Office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Why suffer with Pain, with that terrible headache? What makes us feel so miserable? Our nervous system is out of order, our blood is impure, our liver is torpid, our bowels are all out of order, and we need a good cathartic to assist nature to expel the disease which causes pain. The Eight Hour Law.

For years the employes on the various navy yards have been compelled to give ten work for a day's work, in defiance of the act of Congress establishing eight hours as a day's work, which law has never been repealed nor modified, but has been simply disregarded by the navy department officials, who have thus placed themselves above the law-making power of the nation. The Washington despatches of the 18th inst. said:

A delegation of employes of the Brooklyn, League island, Boston and Washington navy yards called upon the President, to-day, to request the enforcement of the eight-hour law in the various navy yards. Representative Dezendorf of Virginia introduced the delegation to the President, and stated that the navy department under Secretary Thompson was the only department under the government in which the eight-hour law has not been enforced. President Garfield said he would give give the matter careful consideration.

Whether the eight-hour law is a sensible and proper law, or not, has nothing to do with the question; it is the law, notwithstanding the high-handed manner in which Thompson set it aside, to the disgrace of the Congresses that permitted such an arbitrary abuse of official position. If the law is bad, repeal it; but so long as it remains a law, let not the highest officials of the government deliberately violate it.

The Newburyport Fire.

The fire at Newburyport, though not so disastrous as reported, was bad enough, the Bartlett mills being destroyed. The fire caught in the picker room at about eleven o'clock, and the three-story stone building in which it was located, and the mills No. 1 and 2, were all burned before the fire was got under control. The loss is variously estimated at from $300,000 to over $500,000, and the insurance amounts to $260,000. No. 1 mill was one of the first cotton factories erected in the United States, having been built in 1836; No. 2 was built in 1839. Over 500 people are thrown out of employment by this fire.

New Hampshire Items.

At the law term of the supreme court at Concord on Friday last, it was decided, in the case of the Franklin street church at Manchester, that the law taxing churches on the value over $10,000 is constitutional.

John Plumer Dow, a market gardener at Seabrook depot, early in the winter had two hundred barrels of hand-picked apples, extra No. 1's, frozen; he is now making cider of them.

A. Hunton, a United States & Canada express messenger, fell from the train near Goff's Falls, Friday, and was fatally injured. His home was at White River Junction.

The boiler house and boiler of the Mica Mining company of North Groton were totally destroyed on Thursday night last by the explosion of 100 pounds of rend-rock, which was stored there. The cause of the explosion is unknown. No person was injured.

The special freight train over the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, bound south, Thursday night, had a car loaded with charcoal, fresh the day before. It was discovered to be on fire. The train continued to Bath, where it was obliged to stop. The car burned down, and trains were unable to pass until a new track was laid.

Wallace Clark of Nashua, a brakeman on the Worcester & Nashua railroad, was knocked down upon his train by a bridge between Groton and Ayer Junction, Mass., Friday, and received injuries that resulted fatally.

At a concert in Mousam hall, Kennebunk, one evening last week, Miss Cora L. Hill of Dover, N. H., "made an impression most creditable to her abilities as an elocutionist. All her selections were read in a clear, round, musical voice, and her audience showed their appreciation."

News and Notes.

An inquest in Providence, R. I., in the case of Mrs. Mary Head, developed the fact that she was poisoned by belladonna put up instead of extract of butternut by Michael W. Lonnegan, clerk in Handy's drug store. The jury returned a verdict of gross negligence.

James Bennett of Markland, Ind., aged eighteen years, was shot and killed by Thomas Hastie, of the same age, last week. They had quarrelled the day before.

Nicholas Fish, American charge at Berne, Switzerland, informs the state department officially that the Swiss local authorities are transporting large numbers of decrepit, idiotic and criminal classes in that country to the United States. It costs $19.80 a year to maintain a Swiss pauper at home, and $33.68 to transport him to the United States and thus get rid of him permanently. Mr. Fish shows by official tables that the proportion of criminals and paupers receiving support in this country is greater among the foreign than the native population, and greatest among the Swiss immigrants. He recommends legislation by Congress to protect the country against "the evils and dangers of assisted emigration."

Edward Lolley and Frederick Fernald were before the police court on Saturday, charged with burglarizing a building on Randall & Caswell's fish wharf, and stealing $15 worth of fish therefrom. They pleaded guilty, and were bound over in the sum of $800 each for their appearance at the April term of the supreme court at Exeter. It is believed that other and older criminals are implicated, and they had better look out that they are not brought up with a round turn.

Charles Bryant on Tuesday night of last week was sitting with other boys in an old coach near the depot at Olney, Ill., when Sam McQuillen, a notorious desperado, fired at the boys with a revolver. Bryant returned the fire, killing McQuillen. He was held in $500 to answer. Friday, the people rejoicing in the death of McQuillen.

It is now intimated that the infernal machine found near the Lord Mayor's mansion in London was put there by the police,—a regular "put up job."

The notorious characters known as "Red" Leary, Billy Connors and "Shang" Draper, who were arrested in New York and taken to Northampton, Mass., as the robbers of the Northamptoa bank in 1876, were discharged from custody on Friday, the grand jury failing to find a bill against them. The man Edson, who turned state's evidence, and whose testimony convicted Scott and Dunlap, now in the state prison, and indicted these very men four years ago, had "forgotten," and there was no evidence to hold them. A New York despatch says the whole proceedings were a farce.

The London Times correspondent at Berlin repeats the statement that the assassination of the Czar was instigated by the International Society, which has for its watchword "The murder of monarchs and the overthrow of governments."

Political.

The Maine legislature adjourned sine die last Friday evening, after a session of seventy-three days.

John Kelly's New York Star says the Morey mystery, which proved a fitting climax to a campaign of mismanagement and treachery, will be disclosed in such a manner as to necessitate the permanent retirement from political life of more than one statesman who has hitherto played a prominent part in democratic councils.

People who talk about Secretary Kirkwood being an "obsure man" are wide of the mark. He was three times governor of Iowa, seventeen years in the two houses of Congress, and appointed to minister to Denmark by President Lincoln.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, has written home a letter strongly opposing prohibitory liquor laws, saying that no democratic legislature has ever passed one, and no democratic state now has one. The senator is posted in the traditions of his party.

Speaker Randall is the same sort of a democrat that he always was—in favor of retrenchment and economy in his stump speeches, and solid against both in the House.—Tribune.

Type Work of a Newspaper.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle, in an article on "How Mistakes Happen in Newspapers," figures up the number of type used in a newspaper the size of the Eagle, at 600,000—that is, the actual number of bits of metal arranged every issue, in preparing a newspaper of that size for the press. We suppose few people think of the printing trade as one of the most exact and particular of the handicrafts; but it is. In making type, variations that might be allowed in the finest machinery would render the type useless. It is very rarely that type furnished by two separate foundries can be used together without a great deal of trouble, though they try to make it after the same standard. We read once in a while of a wonderful piece of cabinet work or mosaic work, containing ten, twenty, or fifty thousand pieces, the maker of which has spent months or even years of labor in producing it, and the people go to see it as a curiosity; but the most elaborate and carefully fitted piece of work of this kind ever made does not compare with that which the printer does, every day, for minuteness of detail and accuracy of fitting. The man who does the first is looked upon as a marvel of skill; and if a hundred of his pieces are put in wrong side up or turned the wrong way, it is not noticed in the general effect, but if the printer in fitting ten times as many pieces together in a single day puts one where another should be or turns one the wrong way, everybody sees it, and is amazed at the "stupid carelessness of those printers."

FELLOWS'
Compound
SYRUP OF
HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Sprup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

The steamer "Williamsport" again arrived on the 19th inst., with a cargo of fresh-mined coal for J. Albert Walker, at Portsmouth coal-pockets.

The mania for collecting business cards is in full force. One young man in this city has twenty-five hundred, and there are several who have a thousand and upwards.

We have put in a stock of "Dreydoppel's Famous White Borax Soap," which we unreservedly recommend as the cheapest and best soap for general use. Chas. E. Laighton & Son.

The last of the barkentine Henry Norwell's cargo of cotton was discharged on Saturday. One hundred and twenty-four bales were transferred from the vessel to the cars in an hour, in the afternoon of that day.

Sheriff Kent last week sold one of his pure-bred Scotch collie pups to a Boston gentleman for $25, and disposed of two others to residents of this city. That alleged hydrophobia-mine, the Spitz, is rapidly being superceded as a fashionable pet by the gentle and intelligent shepherd's dog.

Rev. A. A. Waite on the evening of the 16th inst. gave an exposure of spiritualism at South Seabrook, to a large audience; or, rather, he gave a very entertaining sleight-of-hand performance. Elder Flagg, Mr. Waite's father-in-law, was announced to preach in Seabrook on the 20th.

Capt. Garland, of the schooner Hattie Lewis, and Mr. Cyrus Frink, of Newington, gave a party in the town hall at Newington on Thursday evening of last week, to signalize the opening of up-river navigation. There were twenty-five couples on the floor when the dancing commenced, the music being furnished by Turner's band of this city. The party broke up at one o'clock Friday morning.

The postal box at the Eastern railroad depot might be a great convenience if properly attended to, but as it is at present managed, it is exceedingly doubtful when letters deposited in it for the night trains will ever reach their destinations. For instance, letters thereto dropped on Tuesday of last week, for Boston, were not received at the post-office there until Friday. And this is not the only case of neglect which has come within the observation of citizens here. It is apparent that the box should be attended to; else removed entirely by the post-office department authorities, whoever they may be, so that the people may not be further deceived. MAILER.

A deputy sheriff went from this city to Seabrook on Friday to serve writs on the town clerk and the chairman of the board of selectmen, in the case of Charles A. Barton vs. the town, to recover the value of a horse which broke a leg on the highway, and had to be killed. The case is peculiar, from the fact that Barton, at the time of the accident to the horse, was highway surveyor of the district in which the accident occurred, and the citizens object to paying for what they claim was the result of Mr. Barton's own neglect of duty.

The razor clam seems to be the favorite bait for fishing. Large quantities are procured from the flats of Parker river, Mass., and are shipped from Newburyport to this city. Cape Cod furnishes a large supply of these peculiar-shaped clams—they are similar in form to a razor-handle—and they are caught in a queer manner on the cape. The clam-hunter walks along the beach at low tide, carrying a tea-kettle filled with very strong brine, and when he sees a razor-clam's hole pours into it a little of the fluid, on which the clam immediately bobs to the surface, and is picked up. This little game has been tried on the Parker river clam, but it does not work at all; on the Parker river flats the clam-digger must dig, else he don't get a clam.

Peter Newton and Elvin Newton, Jr., last week bought all the surplus herring in the port, not required for bait by the fishermen, and took them to Canada.

To Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, Agents Travelers Insurance Co.: I beg to acknowledge through your agency the receipt of a cheque for $142.86 for loss of time by reason of falling on the ice last January, and please accept my thanks for the prompt manner in which my claim was settled. THOMAS E. CALL.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 17, 1881.

Sol Smith Russell will appear at Music hall on Wednesday evening, in "Edgewood Folks." Of the play the Philadelphia Times says: "Mr. Russell has got hold of a comedy thoroughly American in subject and treatment, and abounding in well-drawn characters, interesting incidents, and entertaining if not brilliant dialogue. His own part, that of 'Tom Dilloway,' is admirably adapted for the display of his unusual talents, and is nightly provocative of shouts of laughter; but contrary to the rule in regard to plays made to order, the leading character is not all there is in the piece. There are three or four characters equally well defined, and each contributing its share to the action of the play and the pleasure of the audience."

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, March 18; Batchelder, J.

Alfred H. Walker, of Durham, was complained of for breaking and entering a building in Epping belonging to Samuel Haley, and stealing a quantity of wool therefrom. Plea, "guilty." Held in $600 to await the action of the grand jury. Jail in default of sureties.

SATURDAY, Mch. 19; Batchelder, J.

Edward Lolley and Frederick Fernald; charge, breaking and entering Randall & Caswell's fish house, and stealing fish; plea "guilty." Bound over in the sum of $800 each to answer before a higher court. Jail in default.

Charles Foster, Wilbur Gilbert and John Harvey, three drunks, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs. Foster paid up, and the other two were ordered to the county farm.

THE GALLEY SLAVE.

The Newburyport Herald of last Friday says:

City Hall was fairly filled last evening, but if the theatre lovers of this city had known of the play to be presented better than they did, it would have been crowded. The "Galley Slave" is one of the finest of modern dramas. Its author, Bartley Campbell, has in it produced his best, so far. The plot is strongly drawn, the characters are evenly distributed, the interest never flags, the situations are intense, and the lines abound in sentiment and study. It was presented last night in a fine manner. The company is a good one, far above the average of companies on the road, and contains no dead wood. It would be invidious to praise any one part; they were all, with possibly one exception, well taken and sustained throughout. The audience were delighted with play and players, and both would be sure of hearty welcome should they come to Newburyport again.

This play, which is certainly one of the best that our citizens will see here this season, will be performed at Music hall to-night. See advertisement.

WRECK.

The fishing schooner Vanguard, of Gloucester, while trying to make this port on Saturday night with a fare of 10,000 lbs. of cod-fish from Ipswich bay, was driven by the gale upon Old Aaron's ledge, off Little Boar's head, Rye, at about nine o'clock, and became a total wreck, the jib and mainsail only being saved. The crew reached the shore in safety. Vessel insured.

"WE STAND CORRECTED."

Under the above heading, in the Times of the 17th inst., the brilliant man-of-the-world and experienced journalist who runs the "local" of that paper undertook to improve the editing of the CHRONICLE. His first attempt was on an item about a coach, as follows:

> A big coach, patterned after the old-fashioned stage coaches of the long ago, arrived in this city by one of the morning trains on the 16th inst. It is to run between this city and the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle during the season of summer travel.

Now we didn't suppose that there was a person in Portsmouth who could not tell a new coach when they saw it, but it seems that not one of the whole posse of the CHRONICLE's twenty-seven regular local correspondents, from the lawyer editor down, recognized in the above coach the one which has conveyed passengers to and from the Wentworth during the last two years. The fact is the coach was sent to some of the carriage shops in Concord to be repaired and repainted, and just arrived home when some one of the CHRONICLE's minions saw it. It must have been I. Nelson, who is said to have recently lost the use of one of his organs of sight.

"The fact is," to quote our brother's vigorous expression, that we said not a word about the coach being either new or old; and that instead of its having "just arrived home from Concord" when the keen-eyed Times man saw it, as he asserted in his "correction," it was then on its way to Concord to be overhauled! As to the contemptible fling at a man's physical calamity—such a performance may pass for wit in a barn-yard, but the respectable fishermen and coal-heavers of a seaport possess too much manhood to so regard it.

Again, our amiable and accomplished brother "goes for" an item concerning the postmastership:

> The telegraph informs us that Postmaster Peirce was nominated for re-appointment on Wednesday.

It isn't at all likely that the CHRONICLE could make a blunder, but the dispatches to the Boston papers say that Postmaster Peirce's name was to be sent to the Senate to-day, the 17th.

We agree with our beloved brother on this. We did not assert that "Postmaster Peirce was nominated on Wednesday," but that the telegraph so informed us; and it was not at all likely that we "could make a blunder" on that point, when at the time of writing the item we had in our vest pocket the telegram conveying the information. Our item was correct, independent of the actual facts concerning the nomination. [By the way, the Times had not learned up to Saturday night of Mr. Peirce's nomination and confirmation, the latter of which events occurred on the 18th inst.]

Our esteemed brother closes his article with an offer to do a little long-range editing for us right along, provided we will reciprocate. This generous offer we feel compelled to decline, as it takes all our time and ability to conduct one paper; the men are few indeed who, like our honored brother the "local" of the Times, can run two.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Harper's Magazine for April contains a fine illustration, with a sketch, of Salisbury cathedral; the Green mountains in haying time; Indian education at Hampden and Carlisle; Italian life in New York; an interesting pictorial description of Milwaukee; and a great variety of entertaining matter. Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., maintains ably and practically the assertion that "life assurance does assure." Regarding the prevalent organizations which seek to substitute their plans for reliable, firm and solvent assurance, the doctor says:

> The new system, which is really but the renewal of a discarded experience of the old, is assurance by assessments among survivors in a joint association. In many of the states the Insurance Commissioners have already pronounced both its fallaciousness and its doom, Such expert testimony of men to whose impartiality great commonwealths have confided the oversight of all companies dealing in technical insurance, will have great weight with practical men. Examination will show that such written policies do not profess to insure, but only promise that a contribution, not exceeding a certain sum, shall be solicited. As there is no contract for a definite amount, and no reserve fund from which the matured claim could be drawn, it follows that so far from developing prudence, this system tends to pauperize its associates. The payment of the assessment has been by the Circuit Court of the United States held to be purely optional and incapable of enforcement by the company. Whatever is paid to the family of a deceased member of such a society must be credited to charity and supposed self-interest, not to justice.
> That man is to be congratulated who, having been drawn into the net of this theory, has escaped; and after paying his contributions during a series of years, has allowed his policy to lapse, and counted his new wisdom a sufficient surrender value. There can be no security for any one in such a system. It is a scheme which not only does not, but can not insure.
>
> In judging of any company, the order of criticism should be first, the character of the men managing its affairs; second, the safeguards of the system accepted by them; third, the fact that it is firmly established, having successfully surmounted the diseases incident to youth; and fourth, the relation of its resources to its liabilities. These are the facts with which life-insurance agents deal. They have a merchandise for sale. In this aspect of their dual office they are "drummers" for trade. The policy is a contract enforcable by law, but dependent, perhaps more than any other into which we enter, upon the integrity of the men with whom we covenant. The bargain is fair if we make it. Dry goods, food and insurance are worth their market price to the purchaser. What avails it to tell the buyer that the seller is either making or losing money by the operation? If he wants the fabric or provision, he must and he will pay the price. It is equally foreign to the argument to urge upon him, after he has paid his money, that the seller has paid large commissions to his drummers, clerks, porters, besides an enormous salary to himself, and that he has such facilities to loan money that he has been able to command a higher rate of interest than is ruling generally. In the face of all such counsels, purchasers and policy-holders will, year after year, return to the old stand, if they are satisfied with the commodity, until they come to be called customers.

This number of the magazine has a variety wherefrom every one can obtain enjoyment to a greater or less degree.

Mother Shipton.

A solemn-faced individual approached us the other day with the well-worn inquiry of what we thought as regards Mother Shipton's prophecy and the dire predictions for the year we've just entered. If any more of our enemies have any problems that they would like elucidated, please hand them in early. The last time we saw mother Shipton was about two hundred years ago. She was standing in front of her cabin and surveying the heavens through a black bottle. Whether the survey brought the spiritual inspiration, or whether it was a midsummer night's dream, induced by a too frequent libation of astronomical science, we are not disposed to decide. Mother Shipton is a friend of ours, and we don't care to reveal any secrets that might cause a coolness in our relations. As to the planets that are all approaching the sun with a pair-of-heels-on to kick our "life-boat" of an earth into smithereens, it will be well enough to dodge when we see them coming. In the mean time the world is full of honest, earnest work. There are poor souls to be comforted and dark homes to be lighted. The roadway of life has plenty of room for a noble, generous, God-fearing man. One who is not timidly eyeing God's providences to find some flaw, nor looking through dyspeptic goggles to prophesy the end, but who, lifting his head into the sunlight of faith that the Creator of our universe is abundantly able to master his creation without human aid, does the work which comes to him, faithfully, and gives many a lift to some fellow wayfarer struggling beneath his load. In the midst of the roar of angry seas, amid the ocean's wild carnival of death, the sailor performs his allotted task like the fearless hero he is. We all have our life-boats launched. Man then true to the nobler instincts. Be open, be true, be generous, be brave, and leave to coward hearts the white-livered prophecies.—Ex.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE
Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,
WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that pecunious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost every one.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office, 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1881.

Maine Central Railroad.

The report of the directors of the Maine Central railroad, to be presented to the stockholders on the 23d inst., is issued.

President Jackson discusses the tax question under the state laws of 1881, and appropriately refers to the death of the late John B. Brown, who for many years had been a director in the company.

The gross earnings have been	$1,726,712.74
Expenses	1,067,148.76
Net	$659,564.08
Interest and rent of road,	624,072.48
Surplus,	$34,491.60

The directors say, "Thanks to the careful and vigilant watchfulness of the superintendent (Payson Tucker, Esq.,) the trains have been run with great regularly and without serious accident, and this too during a winter of unusual severity, which has taxed to the utmost the roadway and rolling stock." The report is accompanied by statistical tables showing in distail the operations of the road.

The Murder of the Czar.

The preliminary judicial inquiry into the murder of the Czar was concluded at St. Petersburg on the 19th inst., and minutes handed to Procurator Murarieff, who will be one of the state prosecuters before the special tribunal appointed to try the accused. The persons to be tried before this tribunal are Nicolai Rousakoff, who confesses he threw one of the bombs; Andrei Telejkoff, arrested on March 11th, who confesses he participated in the preparations for the murder; Timofei Michaeloff, who on his arrest at Roussakoff's domicile resisted and shot a policeman; and lastly, a woman named Hesse Helfmann, charged with being an accomplice of Navrotzky, who committed suicide when the police entered his house.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says: The man and woman who kept the shop where the mine was discovered, near the residence of the new emperor, have been arrested at Cronstadt.

News and Notes.

The remarkably severe storms that have visited the west this season, were supplemented Saturday by the worst of all. The whole upper Mississippi Valley was literally buried in slush, the snow being heavy and accompanied by a severe gale. For the first time this winter all the street car companies of Chicago abandoned their lines. Business was almost entirely suspended. Throughout Wisconsin the snow drifted badly, and railway traffic was interrupted. The storm was not very severe in the extreme north, but extended west as far as Omaha, south to St. Louis and Kansas City, and east as far as central Ohio. It is feared that the crops will be greatly damaged. Heavy and unusual rains have fallen in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. There are dangerous floods in all the Georgia rivers, and also in Tennessee.

The body of an unknown man, supposed to be a horse thief, was found Saturday in Howard Valley, Texas, hanging by the neck and containing nine bullet holes.

Marino Liba, instigator of the murder of Col. Potter in New Mexico, has been captured, and is on the way to Albuquerque.

A portable boiler in Tyler N. Harrod's sawmill on the Kentucky river, two miles below Frankfort, exploded Saturday, killing three men and wounding five.

Last Friday night a passenger train from Longview to Palestine, Texas, collided with a freight train loaded with railroad iron, six miles north of Palestine. James E. Bond, express messenger, was killed, and eleven persons were injured.

David Smith of Huntington, L. I., has been missing from home since the 23d ult., and is believed to have committed suicide. He was to have been tried on Tuesday of last week for arson. His father, one of his bondsmen, committed suicide on Wednesday of last week by hanging.

A shooting-match between Dr. Carver, the American champion rifle shot, and Mr. Scott, an English marksman, for £600, was begun at the Aquarium in Westminster, Eng., on the 9th inst., and concluded on the 20th. The terms were for each contestant to shoot at 1000 glass balls each evening, the balls being thrown into the air from traps, rifles being the weapons used. The match closed with Scott's score at 9735, and Carver's 9737, the American winning by two balls.

Solon Chase's famous steers are to be butchered by a firm at Auburn, Me., who will cut their carcasses into steaks and roasts. Solon is now in the west butchering the King's English in the interest of greenbackism.

The Spanish government in Cuba has unearthed gigantic frands, amounting to $3,000,000, in the civil service, and $15,000,000 more, which has been misappropriated. Several high functionaries have been arrested in Havana and Matanzas. Others are implicated, but have fled.

At a meeting of the New York World's Fair executive committee, Saturday, additional subscriptions were announced to bring the sum up to a million dollars. No communication was received from Gen. Grant.

David Nevins, principal owner of the Pemberton mills at Lawrence, Mass., and of the Methuen jute mills, died suddenly at Lawrence on Saturday, at the age of seventy-three years.

Louise Sylvan, alias Sophy Lyons, alias various other names, the notorious confidence woman and blackmailer who some years since caused a Boston lawyer's name to come very prominently before the public, was arrested in Detroit, Mich., Friday, for attempting to shoot a gentleman whom she charges with being the father of her child.

Nathaniel Harris, of Ipswich, Mass., had a house burned in 1860. He had some time previously taken out a policy of insurance running five years, but made no claim for insurance, thinking his policy covered but four years, and had expired. Recently he discovered the error and presented his claim, which the company after due examination honored, although not legally bound to do so.

The Newburyport Herald of Monday says the board of directors of the Bartlett mills held an informal meeting in Boston on Saturday, and were unanimously of opinion that the mill should be immediately rebuilt. The number of hands turned adrift by the fire is 270. The flames broke out among the ruins several times, during Saturday and Sunday, and portions of the walls fell at intervals. The Herald office was within fifty feet of one of the burning mills, but the staff and compositors stuck to their posts through all the din and suffocating heat, and got the paper out on time the morning after the conflagration.

Rev. Mr. Green, rector of Miles Platting, Eng., has been arrested for contempt of court in continuing ritualistic practices, and has been incarcerated in Lancaster jail.

In Madrid, Spain, several petards were exploded Saturday night, in the streets. It is supposed they were directed against the prefect of police, who recently closed the gambling houses.

Naval Affairs.

The Tennessee arrived at Key West on the 17th inst.

The Trenton and Wyoming arrived at Leghorn on the 6th. The Quinnebang was to have sailed from Villefranche on the 10th, for Lisbon and intermediate ports. The Nipsic was at Villefranche on the 2d, and the Galena was at Smyrna on the same date. The health of the squadron was excellent.

New Hampshire Items.

Leonard L. Stebbins, an eleven years old son of John Stebbins of Winchester, hung himself Sunday night. He fastened a chain around a beam in the barn and swung himself off. He was a very bright, active young lad.

The citizens of Plymouth have formed a temperance league, and appointed a prosecuting committee to proceed against the liquor sellers. Special police will be detailed to assist the committee.

The celebrated suit of the Enfield Shakers, which has been in the courts for sixteen years, has resulted in a final decision against the Shakers. Judgment in $15,000 was ordered for the plaintiffs. The whole cost to the Shakers will be $20,000.

David L. Ramsbottom of Epping was arrested last Saturday, charged with forging the name of Ezra F. Barber to a note for $150, dated May 13th, 1876. Ramsbottom got the note discounted at the Newmarket national bank at that time, and was soon after arrested, but the matter it is said was compromised by payment of the note and costs. It is alleged that recent personal difficulties have again brought the matter to the surface.

Elder H. K. Flagg on Monday evening commenced a series of revival meetings in Newburyport. Mr. Flagg years ago kept store in Newbury, was a well known politician in that section during the Know Nothing times, is proprietor of "Flagg's Instant Relief," and is a preacher and revivalist of forty years' experience. His daughter is the wife of Rev. Arthur A. Waite.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Parlor Varieties." This book is a series of plays, pantomimes and charades, prepared by Emma E. Brewster for parlor amusements, giving seventeen different kinds of entertainments, all new, lively and adapted for parlor theatricals. It is sold at fifty cents, and those who seek a new set of plays, etc., for this kind of enjoyment will pronounce the volume well worth the money. Boston; published by Lee & Shephard; for sale by M. Goodrich.

"Motherhood: a poem;" Boston; Lee & Shephard. This little volume is artistically produced, with neat tailpieces, red border and gilt edges, and is sold at Goodrich's store at $1.50. The author preserves her incognito. It is a womanly portrayal of the hopes, fears, anticipation, joys and sorrows of maternity. The book will be prized to a no small degree by the few who are capable of appreciating its pictures drawn so closely after life, and it shows a spirit of devotion coupled with a motherly purity which is sweet to behold.

The "Atlantic Monthly" for April is the last number under the editorship of Mr. Howells. The new editor, Mr. Aldrich, will take charge of the May number. The present number has a good variety of contents. "The portrait of a lady," by H. James, Jr., is continued, as is Miss Phelps' "Friends, a duet," James Parton writes of Vallaire. Major Poore's Washington reminiscences are not up to the standard of the preceding papers. The Contributors' Club has much of interest, and book-notices are as usual interesting and instructive. The poetry is by Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton and Rose Terry Cooke.

Senator Mahone's Leanness.

Senator Mahone, of Virginia, is a very thin man. The following story is told of him: During the war, while in command of a division of Confederates, he had the misfortune to be wounded, but not seriously. An acquaintance about to visit Richmond was requested to call upon the general's wife, for the purpose of relieving any anxiety she might feel by explaining the nature and extent of his injury. Colonel —— called at the lady's house, and, as report goes, found her in tears, she having already received the news of her husband's injury by telegraph. The officer attempted to reassure her by saying that the general would be on duty in a few days, but without avail.

"Why, madam," he expostulated, "you ought not to give yourself so much concern. He received only a flesh wound; no bones were injured."

"Ah, colonel, she sobbed, "you don't know th'—the general as well as I—I do, or you wouldn't tell m'—me he could be shot wounded without strik'—striking a bone!"

BURNETT'S COCOAINE FOR LOSS OF HAIR.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11, 1880.

Three years ago my hair was coming out very fast, and I was nearly bald. I was also troubled with dandruff. I began using BURNETT'S COCOAINE, and my hair immediately stopped coming out, and has constantly been getting thicker. My head is now entirely free from dandruff. My wife has used the COCOAINE with equally as gratifying results. P. T. PLATT, with F. MacVeagh & Co.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are the purest fruit flavors.

FELLOWS'

Compound

SYRUP OF

HYPO PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most lavetorate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Sprup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

Messrs. John Sise and Andrew P. Preston arrived home on Monday from their trip to Havana and Gulf ports.

The fishing schooner Christie Campbell sailed from this port for Gloucester on Monday, to go on the railway at that place.

The wharf thieves are again on the rampage. The fishing schooner Breeze had some trawl anchors stolen from her on Saturday.

Mr. Joshua M. Vaughan started out on his regular trip through York county, Monday, with a very lightly-laden bread-cart, the roads not being in a condition to warrant his taking out the usual quantity.

Mrs. James Greenwood, whose husband lost his life in the burning of the Kearsarge mill, has entered suit against the corporation to recover $10,000 damages, the papers having been served on Monday.

Frank Cook and Clarence Caswell came in from the Shoals on Sunday in a wherry with eight hundred pounds of fish. It proved rather a hazardous trip, as the sea was heavy, and several times the boat came near swamping.

The tickets for the Musical on Wednesday are being delivered to those intending to encourage this laudable effort towards enabling the charitable associations to relieve the poor of our city. The effort deserves the appreciation of all who feel for the poor.

The blacksmith shop at the foot of Daniel street, which sixty years ago was first occupied by the late Deacon John Knowlton, and which has been closed for a number of years, again sends out the sound of the hammer and anvil, Mr. F. H. Seavey being the present occupant.

Mr. Valentine Doane, Jr., is having the schooners Daniel Marcy, Frank Jones, and Anna M. Nash painted, and they will go on the ways at Kittery preparatory to their fitting out for a trip to the south for mackerel. The W. H. Y. Hackett, Gov. Goodwin and Velocipede, will go to the banks.

The suit against the city of Portsmouth by John Quinn, who broke his thigh by slipping on the ice and was laid up in bed twelve weeks, with a doctor's bill of sixty-five dollars to pay, has been pending some time, it having been left to a referee, who rendered a decision on Monday in favor of Mr. Quinn, of one hundred dollars. Rather hard slipping that.

A small fleet of fishing vessels came in Sunday and Monday, with the following fares: Emma S. Osier, 7700 lbs.; Flora Temple, 4000; Grace Choate, 600; Comet, 1000; Helen F. Tredick, 500; Julia A., 3000; Celia, 3100; Minetta, 600; Defiance, 4000; Josie Johnson, 2000; Nettie Adams, 600; Flying Cloud, 2500; Cook & Caswell, small boat, 800; Ingerbretson, small boat, 500 lbs.

Schooner Minetta, of Boston, Captain Tupper, went ashore early on Monday morning on Hick's rock, off Gerrish's wharf, Kittery Point. The steamer Emerald towed the anchor-boy from the navy yard down to her assistance, and the vessel being righted on the flood tide she was towed up to the navy yard, and then taken to Cutts' wharf, Kittery, by the steamer Mystic. She will probably go on the ways at that place to-day. No damage has been discovered.

Capt. Haven Fernald, of the fishing schooner Daniel C. Baker, on Wednesday of last week took into Kittery Point a sturgeon weighing ninety pounds, which was caught on a trawl five miles outside of the Shoals. This unusual "take" was distributed among Capt. Fernald's neighbors at the Point.

It is reported that Mrs. Thomas Neil has been engaged as organist at the North church.

Capt. G. Frank Towle, U. S. A., of this city, has been granted leave of absence for one month from March 7th, with permission to apply for an extension for one month.

The schooner Loella, Capt. Amee, sailed from the lower harbor on Saturday for Gloucester, with a partial cargo of fish and fish-oil shipped from the Shoals, and a quantity of potatoes shipped from Kittery Point.

Mr. Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., who has for some years been the efficient postmaster at Portsmouth, was renominated by the President, yesterday, and promptly confirmed by the Senate. This reappointment was a merited one, and gives general satisfaction to the citizens of our sister city.—Dover Republican.

Mr. Elias Perkins, who lived near the Rye line, was found dead in his bed on the morning of the 21st inst. He was about eighty-four years old, and apparently passed away quietly, as his wife, who occupied another bed in the same room, heard no noise during the night.

Mr. C. L. Perkins of Wells, Me., recently captain of the fishing schooner Rover's Bride of this city, has purchased of Mr. Moses Adams, of Essex, Mass., the schooner Breeze, and will at once take command of her and engage in the fishing business. It is thought, by fishermen, that he made a remarkably sharp trade.—Times.

The schooner Lilly Dale, bound for Harpswell, Me., from Boston, where she had been with a load of herring, sailed from the lower harbor on Monday. Two schooners belonging to St. John, N. B., sailed from the lower harbor for their home port on the same day. The sea was reported very rough outside. A coasting schooner bound down the river, light, Monday morning, got foul of the U. S. S. Plymouth and had her port rail smashed.

During an entertainment given in a church at Kittery Point on the evening of Washington's birthday, three partially-intoxicated young men (the youngest aged eighteen years and the oldest twenty-seven) entered the gallery, and so long as they were allowed to remain there annoyed the large audience of decent people by their disorderly and noisy proceedings. Some time after the entertainment a committee was appointed to bring the offenders to justice, hearing of which the young men have hastened to apologize and promise better behavior in future, so no further steps will be taken.

Capt. Elias Tarlton, of the schooner Good Templar, and Capt. Robert White, of the schooner Willie Seavey, left Newcastle on Monday for Portland to join their vessels, which are bound on fishing trips to the banks. Capt. Fred. Dorr, of the coasting schooner H. Prescott, left this city on Monday for Bucksport, Me., to join his vessel, which was frozen in at Bucksport last autumn on her way to Bangor. Capt. Frank Coleman, of Newington, master of the schooner Emily A. Staples, and Capt. Freeman, of the schooner D. K. Ham, left on Monday for Boston, where their vessels have been hauled up all winter, to start them at once in the brick-carrying trade between the Cocheco river and Boston.

AN ENQUIRY.

Mr. Editor: I was gratified to read in the CHRONICLE of Saturday morning that in response to a request for aid "the steamer Col. Sise was sent off with all speed, starting in less than fifteen minutes from the first stroke of the alarm bell."

I have since heard that the request for aid was received at half-past twelve, (sent from Newburyport about midnight,) that the first stroke of the alarm bell was given just before one, and that the steamer reached the station in this city at fifty minutes past one. I am not highly gratified at this statement.

I believe the members of our fire department will always move with all alacrity and promptness at every call, at home or from abroad. What I desire to learn from you, whom I suppose knows everything, is just the simple truth, where the steamer started from in just fifteen minutes after the alarm? If from the station, as I supposed, why it did not reach Newburyport till about three? If the engine house, why it did not reach the station till nearly two? CURIO.

"EDGEWOOD FOLKS."

Of the entertainment which is to be offered in Music hall on Wednesday evening, the Philadelphia Times says:

Mr. Sol Smith Russell's work in his new play, "Edgewood Folks," has received most emphatic marks of popular approval.

The Springfield Monitor speaks of the show as follows:

Sol Smith Russell, the old favorite, was welcomed with a good house last night, and in return he gave them more laugh to the square inch of fun than has been dished up for a whole year. Sol has a big show, nice people, and the play is one of the best and most entertaining on the roads or boards.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

There was a very good attendance at the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening; remarks were made by several ladies and gentlemen, and a lady also read a select piece.

On account of the storm the attendance was not so large as usual at the bethel service, Sunday afternoon, and in place of the regular social service a bible reading was given; subject, "Christ the true foundation."

There was but a small attendance at the reform club meeting Sunday evening, the storm preventing people from coming out. L.

THE NEW CHURCH IN ELIOT.

The itemized cost of the new Congregational church in Eliot is as follows:

Lot and foundation,	$ 335.00
House itself, including pews ready for use,	2105.00
Furnace,	100.00
Frescoing,	204.50
Bell and hangings,	343.23
Vane,	26.25
Furniture,	88.00
Chandelier and lamps,	52.00
Grading, (estimated,)	80.00

The furnishing of the vestry and other rooms is contracted for at $252. This (with the cost of presents estimated) will bring the cost of the whole above $3800, with a prospect of its being $4000 before all is done. The following are some of the presents to the church:

The bell, by John R. Hanscom;

The carpet, 222 yards woolen, by Abraham Hill of Brooklyn, N. Y., son-in-law of a former pastor;

A clock, a nice regulator, by Messrs. Albert and Octavius Libby, former residents of Eliot, now of New York.

Marble communion table with two stands to match, by three daughters of Wm. Kennard;

Lamps for desk and organs, by Mrs. John R. Hill;

Pulpit Bible, with book marks, by Miss Hanaford's Sunday school class of the 1st Congregational church, at Lowell, Mass.;

Bead book-mark, by Miss Marion Prime;

Thermometer, by Matthews & Pryor of Portsmouth;

YORK, ME., March 21st.

Tell about your circular saws; we have an old mill in town with one up-and-down saw, that recently sawed out sixty logs in one day, two men doing the work.

The farmers around town are getting up some nice wood piles for their year's firing.

There has been a large harvest of seaweed on Long beach the past week. It has been well taken care of by the farmers.

Landlord Grant of the Sea Cottage has had his valuable horse "Burleigh" clipped; he is one of the finest horses in town.

Mr. John S. Webber, near York beach, has made an addition to his farm by buying a tract of land from his brother Andrew; he has quite a nice farm, and is talking of building a fine new barn. SUY.

A Disappointed Maid.

Miss Stokes considers work very unladylike, and kitchen work "perfectly shocking." But when an industrious and sensible young man began to occasionally drop in and spend an evening she very wisely refrained from expressing these convictions, after hearing him on several occasions severely denounce the frovolity and indolence so fashionable at present with many of the young ladies.

Entertaining a high regard for the young man, she determined to surprise him by some great feat of her industry and perservance, and one evening as they were seated together on the parlor sofa, after the conversation had begun to flag, she artfully allowed a sigh to escape her.

"Are you unwell?" he tenderly inquired.

"No, I am quite well."

"But you sighed," he persisted.

"Yes; but I suppose it was because I felt so tired."

"Have you been busy?"

"Oh! yes indeed," was the reply. "Why, would you believe it? I cut out a towel and made it all myself to-day."

There has been a coolness between the parties ever since, the reason of which she has never been fully able to explain, but she angrily remarked the next morning that men were fools enough to imagine that a woman ought to be able to do more work than a fifty-horse-power steam-engine.

"Might Do for Ben Hill."

Saturday afternoon Mr. Mahone was in one of the committee rooms of the Senate. While he sat at a desk a page brought in a gorgeous cornucopia of flowers bearing a card containing a few words of admiration, signed by a pretty widow from Petersburg, Va., who sympathizes with the readjusters' party.

"Very sweet," said Mr. Mahone; "take this up to Mrs. Mahone at the Arlington."

"Here is the card, senator," said the page, untying it.

"Why do you take it off? Take it up on the flowers."

"I thought you would not care to send it to Mrs. Mahone. I have been here a long time, and I've noticed that senators always take the cards off."

"Yes," laughed the wasp-like senator, "that sort of thing might do for Ben Hill, but not for me."

The card went with the cornucopia to the Arlington.—Washington Correspondence Boston Herald.

Aaron Burr and Mrs. Hamilton.

When on an official visit to the United States in 1853, I spent a day or two at Mr. Stuart Browne's place on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson river, above Hoboken. Gen. Taylor, of Ohio, was another guest, and as the house was at no great distance from the spot where the fatal duel between Burr and Hamilton took place, (July 12, 1804,) a conversation arose on the event, and the characteristics, public and private, of the two men. Gen. Taylor told us that when a very young man, studying at West Point, he was one day on board a river boat, and among the passengers were Mrs. Hamilton, widow of Alexander Hamilton, and Aaron Burr, who had returned to the states after an enforced absence in Europe, in consequence of his proved treasonable practices. Burr was then an old man, but still retained much of his former confidence and manner, especially with ladies. To the astonishment of those who knew him, on discovering that Mrs. Hamilton was on board the steamboat, he approached her, took off his hat, and bowing, said, "Mrs. Hamilton, I believe? My name is Burr." The effect upon the lady, now well stricken in years, was electric. Rising from her seat, she gathered up her dress, as if to touch Burr with it would be contamination, drew herself up, and, looking at him from head to foot, swept away with a dignity and grace worthy of her best days, and left him standing abashed, if he were capable of feeling so, before the spectators. Burr replaced his hat upon his head and slowly moved back to the seat he had left purposely to make this experiment upon the feelings of the widow of the man he had slain, for one cannot suppose that he had any intention to apologize or explain, since this was impossible.—Notes and Queries.

Postal Cards.

"Any chestnuts round here?" asked one of three city boys, who met an aged, benevolent looking farmer out in Montgomery county. The old man hesitated, "You don't want to steal 'em?" "Oh! no. We just wanted to find out." "Well, there's a few trees back there; but if I thought you wanted to steal them, I wouldn't have told you, for the owner is gone to town. But you're bright, honest looking boys." The boys blushed with the pride of conscious goodness. "When will the owner be back?" "Well, not before dark, I reckon." The boys respectfully thanked the old man, waited until he got out of sight, jumped the fence and were soon shaking down the burrs. The shaking was easy; but the opening of chestnut burrs was more difficult and unpleasant. At last the boys had a splendid pile of handsome brown nuts on the ground, and they prepared to put them in the bags they had brought with them. "Please don't take any more trouble," said the benevolent old man, who stood by the fence, beaming kindly on the startled boys; "I'm not so strong as I once was, and I fear I can't hold in this dog much longer. If you'll hurry, though, I guess I can keep him here till you get to the railroad track. Down, Tiger, sir!" As the boys looked back from the railroad fence they could see the stooping figure of the old man scooping the rich, brown chestnuts into a two-bushel bag.—Independent.

Workingmen.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of ague, bilious or spring fever, or some other spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month. Don't wait.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—The restaurants have had such a run of custom that some of the waiters are a little insolent. A stranger called for a plate of oysters, and after smelling them he said: "Waiter, are these oysters fresh?" "We are not running an intelligence office." "I would like to know if they are fresh?" "Well, then, eat them; then you will know for yourself. You don't expect me to eat them for you, do you? Do I look like I was here to try old oysters on?"

It Don't Pay!

To sling money away, but I invested a dollar for a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which cured me of dyspepsia. It saved me ten dollars in doctors and druggists bills.—Machinist, Lowell, Mass.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large rectoral rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying the safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 22 East 14th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 23d, 1880.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their gripping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 45 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but still, ever since, the bulk of the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

INTERNATIONAL Pavement Co.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

With a Bonus of Stock.

The pavement made by the Company has met with the highest favor, both in this country and in Europe, and it is considered to approach perfection more nearly than any other.

The Works of the Company are at Providence, R. I., and at Hastings, N. Y., and the needs of its business will soon require additional ones at Chicago and other large cities.

Negotiations are now pending with capitalists in London and Paris for the right to manufacture and use this pavement in those cities.

Few enterprises now on the market promise as profitable business as this one.

The Company requires additional means to extend its facilities for manufacturing, and offers for sale the second $100,000 of the six per cent bonds (convertible into stock) at par and interest. These bonds carry a bonus of stock, which is fixed for the present at fifty per cent.

agement to the little toiler, struggling with the difficulties of language. At the proper time composition work should be begun, by writing about some of the most familiar objects in the schoolroom, —objects in nature, etc.; and it is now that we begin to expect, and really do get, a little originality of thought from the child, in the expression of his impressions of the object of which he writes. Our aim in this work should be, to teach the child, to use his senses as perceptive powers,—to observe surrounding objects, to form concepts, judgments, conclusions, from his ideas, and to express his thoughts clearly and fluently; in short, our object should be, as in all education, not the implanting of ideas, but the teaching to think.

Prof. Whitney of Yale college has given us, (in his "Elementary Lessons in English" or "How to speak and Write,") the best book I have yet seen to facilitate the teaching of English to young children; a book containing no technical grammar, but one which I sincerely wish might be used in all our Intermediate and Grammar schools, excepting, perhaps, during the last two years of the grammar course, when a more extended treatise on the subject might be desired. I have spoken of this book of Prof. Whitney's, not with any hope or fear of reward, but simply because I felt, after an examination of it a short time since, its use would supply a long felt need in many of our public schools; and because it is a notable and especially helpful thought to our ideas of modern teaching, that at least one text book on the subject does not read like Lindley Murray.

I would not be understood as implying that technical grammar has no uses, and that it cannot be profitably employed in the higher grades of school work; here it may serve as excellent discipline to the mind, and prove a source of benefit and constant delight to many. There is, to minds somewhat matured, doubtless some benefit as well as pleasure to be derived from an analysis of the involved and inverted sentences of "Paradise Lost," pointing out and calling the names of the various modifiers from first to twenty-second, (if so many exist,) and parsing each word; but that pupils of our Grammar schools should be required to do this, is a question open to the gravest criticism. I do not know how it may be in other cities, but in our own, the average age of the pupils who pass from Grammar to High school is about thirteen years, and no inconsiderable number at eleven and twelve years. It seems to me an incongruous idea that pupils of such ages should be trained in all the details of technical grammar; should be required at examination for admission to High schools to parse the most difficult words in sentences similar to the following: "How far that little candle throws his beams! So shines a good deed in a naughty world;"—this is not a highly-colored picture of a partial examination, but a moderate-toned one, existing, alas! in too many schools to-day. I am free to give it as my opinion that the requirements for admission to many high schools demand too much in technical grammar of the young pupils seeking entrance thereto. I do not know how it may be in all grammar schools, but in my own, a five years' experience has taught me that hardly fifty per cent. of the pupils grasp readily and understandingly the subject of technical grammar; perhaps where genius soars highly and finds a greater development, the percentage may be somewhat larger. I can see no extravagance in asserting that the proper time for securing the most desirable results from the study of technical grammar would be after the mind of the student was somewhat matured, probably during the third or fourth year of a high school course. * * *

I think the study of technical grammar in our grammar schools should be limited to the simplest forms of analysis and parsing. I regard that form of analysis the best, which gives the pupil the most comprehensive understanding of the relations of words; that form which simply points out the grammatical subject and predicate, and the dependent relations of other words in the sentence to them, as limiting or explanatory words, (or modifiers if you choose to call them such). Parsing should certainly be limited to that of words in their most common forms of use in the ordinary expressions of language. Brief and reasonable forms relating chiefly to the construction of the word, or its office in the sentence, and its relation to some other word. That the same word may be known, or used as noun, adjective or verb, etc., in different constructions of sentences, is but a poor apology for the spending of valuable time in seeking to parse it in all these varying uses according to the Latinized models of parsing given in many of our text books. Surely the young pupils of our Grammar schools should not be put to such a test.

Of course it is necessary that a few essential definitions should be learned; but we should be very careful to show pupils how the definition is made of what it is expressed in the words which are used, so that it may be remembered by meaning as well as in words. The leading rules of syntax should be learned, and be so well understood that they can be practically applied. Many a child, "parrot like," is taught to repeat rules in grammar without having the slightest notion of their meaning or practical application. I think about the only use of a text book of Grammar in our schools, is for the purpose of teaching these few definitions and rules of syntax of which I have spoken; and the longer I teach, the more fully persuaded I am, that even these may be better imparted by oral instruction under the guidance of the practical, experienced teacher.

Children may be taught many of the principles of grammar, in an interesting manner, without ever looking into a text book on the subject; the several parts of speech may be considered, and definite ideas concerning the proper relations of word, obtained, without the use of the book. The teacher should begin his teaching with facts, and not with definitions. The first lesson in grammar (if indeed it is necessary to teach grammar to a little child) should be a lesson on the names of objects, objects which the child sees and handles, and knows by seeing and handling, that is, has ideas of them in his mind. The teacher inquires, "What is the name of this thing and that?" the child readily tells him. The idea of the things, and the names by which they are known, are already associated together in his consciousness, and he has learned to translate things in words. The teacher may tell him, (for he could not discover it for himself,) that a name may also be called a noun. What then, the teacher may say, is a noun? The child replies, "A noun is the name of a thing;" thus for himself constructing a definition, a simple one, it is true, yet one which he thoroughly understands, for it is his own work. There would be no need to commit the definition to memory, as a mere collection of words, because what it means is already committed to the understanding, which will retain it, because it represents to the child facts already known and appreciated. By some such introductory illustration the curiosity of a class of beginners may be easily excited, and they will labor with eagerness in learning to distinguish the different parts of speech and their relations to each other. All this may best be done by oral instruction. * * * * I do not deem it reckless to say that many a boy, and many a man, who staggers and stammers under a weight of knowledge which "he has no words to express," would be fortunate to forget one half he knows, could he with unfettered speech thereafter wield the other half with ease and effect. * * * * What we want in our schools is a continuous graded course of instruction in language; a course requiring chiefly written work. By this process we combine theory and practice, leading the child easily and naturally to a comprehension of the subject; thus producing good speakers and writers of English, without the aid of technical grammar or text book cramming.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1881.

News and Notes.

The President on the 21st inst. withdrew from the Senate the nomination of Capt. Richard L. Law to be a commodore in the navy, and of Capt. Milton Haxtun to take rank as a captain from Feb. 12th, 1874.

The boilers in White & Russell's mill at Middlefield, Ohio, exploded Monday from an unknown cause, killing three men.

Considerable damage was done to Manhattan beach and other parts of Coney island by the storm on Saturday night and Sunday. It will cost $100,000 to repair damages.

In a fight at Cincinnati, Sunday night, Adams Royes was killed by C. Myers. A dispute arose about board bills.

Foreman Foley of the Iron Mountain railroad was killed at Corning, Ark., Sunday night, in a fight with City Marshal Lewter. Foley attempted to rescue some of his men whom Lewter had arrested.

A Uniontown, Pa., despatch says miners and other operatives of the Connellsville coke regions have notified the employers that a strike will take place April 1st if an advance in wages demanded is not conceded.

On Monday morning all the spinners of the Chace mill at Fall River, Mass., numbering thirty-seven, also the back boys and doffers, struck because one of the spinners was discharged on Saturday.

The United States circuit court at St. Louis, Mo., has decided that the Singer patents having expired, anybody has the right to manufacture the Singer sewing machine.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Ira A. Eastman died very suddenly at his home in Manchester, Monday, March 21st, aged seventy-two. He attended church Sunday in his usual health, and was attacked by the disease during the service. He was born in Gilmanton, Jan. 1st, 1809, graduated at Dartmouth in the class of 1829, served in the New Hampshire legislature from 1836 to 1839, and was speaker of the House the two latter years. In 1839 he was elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, being the youngest member ever sent from the state. He was re-elected, and served in the Twenty-seventh Congress. In 1844 he was appointed judge of the circuit court, and remained on the bench until 1859, about sixteen years in all, when he resigned and resumed the practice of his profession. He was the democratic candidate for governor in 1863. In 1866 he was the candidate of his party for United States senator. In 1859 he was elected a trustee of Dartmouth college, which position he held to the time of his death. Few public men in the state were more widely known or more highly respected. He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Hon. David Cross of Manchester.

It is now thought that the defalcation in the Ashuelot bank of Winchester will be more than $100,000. The commissioner has shown that the bank's statement five years ago was false, which leaves no doubt but the defalcation extends back of that time. The treasurer has for many years deceived both trustees and commissioners, and kept the bank's reputation up to the highest point. Henry C. Colony of Keene has been appointed receiver. The discovery of irregularities is said to have been brought about through a visit Bank Commissioner Lyman paid to a woman. He remarked that she had drawn some of her money from the bank, having seen the charge against her account while making his regular examination. She declared she had not, and this led to the investigation.

An Honest Medicine.

J. H. Northrup, of Lansingburgh, formerly captain of the Troy police, writes: "I firmly believe that Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' is a great, good, honest preparation; one that may be depended upon." And this is the testimony of thousands. Capt. Northrup suffered from liver derangement for years, and was cured by Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." It is an honest medicine, and sold by all honest druggists at the honest price of one dollar.

It is now announced that the bonds stolen from the Northampton, (Mass.) bank were returned last May, which accounts for the failure to convict "Red" Leary and his pals.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

The wild geese have commenced to fly northward.

A poor old tortured horse was mercifully killed by the agent of the anti-cruelty society on the 21st inst.

The Public Library will be closed until Saturday evening, March 27th, when it will be opened at Congress hall.

At two o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday next the cottage house and farm of the late Isaac Brackett, on the River road in Newington, will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, without reserve. See advertisement.

The regular rehearsal of the Musical Association occurs this evening at eight o'clock, in the vestry of the Middle street church. A full attendance is desired.

The fishing schooner Breeze, which has fished out of this port during the past winter, and was sold on Saturday last to parties in Wells, Me., sailed for that port on Monday.

Messrs. Ben. Bailey and Oliver Adams were last week engaged in calking the topsides of the schooner Mary Willey, which is being made ready for sea at Broughton's wharf.

The great play "Hazel Kirke," which had the unprecedented run of four hundred nights in New York, will be performed at Music hall next Monday evening. See advertisement.

We are requested to state that no tickets for the parlor concert to be given this evening for the benefit of the poor will be sold at the door, and that the concert will take place regardless of the weather.

The fishing schooner Minnette, which went ashore on Hick's rocks, Monday, was on examination found to be uninjured, and was towed from Kittery to the lower harbor on Tuesday afternoon by the steamer Mystic.

The fish arrivals, Tuesday, were the schooners Daniel C. Baker, with 2000 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 700; Nettie Adams, 1000; Comet, 1800; Iris, 2000; Flora Temple, 2100; Helen F. Tredick, 2000; Celia, 1500; Josie Johnson, 300 lbs.

The steamer Williamsport, at Concord railroad wharf, was on Tuesday afternoon cleared of the last of her cargo of between 1600 and 1700 tons of coal, having been discharged in 16 1-2 working hours. Mr. George Raitt was the stevedore.

Hon. Edmund Burke of Newport and Hon. John R. Reding of this city are the only surviving members of Congress who served with the late Ira A. Eastman as representatives from this state in 1839 and 1841. At that time Levi Woodbury and Franklin Pierce were senators in Congress from this state.

Mr. George W. Twombly, yard master at the Eastern railroad station in this city, on learning that a dispatch was received from Newburyport for assistance at the fire of Friday morning at that place, immediately had the cars placed in position to ship an engine without any delay, in case one should be sent.

Most of the machinery has been dug out from the debris of the Kearsarge mill, and sent over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad to Manchester, Lowell and other places. Five cotton pickers were sent to Lowell on Saturday last. On Monday the workmen found the bell which once hung on the top of the mill at its eastern end; it was apparently unharmed, except that a few small nicks were made in its edge.

Henry Lynch of Dover has contracted for the lathing of twenty double-tenement houses for the Newmarket Manufacturing Co.

The schooner Cocheco, of this port, Seaward master, arrived at Boston on Monday with a cargo of tar and pitch, after a passage of ten days from Wilmington, N. C. She had some heavy weather on the passage, and sprung her bowsprit.

In South Berwick, Monday, at the town election, all the republican candidates were elected by about fifty majority. It was unanimously voted to accept the act of the legislature annexing to South Berwick that part of the town of Berwick lying to the southward of the Boston & Maine railroad track.

Referring to the communication of "Curio," regarding the time which elapsed between the call of Newburyport for help from this city and the arrival of the steamer Col. Sise at Newburyport, on the night of the burning of the Bartlett mills, we are informed that Mayor Sise was aroused from his bed at ten minutes before one o'clock by the information that the appeal had been made, and that at twenty minutes before three o'clock the engine had a stream of water going on the fire, though the special train which took the engine from this city to Newburyport was delayed for a considerable time by a slow-moving freight train which was on the track ahead of it, and could neither go faster nor get out of the way.

"EDGEWOOD FOLKS."

This evening, at Music hall, Sol Smith Russell and his dramatic company will delineate the peculiarities of the "Edgewood Folks." Mr. Russell is of course the mainstay of the piece, but there are other prominent parts besides his, and they are all well taken, judging from the comments of the papers. The New York Graphic says: "Mr. Russell's 'Tom Dilloway' is a creation, and is full enough of rapid changes to satisfy a lover of pantomime, and has manliness enough about it to please a bishop. During the play Mr. Russell was overwhelmingly applauded. He kept the house in a roar of laughter, and answered encores again and again. In the relation of her love experiences as Hulda Jane Hardwick, he was simply immense. The support in all the parts was admirable. If you want a thorough shaking up, go and see Russell in 'Edgewood Folks.'"

STEAMBOAT ACCOMMODATION.

Messrs. Beaumont & Seaver, of Boston, propose to run a steamer regularly between that city and Portsmouth, for the transportation of passengers and freight. The Gas Co.'s wharf has been leased for a landing at this end of the route, possession to be given April 1st, and the steamer (the Acushnet) will commence her trips about April 15th. The traders of this city generally regard the enterprise with much favor, and there is little doubt that it will prove a success. The rates of transportation are to be much lower than by the railroad, and all cargo will be insured by the company. The steamer has been running between Boston and Provincetown, Mass., for two years past.

MATTERS IN RYE.

RYE, March 21st.

The festival under the auspices of the Martha Washington society, held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of last week, was quite successful, and put nearly two hundred dollars into their treasury. The weather being pleasant, the attendance on both evening was large, are nearly all seemed satisfied with the manner in which the matter had been arranged and was carried through. It requires an immense amount of labor by somebody to get up and successfully put through a two-days' affair of this kind, and if there are those who don't believe it, let such persons try it on once themselves.

A stage entertainment under the direction of a committee, with Mr. T. W. Rand as stage manager, was given each evening, and the following is a portion of the programme:

Song, Marcia Dearborn; reading, by Miss Lizzie Trefethen, "The miller of the Dee;" dialogue, "Imps of the cloak room," by Gertrude Garland and Annie Sawyer—very funny, and well carried through; tableau, "Taking the veil;" charade, "Hat—Band," taking in about all the small boys in the society; song and chorus, "The Flag of the Free;" "The fairy school," a piece arranged for the occasion by Miss Elzada Goss, and which brought on the stage in fairy attire a score of little boys and girls; duet, by Marcia Dearborn and Marcia Locke. The farce "Thirty minutes for refreshments," was said to have been the best thing of the evening; and the first evening's entertainment concluded with the tableau "Good night," by five little girls.

The second evening opened with speaking by little Lillian Walker; "Using the weed," a laughable farce for female characters, was capitally rendered by Mrs. A. H. Hodgdon and Misses Ella Garland, Mary Garland, Estella Goss, Isabel Goss, Eliza A. Parsons and Marcia Locke; tableau, "Two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," was very sweet; a trio, by Charley and Carrie Sanborn and Annie Locke, was one of the good things of the evening; as was also a trio by David Jenness Mrs. John O. Drake and Miss Leonia Drake; "Faith, Hope and Charity," and the "Bee, Clock and Broom," two pieces for girls, were personated by Katie Drake, Clara E. Parsons and Annie Locke in the former, and by Gertrude Garland, Mabel Hodgdon and Annie Sawyer in the latter. The "May Queen," by Gertrude Garland, Flora and Katie Berry and Nettie Marden, was also very pleasing. Ed. Foss read "Patient Mercy Jones," and little Edith Trefethen recited "Zekiel and Huldah." The tableau "Lilliputians" was represented by two very diminutive specimens of humanity, Maud Walker and Georgie Kingsbury. A charade, "Sweethearts," and a pantomime, "The Miser's Supper," were given, the latter affording considerable amusement. The "Peak Family" which was so well received on its first representation a year ago was again given, by special request, and received merited applause. The entertainment concluded with the singing of "Good night," by the chorus.

Supper was announced at the close of the stage entertainment, and all who could be accomodated went to the dining room, where Horace Sawyer and his corps of fair assistants had prepared five very inviting looking tables, which were at once filled, and the oysters, ice cream, coffee, etc., began to disappear rapidly. It was after midnight before all could be attended to, but everyone was satisfied at last. The music for the festival was furnished by Uri H. Jenness, violin, Thomas Chritchley, cornet, Chas. M. Rand, bass viol, and Mrs. C. O. Philbrick, pianist,—and was about the best that was ever heard at any such entertainment in this town. The piano was kindly loaned for the occasion by Rev. Mr. Kingsbury. Several nice looking ring and guess cakes were disposed of, as were also all of the fancy and useful articles offered for sale. An auction at the close disposed of everything remaining unsold.

In connection with this subject it may be in order to mention that our board of selectmen are entitled to a vote of thanks from the Marthas for their good intentions in making an effort to get the stove which the town voted to purchase, in season to use at the festival. To be sure they didn't make any move in regard to it until the day proceeding the one on which the festival was to open, but they no doubt thought that being within a few miles of a great and enterprising centre of business, one day was ample time in which to buy and have set up a dozen stoves. But alas! for the hopes of the Marthas, no bran-new stove made its appearance, and so at the last moment one had to be obtained from a kind friend, and hauled two or three miles to the town hall. But "after the fair was over" it came—the new stove did—and all the fixings with it, and was set up; and if the blacking and varnish are burned off in time, it will do to cook for the "Old Folks," who are talking of having a supper in the near future. But what can be said of the enterprise of the stove dealers in Portsmouth, when it takes from Monday until Friday to set up a cooking stove? They need not expect any vote of thanks!

NAT.

A CARD.

At a meeting of the directors of the Bartlet Steam Mills, Newburyport, held at the counting-room on Saturday, March 19th, 1881, it was voted that the president be directed to tender the thanks of the board to the fire department of Newburyport, and to the agents of the Peabody and Victoria mills, the mayor, and all the citizens who co-operated with them in their strenuous and untiring exertions to stay the progress of the conflagration which last night destroyed the mills of the corporation.

Also, that the thanks of the board be tendered to the city authorities and the fire departments of Salem, Portsmouth, and Haverhill, who answered with so much celerity to the call for assistance from the over-tasked firemen of Newburyport, and aided so efficiently in suppressing the flames and preventing a more extensive conflagration.

Voted, also, that the thanks of the board are due to the mayors and the fire departments of Boston and Lynn for their offers and preparations to furnish aid, but which was rendered unnecessary by the quick response of our nearer neighbors.

Voted, that these resolutions be entered on the records of the corporation, and a copy, signed and attested by the president and clerk, be transmitted to the mayors and chief engineers of the cities herein named, and published in the newspapers. JOSEPH B. MORSS, President.
WILLIAM H. MUNROE, Clerk.

The president of France has accepted the invitation of the United States government to send representatives to the Yorktown centenary celebration.

"French Heels."

A lady contributor to the Boston Traveller thus refers to the high, narrow heels placed on women's boots under the hollow of the foot, which have caused the tottering, ungraceful gait of fashionable women for several years past:

It is to be mentioned in a highly congratulatory spirit that heels are lowered. That dreadful thing which the French appropriately call a talon is to be cut off. The oculists say that the heels hurt the eyes, through curvature of the spine; the cough doctors say that the lungs suffer through the necessary contraction of the chest; and now a dreadful disease of the ankle joint is distinctly traceable to this cruel fasion, which has produced ugly falls and physical demoralization of all sorts. Women with delicate feet begin to know that the foot is prettier without the high, dangerous heel; and fashion, for once, is frightened.

Perhaps the spectacle of Mr. Ben Hill as whipper-in for the democratic party will have the effect so much desired by its sages of drawing young men into that organization. Mr. Hill's record is of a sort calculated to inspire emotions more or less violent in the breasts of young men. He betrayed the Union men of his state by voting for secession when he was appointed to vote against it, literally turning traitor in order to vote for treason. The place for any young man who admires that kind of political morality is undoubtedly in the democratic party.

Edward Kolbatz, who died in New Orleans a few days ago, once attempted to assassinate Frederick William IV., while that monarch was in a theatre at Frankfort. He taught school in New Orleans for many years.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

The New York Herald suggests the establishment of societies to help wives in prosecuting suits for damages against liquor-dealers who make their husbands drunk.

To Keep the Blood Pure.

Is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the blood, regulates the disordered liver and kidneys, cures constipation, dyspepsia, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. Sold by your druggist, $1.00 a bottle.

Over fifty years ago James L. Gillis, now Judge Gillis, of Iowa, was one of the men tried for the abduction of William Morgan, the alleged betrayer of the secrets of masonry. Nearly all those arraigned in the trial of his abductors it is said came to some sudden end, and Judge Gillis long since survived all those associated with him. A few years ago one of his sons was called to the door of his Iowa residence, and shot down. A few weeks ago another son was shot in the same way, and it is stated that the judge and his friends firmly believe the tragedies trace back to the Morgan affair. The case reminds one of Bristed's story of "The Dead Shot."

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their galling, irksome, disgusting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photographic pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 45 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"Oh, I am not afraid of a barrel of ale, sir," said the man. "I presume not," said the gentleman, "but I think a barrel of ale would run at your approach."

News and Notes.

There are small-pox scares all over the country.

Fast day in New Hampshire and Massachusetts will be observed the same day, April 7th.

A dispatch from Rawlins, Dakota, states that Geo. Parrott, alias Big Nose George, one of the Elk mountain murderers and a notorious highwayman, was taken from jail at that place on the night of the 21st inst., by a party of masked men, and hanged to a telegraph pole.

Mrs. Charles Tremaine, the wife of a manufacturer at Oswego, N. Y., and daughter of Capt. James B. Hatch, a prominent citizen of Springfield, Mass., died at her father's residence on Monday evening of this week. She had been married only fourteen months. On the Tuesday night following, the wife of Capt. Hatch died.

Alonzo T. Spear of Boston, publisher, and Frank E. Corbett, editor of the Sunday Transcript of Providence, R. I., have been convicted in the common pleas court of criminal libel upon Detective Swan of Providence.

The people of Charleston, Illinois, took a heroic method of ridding themselves of a band of robbers and murderers who had become a source of terror to the community. They organized a vigilance committee, captured three of the fellows and whipped them nearly to death for a warning, and notified the whole gang to leave on pain of death. This method was effectual.

The Protestant pastors of Chicago have formed an association for the purpose of inducing their people to visit only those saloons and gardens where beer is sold, and avoid these where whiskey and other powerful intoxicants are to be had.

On the night of the 21st inst. a young man named Seymour, belonging in Chicago, knocked at the house of a Mr. Cram in Lake View, a few miles from Chicago, and on Cram's opening the door shot him dead. The murderer then entered the house, and blew out his own brains. The assassin was but eighteen years old; he was of "good family," but led an utterly abandoned and disreputable life. He was a suitor for the hand of Cram's daughter, a girl sixteen years old, but was refused on account of his worthlessness.

It is announced officially in England that the South African war is at an end, the Boers having substantially accepted the British terms.

Henry Jenkins, who resides in Brooklyn, was arrested in Jersey City on the morning of the 22d inst., having in his possession the two-and-a-half-years old child of Mrs. Taylor of No. 48 Benson avenue. The child had been taken out of bed, and at the time of Jenkins' arrest had nothing on but its night-gown. Jenkins is held to answer the charge of kidnapping. The child's parents being wealthy, it is supposed he hoped to obtain a ransom for its return.

A despatch from Madrid says that the king and aristocracy of Spain have been much alarmed of late by clandestine proclamations and prints of the federal juntas.

Political.

The house of representatives of Tennessee on the 22d inst. passed to its third reading the bill to settle the state debt at one hundred cents on the dollar, with interest at three per cent, and coupons receivable for taxes.

The President on the 23d inst. sent to the Senate the nomination of Hon. William E. Chandler of this state to be solicitor general, and of William H. Robertson to be collector of the port of New York. The designation of Mr. Chandler for this position, one of the most important at the seat of government, is a high compliment to the Granite State from the new President.

One of the sensible acts of President Garfield was the withdrawal of the nomination of Capt. Law, to be a commodore in the navy, from the Senate. This was a kind of Law which the Senate ought not to pass.

New Hampshire Items.

Thomas N. Head, a cousin of Gov. Natt Head, and one of the best-known deaf mutes in the state, died suddenly at his residence in Hookset on the 17th inst. He was a native of that town, and nearly sixty-eight years of age. He is survived by a wife and two sons,—Samuel Head 2d, of Hookset, and George H. L. Head of Warren. He was a graduate from the Hartford, Conn., asylum for the deaf and dumb.

Benjamin Smith of Ashland committed suicide on the night of the 22d inst. He leaves a widow and two children.

In the Winchester savings bank defalcation, it turns out out that Albee speculated in the New York market. The discovery of the deficit is a feather in Bank Commissioner Lyman's cap. It is now the practice of the commissioners to look after the liabilities of these banks, as well as their assets. Mr. Lyman on calling upon a lady acquaintance, after he had begun his examination of the bank, remarked to her, "I see you have withdrawn your deposit from the bank." The depositor was astonished, and replied that she had not. This gave the commissioner the cue, and led to the discovery. Gallantry hereafter will be found to be an ingredient in a competent bank examiner.

Lake Winnipesaukie, the largest lake in the state, will not be given many of the newly-hatched fish this year, because the dwellers on its shores violate the fish laws.

The proceeds of the recent Catholic fair at Laconia were $1,067.61, and the expenses $260.63. The money will be appropriated to defray the expenses of building the new church in Laconia, which is to be dedicated the first Monday in May.

Lady Blanche Murphy died at North Conway on the 21st inst. Her history has been a most romantic one. She was the eldest daughter of the Earl of Gainesborough, one of England's proudest peers. Some ten years ago she eloped with her musical tutor, one Thomas Murphy. Instant search was made for the couple, but they were married within a few hours after the runaway. The haughty earl never forgave his child, and she and her husband emigrated to this country, where she has distinguished herself as a writer. She was a well known contributor to Scribner's Monthly and other periodicals. Her remains will be embalmed and sent to England for interment in the ancient family vault of the house of Gainesborough. This is the story as told by the papers.

Gov. Head, with Col. Balch of his staff, visited Great Falls on Tuesday evening, the 22d inst., to attend a Masonic fair in that town.

The Hidden Life.

One shining day, shining with sun and snow, he came and said, "What think you, father? is death very hard?" "My boy," the father answered, "we will try to make it easy with the present God; but as I judge, though more by hope than sight, it seems harder to the lookers on than to the man who dies. Each parting breath we call a gasp, may be to him who knows a sigh of pleasure, or at most, the sob, with which the clothed spirit, step by step, wades forth into the cool eternal sea. I think, my boy, death has two sides to it, one sunny, one dark, as the round earth is every day half sunny and half dark. We on the dark side call the mystery death. They on the other, looking down in light, await the glad birth with other tears than ours." "Be with me, father, when I die," he said. "I will, my boy, until a better Father draws your hand out of mine. Be near in turn when my time comes—you in the light beyond, and knowing all about it, I all in dark."—George Macdonald.

—Some cavalrymen near the Cape of Good Hope were in a heavy thunderstorm. A flash of lightning flung seventeen horses with their riders to the ground, killing ten men and five horses on the spot. Those who were not killed were severely injured, and it was long before animation could be restored in the case of seven of the men. All the bits and stirrup-irons were blackened, and many of the men, though personally uninjured, had their clothing rent by the force of the electric discharge. The greatest difficulty was naturally experienced in preventing a general stampede among the frightened horses.

—A story writer in Harper's Weekly tells of a "pyramid of cabbages" in a barnyard where the cows are standing at eventide during the haying season awaiting the coming of the milkmaid. Likewise of the "broad-shouldered only son" of the farmer, asleep behind the pyramid. What he means by sleeping at such an hour instead of being up and doing chores, the writer does not explain. The inconsistency of cabbage heads stacked for market in haying time might be excused if the "pyramid" had not been contructed in the barnyard. Perhaps the writer never saw a cabbage, nor a cow, nor a barnyard; and perhaps Harper's Weekly itself don't know that cows are fond of cabbages and that in consequence the sleep of the farmer's lad would not have been very profound under the circumstances. And yet it's a very pretty story for all that.

—Brigham Young acquired the title of general from having been called "Briggy dear" so often by his numerous wives.

—A Second Advent congregation at Greenwood, Kansas, has lost confidence in their pastor because, while publicly avowing a belief that the world would come to an end in 1881, he secretly took a note for five years on a loan of $1,000, and demanded twelve per cent interest, with ample security.

—A physician at McLean, Ill., owed a woman $100, and suggested that she should take her pay in medical services. She remarked at a quilting bee that it would take a great many years of such a doctor's services to be worth $100. She is wealthy, and he has sued her for $10,000 damages for slander.

—"Yes," said old Mr. Rich, "I'm bound my son shall marry Mr. Wealthy's daughter, and though they don't like each other, old Wealthy and I have arranged it. We'll make our wills, leaving them our property only on condition that they don't marry, with codicils giving it to them, anyway. The codicils only to be produced after they're eloped and wed."

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale.

THE lot of land and buildings thereon situated at Kittery Point, formerly owned by Thos. O. Hoyt. The land is a knoll of about five acres, pleasantly situated, overlooking the lower harbor and ocean. It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and ere long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. On the land are buildings recently erected for an extensive henery, which can easily be converted into outbuildings for a boarding house. Apply to Unique Lodge, Independent Order of Substantials, of Newcastle, incorporated by an act of the legislature of 1878, has dissolved, and most of the late members have joined the new lodge of Knights of Pythias in that town.

The arrivals of fish on Wednesday, were the schooners Grace Choate, 4000 lbs.; Helen F. Tredick, 1000; Flying Eagle, 1000; Comet, 3000; Flora Temple, 2500; Mary E. Caswell, 1500; Defiance, 5500; Celia, 800 lbs.

The sale of tickets for "Hazel Kirke" will commence at Preston's this morning. The company has been playing to immense houses all along the route, as well as for four hundred nights in New York, and an early call for seats is advisable.

Many of the vessels which have been fishing out of this port the past winter are fitting out to go south for mackerel, or to the banks for cod. The nets for the schooner Mary E. Caswell, which has used trawls all the winter, arrived on Tuesday.

The farm house of Joseph H. Chapman in Belvidere, half a mile from Newmarket village, was burned on the 22d inst. The fire caught in the attic from an unknown cause. Mrs. Chapman and her little boys had a narrow escape, being asleep, and were only conscious of their danger when the neighbors burst open the doors. Loss, $1,500; partially insured.

"Hazel Kirke" was played in Newburyport on Tuesday evening, and the Herald says "Taken all together it was a beautiful play beautifully played, and though but little applause was bestowed by the refined audience, many a tell-tale sob disclosed the intense interest which greeted the pathetic story. Those present will appreciate how the piece has already had the longest run ever bestowed on an American drama, and is likely to have a far longer one still."

The fishing schooner Mist arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on the 21st inst., from the banks, and reported that two of her crew, Louis Grant and Daniel O'Hara, were lost on the banks while attending to their trawls in a dory. Grant was a resident of this city up to the middle of February last, when he went to Gloucester to engage in the banks fishery; he had lived here for about three years, and during the past winter was one of the crew of the schooner Christie Campbell. He is very highly spoken of by the men with whom he had been associated.

Mr. C. A. Goldstone, agent for D. C. Mathes & Co., of Boston, dealers in and inventors of celluloid door plates and finger plates, is in town, stopping at the Gibson house. He is looking for some one who, with a small amount of capital, will take the right for the whole state of New Hampshire, and conduct the business. We have seen samples of the goods, and do not hesitate to say that they are the finest we have ever seen. The samples are to be on exhibition at the Gibson house, and Mr. Goldstone invites every one to call and examine them.

Miss Norah Bartlett will play at Newburyport city hall on the evening of March 26th, in "The Guv'nor."

A schooner from Nova Scotia, loaded with ties for the Eastern railroad, arrived at this port on Tuesday.

A letter from Sandy Point, Straits of Magellan, dated Feb. 2d, reports the sealing schooner Express, of Stonington, Conn., commanded by Capt. Mahoney of Greenland, as having taken 600 skins so far this voyage.

The county commissioners have given notice that a hearing will be had at the court house in this city on Friday, April 8th, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, on the petition of Henry R. Stoddard and others for the laying out of a new highway from Vaughan street through the Raynes shipyard to the mill bridge.

City Marshal Entwistle returned from Laconia on Tuesday of this week, after a raid upon the owner of a half-starved horse concerning which complaint was made by the agent of the S. P. C. A., at Franklin. Result, one less horse of that description at Franklin, and several horse owners in Merrimack and Belknap counties having a higher regard for the care of their animals.

Dover is threatened with another outbreak of the go-as-you-please fever, arrangements having been completed for a twenty-seven-hours contest, to commence Tuesday evening, April 19th, and close at eleven o'clock the following night, for four prizes aggregating $200. The race will take place in the city hall, and is open to all bona fide residents of Maine and New Hampshire.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Mch. 23; Batchelder, J.

B. F. R. Cook, hailing from Peabody, Mass., was complained of for the larceny of clothing from a trunk at a boarding-house where he stopped in this city. He pleaded guilty, and sentenced to six months in jail, and to pay the costs of prosecution. Cook had for some days previously been engaged in selling an infallible catarrh remedy.

CITY OF NEWBURYPORT,
MAYOR'S OFFICE,
March 22d, 1881.

Hon. Wm. H. Size,—My Dear Sir: Allow me, and those associated with me, in behalf of the citizens of our city, to express our earnest thanks for the great service rendered this city on Saturday last, at a moment when it appeared probable that a large portion of the business part of this city would be destroyed by fire.

The opportune arrival of the Portsmouth firemen, with their magnificent equipment, contributed largely to the happy result of confining the flames to the burning mills.

Please accept, yourself, our warmest thanks for your personal efforts in our behalf, and presence on the occasion.

Whatever pecuniary obligation we may be under to you, please forward bill at your earliest convenience.

Yours, truly,
ROBERT COUCH Mayor.

THE NINE O'CLOCK BELL.

[By Miss E. W. Barnes.]

Mr. Aldrich—one of the most gifted of the sons of Portsmouth, of whom we are so justly proud—has said of the Portsmouth church-bells, "There is no sweeter music this side heaven!" His words often recur to our memory; particularly on a summer Sunday morning, when with open windows we listen to the blended tones. Almost like a chime they seem, as—softened by distance, yet distinct to the ear—their sweet and mellow cadences tell us that the day of rest has come. Now it is proposed to silence the evening bell, which from childhood we have been accustomed to hear. Its voice has come, perhaps through the darkness and on the wings of the storm, perhaps in a quiet, moonlight hour, but always cheeringly. Let us hear it still.

O, let it ring, that dear old bell!
We shall miss the voice we love so well.
We shall miss the tale it loves to tell,
That dear old bell!

It tells us the hour of rest draws near;
It comes to the weary with sound of cheer;
And it comes to us so sweetly here!
That dear old bell!

A kind of "Curfew" to some it seems,
And sends them early to peaceful dreams.
So, restful night the day redeems.
That dear old bell!

Then, spare it a little longer yet;
Till those who love it, the Past forget;
And sleep 'neath the flowers, with dew-drops wet.
That dear old bell!

Beneath the Chestnuts, the roof-trees of Home. March, 1881.

A LIVELY MEETING.

An anti-masonic exposition and lecture was given at the town hall in Newmarket on the evening of the 21st inst., and ended in a tumult. The speaker, Rev. J. F. Brown, claims to be an agent of the National Christian Association, and pretends to show up and expose the ceremonies, obligations and practical workings of Free Masonry and other kindred secret societies. Five hundred men were in attendance. Rev. S. C. Kimball, formerly of Strafford, a co-worker with Brown, offered prayer, which was cheered lustily, after which Brown read from the Bible and then sang "The Good Time is Coming On." It soon became evident that there was trouble ahead, for the audience gave vent to their feelings in howls, cat-yells and stamping. The speaker was unable to be heard, and the meeting was broken up. The police were called upon, but did nothing. The speakers' faces were white with fear. A rush was made for the platform, the tables were overturned, and anti-masonic charts, books and handbills belonging to Brown were scattered in all directions. The selectmen were called in, but could not quell the disturbance. Prominent Masons addressed the crowd in a spirit of pacification, but to no purpose, and it looked as if nothing short of the militia could save the exposers from violence. Finally order was partially restored and they were allowed to depart in peace on promising not to appear there again under similar circumstances, a score or more of Masons and the entire police force doing escort duty. As it was, the party went out on the double quick. Had it not been for the intervention of the parties above mentioned, serious consequences must have followed to both persons and property.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The March number of the "Granite Monthly" contains a sketch of Hon. Frank Jones of this city. The article, though coming from the pen of a prominent editor in the democratic ranks, is happily without that overflow of fulsome flattery which some of the newspapers of his party delight to indulge in when they speak of Mr. Jones, and which must frequently have disgusted him in the extent of its intended purpose, as much as it has amused others. The writer gives a sketch of our old town in his biographical account of the rise and progress of Mr. Jones. This has so often been produced in one shape or another that there is nothing especially new to our readers, though we rejoice to learn from the sketch that Mr. Jones is to be a leading stockholder and active manager in the new mill about to be erected in our city.

The article would have been better without the endorsement of Speaker Randall as to Mr. Jones' ability. It says "upon all questions involving the business interests of the country his judgment was regarded by the party leaders as second to no other member." It is true that he shew far more ability than most of his party's leaders upon several measures before Congress, notably on the silver bill; and when we consider the utter inefficiency of the so-called "Democratic Congress" we are of the opinion that the body would have gone to the dogs long before it did had it not been for the sound advice of Mr. Jones, who as a New England business man possessed more sense, and knowledge of both what the country would stand and what business interests would bear, than a score of the average representatives who frittered away their terms in Congress. Mr. Randall could say far more in acknowledgement of Mr. Jones' conduct as a representative than Mr. Jones could of Mr. Randall.

In short, as a Congressman who kept in sight the interests of his constituents, Mr. Jones was a marked success.

John M. Shirley contributes an article upon the Fourth New Hampshire turnpike, which was incorporated in 1800.

"Poems of Many Years and Many Places," by William Gibson, commander in the United States navy, author of a vision of fairy land, and other poems. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price $1.50. The navy has given us a novelist in Cooper and a writer of tales in Capt. Henry A. Wise, but poets in the navy have not been much in vogue. Commander Gibson, previously to going upon the retired list, had seen eighteen years of sea service and had visited many places where a person of poetic tastes would be likely to indulge his pen. Several events in naval annals are the subject of lines in this book, and there is a flavor of the sea within its covers which will perhaps induce the personnel of the navy to appreciate the volume. For sale by M. Goodrich, Market square.

"Somebody's Neighbors;" by Rose Terry Cooke. Boston; James R. Osgood & Co.; price $1.50. Here is a series of stories, some of which have appeared in Harper's Magazine and others in the Atlantic, Galaxy, etc. All are interesting pictures of life in Connecticut, portraying that hard type of old-fashioned men and women who profess much, but are narrow, bigoted, selfish and prejudiced. Some of the sketches are true to life, and are drawn with unmistakable acquaintance with a certain class of men and women and with a knowledge of manners and customs which is evinced on every page. While we are indignant at the hypocritical and selfish traits of some of the characters, we can but enjoy the manner in which they are shown up, and the many sensible criticisms of the author upon some of the customs of the region of which she writes, such as the funeral sermon with "seventeen heads calculated to make the flesh creep on the bones of the audience, and with abundant mention of the Enemy therein, as one lying in wait for perishing sinners, with the efforts of the choir to add to the misery by wailing out in discordant manner dismal hymns," etc. The stories are all readable, and give us the best idea of the men and women of the times and places referred to that we can obtain, and without exaggeration or burlesque, but with a due regard for facts and not with an indulgence in fanciful press-painting.

The first spring dresses imported, says Harper's Bazar, are short suits with narrow skirts, on which are permanently draped most voluminous overdresses. The corrugated folds, involutions, and curved draperies of the soft stuff used for overdresses are marvellously graceful, and when to these are added retrousse facings with new panier effects, and the gay bayadere garnitures, the dress becomes very intricate. The foundations of the dress are, however, unchanged, as the basque with trimmed skirt remains the prevailing style. But the basques vary from the simplest and shortest now worn to the long surtout—an English surtout relieved of its severe plainness by French taste—and this surtout is worn over a skirt as elaborately trimmed and draped as those made for the shortest basques. The lower skirt is more often pleated than plain, and while some very showy skirts are laid in long single kilt pleats enriched only by a wide border of trimming, many others have from three to five flounces visible at that part of the skirt where the over-dress is drawn up highest. These flounces may be in box pleats or in side pleats, but the latter are usually in clusters of triple pleats at intervals, and these are heaped upon each other, and caught down half their length, then allowed to spread out in a fan-like frill. Sometimes the entire front of the skirt is disclosed showing five pleated flounces, while the overskirt is draped back to the sides; at others the Greek over-skirt is draped up on one side only, and that almost to the belt, in order to show single pleatings that go from the belt to the foot of the lower skirt. The flounces now used that are shirred at the top and folded below in pleats are also in great favor, and most flounces are widely bordered with the material used for trimming, or the figured stuff that is in combination with the plain material.

A Terrible Fellow.

"Senator Alfred Perkins" has kept out of the newspapers in this country, but a French journalist identified him on his arrival in Paris. "This Yankee," says Figaro, "is celebrated on account of a duel which he had some years back with an Indian chief, also a senator, whose feelings he had wounded. The arms chosen were unusual, being two barrels of dynamite, on which the adversaries were placed, and to which two slow matches of equal length were attached. These were set on fire by the seconds. Ten minutes after, the Indian senator was blown into the air; and then Mr. Perkins was immediately delivered from his perilous position by the seconds, who declared the claims of honor satisfied."

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Concord, N. H., Patriot.

—When the late Sir John Kingcome, port admiral at Plymouth, Eng., was asked by a first lord whether he could take a fleet of iron-clads through a certain sea passage, he answered, "Oh, all right! I hate 'em like poison; but I'll float the blessed kettles through anything!"

18 Negroes!

—A woman has just died in Berlin, aged eighty-two, who for nearly half a century lived in almost utter seclusion, a solitary female servant being the only person with whom she had any intercourse. This strange being, who it is supposed was crossed in love, was rich, and never denied herself any luxury for which she cared, but she never allowed her house and furniture to be cleaned. She lay in bed all day, rising just at dusk, and spent the night in preparing sumptuous meals for herself and her companion. She was surrounded by dogs, cats and birds, and she caused every new work on zoology to be purchased for her as soon as it was published. She left a handsome legacy to her servant, and the rest of the property to a niece, to revert, after the latter's death, to an asylum for dogs.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont.

R. V. PIERCE, M.D.:

I have used your Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, for the last three months and find myself—(what shall I say)—"made new again," are the only words that express it. I was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk across the floor without fainting, could keep nothing in the shape of food in my stomach. Myself and friends had given up all hope, my immediate death seemed certain. I can never be too thankful to those who recommended your medicines, for I now live (to the surprise of everybody) and am able to do my own work. I desire to make this statement in order that those suffering may not despair until they have given your remedies a trial.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. WM D. RYCKMAN.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 241 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office, 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. tap3

FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1881.

A Fiery Horror.

A despatch of the 23d inst. from London reports the Italian opera house at Nice to have been destroyed by fire. The fire broke out at the commencement of the opera on the evening of the 23d. Fourteen persons, who were suffocated, had been taken out and their bodies placed in the church opposite the theatre. It was feared that 100 men and women had perished in the flames.

A despatch from Nice, dated three o'clock P. M. on the 24th, says that fifty-nine bodies had been recovered up to that time. M. Strakosch, the impressario, was slightly hurt.

News and Notes.

The schooner Edward E. Webster, of Gloucester, the first vessel of the southern mackerel fleet to make a start this year, arrived in New York on the 23d inst. with one hundred and forty barrels of mackerel. This is the first fare of the season, is twelve days earlier than the first catch last year, and is said to be the earliest ever known.

Michael W. Lonergan, the drug clerk of Providence, R. I., who is charged with having caused the death of Mrs. Sarah A. Head by wrongfully filling a prescription, has been indicted for manslaughter.

The oyster police cutter of Baltimore attacked a fleet of a dozen oyster pirates on the Chester river a few days ago, firing into them with her swivel, and fatally wounding two men on one of the vessels. The cutter captured two of the vessels with crews of thirty men, and took the craft to Chesterfield, and the men were put in jail.

Dr. Daniel F. Kimball, notorious from his connection with the "trunk mystery" of Lynn, died in the state prison at Concord, Mass., March 22d, at the age of forty-three years. He was serving a sentence of seven years for his complicity in the trunk tragedy.

For a number of years Julius Rhode of Chicago has been criminally intimate with his stepdaughter, Augusta Bubhangen, with the knowledge of his wife, who aided in the intimacy, with a view of securing Rhode's property. A short time ago the young woman was married, and left Rhode's home. On the 23d inst. he found her at her brother's house, and at once drew a pistol and shot her in the groin, from which she will probably die.

A young lady from Boston, who was arrested in New York on the 21st inst., having run away from her home to become an actress, went home with her father on the 23d. Her name is Cora Williams, and her father is a wealthy hardware merchant, residing at the south end of Boston, near St. James' square. He and the girl's stepmother opposed the dramatic bent of her disposition, hence she ran away. She returned home on a promise that she could do as she pleased in Boston.

Jerry Hayes, seventeen years old, was killed at Worcester, Mass., March 23d, by being thrown from a horse while racing.

The body of Thomas Pollard of Lowell, Mass., who had been missing since Christmas night, was found on the river's bank March 23d.

William Treon of Reboboth, Mass., was arraigned in the district court at Taunton on the 21st inst., on complaint of a society agent, for starving and neglecting a worn out old-horse. He pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 and costs, in default of which he was committed to jail. The horse was in a pitiable condition when found by the agent, having had practically no food for a week. He was at once killed, the owner arrested, and committed for trial as above.

Pat Ebert was detected in attempting to tunnel into the vault of a bank in Rolla, Mo., on the night of the 23d inst., and was fatally shot while attempting to escape from the police.

Two men were suffocated by gas in a boiler at Newcastle, Ind., March 23d, and two other men nearly lost their lives in attempting to save their comrades.

The stage which left San Antonio, Texas, on the 21st inst., for Corpus Christi, was stopped near Oakland by four armed men, who robbed the passengers of $400 and several watches and jewelry, and also rifled the mail.

It is stated that the cable steamer Faraday, which is to be engaged in laying the new Atlantic cable, is under orders to sail at the end of April.

Edward McFarland, quartermaster of the steamship Lake Winnepeg, fell from the maintop to the deck as the steamer was entering Portland harbor on the 23d inst., and was instantly killed.

Emigration is so large from Germany to the United States that the steamship companies are obliged to charter extra steamers.

Charles K. Taylor of Minerville, Pa., and Charles F. Garrett, clerk to the commissioner of Schuylkill county, have been arrested on a charge of conspiring to defraud the county out of a large amount of money by collecting interest on coupons of county bonds which had previously been paid and turned over to Garrett for cancellation. Taylor is also charged with forgery.

The heirs of Hannah Dunklee of Brattleboro, Vt., who was killed by a highway accident, have recovered $1,633 of the town.

President Elliot of Harvard university, Mary L. Booth, editor of Harper's Bazar, and the head cook of Parker's hotel, Boston, all receive the same salary.

General Grant's resignation of the presidency of the world's fair commission will extinguish the little remains of life left in that enterprise. The chief object in making him president was to create a greater interest among the people of New York, and induce them to be more liberal in their subscriptions; but it failed. General Grant recommends putting the fair off a year or two.

A man assisted at the burial of a person who died of small-pox at New Britain, Conn. Then he got drunk, and went home without changing his clothes. His four children are now down with the disease.

The Correo of Madrid, Spain, announces that the police have discovered a secret store of 1,600 rifles outside of the barriers of the city. The authorities are investigating the matter. A bomb, with a lighted fuse attached, was placed outside the Royal Theatre at Madrid on the night of the 21st inst., but it was discovered by the police before it could explode.

Senator Fair, the new democratic senator from Nevada, who has $5,000,000 in United States bonds, and did not understand that the funding bill was a political measure, told another democrat that it was a dishonest measure, and that "nobody but a d—d chief would vote for it."

Naval Affairs.

Passed Asst. Paymaster Z. T. Brown is detached from the navy pay office in Boston, and ordered to the Pensacola navy yard April 1st.

Chief Engineer G. W. Sonsner is ordered to the Adams, on the Pacific station, relieving Chief Engineer E. J. Whittaker, who is ordered home.

New Hampshire Items.

Preparations are being made by J. P. Hutchinson, agent of the Lake company at Lake Village, for deepening the channel at the upper bar at the Weirs, in accordance with the plans and specifications of Gen. Thom, who made the survey. Work is expected to begin about the middle of May.

Albee, the defaulting treasurer of the Winchester savings bank, was arraigned on the 23d inst., pleaded not guilty, waived examination, and was committed to jail.

David Ferson of Goffstown, who lived alone in a house at the foot of one of the Uncanoonuc mountains, was found dead at his home a few days ago. He had a cancer on his neck, from which it is supposed he bled to death.

Frank Jenness of Allentown, about six miles east of Suncook, disappeared on Saturday night, the 19th inst., and up to the 23d no trace of his whereabouts had been found. His horse and buggy were found Sunday morning near the barn of Moses R. Lake, on Buck street, Suncook, with a blanket on the horse, which had during the night wandered around an adjacent field. When last seen Jenness was in Suncook village, about ten o'clock Saturday evening, somewhat intoxicated. There are suspicions that he has been foully dealt with.

Edwin L. Bean of Nottingham, arrested for stealing hides from Glidden's tannery at Lee, last December, was discharged by Justice Shackford at Newmarket on the 19th inst., the complainant, Glidden, failing to appear against him.

On Sunday night, March 20th, as Mrs. Moses Horne was with her sister seated in the kitchen of her residence at East Rochester, a masked man dashed in through a back door, blew out the light, broke the lamp, and seizing a silver watch which hung on the wall near by, darted off. The two ladies were badly frightened. On the lamp being relighted and assistance arriving, the watch was missing, and a search was instituted for the daring robber, whose name is supposed to be Jones. He was captured, and on delivering up the watch was allowed to go away without any further trouble, which was a curious way to dispose of such a fellow.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

An arrangement has just been concluded by which Messrs. James R. Osgood & Co. are to bring out Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's latest novel, "A Fair Barbarian." Mrs. Burnett, as we understand, says that she wants one book at least published in Boston. This novel has just been completed as a serial in Scribner's Monthly, the policy of which periodical has always been to cultivate friendly relations with all other publishing houses, and to be the organ of none. The public need little information as to the author of this work. There have been few more striking successes in literature than that achieved by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, an English lady, who early made America her home. The editor of Scribner's early discerned her talent. Her reputation was made by her first novel in that magazine. "That Lass o' Lowries," fairly electrified the reading world. "Haworth's" followed, and fully sustained its author's reputation. "Louisiana," which came next, presented her in a new and entirely different field; but it was, if anything, even a greater literary success than its predecessors. In her latest novel, "A Fair Barbarian," we find Mrs. Burnett amid still other scenes and characters, and here she seems likely to eclipse, at least as far as popularity is concerned, all her earlier triumphs. The title of the story is in itself a most happy conception. The "Fair Barbarian" is a young American lady who has lived in Nevada, and who comes upon an English country town, with the suggestive name of "Slowbridge," to astonish its inhabitants by an individuality of character wholly unique. The heroine is a thoroughly interesting and original creation. She is thoroughly American. She is entirely unconventional in her ideas, when tried by English standards. She confounds and amazes the rigid devotees of propriety, with whom she comes in contact in this sleepy English village. All look upon her with mingled curiosity and wonder. She absolutely horrifies Lady Theobald, who is the head of Slowbridge society, and who embodies all that is arrogant, angular and domineering in the worst type of the British regulator of the proprieties. The raciness of the scenes that attend the meetings of these parties is indescribable. This American girl is not an untamed hoyden, by any means. She is, on the contrary, truly womanly in the best best sense of the term. She is high-spirited, too; and while she manifests a willingness to learn the standards of those among whom her lot is temporarily cast, there is a charming youthful dignity about her which is one of the best points of her delineation. Of course she finds her lover. Of the results that attend his wooing, we leave the reader to learn from the story. The merit of the novel is largely in its admirable purpose and the exquisite skill with which it is carried out. It is a refreshing vindication of the American girl, whom it has been too much the custom of writers to depreciate of late. Mrs. Burnett knows her well, and does her ample justice. She knows England, too, and we have the benefit of that knowledge in the types of English character presented.

—A story is going around that an Indiana court recently granted a divorce on the ground that the libellee had cold feet.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

The new lockup in Seabrook, near the Eastern railroad station, cost the town $225.

Mayor Senter of Portland, Me., paid a visit to the home of his childhood on Wednesday.

Besides the public schools in Seabrook there are two private ones, kept by Mary L. Perkins and Mrs. David F. Souther.

The schooner Christie Campbell arrived Thursday afternoon from Gloucester, having been on the ways at that place and received some slight repairs and a fresh coat of paint.

A large quantity of clams was brought into this market, dug from the sand flats in Brave Boat harbor, and sold for one dollar a barrel, last Thursday. They are of the white or soft shelled species, and are of superior quality.

The steamer Little May, which is now being repaired, painted and put in general good condition at Kittery, has been sold to parties who as soon as her overhauling is completed will take her to Boston by rail, and there ship her by steamer to South Carolina.

Two really good entertainments at Music hall, this week, received but very moderate patronage—the "Galley Slave" on Monday evening, and the "Edgewood Folks" on Wednesday. Mr. Sol Smith Russell, in the latter piece, shew that he has lost none of his power of amusing an audience.

Several parties in this vicinity are preparing for catching lobsters. Sea point, Brave Boat harbor, Chauncy creek, Newcastle and the Shoals will be the principal depots. Schooner Addie & Hattie will cruise along the eastern coast to collect them, and bring them to this market for shipment.

Fish made a sudden leap downward in price on Thursday, one dollar and a quarter per hundred being the extent paid, and not snapped up eagerly at that price. The arrivals were the schooners Emma S. Osier, 7000 lbs.; John W. Smart, 800; Maud Gertrude, 2000; Helen F. Tredick, 1400; Grace Choate, 3000 lbs.

Mr. George B. Chase, for whom the old Chase mansion on the corner of Court and Washington streets was purchased when it was recently sold at auction by the heirs of William Chase, has given the house and grounds to the trustees of the Children's Home for the benefit of that charity, and also provided for an annuity to keep the building in repair.

The farm of Mr. Thomas E. Foye, of Newington, is offered for sale, or to let; or the farm buildings (exclusive of the barn) will be let for the summer at a very cheap rent. The situation is a very pleasant one, commanding a view of Great bay, and the property is well worth the attention of any person desiring to secure a country residence or small farm. The property is advertised in another column.

The Newburyport Herald of Tuesday morning says: "The first crafts of any sort to come down the river since navigation opened were the sloops and scows used in building the bridge at Haverhill, and which had been blockaded by the ice during the latter part of the winter. The sloops belong to Boston parties, and the scows to parties in Portsmouth. The latter are now lying at Rowell's wharf, and are a novelty to persons in this vicinity, having round bows and sterns, and lateen sails, the contractors not being able to use any but those." The Herald will please not term the Piscataqua's unique sailing craft "scows;" they are "gundalows," and if not very beautiful are very convenient for navigating rivers that are obstructed by bridges.

A new hotel, to contain sixty rooms and be called the "Aldine," is being erected at Old Orchard by Samuel Haines.

A fire in Saco, on the night of the 23d inst., damaged a block belonging to Mrs. Charles Hill to the amount of $2000, and destroyed a small building owned by Samuel W. Luques. Hill & Emery, grocers, lost $2000; insured $1800. A meat shop, barber shop, tailoring rooms and the Saco Rifle company, were burned out. The fire was of incendiary origin.

Edward Morrill, of Salisbury, is shipping a large quantity of box-boards from the Eastern railroad station in Hampton Falls to Ipswich, Mass. Robie Morrill, of Salisbury, is cutting hardwood timber in Seabrook for a vessel building in Currier's yard at Newburyport—the 90th vessel built by Mr. Currier for which Mr. Morrill has supplied a portion of the timber.

On Monday of this week the only craft of any notable size built on the Piscataqua for years, was launched at Noble's island. This craft is a scow, built by Richard Seeley for E. F. Sise & Co., to carry an engine for hoisting coal; it is forty feet long, eighteen feet wide and four feet deep, built in the strongest manner of white oak and hard pine, having an engine house twenty feet long, ten feet wide and twelve feet high, of white pine, and a tank in the hold holding 2000 gallons of water. Six of the oldest ship carpenters in the city (several of whom themselves built large vessels at the time when wooden sailing ships were still in favor, before iron kettles propelled by steam power had rendered "wooden walls" obsolete and unprofitable, and well nigh driven them from the ocean,) were engaged in the construction of this scow.

Emery, in his "History of York," alludes to an apple tree said to have been the oldest in America, brought from England in a tub. It attracted the attention of tourists so much that the owner irreverently cut it down, because, as he said, they trod down his grass. The apple tree was of course introduced into the United States from England, even of which country it does not seem to be a native; yet in this country it spread rapidly, growing wild even in the woods. Another example of an exotic taking to the soil and climate is furnished by the barberry shrub, imported into the United States by the early settlers, the fruit of which is capable of being made very useful, as it is well known. It is said that in England it was considered an ornamental plant; here it grows only about very old towns in the New England states, naturally, and in great abundance. One of the early historians writes of a lady who in a raid made by Indians ran into the garden and hid herself behind a barberry bush. The crab apple, supposed by some to be the progenitor of the apple, grows wild in certain portions of the United States. But the oldest orchard now extant here belongs to William Moore, a descendant of Francis Raynes, at the extreme point of Raynes' neck in York. The apples are very fair even for this advanced age. One of the old trees in this orchard sloughed off, so to speak, some years ago, and threw down new roots, rejuvenating a tree. VIATOR.

"HAZEL KIRKE."

Of "Hazel Kirke," which is to be presented at Music hall on Monday evening, the New York Telegram says:

The success of Steel Mackeye's comedy-drama, "Hazel Kirke," prove incontestably that the public will patronize wholesome amusements, and encourage honest artistic endeavor. There is a vein of truth and good moral motive running thorough the drama, that makes those who go to see it feel that they have not wasted time in the playhouse. Men and women, aye, and young people too, are the better for an evening with "Hazel Kirke," and when they go home the memory of the love, sorrow, disobedience, fidelity and over-strained principle so skillfully woven in the texture of the story, gives to them food for reflection that cannot be other than fraught with good results.

The New York Post says "The play is a perfect one, full of honest purpose and vigor. The characters possess individuality and picturesqueness, there is no lack of incident, the motive is pure, the interest is human." The World says "The play is exceedingly strong in situations, admirably written, and contains a Dickinsonian admixture of laughter and tears. The verdict of the public is a just one."

THEY LET HIM GO.

A prominent resident of Christian Shore missing the seven o'clock evening train out of Boston on Tuesday of this week, was obliged in order to keep an appointment early Wednesday morning to take passage on the night freight train down. Ensconcing himself as comfortably as possible under the circumstances, our friend was soon smoozing the time away, oblivious of all going on around him. The train pulled into the depot at Salem about midnight, when a dozen burly policemen—more or less—emerged from the shadows and recesses of the depot, and quickly and silently surrounded the caboose. Selecting from his squad three trusty men, the city marshal of Salem bid them follow him, and boldly entered the car. The passengers were few, and for the most part fast asleep. Opening their bull's eyes, the "guardians of the peace" and "terrors to evil doers" scanned the faces of the weary and dust-begrimmed travellers, till at length they came to that of our placid townsman; then there was a hurried and exciting pantomime,—evidently they had found the game. Then it was that the Salem marshal showed up grandly; bringing his fist down upon the shoulder of the sleeper with the force of a trip-hammer, in a voice that would do credit to a foghorn he informed the astonished passenger that "you are the man we are looking for!" Gradually taking in the situation, our friend informed the blue-coated quartette that before taking any further steps they had better make some inquiries of the conductor, who would probably furnish them with some information concerning the subject under consideration which at the moment they did not possess. Taking the hint the marshal went forward, leaving his comrades to watch the prisoner. Fifteen minutes elapsed, when there was heard a faint whistle, an exchange of glances took place between the waiting trio, and the Salem police silently moved away, sadly murmuring inside, "a policeman's lot is not a happy one."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, March 24th:

A communication from James Miller, relative to cleaning out and kerbing the spring an Miller avenue, was referred to the committee on streets, to report.

Aaron H. Hill asked permission to enter sewer on State street; referred to the committee on sewers.

A communication relative to the appointment of a committee to solicit books and money for the public library, was referred to the mayor and city solicitor.

Notice was received from the county commissioners, of a hearing at the court house, April 8th, on the petition for a road through the Raynes shipyard. The city solicitor was instructed to attend, and defend the interests of this city.

The matter of J. J. Pickering's taxes, which was laid over at the previous meeting, was called up. The mayor said no compromise had been made during the week. Ald. Hall thought the board could do nothing in the case, as it was not properly before it. Ald. Sanborn thought nothing could be done until the taxes were paid by Mr. Pickering; then, if he could show he had been wrongfully taxed, the city could refund what seemed right. Ald. Vaughan said Mr. Pickering's solicitor had intimated that the defence were willing to pay the tax, if the aldermen would agree to pay back half the doomage. Ald. Shannon thought the board had no jurisdiction, and that the matter should be referred to the board of assessors, which was agreed to.

Ald. Noyes gave an estimate of the repairs required on the engine house near the court house, amounting to $731. Ald. Shannon thought the repairs absolutely necessary would amount to $800, leaving undone some outside repairs, such as painting, shingling, etc., until another year. Ald. Noyes thought the outside repairs must be made, in order to make the inside repairs of any account, as the roof leaked badly. Ald. Hazlett said the matter was at first referred to a committee with power, but they found the needed repairs so extensive that they thought best to report to the full board with an estimate of the expense. Ald. Shannon moved that the committee on finance be instructed to put in the estimates the sum of $800 for these repairs. Ald. Slater moved to amend by inserting $500 instead of $800, which was agreed to.

In answer to a question, Ald. Hall said the committee appointed to confer with the Eastern railroad authorities relative to the location of the road's workshops in this city, had received no communication, but would make some enquiries next week.

THE NINE O'CLOCK BELL.

[By Miss E. W. Barnes.]

Mr. Aldrich—one of the most gifted of the sons of Portsmouth, of whom we are so justly proud—has said of the Portsmouth church-bells, "There is no sweeter music this side heaven!" His words often recur to our memory; particularly on a summer Sunday morning, when with open windows we listen to the blended tones. Almost like a chime they seem, as—softened by distance, yet distinct to the ear—their sweet and mellow cadences tell us that the day of rest has come. Now it is proposed to silence the evening bell, which from childhood we have been accustomed to hear. Its voice has come, perhaps through the darkness and on the wings of the storm, perhaps in a quiet, moonlight hour, but always cheeringly. Let us hear it still.

O, let it ring, that dear old bell!
We shall miss the voice we love so well;
We shall miss the tale it loves to tell,
That dear old bell!

It tells us the hour of rest draws near;
It comes to the weary with sound of cheer;
And it comes to us so sweetly here!
That dear old bell!

A kind of "Curfew" to some it seems,
And sends them early to peaceful dreams.
So, restful night the day redeems.
That dear old bell!

Then, spare it a little longer yet;
Till those who love it, the Past forget;
And sleep 'neath the flowers, with dew-drops wet.
That dear old bell!

Beneath the Chestnuts, the roof-trees of Home. March, 1881.

—Some converts were to be baptized by immersion in the river at Pekin, Ill. The water was icy, which they had expected, and it was also muddy, which was something they could not make up their minds to bear. Therefore they went to a park in which was a mineral spring and pool, and the ceremony was performed in water strong with sulphur.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—It is stated that there were 120,000 errors revealed by the recent revision of the sacred Scriptures. Goodness! Is it perfectly safe to calculate that people who lived up to that old Bible were saved?

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—"I think we shall have an early spring," remarked an Oil City woman as she noticed her husband in the act of sitting down on the business end of a carpet tack.—Oil City Derrick.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—Women are such inconstant creatures! We heard a young lady remark—rather inelegantly, it must be confessed—that she hated "that Briggs fellow, he is such a soft cake!" Well, in less than three months she took the cake.—Transcript.

An Honest Medicine.

J. H. Northrup, of Lansingburgh, formerly captain of the Troy police, writes: "I firmly believe that Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' is a great, good, honest preparation; one that may be depended upon." And this is the testimony of thousands. Capt. Northrup suffered from liver derangement for years, and was cured by Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." It is an honest medicine, and sold by all honest druggists at the honest price of one dollar.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large rectal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jouian's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, degrading, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 47 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Daily Chronicle.

When postal cards were first issued about six years ago, their novelty provoked some fault-finding, and they were made fun of as "stingey," "shabby," "unsafe," etc. But they were cheap and the people used them, and the critics soon followed the example of the people. Now (as an exchange remarks) the postal-card has only two enemies—the man who receives duns on it and the manufacturer of writing paper. The little postal causes a decrease of from twelve to fifteen million dollars every year in the business of the writing paper trades in this country. Postal-cards are made at Holyoke, and forty men are continually employed at their manufacture. The cardboard is furnished in packages of three thousand each, and every sheet is made into forty postals. Three presses are kept going night and day. A machine slits the sheets into strips of ten cards each, and these in turn are cut into single cards, and dumped in piles of twenty-five each, when they are packed by girls in pasteboard boxes, containing five hundred cards. A government officer is constantly on hand to see that no pilfering of cards is done. The Holyoke manufactory turns out about one million cards a day.—Golden Rule.

—Trifles light as hair sometimes turn the whole course of a man's appetite.

—White lying is pronounced generally sinful by the Methodist, but it adds: "The puzzle of moralists has been to either justify or entirely condemn a class of such mendacities. For example, what shall we do with the hopeful word of a physician who has no hope?"

—Following is the reason that the Ossipee Valley News gives its readers for having an uncommonly dull paper: "If our paper isn't as good as usual this week, excuse us. Too much reunion, and you can't expect the editor and paper both to be full at the same time."

—Riding in a railroad car. Husband—"You are quite comfortable, dear?" "Yes, love." "The cushions are easy and soft, ducky?" "Yes, darling." "You don't feel any jolts, pet?" "No, sweetest." "And there is no draught on my lamb, is there, angel?" "No, my ownest own." "Then change seats with me."

Workingmen.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of ague, bilious or spring fever, or some other spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month. Don't wait. — Burlington Hawkeye.

There will be no elevated railway in Boston at present, the Massachusetts house of representatives having refused to pass the bill by an overwhelming vote.

It Don't Pay!

To sling money away, but I invested a dollar for a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which cured me of dyspepsia. It saved me ten dollars in doctors and druggists bills.—Machinist, Lowell, Mass.

The legislature of Texas has defeated the bill prophibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of alcoholic drinks in the state.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain development is unusually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared as to impart the vital principle directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

Gen. Warner, United States consul at St. John, N. B., has presented the city with life boats of the most approved pattern.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

In Sioux City, Iowa, on the evening of March 24th, Gustave Freiderich, a saloon keeper, in a fit of insanity shot and instantly killed Helen Eberhardt, a girl of fourteen for whom he had a strong attachment; he then reloaded the gun, and shot himself dead.

The Finest and Purest

Whiskey to be procured is the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon." It has maintained its reputation for years. Druggists and grocers sell it.

Do Examiners Examine?

The bank commissioner who examined the Ashuelot savings bank at Winchester in January, 1880, reported that an examination was made by the trustees twice a year; that the books of record were well kept; and that the bank, so far as loans, etc., were concerned, was in good condition. It had less than nine hundred depositors, to whom it then owed $175,600.

Buchanan's "Medical College."

The Philadelphia Record publishes the confession of the bogus diploma vender, "Dean" John Buchanan, who is now undergoing imprisonment in consequence of the exposure by that paper some time ago of the character of the different medical colleges with which he was associated. The paper says:

He has given up all the books he had, the matriculation books, the minutes of faculty, minutes of trustees, account books, alumni minutes, and a mass of valuable information, including a list of foreign diplomas sold, and a catalogue of addresses, including over 5,000 names of persons who have corresponded with him. He gives the names of wholesale druggists in Philadelphia who have sold his diplomas, and he gives the names of the parties to whom the diplomas were issued. He relates how diplomas were signed by the faculty; how in one instance three professors, for $5 each, signed 500 diplomas for him, and how, for $3.50, the diplomas which were to go abroad were certified to by a Spanish consul. In all about 10,000 names are tangled up in his disclosures. He gives the names of many professional abortionists, and the means whereby they destroy life. He tells of the tricks of his trade, and of the quack nostrums that are advertised to cure all diseases, and of the impostors who prey on public credulity. He recites incidents wherein he robbed graves, how, on one Saturday morning, he stole five dead bodies from Blockley almshouse. He tells how he kept himself clear of the courts and their penalties. He tells of twenty-five concerns in this country and in Europe by which degrees are sold. He figures that fully 20,000 bogus diplomas are current in America, and 40,000 more in Europe. He gives the authorities a lever by which they can uproot every diploma dealer in America.

News and Notes.

The reports furnished on the morning of the 25th concerning the terrible disaster at the burning of the opera house at Nice, were very contradictory in regard to the loss of life. One report said 150 bodies had been recovered, and another fixed the number at sixty-three. An explosion of gas under the stage caused the fire, and a frightful panic ensued. Men and women were crushed over the seats, and the house became a vast den of struggling wild persons. The light and inflammable scenery burned like a flash, and the flames went leaping over the heads of the screaming, shouting, terror-stricken people. Many were trampled to death, and the scene most was horrible. It was believed that no Americans perished, though a rumor was circulated that William Walter Phelps, who was nominated on the 23d inst. by President Garfield as United States minister to Austria, was among the victims. Mr. Phelps and his family having been at Nice when last heard from.

Secretary Windom is said to favor the purchase outright of $180,000,000 of six per cents with the surplus revenue and cash reserve, between now and December, rather than sell the long time four per cents for refunding purposes. He prefers the heroic method to the long bond.

A requiem mass was performed at the Catholic cathedral in Portland, Me., March 24th, by Rt. Rev. Bishop Healy, celebrant, over the remains of Lady Blanche Murphy, a great number of spectators being present, both Catholics and Protestants. The body will be buried in Calvary cemetery at Portland, in accordance with the telegraphed request of her father, the Earl of Gainsboro', of Rutlandshire, Eng., a photograph first being taken, to be sent home.

For several weeks past the Grand Trunk railway officials have been considerably troubled with obstructions in the shape of sleepers, rocks, old rails and the like being placed upon the track between South Parish and Bryant's pond, Maine. These have been found frequently just in season to prevent the destruction of trains. The officers of the road felt that there was a systemized effort to throw their trains from the track by some scamps, and they put a detective on their track, and on the 22d inst. he succeeded in capturing two men alleged to be of the gang, Frederick H. Buck and Amos H. Buck of Woodstock, Me. He took them to Paris, and on the 23d they were committed to wait the action of the grand jury in September.

A handsome and elegantly-dressed woman about twenty-five years of age, said to be the wife of a very wealthy physician of Chicago, was arrested in New York on the 24th inst., on a charge of stealing diamonds valued at $1250 from a Chicago diamond broker on the 8th of February. She obtained the diamonds ostensibly for a friend, who she stated would pay for them the next day. She pawned them the same evening and disappeared, not even her husband knowing of her whereabouts. She was found in an up-town boarding house in New York, living under an assumed name.

John John, a German peddler, was tormented by a party of young men at McKeansburg, Pa., March 23d, until he struck at Monroe Seltzer with a razor, fatally wounding him in the throat. This stopped the fun, and John John hurriedly departed.

John McManus was acquitted at Philadelphia, March 24th, of the murder of Bernard Riley last December. Riley was shot to death in row at a democratic convention held in a liquor saloon, and McManus was arrested more because he was a notorious ruffian than because there was any real evidence against him.

"The code" was beautifully illustrated in Jack county, Texas, March 21st. Two stockmen, named Doyle and Leonard, met by agreement to settle a dispute with rifles at one hundred paces, taking with them a third man as witness. Leonard started to step off the distance, when Dole attempted to shoot him, but his gun hung fire. Leonard then turned and fired on Doyle, who fell mortally wounded. Leonard then walked up to Doyle and shot him three times in the head. Then taking Doyle's gun he fired upon and mortally wounded the only witness to the tragedy, and escaped.

Political.

"Perley" writes from Washington to the Boston Journal: "William E. Chandler's nomination to the position which he desired, that of solicitor general, is very gratifying to the greater number of republicans here. Mr. Chandler has been for years an enthusiastic and industrious worker in the republican ranks, and those who know how much he did toward securing the election of Mr. Hayes could never comprehend way he did not receive some honorable position."

The Washington correspondents on the 24th inst. announced that President Garfield had absolutely abandoned all idea of calling an extra session of Congress.

Big Boats.

A few years ago the largest ocean steamers did not exceed 350 feet in length, 35 feet in breadth, 3,500 tons in tonnage, or 4,000 horse power. The "City of Berlin," of the Inman line, is 488 feet long by 44 1-2 feet beam; and their new steamer, the "City of Rome," building at Barrow, England, will be still larger, viz: Length of keel, 546 feet; length over all, 590 feet; breadth, 52 feet; gross registered tonnage, 8,000 tons.

Kalloch Acquitted.

At San Francisco, Cal., on the 24th inst., the jury in the case of young Kalloch, charged with the murder of Charles De Young, after being out twenty-four hours brought in a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was received with much applause, and the escaped murderer was heartily congratulated by his friends. When Kalloch was discharged and got into a carriage to go home, an immense crowd took the horses from the vehicle and pulled him to his house, some three miles. Young Kalloch, like his precious father, I. S. Kalloch, is a "reverend." Probably the verdict of the jury may be construed to mean that the people of San Francisco think it no crime to murder a De Young—a family only less infamous than the Kallochs. We may now look out for the murder of some of the Kallochs by the surviving De Youngs.

New Hampshire Items.

A French Protestant church was organized in Manchester, Thursday, March 24th, with twenty-four members. Rev. Gideon Aubin, an ordained preacher, will become its pastor.

Nelson J. Abert of North Stratford was arrested on the 24th inst., and held in $1500, for assault with intent to kill Stephen Boulley. He fired a pistol in Boulley's face, the ball entering near the mouth and coming out behind the ear. The bullet then went through the window of the office of the Percy house, wounding C. E. Smith, the proprietor, in the hand.

A correspondent writes to the Boston Post as follows: "Allow me to correct an error in your list of the oldest masons, published in your issue of March 18th. The second in your list is Col. Nathan Huntoon of Unity, N. H., 1803. Col. Huntoon, who was born March 21st, 1782, can not be placed any longer upon the list of the oldest Freemasons in the country, as he passed to the majority, and entered, we trust, the celestial Grand Lodge, on Nov. 24th, 1879."

The body of Frank W. Jenness, of Allentown, near Suncook, before reported missing, was found on the afternoon of the 23d inst. in a pasture a mile and a half from Suncook, in which village he was last seen alive on the evening of the 19th inst. No marks of violence were discovered, and it is supposed he perished from exposure.

The White Mountain Freezer Co., recently burned out at Laconia, have decided to locate in Nashua. The city government has exempted the concern from taxation for a term of ten years. It has bonded two acres of land near the Concord railroad station, and preparations are being made for the erection of suitable buildings in which to prosecute the enterprise. The company manufactures ice-cream freezers, tubs and pails, and did a business of $60,000 last year.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Lost in a Great City;" by Amanda M. Douglas, author of "In Trust," "Stephen Dane," "Claudia," etc. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price $1.50. The story is told with thrilling interest of a young girl separated from her nurse-maid in Broadway, New York, and subsequently let out as a performer on the stage and in the circus to excite the admiration and astonishment of spectators. The narrative of the harsh treatment in the varied routine of this life is told with an unflagging interest, down to the time when she is discovered, found to be of a parentage of the best order, and the finale is reached when happiness such as only the successful writer can portray is at length attained. The moral is seen in calling attention to the manner in which children are abused in large cities. The style is interesting throughout, and as a book of our own time with scenes laid in our own land, it will have a large reading. All the leading booksellers have it.

—Gracie's first experience on eating a peach: "I've eaten it cloth and all, mamma; now, what shall I do with the bone?"

—We don't just see why a woman should like her mirror better than a man, for the man will flatter her and the mirror won't.

—Waiter (bawling to the cook:) "One roast lamb and one potato." Old gentleman; "No, no! Not so much lamb, and more potatoes."

Trade for beef cattle has been active at an advance of 10 @ 15c per 100 lbs. live weight since one week ago. The quality of the beef cattle in market was full as good as that of one week ago. Nearly all the western cattle were sold out early in the day on Tuesday, and most of them to butchers, there being but a light demand for shipping cattle this week. The supply from Maine consisted mostly of working oxen and milch cows; only a few beef cattle among them.

Working Oxen—There has been a fair demand for working oxen and a good supply in market. FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Sprup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale.

AROUND HOME.

The Concord railroad will add one hundred new coal cars to its rolling stock this season.

Alfred S. Wentworth, Esq., of New York, has sent $100 to the trustees of the Children's Home for the benefit of that institution.

There is a report current that a change will be made in one of the old established fishing firms of this city on or about the first of April.

There are twenty-five telephones in this city, and others are to be put up as soon as the press of work will allow them to be constructed.

Rider & Cotton have purchased the materials saved from the wreck of the schooner Vanguard, which went on a ledge off Little Boar's head, North Hampton, one night not long since.

Mr. Daniel Mason employs a large gang of men at his mill on Green street. He has lately commenced the making of boxes, which with the sawing of logs into lumber causes the mill to present a busy aspect.

The steam-tug Naumkeag, of Salem, Mass., thirty-six tons register, horse-power seventy-five nominal, built at New London, Conn., in 1877, has been sold to parties in this city, and will be used for towing on the river.

The water in the well at the Eastern railroad depot is found to be impregnated with salt, which probably comes through a vein or fissure that connects with the river. Efforts will be made to find out the opening, and if possible to plug it up.

The market on Friday was heavily stocked with steak fish, and prices did not advance. The arrivals at this port on Friday were the schooners Grace Choate, with 3000 lbs.; Emma S. Osier, 5000; Flying Eagle, 4000. All these boats are netters.

The grading at the junction of State and Water streets needs attention. The rains have washed away a large quantity of gravel, and the descent is now so steep that the teams, many of them heavily loaded with coal and fish, have to use considerable care in driving over this thoroughfare.

The steamer Louis Irving, of Exeter, which was used for excursion parties last summer, and has been hauled up on Moffat's wharf during the winter, was examined by parties in this city on Friday with the view of purchasing and running her to the Shoals and Newcastle this summer, for private purposes.

The steamer Harrisburg arrived on Friday with 1650 tons of coal. On coming in to the wharf her fore-topmast stay caught in one of the shoots of the coal-pocket used in unloading vessels, nearly tearing it away from its fastenings. The damage was speedily repaired without its interfering with the discharge of her cargo.

One of General Thom's assistant engineers was in this city on Friday, and replaced some of the lost gauges or marks which were placed on the river during the survey of last fall. The work of removing Gangway rock, between the south beacon and the navy yard, will commence on the low run of tides which will begin on the 6th of April.

Arrangements have been made to connect the custom house in this city with the lighthouse at Fort point, Newcastle, by telephone. This will be a great convenience, inasmuch as marine disasters and arrivals can be instantly reported without the present inconvenience and delay of going down river for particulars, or sending a messenger from Newcastle to this city.

The Eastern railroad bridge across the Saco river at Biddeford is to be retimbered at once.

The Boston Post of Friday morning says: "The Roxbury Horse Guard is making arrangements for an excursion to Portsmouth, N. H."

Mr. John A. Peterson is getting his scow ready for transporting stone from Leach's island to Odion's wharf, for the new Episcopal church at the west end.

Schooner S. H. Pinkham of Cape Porpoise, 19.67 tons register, has been sold to E. G. Willard of Portland, and will hereafter hail from the latter-named port.

At two o'clock this afternoon, on the premises, the cottage house of the late Isaac Brackett of Newington will be sold by public auction to the highest bidder, without reserve. This sale offers an opportunity seldom afforded of securing a desirable place of residence at a moderate cost. See advertisement.

The full republican ticket was elected in York at the late election, as follows: Moderator, G. W. S. Putman; clerk, Joseph Bragdon; selectmen and assessors, George W. Currier, Rufus A. Moody, David Moulton; treasurer, Joseph Bragdon; collector of taxes, Washington Junkins; agent, John B. Fernald; overseers of the poor, Lemuel Mitchell, Eastman Hutchins, Wilbur F. Norton; superintending school committee, Gilbert Robbins; auditor of accounts, G. W. S. Putnam.

Mr. C. A. Goldstone, stopping for a few days at the Gibson house on Vaughan street, advertises for some active young business man with a small capital to take exclusive control in New Hampshire, or Rockingham county, of the business of introducing the celluloid door plates and finger plates manufactured by D. C. Matthews & Co., of Boston. This we believe offers a really fine chance to a man of the right kind. The goods are very handsome, are manufactured in variety to suit all tastes, are reasonable in price, and we should judge are (as they are claimed to be) practically indestructible. Mr. Goldstone will be pleased to exhibit samples to any who may call upon him during the hours mentioned in his advertisement.

Our public spirited citizens have taken hold of this enterprise, [the rebuilding of the Kearsarge mill] with an earnestness that assured success, and has, so far as Portsmouth is concerned, achieved it. We are glad to learn that the Portsmouth committee have informed Mr. Thompson that $100,000 is ready for him whenever he shall raise the balance of the required $800,000 capital stock. We learn that in addition to freedom from taxation, which cannot be given in Massachusetts, there have been other inducements offered, one of which comes from the Portsmouth Aqueduct company. It now remains only for Mr. Thompson to use his influence in Boston. If he accomplishes that part of the work, the mill is sure; and that he will, he gave us on his recent visit every reason for the utmost assurance. Our citizens are awake to the great disadvantage of losing the present opportunity, and are earnestly pushing to improve it. —Journal.

Capt. Jonathan Chase, who died in Deering, Me., on the 23d inst., was one of the oldest sea captains in Maine. In early life he sailed out of this port, and commenced his sea-going career in a sloop of thirty-seven tons, running between Portsmouth and the West Indies. He made several voyages in this vessel, and afterward commanded larger ones. He was master of the brig Hannah for a long time. During all his experience he lost but one man. He was engaged several times in fights with pirates in defense of his vessel. On one voyage he was attacked three times by them, but escaped. In one of these struggles he was hit in eight different places by musket balls, one of the bullets going nearly through his body, and causing a long sickness. He gave up the sea over fifty years ago, bought Jewell's island, on the coast of Maine, and turned farmer.

EASTERN RAILROAD MACHINE SHOPS.

The joint special committee of conference appointed by the city council of Salem to confer with the Eastern railroad management with reference to inducing the corporation to locate its general repair and machine shops upon the mill-pond property in Salem, has submitted a proposition to the directors of the road which, although not yet made public, is understood to be an offer of a clear title of the property made by filling the pond to the corporation, that is, such portion of it as is now claimed by the city of Salem, with other favorable conditions. Since then the finance committee of the road has visited the location and inspected it. No reply has yet been received by the conference committee, but the latter was notified that the executive committee of the company would meet last week to consider the matter. Since Salem made its offer the cities of Portsmouth, N. H., and Somerville have thrown out inducements for the road to locate its shops within their limits. The people of Salem are very much interested in the matter, and have petitioned the city government to use all the means in its power to induce the company to locate in Salem.—Boston Advertiser.

It seems to us that the only question in the minds of the directors of the Eastern railroad which would be likely to arise is, "Which is the economical place for the location of these shops?" Certainly Salem has some advantages, as although near one end of the line, it is the central point for several branches of the road. It is the place where concentrate the Marblehead branch, four miles long; Lawrence, nineteen miles; Gloucester, (practically,) seventeen miles; Essex, five miles; South Reading, eight miles; and it is within three miles of the Saugus branch, nine miles long. This with mileage to Boston and East Boston, will aggregate over sixty miles.

Portsmouth has east of it fifty-one miles to Portland, seventy-one miles from Conway junction to North Conway, and the Dover and Wolfeborough lines, twenty-three miles, aggregating one hundred and forty-five miles, with fifty-seven miles towards Boston. But the lines in this section are travelled by a less number of trains than are those near Salem, and as a place whence a machine could be speedily sent perhaps our sister city may have the advantage, though in extent of distances Portsmouth would seem to be the better centre.

This kind of business, in the case in hand, is very likely, under the direction of the present practical and experienced head of the corporation, to be located, not where the "inducements" are most liberally promised, but where the interest and convenience of the company will be more generally promoted. The total length of the main road and branches is 282 miles, of which 145, or more than one-half, are east of Portsmouth, and thirty miles in addition are nearer Portsmouth than Salem, which would seem to be an argument in favor of Portsmouth.

DEMOCRATIC ECONOMY!

Collector Howard, custodian of the government building, has received notice from Secretary of the Treasury Windom that the appropriations made for water, gas, etc., for the public buildings of the United States, will be exhausted after the 30th inst. By law no indebtedness can be created for these supplies in anticipation of the appropriations. The water used for steam heat in the post-office building is supplied by the Aqueduct Co. on a yearly contract. The collector has notified the Gas Co. of the situation of affairs, and perhaps the company will generously help the working men who are obliged to wait till evening before going to the office for their newspapers and letters.

This state of affairs is due to the democratic policy of crippling the government which the people prevented their controlling. The treasury department sent to the committee on appropriations of the late "democratic Congress" a detailed statement of just what was the cost of keeping the public buildings of the United States properly heated, lighted and cared for. An officer of the department went before the committee of the House, and explained in detail these wants, indicating just when, where and how the sums were needed to be expended, but notwithstanding this was a public convenience—a necessity, rather—in which the people all over the country were alike interested, the appropriation was reduced one-half. If an extra session of Congress is to be called, this is one of the evils of cheap democracy to be remedied. Is there any wonder that when the people are made, by the acts of these incompetent democrats themselves, to see their unfitness to govern the country, that they are kept out in the cold? It will ever be thus.

A REMINISCENCE.

The March number of the Harvard Register contains a likeness of Charles Chauncy, second president of Harvard college, with a memoir by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., LL. D. We make the following extract from the closing portion of the article, which gives an account of one of President Chauncy's descendants who will be remembered by many of our elder readers:

The portrait of President Chauncy copied at the head of this sketch was transmitted in the line of the descendants of Rev. Dr. Chauncy of Boston, and thus came into the possession of Charles William Chauncy, M. D., of Portsmouth, N. H., (H. U. 1819.) Perhaps no physician of his time entered upon his profession with fairer prospects of eminence than he. After graduating in the medical department of Harvard college, he pursued his studies in London, Paris, Germany, and Italy, and brought home six octavo volumes of notes, principally on the physiology, diseases, and treatment of the eye. With a costly library, and instruments of the most approved pattern, he established himself in his native place, and almost immediately, by successful operations and the cure of cases that had been abandoned as hopeless, gained a reputation which is seldom acquired till after many years of practice. In 1834 he was invited to fill a temporary vacancy in the Berkshire Medical college. After entering upon his duties, in the midst of a lecture, he was seized with a sudden fit of insanity, from which he recovered but partially and for a little while. During his seeming convalescence he disposed of his valuable effects, his ancestor's portrait included, at pitifully small prices, and the writer of this sketch redeemed the portrait from the hands into which it fell, in behalf of Harvard college, at the charge of President Quincy. Dr. Chauncy died at the New Hampshire insane asylum in 1864.

—A Chicago man married his mother-in-law so that he could live with his wife in peace.

—Here is a severe prayer test. Mr. Miller, the new senator for California, rose in one of the Moody meetings in San Francisco and asked prayers for himself in his endeavor to lead a Christian life in Washington.

—A man at Plainfield, Ind., desired to leave his travelling bag and coat while he walked to a place twenty miles distant. He put them in a field, unprotected from thieves except by the sign, "Small-pox—beware!" and found them untouched when he returned.

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Concord, N. H., Patriot.

An electric light of 100,000 candle-power, the largest light ever produced by human hands, was successfully tested at the Brush works in Cleveland, Ohio, on the 9th inst. It was made to order for use in the British navy, and is intended to be used in night attacks and to scan the sea for approaching torpedoes.

"Made New Again."

ST. CATHARINES, Ont.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

I have used your Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery, and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, for the last three months and find myself—(what shall I say)—"made new again," are the only words that express it. I was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk across the floor without fainting, could keep nothing in the shape of food in my stomach. Myself and friends had given up all hope, my immediate death seemed certain. I can never be too thankful to those who recommended your medicines, for I now live (to the surprise of everybody) and am able to do my own work. I desire to make this statement in order that those suffering may not despair until they have given your remedies a trial,

Yours respectfully,
MRS. WM. D. RYCKMAN.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the supplance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the afflicton makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Treatise on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 49 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Bronchitis. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Daily Chronicle.

The Wives of Garfield's Advisers.

Seldom, writes a Washington correspondent, has it been that, in the selection of a cabinet, the wives of the members enjoyed such distinction, apart from the reputation of their husbands, as do some of those of the present administration.

Mrs. Blaine is a fine looking lady, tall, with good features, and hair well sprinkled with gray. She is pleasant in her manners, a ready conversationalist, and shrewd. Her long experience in public life has made her a valuable acquisition to the administration, or at least to that part of it represented by her husband. She can keep a secret and ward off the inquisitive. Mrs. Blaine possesses those peculiar qualifications which make a wife a great comfort and aid to a public man.

Mrs. Windom is a fine, matronly lady, who has never shown any disposition for society and its frivolities. While she always dresses in good taste, in either black silk or satin, or some solid color, there is nothing dashing to distinguish her in a crowded reception room. She appears to the best advantage in the home circle.

The oddest fish in the cabinet basket is Sam. J. Kirkwood, the secretary of the interior. He is a plain man, and has an agricultural appearance, but the one who picks him up as a flat will be mistaken. Little is known of his wife beyond the fact that she is an estimable lady, who partakes in a measure the quiet manner of her husband, and has a limited circle of acquaintances.

Secretary Lincoln's wife was May Harlan, daughter of Ex-Senator Harlan, a woman of exquisite loveliness. In her younger days the suitors for her hand were numbered by the score. Her presence in the charmed circle of the cabinet will add to its brilliancy.

The fact that Mrs. MacVeagh is Simon Cameron's daughter has given her a reputation which has preceded her. She is tall and graceful, and having spent years in society with her father, comes well prepared for the new honors which both her husband and herself will receive. Those who know her best say she possesses in a marked degree many of the characteristics which distinguished her father, and these are more largely developed than in any of her relatives. Having been brought up in a political atmosphere she has acquired the faculty of reading men and women at a glance; and I am told hers has been the directing mind in many of the movements made by her husband.

Mrs. Hunt will be the belle of the cabinet. She is a beautiful blonde, agreeable in manner and cultivated in taste. She is one of the best educated ladies in Washington, and withal a brilliant society woman. Her circle of acquaintances is large, and she entertains with true southern liberality.

Postmaster James has a lovely wife, who will be an ornament to society.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—Hand-painted scarfs for gentlemen is the latest infliction of amateur artists. The stereotyped forget-me-not and butterflies, bulrushes and bees will now be seen under the chin of many a youth, and there will be no more jeering at sister's painted gowns.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—The quaint China ware in which ring boxes, glove boxes and "catch-alls" are made to imitate books, bunches of cigars and other things, is made at Nancy.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—Brush, the inventor of the Brush light, is in a fair way to become a millionaire. He makes $900 a day, and he is only thirty-two years of age.

An Honest Medicine.

J. H. Northrup, of Lansingburgh, formerly captain of the Troy police, writes: "I firmly believe that Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' is a great, good, honest preparation; one that may be depended upon." And this is the testimony of thousands. Capt. Northrup suffered from liver derangement for years, and was cured by Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." It is an honest medicine, and sold by all honest druggists at the honest price of one dollar.

A Freak of Nature.

Vienna physicians have been examining with much interest a three-year-old pair of twins, who are not less of a natural curiosity than the Siamese twins were. From the breast bone down they have but one body; above that they are two wholly separate and complete organisms. They have only two legs and feet, but four arms. The sense of feeling in the two upper parts is entirely distinct and individual. At the moment of medical inspection, one of the heads looked peevish and occasionally cried on account of a painful tooth, while the other looked fresh and lively, and shouted "Mamma!" The inner arms come in conflict, and cause fights between the twins. Though the pair have one body below the breast, they do not get hungry at the same time. The left foot seems to be connected only with the left head, and the right foot with the right head. One of the feet was pinched, and only the head on that side cried out.

MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1881.

Proclamation.

A custom, instituted by a God-fearing ancestry, and hallowed by an observance of more than a century, has made the setting apart of a day in each year as one of humiliation, fasting and prayer a duty, the cheerful performance of which is dictated by all our New England teaching and traditions, and which we may not safely disregard we would, and would not willingly ignore if we could.

Therefore, I, Natt Head, governor of New Hampshire, in accordance with ancient precedent and the custom of our people, and with the advice and consent of the council, hereby appoint Thursday, the seventh day of April next, as a day of fasting and prayer, in devout recognition of the Providence of Almighty God and humble acknowledgment of our own unworthiness; and I recommend that all Christian people faithfully observe the day in its ancient and truly religious spirit.

Given at the Executive Council Chamber in Concord, this fifteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fifth.

NATT HEAD.

By His Excellency the Governor, with advice of the Council. A. B. THOMPSON, Secretary of State.

The Secretary of the Navy.

Judge Hunt, secretary of the navy, is described by Mr. Pickett, who was the confederate minister to Mexico, as "a native of South Carolina who was with his family a staunch Unionist. Hunt never believed in seccession." President Garfield has shown his wisdom and farsightedness in selecting as a member of his cabinet perhaps the greatest man from the south who is fitted for the position and who never believed in the mad scheme of a Southern Empire. Judge Hunt is a noble representative of that element at the south which believed in the country before any sectional element, and whose devotion to the union in its times of peril has been unceasing.

Men and Women in this Country.

The polygamists, who claim that the many-wived practice of olden time is justifiable now, will find the United States census a hard nut to crack. Instead of a surplus of women for wives, it is not possible for every Jack to have even one Jill. In the whole country there are 25,520,582 males, and 24,632,284 females, being 96,519 of the latter to every 100,000 of the former, and an actual surplus of 888,298 males. In 1870, according to the census of that year the males numbered 19,493,365, and the females 19,064,806, and the ratio was 97,801 females to 100,000 males. The increase of males has apparently been 459,539 greater than the increase of females, and the excess of males has almost doubled since 1870. There is an excess of about 100,000 females in New England, and nearly 90,000 in the states of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The south, including the District of Columbia, has an excess of about 136,000 males; the north-western states an excess of about 560,000; the Pacific states of about 160,000, and the territories of 112,000.

News and Notes.

In South Carver, Mass., 24th inst., at the residence of the late Zenas Tillson, while J. W. Tillson, ten years of age, and Miles Tillson, a cousin, seventeen years of age, were alone in a room, the elder boy took a gun, not knowing that it was loaded, snapped it, and when it went off sent a charge of buckshot into the little fellow's leg just below the knee, making a terrible wound and necessitating amputation. The physicians say there is no hope of his recovery.

A young man by the name of Slack attempted suicide at Williamstown, Vt., by shooting himself with a pistol, the ball entering his ear and passing out of his mouth. It is though he may recover.

The new railroad tax law of Maine is expected to return to the state $72,297, the largest amount, $20,772, coming from the Maine Central, and the smallest from the St. Croix, $250. The Boston & Maine pays $17,242, the Eastern $15,334, and the Grand Trunk $10,017.

George W. Birmingham, a Little Rock, Ark., planter, was assassinated in his field last Thursday by unknown parties.

America exported 5,858,834 barrels of flour in 1879, while in 1880 it footed up 6,545,020 barrels. This encouraging gain strengthens the oft-repeated opinion that the United States is destined to become the world's feeder. The possibilities of the wheat crop are almost interminable.

John and Michael Sullivan, laborers on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, discovered a crooked rail on the track near McKeesport, last Thursday. While they were endeavoring to straighten it, in order to prevent a train from being wrecked, a passenger train came around the curve. They frantically worked with a crowbar to get the rail replaced to save the train, and succeeded just in time, but both men were struck by the engine and killed. The act was one of great heroism, and saved many lives.

Joseph Martin, a laborer in Huntington, L. I., was arrested Friday for throwing vitriol into the face of Alice Halligan, destroying both her eyes, because she rejected his addresses.

Byron and Chatterton, first tenors of the Strakosch Hess Opera company, had a set-to at Toronto recently on account of a lady belonging to the company. They fought in the hallway of the hotel, Chatterton knocking Byron down.

Friday morning Rufus Pickering's house in Woburn, Mass., was entered by burglars, who stole considerable property, and shot Mr. Pickering's son, injuring him quite severely.

Accounts from Foochow, China, speak of two natives who had been steeped up to their necks in quicklime, for counterfeiting "cash," the smallest of Chinese coins. Both speedily died.

At the recent ball at the Elysee in Paris, President Grevy scandalized society by wearing no decorations, and shaking hands freely, after the fashion of the president of the United States.

The boiler at the gas works at Rockland, Me., exploded Friday, completely wrecking the building and severely injuring several persons.

A woman fell on an icy sidewalk in Hartford and broke her leg. She recovered $500 damages from the city. The owner of the premises in front of which she was hurt was then sued by the city, on the ground that he had violated an ordinance by not clearing the walk of ice. The supreme court has decided in this case that the city and not the property owner is liable for injury to a person falling on an icy sidewalk.

This has been a hard winter indeed for settlers in the northwest. The starvation and freezing of cattle in Montana have caused, it is said, a loss of about twenty per cent. Hay has not been obtainable off the main lines of travel at any cost, and the deep snow has made transportation and browsing alike impossible. Hay at $45 a ton in a country where fodder does not usually enter into the expense account of stock-raising, makes it sometimes cheaper to kill cattle than to save them. Dakota has also had a fuel famine.

Ezra Dean and wife, of Logansport, Ind., had a remarkably pretty and bright baby. The agent of a travelling theatrical company saw it, and hired the mother, at $20 a week and expenses, to let it be used as the infant in a play. After several months Mrs. Dean and the child arrived at Logansport on their tour. Mr. Dean went to the railroad station, and asked his wife to retire from the show business. It was folly, he said, considering he was a prosperous butcher, and the $20 a week was no great object to divide the family any longer. Mrs. Dean was fond of exhibiting her baby to admiring audiences, and would not consent to stop. Argument proving of no avail, the father seized the youngster, had a fight with the manager, and finally carried off the prize.

The second annual reunion of the New Hampshire Odd Fellows will be held on the Methodist camp ground at Weirs Landing, August 16th, 17th and 18th. The officers of the Odd Fellows' association having the matter in charge are: President, Hon. John H. Albin of Concord; secretary and treasurer, J. B. Smart of Concord; executive committee, Hon. Joseph Kidder of Manchester, Geo. Cummings of Concord, Q. A. Scott of Woodsville, Joseph H. Gardiner of Portsmouth, and A. C. Leavitt of Laconia.

A freight train ran off the track in front of the depot at Tilton, Saturday, and three cars were damaged.

Political.

The Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal tells that paper that a gentleman who has had considerable to do with engineering the search for the author of the Morey letter has stated positively that all the parties implicated in the affair are known, and that as soon as the testimony can be put in proper shape a full exposure will be made. He also said that all the parties implicated would be prosecuted in the courts.

It is said that the present administration is made up of younger men than any that has ever assumed the reins in Washington; from which it seems a fair inference that the young men of the country are coming to the front. General Garfield is one of the youngest men ever elected as President, and the aggregate age of his constitutional advisers is less than of any previous cabinet. It is also a fact, that during the last Presidential campaign the young men of the east and west were unusually active, and much the larger portion republicans and enthusiastic supporters of Garfield. This was especially true of the educated and intelligent young men of the country, and is a gratifying sign.—Amherst Cabinet.

"I See It."

In a certain city a laboring man leaving a saloon saw a costly carriage and pair standing in front, occupied by two ladies elegantly attired, conversing with the proprietor. As it rolled away he said to the dealer: "Whose establishment is that?"

"It is mine," said the dealer, complacently. "It cost $5000; my wife and daughter cannot do without it."

The mechanic bowed his head a moment in deep thought, and looked sad; with the energy of a man suddenly aroused by some startling flash, he said:

"I see it! I see it!"

"See what?" queried the saloon keeper.

"See where for years my wages have gone. I helped pay for that carriage, for those horses and gold mounted harnesses, for silks and laces and jewelry for your family. The money I earned that I should have given my wife and children, I have spent at your bar. My wages and those of others like me have supported you and our family in luxury. Hereafter my wife and children shall have the benefit of my wages, and by the help of God, I will never spend another dime for drink. I see the mistake, and the cure for it."

Who else will "see it" and work for themselves and their loved ones, instead of toiling to buy silks for rumsellers' wives and carriages for rumsellers' families?—Exchange.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Sprup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

The sale of real estate on the River road in Newington on Saturday, attracted many persons, and the competition for some of the lots was lively. The house and land adjoining were purchased by Capt. Frank P. Coleman for $1100; one of the adjacent lots was bought by Geo. Wallace Pickering for $405, and the other by Isaac Dow for $430.

The schooner Emily A. Staples, Coleman master, which arrived at this port on Saturday from Boston, goes to Eliot to take a cargo of brick from Raitt's brickyard to Boston. The schooner D. K. Ham, Freeman master, another of the brick-carrying squadron, arrived from Boston on the same day, and will load on the Dover side of the Cocheco.

Mr. William R. Martin has been appointed store-keeper and gauger for the district of New Hampshire, under the internal revenue bureau. Mr. Martin has been gauger for some time past. The new appointment is the result of a consolidation of these offices under a new general rule of the bureau, where the product is only to a certain amount.

Mr. David Badger, of Newington, was thrown from his wagon on Saturday, and his horse knocked down, on Market square, by some cattle that were exposed there for sale. Mayor Sise, who was a witness of the affair, ordered the cattle to be removed from the square, giving their owners permission to yard them on the city's premises at the court house.

Commander Arthur R. Yates, U. S. N., recently in command of the Alliance, has arrived home, and it is stated will be ordered to duty at the navy yard near this city. Passed Asst. Paymaster Zachary T. Brown will leave Portsmouth this week for the Pensacola navy yard, where he will assume the duties of paymaster, inspector and purchasing paymaster.

Eighteen of the Concord railroad's new coal-cars arrived in this city on Friday last, and on Saturday eleven of them left the railroad wharf with loads of black diamonds. They are twenty-eight feet long, weigh about 19,000 pounds apiece, and will carry fifteen tons of coal each. They are a great improvement on anything before produced in the shape of a coal-car.

At the school meeting in South Seabrook on Tuesday evening of last week, Rev. William A Rand was chosen moderator for the ensuing year, and George P. Eaton clerk. There was quite a contest over the election of prudential committee, Emery N. Eaton being chosen, he having fifty-one votes to David F. Souther's thirty-three.——E. Y. Turner, Esq., will lecture in the vestry at South Seabrook on the evening of April 2d; subject, "Free trade."

Daniel C. Goodwin, of Cape Neddick, is one of the deputy sheriffs for York county.

The total liabilities of North Berwick are $11,788.34, and the assets $1956.23, making the net town debt $9832.11.

Joseph Richards, for fifty years an employe of the York Manufacturing company at Saco, closes his labors with the corporation this month. The company have presented him with a $500 United States bond.

At South Seabrook, on the 20th inst. Caleb Cushing Fowler, nineteen years of age, was cleansing a breech-loading pistol of twenty-two calibre, when the weapon was discharged, the bullet passing through the palm of his left hand and then out of doors, breaking a pane of glass on the way. Dr. D. W. Colcord dressed the wound, and the hand is now doing well. This is the third instance in which a young man has been shot through the hand since last July, in South Seabrook, cheap pistols doing the mischief in each case.

City Marshal Entwistle visited the northern part of the state the first of the week in the interest of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to investigate cases of reported cruelty. At Plymouth a horse was found at work having three ribs broken, from which he was apparently greatly suffering; at Lake Village another was found with the tendons in one leg broken, being obliged to drag the leg along and yet kept at work by his owner; another at Franklin Falls was almost "transparent with age" and scarcely able to move. All three horses were consequently killed by the order and in the presence of our humane city marshal.—Journal, 26th inst.

REDUCTION OF FARE.

Tickets to Boston and return, at $3.00 for the round trip, over the Eastern railroad, are now procurable at the station in this city. These tickets are good until used, but the trip each way must be "continuous" when once entered upon; that is, the ticket-holder will not be permitted to stop over at any station between the two cities.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Mch. 26; Batchelder, J.

C. L. Brown was complained of for the maintenance of a nuisance (a slaughter house) on Hancock street. Fined $10, with costs. Appealed, and gave bonds in $100 to prosecute the appeal at the next term of the supreme court.

Charles Churchill, charged with the same offence, was fined $5, with costs. Appealed, and gave bonds in $100.

"HAZEL KIRKE."

This celebrated comedy-drama, which is to be performed at Music hall this evening by the Madison Square Theatre company of New York, will be presented with a strong cast and special scenery. That the play is one of rare merit is shown by the fact that it had the unprecedented run of four hundred nights in New York, the interest of the public holding on till the last. Wherever it has been performed in other places, crowded and enthusiastic audiences have greeted the company, and the papers have seemed almost extravagant in their commendations. At Manchester, where the sale of tickets commenced Friday forenoon, a line of purchasers commenced to form at the ticket office before four o'clock in the morning, and a full house was assured before noon. Of the play one critic says:

Without doubt this domestic drama is very fascinating. In fact, it is more. It is touching to a point of tenderness and sympathy which the morbid effects of the French drama cannot approach. There is a spirit of homely candor and truth about it that enlists the most indifferent. But how much does this play owe its success to the thoroughly artistic manner of its representation? How strong do some scenes grow in the hands of this company, which, in others, would be weak and ineffective. There is no gainsaying the fact that "Hazel Kirke" is an attraction which proves irresistible.

Another says:

A story as simple as a garland of autumn leaves, and as delicately beautiful, makes of "Hazel Kirke" a charming play. * * Running quietly along, over an even way, among shadows and in sunshine, amid smiles and tears, but never turbulent, never harsh, never rugged, the piece awakens a sense more nearly akin to the feeling of reverie than any play we have seen in many seasons. * * * There is an indescribable grace, a wordless charm about the play that cannot be woven into a synopsis more than the colors of a violet can be resolved by a chemist.

EASTERN RAILROAD MACHINE SHOPS.

The following letter has been received by Mayor Sise, in answer to one sent by him urging the advantages which this city offers as a site for the shops:

BOSTON, March 26th, 1881.

Hon. W. H. Sise, Mayor, Portsmouth, N. H.,—Dear sir: I have yours of the 25th, and will say in reply that the distance from Boston would render the location of the shops of this company at Portsmouth almost impracticable. I do not think the board would be prepared to consent to such a location. Yours truly,

E. B. PHILLIPS, President E. R. R.

President Phillips and Mr. John Cummings, of the Eastern railroad, were in Salem last week inspecting the mill-pond site and also one on the North river. It is said the management of the road regard the mill-pond site favorably as a location for the company's machine shops, and would be ready to place them there provided Salem would "do its share in reference to the filling-in."

THE NEWMARKET JAMBOREE.

From the report in the Newmarket Advertiser, we learn that Elder J. T. Browne was not prevented from lecturing in the Newmarket town hall last week, as has been reported, for he did speak for about an hour. The hall as it appears was engaged by Rev. S. C. Kimball, who travels with Browne, he telling the janitor of the hall the lecture was to be about "Home missions." Elder Browne's lecture was directed against all secret societies, but against Masonry and Odd Fellowship in particular; in it he made such declarations as that "Freemasons are 'worse than cannibals;'" that "Masonry and Odd Fellowship countenance intemperance," especially Odd Fellowship; that "all secret organizations are the works of the devil; that" "no truly honorable and great man has ever remained a Freemason through his life;" and that "no man belonging to any secret organization can consistently preach the gospel, or be a Christian." After the lecture was finished, Bro. Browne invited all wishing to procure tracts to remain; and a large part of the audience did remain, the younger portion proceeding to the vestry where they were "reverend" gentlemen until their elders interfered.

American hall, in Dover was engaged by Elder Kimball for the evenings of March 24th and 25th, for the purpose of holding "meetings of the Advent Christian faith;" but Mr. Wm. H. Dodge, acting for the trustees, learning that Elder Brown was to be the speaker and that the address was to be merely an attack upon secret societies, refused to allow them the use of the hall, as "The Dover reform club has no war to wage against Masonry, Odd Fellowship, Knights of Pythias or similar organizations; and American hall cannot be used for such a purpose."

Schooner "Osseo," Gorham master, which arrived in port last night, had quite a rough experience on the passage from Boston. The captain stated to a Globe reporter this morning that he left Boston on the 5th inst., with a general cargo for St. John. All went well until a few days afterwards, when a violent gale sprang up in which the mainsail was torn. He then made for Portsmouth, and anchored off Whaleback light on the night of the 9th. The gale was blowing tremendously from the northeast, and the rain was descending in torrents. The next morning the sea was running very heavy, and the vessel was in imminent danger of being cast up on the rocks, the breakers not being over one hundred yards from where she was anchored. At daylight a signal of distress was hoisted, and a Cape Ann fisherman came to their assistance. He reported that there were no tugs in the port, and as they deemed it unwise to remain another night on board, a dory was put off from the fisherman and the crew were taken off the schooner. On reaching the shore they found that the U. S. S. Leyden was preparing to go to their relief, and they accordingly returned to their vessel with her. Both anchors were slipped, and she was towed in alongside a man-of-war, where she remained until the Tuesday following, when having recovered their anchors, they again essayed to leave. On getting outside, the captain found it so rough that he was obliged to put back. He remained in port about a week, and then set sail for St. John, where he arrived last night, as before stated. The captain speaks loudly in praise of the treatment he received at the hands of the Americans, and desired us to express his thanks for the kindness that was shown him.—St. John (N. B.) Globe.

The New York Marriage Laws.

Marriage is easy of accomplishment in New York state. It a recent judgment Chief Justice Folger, of the state court of appeals, defined the marriage contract as follows:—"By the law of this state a man and woman who are competent to marry each other, without going before a minister or magistrate, without the presence of any person as witness, without previous public notice given, with no form or ceremony, civil or religious, and with no record or written evidence of the act kept, and merely by words of present contract between them, may take upon themselves the relation of husband and wife, and be bound to themselves, to the state and society, as such; and if, after that, the marriage is denied, proof of actual cohabitation as husband and wife, acknowledgment and recognition of each other to friends and aquaintances and the public as such, and the general reputation thereof, will enable a court to presume that there was in the beginning an actual bona fide marriage." So that according to New York law all a man and woman have to do is to agree to live as man and wife, and the deed is done—they are joined together, if they so choose, for all time.

Tactless Woman.

It is notorious that the greater number of domestic quarrels originate among the women of the family. The altercations and differences that so frequently exist between families united by marriage are almost always on the side of the women. Men are dragged in and become partisans in the warfare; but gauntlets are commonly first exchanged between the ladies. Assuredly, if tact is a quality desirable in the drawing-room as a sort of social buffer, smoothing sharp angles and softening collisions, the very field for it is the domestic hearth, where the unapt word, the ill-considered retort, or the loss of self-command, is so productive of mischief.

Can it be asserted that in this domain women, as a class, have more tact than men? Is peace between husband and wife more often maintained by the wise repression, the soft answer, the skillful word, the adroit evasion of an issue, on the part of wives than of husbands? If we, Asmodeus-like, could peep beneath the roofs of houses, which sex would we find more freely occupied in nagging? Which would we discover most commonly taking offence at the casual word? Which would be showing a superior skill in meeting and turning the dangerous little things that arise hourly in every circle?

In that tact which teaches us when to hold our tongues and when to speak, what to see and what not to see, we suspect that the masculine part of the community may claim some little pre-eminence. Of course, we are generalizing here. We have all met with sweet-tempered wives and brutal husbands; but among the average right-intentioned people it is a deficiency of tact that so often causes collisions, and this deficiency is at least common in both sexes. Young women are very skilful in managing their lovers, but many of them too frequently lose their skill when they come to manage their husbands.

It is the lack of tact on the part of women that sets clique against clique in congregations, and in church societies of all kinds, that causes almost all associations organized by women to break up in differences, that keeps so many people in hot water in family hotels and boarding houses, or wherever lovely woman predominates. It is to a lack of tact that we owe the traditional mother-in-law. Fathers-in-law have no bad reputations anywhere; may we not say this is because they have too much tact to take notice of trifles, too much to be fussy and irritating in matters that should be wisely left alone?

It has been shrewdly doubted whether clubs would be possible with ladies—not merely because they have not the club disposition, but because they cannot abide together without getting into hostile divisions. It takes a good deal of tact to meet daily on familiar and equal terms with numerous persons, and keep all irritating things out of sight. The club is possible in the highest civilization only because nothing but the self-repression that comes of the highest social training permits men of diverse interests and tastes to come together harmoniously. The club affords an excellent test of tact; and if men are better adapted than women for club life, if they can live together in this way without collisions, they have established the possession of tact more effectually than anything establishes it for women.—Appleton's Journal.

18 Negroes!

Who left the United States for Liberia last year, have lately returned, being unable to stand the climate. Everybody going to a new climate should have a bottle of Sulphur Bitters with them as a safeguard against disease.—Hartford Courant.

—Several years ago, in east Tennessee, near the present site of Rugby, two intimate friends, Guill and Dent, quarrelled, and Dent stabbed Guill to death. Before dying, Guill made an old negro servant, who had formerly been a slave, promise to avenge him, but in a fair fight with a knife. Dent fled to Texas, but returned, and was found by the colored man, who told him his purpose. Dent met him near the grave of Guill, and the duel resulted in the death of both.

To Keep the Blood Pure.

Is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the blood, regulates the disordered liver and kidneys, cures constipation, dyspepsia, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. A Modern Miracle.

The Most Marvelous Experience of One of Boston's Leading Citizens.

[Boston Globe, December 8th.]

The readers of this paper were more or less amazed at a most remarkable statement from one of our leading citizens, which appeared in yesterday's issue. So unusual were the circumstances connected with it, and so much comment did it occasion on the street and in social circles, that a representative of this paper was commissioned to investigate its details and verify its facts. The article referred to was a statement made by Mr. B. F. Larrabee, of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Company, that after having laid at the point of death for more than three weeks, given up by both physicians and friend, he had completely and wonderfully regained his usual health. Mr. Larrabee was found in his private office on Arch street, and, upon being questioned, said:

"Well, sir, logically, I have been dead, but really I am a young man. A little over a year ago I was taken sick, but I allowed the illness to run along until on the 25th day of October, 1879, I fell prostrate while walking along Tremont Street. I was carried home, and did not go out of the house until the middle of December. I then went down town, and attempt to attend to my business until the 13th of last January, when I was taken with a severe relapse. My symptoms were terrible. I was fearfully bloated; I suffered severe pains in all parts of the body and it was almost impossible to get my breath. For six days I never laid down, and never slept. I was constantly attended by my regular physician, Dr. Johnson, and Dr. Bowditch who came to see me nearly every day. There was no doubt that I was suffering from Bright's disease of the kidneys in its worst form and last stages, accompanied by other troubles in my liver and heart. In spite, however, of the skill of the physicians, I kept growing worse, and finally they tapped my side in the vicinity of the heart, taking away twenty-six ounces of water. This relieved me for the time, but I soon became as bad as before. Then the doctors gave me up entirely, declared I could not live more than twenty-four hours, and my daughter, who was visiting in Paris, was telegraphed for. Still I lingered along for several weeks, far more dead than alive, but never giving up hope. One night—it was on the 20th of April, I will remember—my attendant, who was reading the paper to me, came to an article which described my disease and sufferings exactly. It told how some severe cases of Bright's disease had been cured, and as I was and sensibly did it seem the case, that I determined to try the means of cure which it described. So I sent my man to the drug store, procured a bottle of the medicine, unknown to my physicians and friends, and took the first dose at ten o'clock. At that time I was suffering intense agony and could not sleep; I had the short breaths, and could scarcely get any air into my lungs. I was terribly bloated from head to foot, and the motion of my heart was irregular and painful. The next morning I was able to breathe freely; the pain began to leave me, and the bloating decreased. I continued to take the medicine, and to day-sir, I am as well as I ever was in my life, and wholly owing to the wonderful, almost miraculous power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I do not know what this medicine is made of, or anything else about it, but, I know it saved my life when I was given up by the doctors, and had really been dead for weeks; that it has kept me in perfect health ever since, and has since, also cured many of my friends to whom I have recommended it. There are a number of very remarkable cases in Lynn and Salem, as well as in this city, that it has cured. My recovery is so remarkable that it has excited much attention, and physicians as well as others, have investigated it thoroughly. I am glad they have, for I feel that the results of such a wonderful cure should be known to the thousands in all parts of the land who are suffering, from troubles of the kidneys, liver or heart, in some of their many dangerous forms."

The representative of the press thanked Mr. Larrabee for his very frank and clear statement, and was about to leave the office, when a gentleman stepped up to him and inquired if he was seeking information about Mr. Larrabee's sickness and recovery. The scribe replied that he was, whereupon the gentleman said:

"I am so sick of hearing about all the way from Chicago for that very purpose. Kidney troubles seem to be alarmly increasing all over the country, and I have a very near relative who is afflicted much as Mr. Larrabee was. I have been to see the physicians of whom Mr. Larrabee speaks, and I tell you, sir, it is simply wonderful."

"What did they say?" asked the man of news.

"Say! why, sir, they fully confirm everything Mr. Larrabee has stated. I went to see Dr. J. A. Johnson, at 20 Worcester Street. He was absent when I called, and so I stepped into the Commonwealth Hotel, where Mr. Larrabee was living at the time of his sickness. Messrs. Burgh and Carter are the proprietors, and I asked them about Mr. Larrabee's case. Mr. Burgh pointed to the clerk's desk and said: 'Why, for weeks and weeks every time that bell rang I said that means the death of Mr. Larrabee. No one around the hotel expected that he would recover, and when the doctors would come down from his room, they would shake their heads, and say there was no hope. The arrangements for the funeral were made, and his recovery was simply a miracle.'"

"I then called on Dr. Johnson, who said that Mr. Larrabee's case was a very remarkable one. He was his family physician, and expected his death every hour for a number of weeks, and never called to see him during that time but he was prepared for it. The doctor said the recovery was due to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and if he had friends, male or female, troubled with albumen, or any kidney troubles, he should certainly advise them to use this remedy. Dr. Johnson said kidney difficulties are more common than most people think, and that many symptoms which are supposed to be other diseases arise from the kidneys. He said that ladies after gestation are specially liable to albuminous troubles, which require prompt attention.

"Well, I then came down and called on Dr. H. Ingersoll Bowditch, on Boylston Street. The old doctor was inclined to be reticent, but fully confirmed all I had previously learned. He had attended Mr. Larrabee; had supposed him long out of all hope, and he was afterwards restored, as he said, by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

"I next went to see Dr. Melville E. Weeb, at the Hotel Cluny, for you see I was determined to be thorough in the matter. I found Dr. Webb a most clear headed and well-informed gentleman, and he said:

"I know of Mr. Larrabee's case from having thoroughly investigated it as medical director of a life insurance company, and it is one of the most remarkable cases I ever met. Mr. Larrabee had all the manifestations of a complication of diseases, and in their worst forms. He had albumen and casts in the urine, and a terribly diseased liver and spleen. Indeed, he was so bad that he threw himself upon the floor, and, with his head upon a bunsock, struggled for breath. It was on the night when he was so bad, and when all his medical advisers had long given him up that he began using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. The next morning at ten o'clock he was able to breathe freely, and has been ever since. I subjected him to the most thorough examination possible after his recovery, and 'I can't find a sign about him.' His kidneys, liver, lungs and heart are perfectly well and sound. I can only add that, from what I have seen, I should unhesitatingly recommend this remedy."

The conclusions from the statements above made, which come to the newspaper man as well as the general public, are, that Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure is a medicine of such power and one so within the reach of every one; and, secondly, that testimonials of such high character and so outspoken in tone conclusively prove the value of the remedy, and its superior nature to the proprietary articles with which the public have been flooded. "The greater includes the less," and the remedy which has been so valuable, and has saved a life after it was brought down to death's door, must unquestionably be certain in all minor troubles, which are so disastrous unless taken in time.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 25th, 1880. WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that preeminent affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of cures give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of his cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Bedford street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar success in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties, avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are young and indiscretion or disease has left you weak, nervous, or sleepless, rely on Hop Bitters.

If your sphere is in life, if you are married or single, old or young, and suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretion, or any other cause, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, wherever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.

If you are sick, you will pay weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain development is unusually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosites is so prepared as to impart the vital principle directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

I have used your Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, for the last three months and find myself—(what shall I say)—"made new again," are the only words that express it. I was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk across the floor without fainting, could keep nothing in the shape of food in my stomach. Myself and friends had given up all hope, my immediate death seemed certain. I can never be too thankful to those who recommended your medicines, for I now live (to the surprise of everybody) and am able to do my own work. I desire to make this statement in order that those suffering may not despair until they have given your remedies a trial,

Yours respectfully,

CENTREVILLE, TENN., March 22d.

Three weeks ago I took a trip on mule-back, an account of which I hope may prove of interest to your readers. It is as rare to see a person ride in a buggy here, as it is to see a person in Portsmouth ride horse-back. While in New Hampshire horse-back riding is seen some, yet I daresay one can hardly remember of ever having seen a person ride a mule. The men generally ride a mule here, while the ladies use a saddle horse. It being my first experience in mule-riding, as I started out of town for an eighteen-mile ride my friends advised me to take some spurs and a bowie-knife. It was a clear and balmy day, and I thought of my northern friends banked up with four feet of snow, and wished they could have a taste of the southern breezes. One peculiar feature of this country would make our northern friends shake their heads. In crossing creeks, branches, streams and rivers, one has to plunge in, and if he finds it past fording, take his chances, while his beast swims to sure footing. One soon gets used to this mode of travelling, and does not mind it much. Here on these creeks one meets with a legion of geese. They cost but little, need next to no care, and are very profitable, the feathers bringing forty cents per pound. No matter how poor a man is here, there is one luxury which he is bound to have and which he considers a necessity rather than a luxury, and that is a feather bed. The multitudes of geese afford him this opportunity.

I took this trip with the mail rider. Our first station was in one of the numerous "Bends" in this section of the country. At the part of the settlement where we stopped there were only two dwelling houses, a blacksmith shop, and a store in which was the post office. Having visited many a country store I ought not to pay much attention to one, but this was so unique that I soon found myself inside. About as soon as I went inside the postmaster says: "Gentlemen, you will please retire from the store." I turned in amazement to him. He then asked me if I was a sworn officer of the law. Replying in the negative, he told me the law forbade him to open the mail save only in the presence of a sworn officer of the law, and that I would have to retire until he opened the mail. I complied with his request, still musing that I should for the first time in my life and in this little out of the way southern town find this law enforced, having been in many post offices in the land, and never heard of such a law before.

The next post-office was more of a curiosity than the last. It was kept in the reception room of a dwelling house. In this same room were two beds. The department here consisted of an old red chest, without any lock. This contained stamps, and letters, and all mail matter received was put in without any regard to order; any person about the house could serve as the postmaster. In this home I found eleven children, but the mail rider having warned me, I escaped with whole pockets.

As we rode along we passed some troughs cut out of logs put at the foot of some maple trees, out of which the sap was running quite freely. This makes very inferior sugar, but still it is quite a treat to these people, and they talk of "home made sugar" with considerable pride. As we passed one house we saw a feminine party breaking up, and the women were lighting their pipes preparatory to their return home. In many places the spinning-wheel is used a great deal, and the farming community have their clothes made at home. On the porch of a number of these southern homes the old wheel holds a conspicuous place.

Arriving at my destination, the next day I went still further into the country and saw a contrivance that an ingenious mechanic had made. There is a house on a high bluff, up from the river. To reach the bottom land one must go down a very steep and rocky hill, which is hard work indeed. At the foot of this hill there comes forth a clear, cool spring of water. This water is used at the dwelling. To avoid the dangerous and tiresome descent of the hill this contrivance is used. Running from the house to the spring is a series of posts. On these posts is stretched a wire rope. When a bucket of water is wished, the bucket is attached to a tramway which is placed on the wire rope and is attached to a rope wound on a drum. The weight of the bucket causes it to descend, and the rope attached to the tramway is paid out as fast as it is needed. When the bucket reaches the spring it stops and is brought directly beneath a spout. After waiting long enough for the bucket to fill, it is drawn up by the rope wound on the drum.

A short time since my wife and I were gratefully surprised by meeting a Boston man in this section of the country. We all three spent a pleasant evening together. His name was Odiorne, and he is a descendant of a brother of the one from whom the Odiornes in Portsmouth are descended.

There have recently been in town some men by the name of Baker, from South Bend, Indiana, for the purpose of buying timber land, so as to start a chilled plow manufactory here. Other northern capitalists have been here for the purpose of investment, and we hope to see more. Be assured all will receive a hearty welcome, such as only true southern gentlemen will give. A. B.

News and Notes.

Gov. N. G. Ordway of Dakota territory was in Boston on Monday.

It is reported in New York that a new telegraph company is being formed with a capital of $25,000,000, which contemplates the immediate erection of wires throughout the country, from Maine to California.

The dead body of Rev. Abiel Silver, eighty-five years old, was found in the water near Prison point, Boston, Sunday morning. He was pastor of the Swedenborgian church in Roxbury, and is supposed to have fallen overboard from a train of cars.

Asher Getchell, nineteen years old, son of Lewis Getchell, of Baring, Me., accidentally shot himself dead on Saturday while gunning. A charge entered his mouth, blowing his brains out.

Hon. William Beach Lawrence, ex-governor of Rhode Island, died in New York on Saturday.

Class No. 7 of the Universalist Sunday school will hold a fair in the vestry of the church on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 5th. Fancy articles specially prepared for the occasion will be on exhibition and sale; also cake, fruit and confectionery. Ice cream served to order. No lotteries, voting arrangements, nor guess cakes. Harlow's orchestra will furnish music.

Disastrous floods are reported in Nebraska, the swollen rivers having overflowed through being dammed by ice-gorges.

Gen. Benjamin F. Butler's yacht America sailed from Havana last Friday for St. Augustine, Fla.

James Walsh of Brooklyn, N. Y., who last January stabbed and killed Barbara Green, an orphan girl, because her foster mother had forbidden him the house on account of his bad character, was on Saturday convicted of murder in the first degree.

The frozen herring trade of Eastport, Me., and vicinity for the past winter comprised a total shipment of 32,630,000 herring, an increase over the previous winter of 3,600,000. The estimated cost of the, shipments, including barrels, was $78,700.

A telegram has been received at Gloucester, Mass., by the owners of the schooner Lizzie K. Clark of that port, stating that the vessel had capsized and sunk. The crew were saved. She was on a mackerel cruise, and bound into New York with one hundred and fifty barrels of mackerel.

The London News says it "has reason to believe that the fishery dispute between England and the United States is on a fair way towards settlement, the fact being admitted that the American fishermen are entitled to compensation for the injuries to their vessel and tackle. England has proposed alternative courses, one being the payment of a lump sum, the other, reference of the question to arbitration, the two governments nominating each one person, these nominees appointing a third. A difficulty at one time arose from the excessive claims of the United States, but the latest telegram from Secretary Blaine points to the willingness of the Washington cabinet to accept one or the other of the above plans."

A paper by R. W. Emerson, on his personal impressions of Thomas Carlyle, made up from his unpublished letters written at the time of his first visit to England, will appear in "Scribner" for May. The publication is made by special arrangement with Mr. Emerson and the Massachusetts Historical Society, before which the paper was read, and in the minutes of which it is to be printed after its appearance in Scribner.

A day or two ago Senator Mahone was burned in effigy in Athens, Ga., by the students of the State university.

Operations of a most extensive character will soon be set on foot at the Dolly Varden group of mines in Park county, Colorado. Mr. Goff, who is at the head of the Boston Gold & Silver Mining company, is not the man to let the grass grow under his feet, and will be making big return to his eastern investors as soon as his plans and preparatory work are perfected. If these mines could enrich their former owners in a short time when work was conducted with little energy or system, it is evident that the profits will be far greater now that capital and efficient management are at hand to push matters along. We congratulate the Boston public that at last a big profitable mine is offered them for investment, and we believe that this is the first really attractive and definite gold or silver property offered entire in that quarter.—New York Indicator, March 22d.

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most favoterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

THE lot of land and buildings thereon situated at Kittery Point, formerly owned by Thos. O. Hoyt. The land is a knoll of about five acres, pleasantly situated, overlooking the lower harbor and ocean. It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and ere long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. On the land are buildings recently erected for an extensive factory, which can easily be converted into outbuildings for a boarding house. Apply to

The city authorities are to be petitioned to establish a naphtha light at the junction of Gates and Water streets.

Coal charters from Baltimore to Portsmouth are quoted at $1.65 per ton; to Boston, $1.50; to Portland, $1.40 and $1.50.

Butler & Laighton have just received a large supply of pure maple sugar and syrup, new and very nice, which is having a ready sale.

Vennor himself never furnished a community with meaner weather than we have had here for four or five days past, up to Monday evening, the chilling, bleak winds, and flying dust and gravel, making an out-of-doors life utterly miserable. The wind guage at the navy yard, between midnight Sunday and one o'clock Monday morning, registered a velocity of forty-three miles an hour, the highest velocity recorded there for a long time.

The well-borers at the hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, had got down one hundred and forty-six feet, Saturday night. They had considerable trouble at first, the rock for a long distance down being much broken, full of seams, and of constantly-varying degrees of hardness, rendering it very difficult to keep the bore pointed straight for the earth's centre of gravity; but solid rock has been reached, and the drilling is now proceeding rapidly.

We learn that considerable indignation is manifested among the citizens of school district number three in Greenland—one of the wealthiest and most highly esteemed portions of the town—at the prospect of having a Roman Catholic teacher for the summer term. It is the first instance on record where a person of that persuasion has been placed in charge of a school in Greenland, and it causes unfavorable comment throughout the town, particularly among the parents of children attending the school.

The calkers are finding some employment just now, outside of the navy yard. Messrs. Bailey and Adams are calking John A. Peterson's gondola, to fit her for the transportation from Leach's island of stone for the new Episcopal church at the west end. James Barr's gondola, which was caught in the ice near Exeter when river navigation closed last fall, and was held there all winter, got clear a few days ago when the ice broke up. Her stern-post was torn out by the ice, and she was full of water, but she was patched up sufficiently to enable her to be brought down on Monday. She will be thoroughly repaired at Point of Graves, where a place on the beach has been fitted for the purpose.

The schooner Hattie Lewis was bending her sails and reeving her running rigging on Monday, preparatory to being taken out of the berth she has occupied all winter, inside of Noble's island bridge. Since last fall she has been fitted with one of Edson's double-action diaphragm pumps, which will deliver about eighty gallons of water a minute with a very small outlay of labor, and will work in water carrying gravel or sand as well as an ordinary pump will in clean water. From the way the "brickers" load themselves down, we should fancy a powerful and reliable pump was a prime necessity. We have seen one of them lying at the wharf, ready to sail, with the water actually "lipping" over her covering boards; and when a vessel is thus loaded down, the admission to her hold of a few hogsheads of water only would be needed to send her to the bottom. But the men engaged in the business are generally cautious as well as bold, keep a sharp watch on the pump-well, "wait for a slant" before starting to make a passage, and keep their boats always ready for instant service.

Mr. Frank Seavey has been awarded the contract for hauling the stone for the new Episcopal church. About 7000 tons will be used in the construction of the building.

"The Guv'nor" was played in Newburyport last Saturday evening, and the Herald of Monday rakes it fore and aft, and says if the play is a public favorite "the public must be a silly animal, and delights in stuff of its own capacity." It says of Miss Norah Bartlett and Kate Ryan that they were "quite successful" and "are good actresses."

According to the figures returned, the Swampscott Machine Co., of South Newmarket, during the year ending Jan. 1st, 1881, paid out for labor a sum equal to $10 a month for every man, woman and child in the town; and the amount paid out by the locomotive and mill works of George B. Fifield swells the total disbursements for labor by the two establishments to over $12 per month for each individual in the town. Mr. Fifield's locomotives are of a peculiar pattern, of his own invention; they go south principally, most of them to Georgia. He has just finished and set up three, and has two more under way. They are used on wooden tramways, where mules were formerly the motive power, but are adapted to iron rails as well. The boilers are upright instead of horizontal, and the engines combine many modern improvements. Mr. Fifield is one of the most ingenious mechanics in the state, and experts in machinery will find his engines well worth an hour's examination.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Mch. 28; Batchelder, J.

Michael Monday was up for drunkenness, as usual, and was fined $10, costs being taxed at $6.90. Michael will keep sober $16.90 worth, in Portsmouth jail.

Blanche Howard, for drunkenness, was assessed $14.90, fine and costs, not paying which she was sent to the county farm.

Samuel Wilson and Ann Wilson were before the court for keeping a disreputable and disorderly house, and so much and so convincing evidence was offered in support of the charge that the pair were held in $500 each to appear before the supreme court at Exeter on the second Tuesday of April.

KITTERY ELECTION.

The town of Kittery, at the annual meeting on Monday, elected the following officers:

Moderator—Calvin L. Hayes;
Town Clerk—Dennis M. Shapleigh;
Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor—James R. Philbrick, Franklin H. Bond, William A. Fernald;
Town Treasurer—Jesse E. Frisbee;
Town Agent—Moses A. Safford;
Health Officer—Mark F. Wentworth;
Superintending School Committee—Calvin L. Hayes;
Collector of Taxes—Samuel L. Paul;
Auditors—Daniel Parry, John Wentworth, Edward F. Safford;
Constables—Daniel H. Nason, Luther P. Foye, Azariah L. Spinney, Nicholas E. Spinney, Cedric Laighton, Joseph H. Seaward, Thomas J. Billings.

Only three democratic votes were cast. The following appropriations were made:—for

Schools (district)	$2700
Free High School	500
Support of Poor	1000
Support of Insane	200
Contingent Expenses	2000
Interest on Town Debt	1000
Highways (summer) labor	2400
Highways (winter) labor	1200

The winter highway tax is for the purpose of clearing the roads when blocked with snow; the unexpended balance, if any, at the close of the winter, will be used in the spring for repairs of highways. In addition to the $500 appropriated for the high school by the town, the state grants $250.

ELIOT ELECTION.

At the annual town meeting in Eliot, Monday, the following persons (all democrats) were elected:

Moderator, Alexander Junkins;
Clerk, George E. Ireland;
Selectmen, etc., George C. Ireland, Ichabod Cole and C. Melville Raitt;
Treasurer, Charles A. Shapleigh;
Supt. Sch. Committee, J. L. M. Willis;
Agent, Alexander Junkins;
Constable, James M. Raitt;
Collector, Samuel Clark;
Auditors, Horace Parker and George H. Briggs.

Besides the ordinary appropriations, the town voted $200 for the purchase of a safe for keeping the town records in.

KITTERY POINT STEAMER.

The steamer "Fearless" will commence her regular trips between this city and Kittery Point on Monday, April 4th, and until further notice will run as follows: Leave Portsmouth at 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock A. M., and three and 5:45 o'clock P. M.; leave Kittery Point at 8:30 and 10:30 A. M., and 1:30 and four o'clock P. M.; touching at Newcastle both ways. Fare, ten cents each way. The landing place in this city will be at Fernald's wharf, in the rear of No. 80 Market street.

A LOOK BACK.

Mr. Editor: A recent item in your paper, which spoke of six of the oldest shipcarpenters in the city, several of whom had themselves built large vessels years ago, being engaged in constructing a scow on Noble's island, leads to the reflection that this class of mechanics, of which the Piscataqua region was once so justly proud, is becoming sadly thinned out, and that there are no young ones arising to take the places which in the course of nature the old workers must ere many years vacate.

The last one of these old ship-carpenters to pass on was Meshach Trundy Muchmore, who was laid away a few weeks since. Fifty-five years ago, he, with other young men who afterward attained prominence in their occupation, was an apprentice to George Raynes; afterward he became foreman in Mr. Raynes' yard, and had under him many young men who have since become conspicuous as carpenters in the mercantile and naval marine of the United States. From his knowledge of ship-building he was most frequently employed in the getting out of frames; the moment he saw the mould he knew where to get the frame. Consequently the owners of oak trees were always glad to see him when he put in an appearance in the surrounding country, for a single look at a timber-tree enabled him to declare its value. Before "the launching of the ship" Mr. Muchmore invariably laid the ways, and always without accident. Said an old shipowner of Portsmouth—the father of our present mayor—"I always feel safe when I see Meshach laying the ways." In his latter years, after the decline of ship-building, he had done considerable in the construction of wharves, recent specimens of his work in that line now existing.

Before the formation of the city organization he was a prominent officer of the old town fire department, being daring, active and skillful. He was originally a democrat in politics, and afterward a republican; and having a somewhat religious tendency, was firm and sincere in his ideas. He leaves a widow and two daughters. V.

MATTERS IN RYE.

RYE, March 28th.

School meetings in the four districts have been held, and committees and clerks have been chosen as follows:

In the west district, C. W. Brown as prudential committee, and Charles E. Sleeper as clerk. It is said that Miss Amanda Brown, of Exeter, who taught the winter term, has been engaged to teach the summer term.

At the meeting in the south district, held on Thursday last, Horace Sawyer was chosen committee, and David Jenness clerk. An article in the warrant to see if a new school-house should be built, was indefinitely postponed by a vote of twenty-six to twenty-one; but probably the end is not yet, and won't be until that obstruction in the highway at the south end is removed. From a reliable resident of the district comes information to the effect that there is a majority in the district who are really in favor of having a new schoolhouse, but there seem to be some who want a two-story one, and will listen to no arguments in favor of any other; still another element is of the opinion that the old one is good enough where it is, with a little repairing; while the conservative voters think it would be best to demolish the old hulk, and utilize what material of it can be used in building a good, substantial, one-story house on the lot which is now owned by the district.

At the centre meeting, John T. Marden was chosen committee, and Will E. Foss clerk.

In the east district, where for two years past Mrs. Emery Woodman has held the position of committee, they this year elected three of the opposite sex—Supply F. Trefethen, Charles M. Rand and Jackson Goss. Whether the fact of one woman having had charge for two years past made it necessary to have three men this year is a conundrum which may be easy enough to answer by the east-enders. W. H. Tripp was elected clerk in this district.

A meeting was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening of last week to arrange for an "Old Folks' Supper." Committees were appointed, and Tuesday evening, the 29th inst., was fixed upon as the time for it to come off. The crockery which it was voted at town meeting to buy, arrived on Saturday, so that as far as that very essential part of a supper is concerned there need be no fear of a scarcity. The new stove is also in position, so that the outlook for a successful gathering is good.

The attendance at the rehearsal of the Musical Assocation on Friday evening last was the largest of the season, and considerable interest was manifested. The rehearsals will continue weekly for a while longer.

David Jenness was on Saturday drawn as juror to attend at the supreme court which sits at Exeter in April.

March winds have been on the rampage for about a week, and all unfortunates who have had to encounter them for any length of time devoutly hope that the advent of April will bring a change. NAT.

The German measles are very prevalent at Kittery.

Mr. Charles Cottle, of Kittery, is in Canada purchasing horses.

Mr. Benjamin Kennard of Eliot has cut a large quantity of pine wood during the past winter.

Orders have been received at the navy yard to have the Lancaster ready for sea by the first of August.

The Kittery Point bridge is to receive a thorough overhauling this spring; the rail is to be strengthened, new piles driven, etc.

Large numbers of logs are lying on the banks of Spruce creek, Kittery, awaiting to be rafted and taken to Mason's sawmill in Portsmouth to be sawed into lumber.

That part of Berwick known as "Happy Valley," which was recently annexed to South Berwick, contains a population of five hundred, including sixty-five voters.

The "band-stand" is being put into condition at Kittery, preparatory to its being once more placed in position on Gangway rock. The contractors' sloop is also having some repairs made.

Theodore Wells, of Wells, is reported to have assigned his property to Edward E. Bourne of Kennebunk for the benefit of creditors. Mr. Wells has been in the lumber business for many years.

Mr. T. C. Meagher has opened a room at No. 24 1-2 Market street for the gilding of mirror and picture frames, etc., and will exhibit specimens of his skill to all who will call upon him this week.

Oliver Dixon and wife, John Shapleigh and wife, and Daniel Junkins and wife, all of Eliot, have all been "surprised" recently by parties of their neighbors and friends, and received very handsome presents.

Losses and Casualties at Sea.

The gradual displacement of sailing vessels by steamers in the ocean carrying trade is always commented on as a sign of progress. And so it is in many respects. But it remains to be seen whether the safety of vessel and cargo—which ought to be the first consideration—is promoted, or otherwise, by this substitution.

Lloyd's tables for the past year indicate that the risks are not lessened materially, if at all, by the change now going on. The record of vessels missing and given up as lost, in 1880, is 101, of which eighty-three were sailing ships and eighteen steamers. The corresponding record for 1879 was sixty-five of the former and six of the latter. Here there is a marked gain in the proportion of the steamers. The comparative list of casualties of all sorts, not including the total losses as above, are as follows: 1880, sailing vessels 2134, steamers 401; 1879, sailing vessels 1816, steamers 353.

In these figures of contrasted years, there is a slight improvement of the proportions on the side of sailing vessels. As the Lloyd's returns do not give, in the same connection, the comparative decrease and increase of sailing and steam tonnage, respectively, we have not at hand the complete data for arriving at an accurate opinion of the degree of safety enjoyed by the two kinds of vessels. But at all events, we know, from this and other sources of information, that the development of a steam mercantile marine is not necessarily an assurance of greater security on the high seas.

One pressing question arises from the contemplation of these statistics. How can this deplorable total of vessels lost or damaged be lessened? That is a subject worthy of the most careful thought and the wisest legislation. Many causes of shipwreck are doubtless removable—such, for instance, as overloading. Of the vessels lost in 1880, twenty-six were laden with grain, and presumably overloaded, or else the grain was not so stowed as to prevent shifting and the foundering of the vessel. Of the remaining number of vessels wholly lost, thirty-four bore cargoes of coal, the excess, or the bad care of which (resulting in fire on board), may have caused the disappearance of these unfortunates. It is hoped that the act of parliament, which goes into operation this year, relative to grain cargoes, may diminish one serious class of casualties and losses. Perhaps other means may yet be devised and enforced by appropriate laws, to lessen still more the frightful total of Lloyd's tables.—New York Journal of Commerce.

Remarkable Instruments of Death.

Dr. J. H. McLean, a patent-medicine manufacturer of St. Louis, who has expended about $200,000 for models of implements of war which he claims are so destructive that their practical use in one campaign would force the world into a state of perpetual peace, recently gave a public exhibition of his inventions at the navy yard in Washington. About two hundred persons were present, including the Chinese minister and suite; General Benet, chief of ordnance; Commander McCormick, of the bureau of navy ordnance, and many army and navy officers. There were fourteen implements on exhibition, but only four of them were tried, and of these only one worked perfectly. The "General Sherman," a small, breech-loading steel cannon, which was expected to fire twenty-six shots per minute, fired twenty shots in a minute and a half. The "Vixen," built of bronze, fired a one-inch ball once in seven seconds. The "Annihilator," which was intended to fire two charges in a second, fired one in a little less than two seconds. The "Lady McLean," which has thirty-six barrels with an estimated capacity of nearly 13,000 shots per minute, with a range of three miles, was worked to the speed of seventy-two shots per second. The other guns were not in order for trial. Among other inventions that Dr. McLean exhibited is a magnetic torpedo propelled by clockwork, and guided into iron ships to be destroyed by a loadstone. The guns were pronounced fairly successful by the officers, but the claim that they would bring on a millennium was by no means admitted.

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS.

AND THEIR BEARING UPON THE INTERESTS OF THE PUBLIC.

[Boston Herald, Feb. 18.]

The financial interests of this country have received a severe blow in the sudden death of Hon. Fernando Wood. Not only was he the father of the original 3 1-2 per cent funding bill, but it was through his suggestions that the 3 per cent bill, on which final action was taken yesterday, reached the attention of Congress. His death is a most untimely occurrence, while the cause of it is yet more serious and worthy of the most consideration.

The sudden deaths of prominent men in political, financial, and commercial circles have attracted the greatest attention in all parts of America. Edward Everett, Charles Sumner, Salmon P. Chase and Henry Wilson, are all striking examples of the vital truth, and the causes of their untimely deaths can readily be traced to the same source. Mr. Wood and Secretary Chase died of Bright's disease of the kidneys, while the troubles with which the other named gentlemen died were apoplectic in their nature. The original cause, however, in every case above named, was diseased, and, subsequently, inflamed kidneys, and apoplexy was only the final expression of organic trouble, located in the kidneys. So much has been said, both in the public press and otherwise, upon this subject that the people of this country and of New England especially, have become thoroughly aroused to its importance. With this truth in view, we have facts and reviews given which cannot but prove of value to many, and of unquestionable interest to all.

Information received from private sources regarding the health statistics of the present national census report shows that New England is specially subject to kidney and liver difficulties, doubtless owing to the peculiar nature of our climate and our consequent manner of living. But, while the census report shows these facts in general, probably few men in New England are better prepared to judge of the condition of the public health than Mr. Goodwin, of the firm of George C. Goodwin & Co., 36 and 38 Hanover street. Having been conversant not only with the public needs, but with all that is fitted to meet those needs, for a long term of years, his facilities for knowing these facts are most unusual. Mr. Goodwin was seen by our representative in the private office of his store. He stated that, for the past few years, kidney difficulties had been greatly increasing, and low spirits, nervous which bear other names, are, in reality, kidney diseases. Among the numberless Apoplectic, Dropsical, Paralytic and Rheumatic difficulties, as well as Heart disease and convulsions. Convulsions are often a disease simply, and the final expression of some serious disorder back in the system. Mr. Goodwin had watched this matter carefully, and, from his observation, he stated that since the introduction to the public of the remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure there have been many remarkable cures, not only of so called hopeless cases of Bright's disease, but also of the innumerable troubles which precede this terribly mortality-producing disease, and many thousands who had found it results satisfied them that it was. Mr. Josiah Bryant and Mr. Geo. F. Kellogg, who are associated with Mr. Goodwin, confirmed his statements and instanced several prominent cases in verification thereof. Among them was a gentleman residing in Lowell, and a lady living in Charlestown, both of whom had been absolutely cured of the terrible Bright's disease by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

A call was then made upon Mr. A. S. Young, of the firm of Whitten, Burdett & Young, mammoth clothiers, No. 4 Winthrop square. Upon being questioned as to his experience, Mr. Young said: "My wife's sister, who lives just out of Boston, was, a few months since, stricken down with Bright's disease of the kidneys, so pronounced by eminent Boston physicians, whose names I prefer not to mention. She at last grew so much worse that the doctors called in a consultation, said she must die. It was, perhaps, the next day that we received a telegram that she was dying. My wife and I hastened to her bedside, and we telegraphed post-haste to take her case out of the hands of the doctors, as they had told me, as well as others, that there was no hope. I telegraphed the nurses to begin giving her Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, being satisfied from the remarkable cure of Mr. Larrabee—it was the only thing we could do. In three days from that time the albumen deposits ceased to appear. One doctor then hastened to claim her improvement as the result of his treatment, and asked her to stop taking this remedy. She did so, and rapidly grew worse. Then he told her to use it again, and the result is that to-day she is nearly well, sir, and not only about, but able to attend to her duties."

The reference made by Mr. Young to Mr. Larrabee prompted the man of news to call and see that gentleman at the office of the New York and Boston Despatch Express Company. Mr. Larrabee's experience is so well known as to necessitate but a brief explanation, and it is perhaps sufficient to say that, for more than three weeks about one year ago, he lay at the point of death, given up by both physicians and friends. Through the almost miraculous power, however, of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, he was restored to health, and enabled to attend to his extensive business interests. Mr. Larrabee is to-day one of the most perfect pictures of health to be found in this city. He greeted his visitor cordially, and the following conversation ensued:

"How are you feeling, Mr. Larrabee?"

"Never better in my life, sir."

"Have you had any return of your old complaint, sir?"

"Not the slightest, sir; my kidneys are in perfect order."

"You have had no trouble, then, even of a slight nature, since your recovery?"

"No, sir, I am happy to say that I have not, and it would be difficult to find an 'out' about me, in any physical respect."

"You must be overrun with inquiries about your case, are you not?"

"Yes, indeed."

"Do these inquires annoy you?"

"They take up a great deal of my time, and I keep a clerk to do corresponding; but my life was saved by means of the remedy, and I am ready to proclaim it and willing to answer all and one enquirers by letter or personally at all times."

"You hear and see many striking cases then, do you not, sir?"

"Yes, indeed, some remarkable ones. I drove ten miles across the country while in Maine last summer to carry the remedy to a poor fellow that was suffering, and I recently spent a week's time at the house of a prominent New Yorker on the same errand. It is a great gratification to see people who are suffering restored to health and happiness."

Thoroughly impressed with the sincerity of Mr. Larrabee, the reporter pursued his investigations in the vicinity of the Stock Exchange.

Mr. E. S. Grant, 32 Water street, said: "I have been cured of serious kidney troubles, of many years' standing, by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."

Mr. D. R. Appleberry, in the Bialto building, opposite the Post Office, said: "I have used Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure with great benefit, and would not be without it for any consideration. I buy it by the case, and shall be glad for all my friends to know of this."

While in the vicinity of the Stock Exchange the newspaper man also ascertained that Mr. Kimball, of the firm of Bryan, Kimball & Co., 10 Kilby street, had been completely cured of serious kidney troubles of many years by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, so that he is now able attend to the business of the firm in this city, and also to establish and conduct a branch office in New York city.

Mr. Edward R. Wiggin was found in his office in Sears building, and, upon being questioned said: "I am apparently in the best of health, but I don't think a man can be too careful of such important organs as the kidneys and liver. I have thought in the past that perhaps there might be something the matter with my kidneys, so I keep Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure on hand all the while; in fact, I keep a bottle here at the office and another at my home."

Mr. Samuel F. Tufts, with F. Crosby, carpet dealer, 97 Hanover street, stated that he had contracted a severe kidney trouble as a result of a violent cold taken some years ago while travelling in New Hampshire. Mrs. Dr. O'Leary, daughter of the well known Dr. Bartlett, of New York, and who is familiar with practice upon the continent of Europe, pronounced his case to be Bright's disease in the first stage. He used Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, having heard of its wonderful properties, and to-day feels like a new man.

Mr. John P. Woodside, engineer in Richardson & Metcalf's carriage factory, corner Charles and Cambridge streets, said: "For five years I was a great sufferer from a disordered and torpid liver. I was treated by several doctors, and used nearly all the remedies I saw advertised, but without benefit, till I began taking Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. This remedy took right hold of my trouble at once and cured me up, and I've recommended it to all my friends."

The final call was made upon Mr. D. F. Bradbury, whose attractive store is on the corner of Washington and Winter streets. Mr. Bradbury had noticed the increase of kidney and liver difficulties, and knew personally of a large number of people, many of them his friends, who had been relieved of pain and restored to health by the efficacy of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. Among the number is a prominent stockbroker of Charlestown, whose cure of kidney difficulties is quite remarkable, and, also, one of the leading officers of Cambridge, who has likewise been restored to health. Mr. Bradbury sells a large quantity of this remedy, and mentioned the fact that, so great was the demand, he had been compelled to send goods even to Canada, where kidney difficulties are so prevalent.

Such an array of data as the above has seldom been collected in this country. It fully proves the statement made at the beginning of this article, and also shows that not only are men like Everett, Sumner, Wilson, Wood and Chase, whose public duties necessitate special strain upon the faculties, subject to these fatal complaints, but also that men and women, in all walks of life, who have probably thought they were in perfect health, require care and a careful consideration of facts so important. The kidneys and liver are the workshops of the human system. Not only can there be no such thing as good health when they are disordered, but nine-tenths of all the ailments to which people are subject arise, directly or indirectly, from them. To enumerate these troubles would be to name all the difficulties which come upon mankind. The illustrations above given show what a great and pure vegetable remedy has done in violent and serious cases, and what it is certain to do in times less violent but no less important.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefitat once by taking a life insurance for this amount? If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir; I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I take great pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of his cured cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 34 Milk street, Boston. Office in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday; in Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. 1mp3

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Daily Chronicle.

What shall we do with our Daughters?

Don't teach them self-reliance. It is so much easier for them to rely on some one else.

Don't let them learn how to make bread. Their beaux might think they were not well bred.

Don't allow them to learn how to make shirts. It is better they should not know. Then, when they are married, their husbands can work twenty hours a day to get money with which to buy ready-made ones, while they knit red dogs.

Above all things, do not fail to learn them how to wear false hair, and if your daughter objects to bang her hair, bang her over the head.

Do not allow 'em to learn how to make their own dresses. It is fashionable to have dressmakers.

Teach them that a dollar is only one hundred cents, and does not amount to much.

Do not let them learn how to cook. If they understand the cuisine art and know what is needed in a family, the servant could not supply all her relatives with edibles.

Don't allow them to learn how to sew on buttons; they might get needles in their fingers.

Teach them to regard the money and not the morals of their suitors.

Teach them none of the mysteries of the kitchen, the dining room and the parlor.

Teach them that the more one lives beyond his income the more he will save.

Urge them to go with intemperate young men. It is convenient to have a drunken husband, as his wife is enabled to take pin money from his pocket while he is taking a drunken snooze.

Finally, teach them that God, who made them, is an old fogy, and made them in His image, which necessitates tight-lacing.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

—"Doctor," said one of our best young men in society: "doctor, there is something the matter with my brain; I know there is. What shall I do about it?" And the doctor calmly but firmly said he guessed it needed a little exercise about as much as anything else.

—The author of the new song, "My Home is on the Tossing Sea," has lived, ever since he was born, at Fort Riley, Kansas, eighteen hundred miles from salt water; and he confessed in a moment of rash confidence, to a newspaper reporter, that it makes him seasick to sit in a rocking chair.

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—Ipswich, Mass., has an old man, Thomas Smith, eighty-eight years of age, and a pensioner on account of service in the United States army in the war of 1812, who lives alone, was never married, and keeps a bachelor's hall; never rode in a railway car, and has been a great smoker for over seventy years. His father lived in the same house now occupied by him on High street, dying at eighty-eight years, and his mother at ninety-six. The old man was a soldier in the revolutionary war, had sons in the war of 1812, and six grandsons and four great-grandsons in the war of the rebellion.

Liebig Co's Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel quickly relieves periodical sufferings of females. "It possesses a peculiar power," says Professor Pattison, in his celebrated work on diseases of women, of relieving the sufferings of painful periods. "It wards off the suffering without in any way interfering with the proper and natural flow." Beware of cheap counterfeits. It is invaluable in most of the commoner diseases of women. Cures disfiguring pimples and eruptions. Sold in fifty cents and dollar sizes.

—In political times, when it used to be whigs and democrats, there was an old lady, a sort of fortune teller, living at the upper parish in Gloucester, where they called "Aunt Esther." The young lads and lasses often made visits to this recluse. On one occasion one of her company questioned her thus: "Aunt Esther, what are you, a whig or a democrat?" "Lor," said she, "I ain't neither, I'm a Universalist."—Salem News.

H. L. BOWKER, State Assayer, Mass.

—A Newburyport woman whose husband is most of the time absent at sea, lives in a house which had got the name of being haunted. The other night, according to the Herald, she heard stealthy steps on the stairs. Instead of screaming and covering her head with the bedclothes she quietly lighted a lamp and opened the door to ascertain the intruder's identity and intentions. She was confronted by an enormous rat, which stared at her for a moment and then scrambled down stairs much more rapidly than he had ascended. The lady thinks she has solved the mystery, but she stands more in fear of the genuine rat than she did of the alleged ghost.

This is indeed an enlightened age, and yet there are thousands of people ignorant of the fact that a slight cold neglected often terminates in consumption. Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures coughs and colds as by magic. Trial size, 10 cts. Larger bottles, 75 cts.

The Other Side.

In some of the cities of our state are men who, it is asserted, have recently made fortunes by sagacious investments in stocks, bought at low prices and upon which great advances in the market have followed. Whether these lucky men have sold out and placed the proceeds of their investments in solid securities, or whether they still hold for a further rise, is not generally known. The common rule in such cases is to wait for a larger profit, and not to go out seasonably. But it is supposed that these men have become rich. They have the means of raising all the money needed for their operations, by leaving collaterals with their notes, and their reputed good fortune brings a credit at banks and elsewhere, which enables them to "carry," as it is termed, large blocks of stocks and bonds of speculative kind. Their life is a perpetual attendance upon the market, and their business hours are employed in watching the rise and fall of stocks. They spend their days at the Boston brokers' offices, with eyes fixed upon the record of the sales reported by telegraph, and their nights in dreams of large advances and fabulous wealth from their shrewd operations. Occasionally we hear of some witless small operator who is badly done up, (we must be pardoned this professional slang, as no other language can properly indicate our meaning,) but the world believes that all who speculate, thrive, and that riches surely await the bold and active operator.

When our ancient ancestor Adam was notified to quit the garden of Eden, as the lawyers would put it, for condition broken in the lease, our Heavenly Father pretty clearly intimated that it was better that he and his descendants should work for a living. Economists incline to the opinion that this was the plan from the start, and that the idle and comfortable life which Adam first enjoyed, was really not a proper mode of existence. However that may be, there can be no doubt that happiness, health and the blessings of life are more keenly enjoyed and more heartily appreciated by those who "learn to labor" than by the drones of society, and that if wealth produces happiness, it must be gained by observance of the rules by which it can be properly attained, namely, by earning it.

But the world has been, and now is, noted for the men—aye, and women too—who seek to get rich without work; in other words, to speculate. The means employed to this end are manifold, but all tend to the same result.

Sometimes we hear of a speculator coming to grief; and the inmate of the Cheshire county jail, the late treasurer of the Ashuelot bank, is a case in point. He has wasted a hundred thousand dollars in the vain attempt to attain the result he saw, or supposed he saw, in others. With a yearly salary of four hundred dollars, and an occasional small office and doing a little business as a lawyer, his income was small. He was considered respectable and trustworthy, but he could not resist the temptation to get rich. Probably the result will show that he took at first small sums to use, in the belief that he could replace them, and never be discovered. This is the process by which most defalcations in trust positions begin. But Albee was fighting the tiger with heavy odds against him. The man who speculates, like the man who deals with the faro bank, has fearful chances against him, and he who has not the ability to earn a fortune for himself, when he uses other people's money at a hazard will hardly have the ability or possess the information to successfully operate in a distant market. The defalcation of Albee, like that of Shute of Exeter and every similar instance, is the old, old story; and before every one in a similar position, however trusted, however honest in his purposes and principles, should the prayer be daily "Lead us not into temptation."

News and Notes.

Edward D. Murphy, a resident of Bellows Falls, Vt., has entered suit, claiming $3,000 damages from the officials of a public church fair held at Bellows Falls last week, for the refusal to admit him, together with his wife and mother, after they had regularly purchased their tickets. The refusal was based on the prejudice caused by the withdrawal of Murphy from the church, and his support of an opposition one.

Rev. Herbert H. Hayden, the alleged murderer of Mary Stannard, has abandoned the ministry and the lecture stage, and earns his daily bread in a New Haven carriage shop.

Margaret Gaines, aged twenty-two years, wandered from home in Pascoag, R. I., Sunday evening, while demented. Her body was found in a field Monday morning. She perished from exposure.

A most remarkable case of abstinence from eating and talking is attracting the attention of the people of Iowa City, Iowa. The fact that the most reputable physicians of Iowa City have examined the case removes all doubts as to its authenticity. Miss Hattie Deul, a sister-in-law of Dr. Aylesworth, has not eaten a morsel of food for thirty-three days, up to the 28th inst., nor has she spoken one word for three years. She abstained from food on the ground that it was a religious duty to do so, and from talking for the same reason. The persuasion of friends is useless, and she is slowly wasting away. Miss Deul is a maiden lady fifty-two years of age, and has always been highly respected.

George H. Sherman, of Swansey, Mass., was arrested in Providence, R. I., Monday, and taken to Swansey to answer to a charge of criminal assault on his twelve-years-old daughter.

Citizens of Sparta, Ga., last Thursday night, hung a negro for attempting an outrage on a young white woman in the streets of that city.

John P. T. Daviess, a prominent lawyer of Harrodsburg, Tenn., son of Major Wm. Daviess, blew his brains out March 28th, probably while insane.

Major F. M. Hanks was arrested in Memphis, Tenn., March 28th, on a charge of forging titles to lands in Travis county, Texas, two years ago.

In New York, on the night of the 26th inst., two burglars entered the house of Thomas Egan, gagged and bound Egan's niece, Miss Nellie Cunningham, aged nineteen years, who was alone in the house, and demanded to be told where Mrs. Egan's jewels and money were; and on the lady's refusal to tell them, they struck her in the face. Still exasperated by her refusal to answer their question, one burglar stabbed her several times in the arms, face and hands, with a penknife. The young lady became insensible, when the robbers, fearing they had killed her, fled from the house. Miss Cunningham was found insensible and securely bound. Next day, she became partly paralyzed, and was unable to speak. Later the police arrested John R. Camp, a man of bad reputation, and Miss Cunningham recognized him as one of her assailants. The ruffian was held in $10,000 for trial.

Considerable uneasiness exists among property owners and insurance men in Worcester, Mass., over the discovery of proof positive that a fire-bug is and has been operating in that city. His last attempt was on Friday night, on the barn of S. R. Leland. Traces left behind at this fire indicate that it was the work of an incendiary, who uses a box and a candle, after the fashion of the famed fire-bug of Newburyport.

A bully from Haysville, Ohio, went to Londonville in the same state last Saturday, and among other reprehensible acts insulted the editors of the two papers published there. Finally the town marshal arrested him, but half a dozen citizens took him away, and after a liberal castigation put a rope around his neck, led him beyond the town line, and made him swear never to show his face again in Londonville.

"Old Abe," Wisconsin's famous war eagle, died at the state capitol in Madison, Saturday night. The bird was with the Eighth Wisconsin regiment through the late rebellion, and at the close of the war was presented to the state. He has been all over the nation since, and in 1865, at the great fair in Chicago, his exhibition netted $16,000, while at a Milwaukee fair, the same year, $6,000 was realized. "Old Abe" was four months at the Centennial fair at Philadelphia.

A gentleman lately returned from Constantinople to London, who knows the Turkish officials intimately and is familiar with the language, reports that the Turks are terribly afraid that war will break out between Turkey and Greece. The country was never before in such a wretched condition as now. The people who are seen in the streets of Pera and Stamboul look half starved, and there is dire poverty everywhere except in the ranks of the military pachase in whose hands are the revenues of the country. The Sultan is said to be as strongly opposed to war as his subjects, but he is afraid of his military advisers, who threaten a revolt if he yields to Greece. Competent authority says that it would cost $8,000,000 to put the Turkish navy in tolerable condition for sea.

A despatch from Ferndale, Humboldt county, Cal., says that Commander Charles J. McDougal, U. S. N., inspector of the 12th lighthouse district, with two other men, was drowned off Mendocino light while attempting to go ashore from the steamer Manzanita, last Monday morning.

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Sprup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

WM. S. WILLEY.

PROF. EDISON'S POLYFORM.

After much persuasion, Prof. Edison has been prevailed upon to give to the world his truly wonderful discovery for alleviating pain. For years he suffered from neuralgic pains, unable to find any remedy among the hundreds which he tried that would give him permanent ease. Finally he became convinced that he must become his own physician and seek, by experiments, for the desired relief. He had taken all the well known sedatives, which gave only temporary relief, and produced nervousness, loss of appetite, &c. He now sought for a combination of such remedies as would, by outward application, cure him of his distress and at same time not be injurious to his system.

Trials and experiments followed this determination until he at last produced a compound which, by application, entirely subdued all pain and allowed his system to recuperate, and throw off the disease.

To his discovery Prof. Edison gave the name

POLYFORM.

Gratified with the result upon himself, he tested his discovery upon others who suffered from nervous pain, and in every case the relief was perfect.

The cures performed by his gifts of Polyform became so celebrated and the demand upon his time and attention so great, Prof. Edison finally yielded to the solicitation of those who knew the merits of his preparation and allowed a company to be formed for the manufacture and sale of Polyform under his supervision.

The number of remarkable cures, and the suffering Polyform has saved, attest the wisdom and philanthrophy of this course.

MENLO PARK, N. J.

I CERTIFY THAT THE PREPARATION KNOWN AS EDISON'S POLYFORM IS MADE ACCORDING TO FORMULA DEVISED AND USED BY MYSELF.

THOMAS A EDISON

For many other complaints beside Neuralgia, such as Rheumatism, Headaches, Sciatica, Gout, Pain in Back or Side, or wherever pain exists, without abrasion of the skin. Polyform will give prompt relief.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale.

AROUND HOME.

The base ball players have taken to the fields.

The notes of the robins were heard on Monday morning.

Schooner Ev. Nichols is lying at Dixon's wharf, waiting for better times for fishing.

J. Albert Walker is receiving weekly by rail large quantities of seasoned wood, both hard and soft.

The steamer Little May was brought over from Kittery on Tuesday and shipped on the cars for a passage to the south.

The schooner Flora Temple is laid up for the present, and will receive some embellishments before resuming her fishing trips.

The Deverson wharf at Newcastle is being filled in for a landing for the ferry steamer Fearless, which will touch there on her trips to and from Kittery Point.

Two of the four boys on horseback, dressed in jockey suits, who on Tuesday afternoon personated the "Kerry Gow" company, were thrown from their horses, one of them receiving a severe cut on the head.

The roof of the house corner of State and Middle streets, belonging to Mr. Benjamin F. Webster, caught fire from a spark from the chimney on Monday, but the fire was extinguished without an alarm being given.

Mr. Mark Blake—"Uncle Mark"—of Gerrish's island, Kittery, recently had two lambs killed and several others bitten by a dog belonging to Abner Collins. Mr. Collins settled the matter by paying ten dollars.

Schooner Addie & Hattie sailed on her first trip, Tuesday, to buy lobsters for Randall & Caswell. The sending of vessels to collect the lobsters that are caught around the islands and along the eastern shore is quite a business, and vessels used for this purpose are those having good sailing qualities.

The steamer Williamsport, Willetts master, from Philadelphia with 1651 tons of coal; schooner Fawn, McDonald master, with 407 tons of coal from Elizabethport; and schooner Nellie C. Paine, Fisher master, from Elizabethport with 388 tons of coal, all for the Portsmouth coal-pockets, arrived on Tuesday.

The steam-tug Naumkeag is expected to arrive at this port on Saturday. She will be commanded by Capt. Gilbert D. Amee of Kittery Point, who is an experienced pilot she will be used both for towing and for taking parties on excursions, and is licensed to carry one hundred passengers. The principal owner of the boat is Mr. George B. Fifield of South Newmarket.

Class No. 7 of the Universalist Sunday school will hold a fair in the vestry of the church on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 5th. Fancy articles specially prepared for the occasion will be on exhibition and sale; also cake, fruit and confectionery. Ice cream served to order. No lotteries, voting arrangements, nor guess cakes. Harlow's orchestra will furnish music.

In reply to the frequent inquiry of our citizens as to the probability of the Messrs. Sawyer locating their new mill in Portsmouth, Mr. Charles H. Sawyer remarked this week that he knew of no better place in the country to locate a steam mill, and that but one objection could be advanced against the establishment of a woollen mill in our city, that of the lack of a sufficient quantity of water to be used in washing wool. We have heard that an effort has been made in another locality to induce the Sawyers to locate their mill where this objection would not exist.

Mr. Daniel Littlefield is building a scow forty feet long at his place on Green street.

The Eastern railroad company is to put its East Boston wharf property into condition to accommodate large ocean steamers.

M. E. Johnson offers, in our advertising columns, great inducements to those who are desirious of purchasing hair. There can be seen at this establishment as extensive an assortment as is generally found in similar stores in the largest cities. Every variety of hair-work is made, and warranted, at the lowest prices. The large increase of stock offers a good assortment to choose from.

Fishermen have had hard luck for the past week. The strong wind and heavy sea kept those that were in the harbor at their moorings, and those that were out laid under the shelter of Smuttynose island. Several vessels went out to the fishing grounds on Tuesday and succeeded in setting their trawls, and then returned to the lower harbor. Even with the great scarcity of fish, the demand is so small that the price hardly pays a boat for venturing out for them.

The Portland Argus says that a fine passenger steamboat will be at once built and completed by the first of June, by the Old Orchard Steamboat Co., of which John S. Morris, Esq., of Portland, is manager. The new boat will be a side wheeler, one hundred feet long, and capable of carrying comfortably two hundred passengers. She will connect with the Old Orchard railroad, and run to Biddeford Pool. Merrill Bros. are building the hull of the steamer, and the Portland company will put in her machinery. She will cost the company about $14,000, and will be named "Samuel E. Spring."

Plenty of work at shoemaking is reported in South Seabrook, where shoes are made for parties in Lynn, Haverhill, Amesbury and Newburyport. There is but very little fishing done now by Seabrook men; shoe work is so plentiful and so well paid for that the fishermen prefer to stop on shore. Sewell B. Fowler is the only one who makes fishing his regular occupation. His father, Ananias Fowler, the veteran fisherman of Salisbury beach, is quite ill. Mr. Fowler, the elder, in his day has sailed with twenty-two different crews, of all which only two members are now living. The young man who accidentally shot himself through the hand on the 20th inst. is doing well, the wound being nearly healed.

Dr. D. W. Colcord has been appointed superintending school committee by the selectmen of Seabrook, much to the satisfaction of the citizens. Frank Walton was elected prudential committee in district four, and Jeremiah Green in district two.——Some time last Saturday, $50 was stolen from the safe of Samuel E. Staples' shoe manufactory in Seabrook. The safe is in the counting-room, and was left unlocked. The theft was committed during working hours, and evidently by some one well acquainted with the premises.——"What shall be done about the horse case?" is the question now agitating the public mind in Seabrook. It is reported that a special town-meeting will be called to consider it. The amount sued for is two hundred dollars.

Mr. Elias Perkins, whose death occurred suddenly last week in his 85th year, was a volunteer soldier in the war of 1812, and served through the war. He was a well-known and much respected citizen and farmer, and long identified as the first person to introduce ice as an article of trade in the streets of Portsmouth. When the then novel article of commerce was first introduced, it was no very uncommon event to see boys— boys then, but many of them now among the best customers of his sons in the same line of business, and fathers or even grandfathers of other customers—attempting to annoy Mr. Perkins by shouting "Crazy man! Crazy man! Trying to sell frozen water! Ha, Ha!" and then running away, not unfrequently having their speed accelerated by a touch of the old gentleman's whip, for he would occasionally make an unexpected advance upon the juvenile enemy, on the double-quick. As an illustration of the fact that the world does move, we have but to look at the magnitude of the ice business in this community now. COM.

FIRE.

A one-story house on Clinton street, at the Creek, was burned Tuesday evening, probably by an incendiary, as the building was unoccupied. Two alarms were given, both starting with the steam whistles at the Creek, and a navy yard engine came over, but was not needed.

A CARD.

The subscriber tenders his thanks to the fire department for their successful efforts in protecting his property from fire on Tuesday evening; also to the neighbors, and particularly to Mr. Jas. Ayers, for their prompt and efficient aid on the same occasion. THOMAS CAMPBELL.

NOTHING TO PAY.

Mayor Couch, of Newburyport, has received the following communication from the mayor's office in this city, which explains itself:

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 22d inst. was duly received. The assistance we were enabled to afford your city on the occasion of the recent fire was only a partial return for like service rendered to Portsmouth by the city of Newburyport in years past. Please accept my sympathy for the loss sustained, and congratulations that it was no greater. I am happy to state that there is no pecuniary obligation, the Eastern railroad kindly furnishing transportation free of expense.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM H. SISE, Mayor.

Starting Early Vegetables.

Window boxes answer nearly all the purposes of a hot bed for a garden in which the number of plants required is small. A kitchen window is preferable to any other, as the air is usually more moist. Sow seeds in window boxes, and when the plants are up, turn the boxes every day, to bring the opposite side to the light and keep them from growing to one side. When the seedlings get two or three "rough" leaves, those beyond the seed leaves should be "pricked out" or planted in other similar boxes, setting them an inch or more apart, according to kind. The young plants may grow in these until time to put them in the open ground. Set the box out doors in the middle of every mild day, or open the windows, in order to harden the plants. The kinds usually sown in hotbeds, frames and window boxes, are cabbages, cauliflowers and others of that family; lettuce, tomatoes, peppers and egg plants; the last two will do a month later. Cucumbers, melons and early squashes may be started later, a few seeds to give plants enough for a hill, in a small box or four-inch pot. The roots of these are large, and do not succeed in a small pot.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

—An educational exchange asks the question: "Is one language enough?" As a general thing it is, but there are times when it isn't. When a man goes to throw a scuttle of coal on the fire, for instance, and strikes the stove two inches below the door, and the coal flies nine ways for Sunday, he feels that one language to express his feelings in is meagre indeed.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—They had been at the masqueade, where she had recognized him at once. "Was it the loud beating of my heart, my darling, that told you I was near?" murmured he. "Oh, no," she replied, "I recognized your crooked legs."

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—"Never hit a man when he's down," no doubt is an excellent maxim, but it would not detract so much from some men's personal appearance, perhaps, were they to let the individual alone when he is up.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—An editor who was told that his last article was as clear as mud, said, "Well, that covers the ground, anyhow."

The Luck of a Cornet Player.

A nat ve of France, M. Clayette, a few weeks ago found himself with the French Opera Troupe in New Orleans. While there he thought he would do as the New Orleans people do, and invested one dollar in the purchase of a half ticket in the Frontier Lottery drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery with the gratifying result of obtaining $15,000 on a half of ticket No. 27,586. He now trumpets the honesty of the management of that celebrated institution as well as continuing to blow the cornet. If he had written with an enclosure to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y., or same person at New Orleans, La., he would have had the same results probably.

The Ashuelot Bank Defalcation.

The following is Bank Commissioner Lyman's report to Gov. Head of the condition of the Ashuelot bank:

Having examined the Ashuelot savings bank at Winchester, I submit the following brief report: The treasurer's statement to me was in brief—

Bank's liabilities (deposits)	$210,483.56
Surplus, etc	5,552.66
Making total liabilities	$216,027.22
Bank's assets	216,027.22
But examination shows the deposits to be	$322,796.78
Assets	215,789.92
Deficit	$106,997.26
Add treasurer's reported surplus	5,553.66
Total deficiency	$112,490.92

The ledgers are very correct up to the time of the recent 139 false entries. The deficiency was discovered and the false entries detected only by a careful examination of the ledgers, the cash book and the receipt book of the bank. Until the recent false entries were made, the defalcation could have been discovered by the simple process of finding the amount of the bank's property and the amount of the deposits as they stood upon the ledgers. All stories about an accidental discovery are utterly false. The history of the defalcation I know little. A few minutes' work showed the treasurer's statements of the bank's condition January 1, 1876, and July 1, 1876, to be false. The treasurer at the commencement of the examination stated that neither he nor any other person had figured up the amount of the deposits for the last ten years by taking off the amount due each depositor. When he found that I intended to do so, which is the way I practiced during my brief service as bank commissioner in 1873, he evidently took his first opportunity to try to cover his defalcation by false entries. Up to that time they were open to any one who would figure up his accounts.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefits at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir; I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried many and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,
WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 45 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar success in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are young and disposed to be dissipated or single, old or poor health or languishing, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, biliousness, or symptoms of these complaints, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

A CHARACTER SKETCH.

The mule seemed pensive, even sad,
As if by conscience pricked,
But when they came to share his woes,
He raised objections—kicked.

The cat came up to sympathize
With mew and gentle purr;
Alas! she got within his reach,
When—fiddlestrings and fur.

The dog, in pity, neared him [illegible]
A lively tale to tell;
He tried to pass around him once,
But—sausage meat and hair.

And John, the honest farmer boy
Who had the beast in charge,
Tried recklessly to harness him—
His funeral was large.

Oh, trifling were the causes which
His flexible legs unfurled,
And many were the quadrupeds
That sought another world.

He never did a decent thing;
He wasn't worth a ducat;
He kicked and kicked until he died,
And then he kicked the bucket.

The Maverick National Bank.

Boston has at least one national bank of which she may not only be proud, but for which very many of her citizens feel a positive regard. In the first place the Maverick National bank is one of the most extensive and best-known banking institutions in the country. Since its organization as a national bank it has progressed in its business as a receiver and custodian of deposits, as a dealer in government bonds and foreign exchange, and in other departments of a special nature, to such an extent that its offices and rooms, located at the corner of Water and Congress streets, have become noted as among the busiest places in the city. Almost a regiment of clerks, paying and receiving tellers, bookkeepers, etc., has been formed there during the past few years, and during the banking hours of the day the throng of people transacting business at those counters do not suffer them to pass an idle moment. So much for the growth of an institution which has studied in every way the convenience and accommodation of its customers and the public.

The departments of a special nature alluded to are, notably, the "placing of money by telegraph," and the system of "domestic as well as foreign letters of credit." The former was, by the way, invented or originated by the Maverick National bank, while the bank was also among the first to adopt the home "letter of credit" system. By a well-established arrangement the Maverick bank places money by telegraph in upwards of four hundred cities and towns of the United States and Canadas. On the same plan also as the old system of foreign letters of credit, the bank now gives letters of credit in the same place where it sends money by telegraph on this side of the Atlantic at home and in the Dominion. This latter plan has been in operation about one year, and has excited the unqualified admiration of the bank's traveling customers. The testimony of these travellers is unanimous to the effect that they not only obtain their funds without hesitation, on the production of their letters, but they are treated with a kindness and consideration which at once makes them feel at home among strangers. These letters of credit from the Maverick bank, indeed, prove to be first-class letters of introduction to good society.

Another excellent and convenient department in the way of special features, and one which, in view of the increasing trade and traffic between Boston and English ports, is the exchange on the City bank, London, which is drawn in sums to suit. Sterling bills are also bought. It is hardly necessary to say, that the present splendid appointments and standing of the Maverick National bank are very largely due to its president, Mr. Alva P. Potter. Under his sagacious and skillful management, the result of leading and progressive ideas, the bank has become an important factor in shaping the financial policy of the country at the present time. As stated in the beginning of this article, Boston may well feel proud of the position held by the Maverick bank among the other leading banking institutions of the nation.—Boston Traveller.

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Concord, N. H., Patriot.

—The New York Times says: "Man might be exhaustively defined as the only being capable of holding a pen between the ear and the side of the head."

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

—"Mr. Smith," said a lady at a fair, "won't you please buy this bouquet to present to the lady you love?" "Twouldn't be right," said Mr. Smith; "I'm a married man."

Truly wonderful in nervousness, general debility and emaciation and dropsy,—Malt Bitters.

—A young lady at a ball called her beau an Indian, because he was on her trail all the time.

News and Notes.

The State-house in Boston, after the manner of the Capitol at Washington, displays the American flag while the senate and house of representatives are in session. On account of the length of the sessions the flags at Boston are much worn toward the close of the term of the general court; and it is then that the members are found willing to "go for the old flag with an appropriation."

A post mortem examination, Tuesday, March 29th, over the remains of Mrs. Adolph Bonhols of Hoboken, N. J., who died on the previous Sunday evening, shows that death resulted from trichinosis. Her husband is now sick with the same disease, and is not expected to recover.

Nathan Magowie, a pensioner, died at Newburyport, Mass., March 28th. Mr. Magowin was in the navy on board the United States sailing frigate Cumberland when she was attacked near Norfolk, Va., by the rebel ram Merrimac, and was the last man to fire a gun from the Cumberland. He was sixty-four years old. Fourteen years of his life were spent in the navy.

The governor of Wisconsin has signed the bill recently passed by the legislature prohibiting the practice of "treating." The bill provides that any person who shall hereafter ask another to drink at his expense, or any person consenting to drink at another's expense, shall be liable to arrest and punishment. When the bill was introduced, it was referred to as a senseless and impracticable idea, and nobody thought it would become a law. It has only attracted attention since it has passed.

Thirty-five years ago, only ten Russian immigrants arrived at New York during a whole year. Last year, 2431 Russians landed at Castle Garden, and this year there will probably be a large increase, if the Czar does not check the movement.

The Dublin correspondent of the London Times says: "It is a remarkable fact that despite the specious advice of the Land League to the tenant farmers to maintain their grip of the land and not to leave the country, the emigration returns show that 95,857 persons emigrated last year, being an increase of 48,493 over the number of emigrants during the previous year."

The mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Maria Avent and Mrs. Emily Chidsey at Avon, Conn., May 30th, 1880, is believed to be now cleared up. The murderer is thought to have been Ernest Moses, whose dead body was recently found in Sussex county, New Jersey. Moses escaped from the Middletown insane asylum three days before the murder, and is known to have been in the neighborhood at the time, and the way in which the murders were committed seems to show the work of a mad man. Ever since the murder a Hartford constable has been after him, and has collected a mass of evidence which proves almost conclusively that Moses was the criminal.

Fanny Davenport is having a glass dress made in Pittsburg, Pa. It is composed of clear glass drawn out into fine, gossamer-like filaments. Those who have seen it say that it is almost impossible to distinguish the material from fine French satin. The effect is pronounced magnificent.

Michael Foley, of Groveland, Mass., in attempting to board a moving train at Georgetown to go to Haverhill on the night of March 28th, missed his footing and fell. In his fall he caught hold of a platform and held on for about twenty-five rods, when he dropped in such a way as to be run over by the rear car of the train, having both legs crushed and being otherwise injured so that he died in about an hour. No one on the train knew of the accident. Deceased leaves a widow and one child.

Thomas C. Clemmens, the city attorney of Bayonne City, N. J., disappeared four weeks ago, and nothing has been heard of him since. He was a lawyer of fine abilities, and has held many positions of trust.

It is said that a gambler won $3,000 of prominent business men of Rutland, Vt., the other night, two losing $900 each, one $700 and one $500.

Mrs. Poor of Brownsfield, Me., aged ninety-four years, widow of a soldier of the war of 1812, was fatally burned the other day by her clothes catching fire from a stove.

One of T. B. Swan's personal friends at Mechanic Falls, Me., intimates that he has heard from the fugitive, and that he is not far from the Canada border.

Harlan P. Hale of Waterford, Vt., was arrested at Lowell, Mass., March 29th, charged with having attempted to kill by poison Miss Mary E. P. Sanborn, who lives with her aged father in Lowell, and all the members of the family. Hale is said to be a discarded suitor of Miss Sanborn.

A skull found at Trading cove, near Norwich, Conn., March 28th, by boys, led to an investigation, and to the discovery of the entire body of a man identified by his widow as that of John E. Barber, a machinist of Norwich, who disappeared from his home in November, 1877, while suffering from temporary mental aberration.

Benjamin Stevens of Rockland, Conn., one of the most important witnesses against Hayden in his trial for the murder of Mary Stannard, died March 26th.

Advices from Morehead, Kentucky, March 27th, give details of a stubburn fight between Hezekiah Jones and two brothers named Cornett. The parties met in the woods, and an old feud having been renewed, a desperate fight took place. The two Cornetts emerged so badly wounded with a knife that they had to be carried home. Jones was left unconcious with a bullet in his head, and died soon after. The Cornetts will recover. Garfield Williams, a lad seventeen years old, the only witness of the encounter, has been arrested as an accomplice of the Cornetts.

A despatch to the Cape Ann Advertiser from Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, reports plenty of herring there, with no purchasers. The ice is gone and the harbor open.

"Lenox Dare," by Virginia F. Townsend, author of "A Woman's Word, and how she kept it," "That Queer Girl," etc. Boston; Lee & Shephard; price $1.50.

Lenox Dare, the heroine of this story of four hundred and fifty pages, has an eventful experience; is shabbily treated by the second wife of her uncle, is cared for by a family in New York state, has an offer of marriage at Hampton beach, welcomes a rich uncle from India whom she had supposed dead, goes to Europe under his indulgent escort, manages to have the man who loves her married to the woman who loves him, settles down with her old uncle on the North shore, and finally marries a model husband such as can be found only in novels, and becomes the most beloved stepmother in eastern Massachusetts. The story is well written, and the heroine grows in beauty and grace as the tale progresses, and in her checkered career shows traits of womanly excellence which makes her one of the most attractive characters seen in the modern novel. Portions of the story are laid at Hampton beach. The author however keeps her characters constantly on the move, and the interest in the book is well maintained throughout. The Harvard swell introduced is permissible, because he is one of the Barclays of Boston, but we fail to see the propriety of giving such a dark back-ground to her picture as is shadowed by the tramp Hatch, or the unfortunate Jessie Dawes; but this perhaps may be allowed under the license to be drawn from the fact that the story begins with an artist's brush and terminates with his picture, and of course there intervenes much mixture of ingredient light and shade. For sale at the bookstores.

Sharon's Self-Sufficiency.

One day Senator Sharon was invited in Boston to attend a grand banquet given in honor of the poet Longfellow, by a lot of literary sharps. Sharon was, of course, introduced to all the guests, and equally of course, he immediately forgot all the names. Finally the company was seated, Sharon's left-hand neighbor being a little quiet gentleman of unobtrusive manners. The wine was unusually fine, and Nevada's California senator was soon in conversation with those around him. One of his statements in regard to an historical occurrence called forth a mild objection from his left-hand neighbor. "I can assure you, sir, that I am dead posted on that point," sharply responded the honorable senator, who was somewhat nettled at having his historical accuracy questioned. The quiet gentleman did not reply. He was vanquished. Sharon was naturally proud of his victory, and after the company had left the table, he sought the host to find out the name of his conquered opponent. "Do you mean that gentleman leaning against the mantlepiece?" "Yes." "That's Bancroft, the historian." Nevada's California senator had the grace to order his carriage.

—A little miss had got into the naughty habit of not stating things as they were, or, to put it plainly, of stating them as they were not. Rather than reason with her on the wickedness of lying, her mother one day took down the New Testament and very solemnly read the story of Ananias and Sapphira, and their sudden death because they disregarded the truth. The little lady heard the story through, and looking up, said: "Mamma, I don't believe it; I've told lots and lots of lies." What answer could be made?

—A Philadelphia man who has six little sons went to the nursery the other evening and found them in a desperate melee. They were biting, kicking and pounding each other savagely, and the furniture was terribly broken up. He sprang in and stopped the combat. Then he demanded to know what the quarrel was about. "We weren't quarrelling, papa," said one of the youngsters, wiping the blood from his nose. "Then, what in heaven's name were you doing?" cried the amazed parent. "Playing we were the board of aldermen.

—On a certain day, years ago, two men and an Indian squaw arrived at a swampy spot with a wagon. They went to work and stuck up a rude shanty. A man shot a woodchuck, and the squaw skinned and cooked it. They ate the woodchuck. Then they all crawled into the shanty and went to sleep. These proceedings, ridiculous as they may seem, are to be celebrated in grand style with much braying of trumpets and beating of drums. Much gunpowder is to be fired and several men blown up, to celebrate the slaying of the woodchuck. For the proceedings of those two men and that squaw constituted the founding of Chicago.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

Probabilities for New England:—

AROUND HOME.

There is talk of another small steamer to be placed on the river this spring.

Messrs. Bailey and Adams are this week calking the deck of the schooner Christie Campbell.

Herring are making their appearance in this vicinity. There were some taken from cod-fish brought in on Wednesday.

Schooner Lucy, which has sailed from this port during the winter, fishing, has been sold to Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell at the Shoals.

The extensive trout ponds of Gen. Gilman Marston in Hampton are soon to receive 16,000 young fish in addition to the present stock.

The steamer formerly owned by Mr. Duncan, of Kittery, was launched from Badger's island on Wednesday of this week, and will go east on Saturday next.

Several of Mr. Doane's fishing schooners are going on the railway at Kittery to be painted. After they come off, the schooner Daniel C. Baker will be taken up, and calked.

A gang of men start for Newcastle this morning to commence blowing out a ledge on the grounds attached to the hotel Wentworth, preparatory to the erection of another building there.

An unoccupied house, with a barn and other buildings, in Greenland, belonging to Mr. Eugene Keefe, were burned on Tuesday night of this week. The fire was of incendiary origin. The loss was small.

The schooner Jacob Williams, of Bangor, Wentworth master, lumber laden, was abandoned off Boon island on the night of March 29th, waterlogged. The captain and crew were taken into Gloucester by the schooner David A. Story.

Milton Nobles and his dramatic company will appear at Music hall on Saturday evening in "The Phœnix." Mr. Nobles is one of the best comedians on the stage, has a good company and a capital play, and will give a first-rate entertainment.

The schooner yacht Eliza, belonging to Laighton Bros. & Co., of the Shoals, will be launched by Mr. Warren Keen as soon as the weather will permit, from the Raynes ship-yard, where she has been hauled out for the winter. She has been recalked and otherwise put in good condition, since she was taken up last fall.

Mr. Fred J. Haddock, a member of Kearsarge engine company, No. 3, in the reeling off of the hose from the carriage caught his fingers in the chain, badly lacerating two of them, at the fire on the night of March 29th. Mr. Haddock fortunately belongs to the Firemen's Relief Association, and will derive the benefits allowed therefrom.

Rev. Carlos Martyn, formerly pastor of the North church in this city, is now chaplain of the Seventy-first Reg't New York National Guard, and made the recent trip to New Orleans with his regiment, which trip was the subject of a lecture delivered by him on Wednesday evening of this week in the Thirty-fourth street Reformed church, New York city.

A special agent of the post-office department was in this city on the 30th inst., investigating certain complaints of alleged remissness in the removal by the postal-route clerks of letters deposited in the mail-box at the Eastern railroad station. We had heard nothing of any such complaints previous to a communication published by us a few days ago, and the prompt investigation of the matter shows that the department does not propose to permit the existence of any trouble that may be remedied.

The Portsmouth branch of the Land League will hold a meeting in Franklin upper hall this evening at eight o'clock, when all members, and all sympathizers with the cause, are earnestly invited to be present.

We were on Wednesday shown some fine specimens of clams dug at Essex, Mass., and brought into this port in the schooner Lucy. Two of them weighed one pound and a half. They come under the head of "sea clams," and some fishermen say they have dug some as large from the flats in this vicinity.

Mr. C. Morris Tredick is building a brow one hundred and forty feet long, to extend from the loft of his fish house over the wharf nearly to its end, to be used as a platform on which to wheel salt from vessels at the end of the wharf to the store rooms. The work is being done by Messrs. Amos P. Locke and Albert Leach.

The fish arrivals on Wednesday, the 30th inst., were the schooners Celia with 1500 lbs.; Northern Eagle, netter, 2150; Flying Eagle, netter, 6000; Grace Choate, netter, 3000; Helen F. Tredick, 2300; Cook & Caswell's boat, 300; Ephraim H. Downs' boat, 600; Flying Dart, 400. The price paid for fish on Wednesday was $2.50 per hundred weight.

Col. John Bracewell, formerly of Dover, has charge of the extensive print-works at North Adams, just west of the Hoosac tunnel in Massachusetts. He is engaged with Brown & Son of the house of Brown, Wood & Kingman, who purchased the Freeman Print Works at North Adams, and it is anticipated that Col. Bracewell's energetic labors will infuse new life into the concern. We are glad to hear that the health of Mrs. Bracewell is much improved by a residence farther from the sea air than her former home at Dover.

The question has been asked, "Why is it that the examination of our public schools are not made public?" If the Board of Instruction have no other way they can easily extend through the scholars an invitation to the public, and the time when they are to be held.—Times.

It is not surprising that the author of such a piece of remarkable grammar as the above should want the public to know of the times when our school examinations are to take place. Like Dives, who implored Father Abraham to send some one to warn his brethren, so the Times jotter is seized with the same spirit of generous caution. B. I.

The Philadelphia Sunday Times has the following concerning a well-known Portsmouth man: "Lieut. F. D. Webster, of the United States marine corps, attached to the old frigate Constitution, now used as a training ship for cadets, and which is lying at League island, has painted a fine picture of the historic naval engagement between the famous Constitution and the British frigate Guerriere in the war of 1812. It is on exhibition in the window of 1109 Chestnut street. This fight was one of the first American naval successes of that war, and was immortalized in a story which was very popular years ago."

On Tuesday of this week a naval inspecting board, consisting of Commodore A. C. Rhind, Capt. J. L. Davis, Commander E. P. McCrea, Medical Director A. L. Gihon and Chief Engineer Moore, visited the navy yard for the purpose of making an examination into the means and appliances for ventilating the U. S. S. Lancaster. The ship was thoroughly examined by the board, in company with officers of the yard. The members of the board expressed themselves as highly pleased with the manner in which the matter of ventilation had been attended to, dwelling with special emphasis on the air ports designed and patented by Naval Constructor Wilson, as introduced into this ship, and which are also placed in the U. S. S. Brooklyn.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Mch. 30; Batchelder, J.

William Welch, for an assault on Michael Daily, was fined $3, costs $5.86, and ordered to give bonds in $100 to keep the peace for three months. Failing to comply with the requirements of the court, he was sent to the county house of correction.

THE GREENLAND SCHOOL.

GREENLAND, March 30th.

Ed. Chronicle: An article appeared in your issue of the 29th, saying that "considerable indignation is manifested among the citizens of school district number three in Greenland, at the prospect of having a Roman Catholic teacher for the summer term." I, however, wish to call attention to the fact that although we are to have a Roman Catholic teacher the coming term, against which no reasonable objection can be raised by any person, unless it be by some one rendered insane by the pangs of disappointment and jealousy, I have been able to find but one person in district number three who expresses the least dissatisfaction at the prospect of having a Catholic teacher—indeed, why should they?—and that the prospect has given rise to any unfavorable comment is entirely erroneous, false indeed, indignation and unfavorable comment existing alone in the prejudiced mind of some calumnious citizen, who takes occasion to give expression to his intolerant views through your columns. The prospective Roman Catholic teacher is a young lady resident of Greenland, a graduate of one of the first academies of the state, than whom there can be found none within the limits of our town who occupy a higher position in the respect and esteem of our citizens; and, indeed, it would be difficult to find one more worthy. The item also calls attention to the fact that this is the first instance on record where a person of that persuasion has been placed in charge of a school in Greenland—an instance which calls attention to the intolerant spirit of the past, which meets with the earnest condemnation of our whole-minded citizens, and from which we recoil shocked at such an abuse of liberty in a land where Freedom holds sway. But why does your correspondent oppose this first instance? Perhaps because it is unlawful for a Catholic to teach? But our statutes show no opposing law. Perhaps he thinks the young lady incompetent? But our superintending committee can set his mind at rest on that point. Or perhaps, because a large percentage of the scholars attending school in district number three are Catholics? Or the reason may be that at the last town election it was the wish of our leading citizens, and particularly of the leading citizens of the "Wealthiest and most highly esteemed portions of the town," that the name of a Catholic for superintending school committee should be placed upon the list of town officers, and that the only reason why we have not a Catholic filling that office at present, is because he positively refused to allow his name to be used? Or must we, at length, come to the conclusion that the only reason is because the young lady is a Catholic, and that your informant is desirous that we should go back to the days of religious intolerance—of which even a thought is sufficient to make a Christian blush with shame? I can assure you, however, that our citizens express indignation alone at so false and so scandalous a report, and that the only unfavorable comment to be heard in our little town is concerning so calumnious and so debased a citizen.

CITIZEN.

[Note. We give space for the whole of "Citizen's" communication, though the assault upon the motives of the writer of the first item concerning the Greenland school seems to us unnecessary, as that writer merely reported as a fact that certain conditions existed, without in any way expressing an opinion as to the propriety of their existence. That such conditions exist—that is, that "considerable indignation is manifested" in the district—"Citizen" denies; and this is all the point in dispute. We have no objection to either a Catholic or Protestant, if competent, teaching a public school; we do have decided objections to the teaching of either Catholicism, Protestantism or any other religious ism, in such a school. The most important thing that can be learned by the pupils of our public schools is to do their own thinking; and when they have been taught to think for themselves, there is little danger of their ever being ground down by priest-craft of any kind, under whatever name.—Ed. Chronicle.]

LIGHTS ON SMALL CRAFTS.

As the amount of boating done on the Piscataqua during the summer is very great, and annually increasing, a circular recently sent out from the treasury department is of much interest; we therefore print it in full, with the exception of a paragraph relating to lights to be shown on rafts:

The secretary of the treasury has approved the following report of the board of supervising inspectors, adopted Feb. 1, 1881:

Resolved, That all coal-boats, trading-boats, produce-boats, canal-boats, oyster-boats, fishing-boats, and other water craft navigating any bay, harbor or river, propelled by hand power, horse power, sail, or by current of the river, or which shall be moored in or near the channel or fairway of any bay, harbor, or river, shall carry one bright white light forward, not less than six feet above the rail or deck.

[Sect. 4234, Revised Statutes, provides a penalty of $200 for failure to comply with the provisions of that or the preceding section, from which the authority to make the accompanying regulation is derived.]

From a perusal of this regulation we are in doubt whether the board of supervising inspectors and the secretary of the treasury have all got hay-seed in their hair, or are large stockholders in some lantern manufactory. Under the provisions of this sapient rule, if a fisherman pulls ashore in his dory from his schooner anchored in the stream, and omits to show a light two feet above the dory's stem, he is liable to a penalty of $200; and the yacht "Humbug," and other pleasure craft, must get back from excursions before dark, or carry a lantern, or else pay $200 per trip—rather expensive pleasuring. We are of the opinion that if the treasury department can only enforce the new rule for six weeks, and collect the penalty for every infraction thereof, it will be able to pay off the national debt and have several hundred millions left in the treasury.

The Best Remedy for Chapped Hands

Is Hegeman's Camphor Ice. It should be rubbed upon the part affected. The warmth of the skin will soften it sufficiently, under ordinary circumstances, but in extreme cold weather, it may be necessary to warm it by the fire. If the hands are badly chapped, apply every night, and protect the hands by wearing an old pair of kid gloves. Hegeman's is the best and most popular of all the Camphor Ices made. Hegeman's Camphor Ice is also a cure for sore lips, chapped face, and sunburn. It is compounded with glycerine, which renders it more emollient than any other Camphor Ice; it will be found a most soothing application to the face after shaving.

Eighteen families in New York own $200,000,000, and they all live on the same street, and are not happy yet.

Snuff or dust of any kind, and strong caustic or poisonous solutions aggravate catarrh and drive it to the lungs. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures catarrh by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. Each package prepares one pint of the Remedy ready for use, and costs only fifty cents. Sold by druggists. So positively certain is it in its results that its former proprietor used to offer a reward of $500 for a case it would not cure.

Samuel S. Bailey of West Newbury, Mass., shot himself in the bowels with a shot gun, killing himself almost instantly, on the evening of March 29th. He was twenty-six years old, had been married three years, and leaves a widow and two children, the youngest child being but a few days old.

—Hand-painted scarfs for gentlemen is the latest infliction of amateur artists. The stereotyped forget-me-not and butterflies, fuchsuhes and bees will now be seen under the chin of many a youth, and there will be no more jeering at sister's painted gowns.

Mothers never fail to recommend Malt Bitters as nourishing and strengthening.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large recent rupture. At the one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the skill displayed to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 49 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Morrow, of Oakhill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my used was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I know to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

New Hampshire Items.

New Hampshire brook trout will be in season after to-day, April 1st, and a Quincy market fish dealer in Boston has built an aquarium where will be shown some of the finest specimens from our trout streams.

The Boston & Maine railroad has recently transported from New Durham to Portland several large sticks of timber, to be used at Bath, Me., for ships' spars. The carriage of these sticks required three long platform cars, and reminded one of the times when New Durham sent much of this material to the mast-yards along the coast.

H. I. Ingalls of Sheffield, Vt., was arrested at Laconia, on the 29th ult., on the charge of being accessory to the procuring of an abortion. Ingalls left Vermont about the middle of March, and came to Manchester. Shortly after he was followed by Miss Carrie Berry of Sheffield, and Ingalls and the Berry girl lived in Manchester as man and wife. On Friday, March 25th, the girl died, as was supposed of membranous croup, and her body was sent home on Saturday. The condition of the girl before she left Vermont, and her intimacy with Ingalls, aroused suspicion, and a post mortem examination of the body resulted in finding unmistakable evidence of an attempt at abortion. The Vermont authorities have taken the matter in hand and it will be thoroughly investigated. Ingalls is about thirty-five years old, and has a wife and two children living in Sheffield. The unfortunate girl was twenty years of age.

Whitefield was the scene of a drunken row recently. Five or six of the Brown Lumber Co.'s employees returned from Lancaster, from a funeral, where they had evidently been imbibing too much fighting rum, for they fought all the way home and would not desist until they were in the custody of the police, which resulted in two being fined to the amount, with costs, of $11.89 each, and in the discharge of all from the employ of the company.

Peas.

The most delicious vegetable is the garden pea. This may be grown in great variety so as to mature at regular intervals during the summer and fall. One mistake made in growing peas is to have the ground too rich. This produces vines instead of pods. Another mistake is in not planting early and late peas at the same time. A great gap is thus made in the supply at a season when the want is much felt. Last season I succeeded, after many attempts, in having peas all through the season. Early in April two rows of each of the following varieties were planted on the same day. The picking began on the 24th of May, and lasted until the 28th of June. A second planting was made on the 20th of April, and a third in May. Another planting was made in the field with oats, for a fodder crop, in June. The varieties were Landreth's Extra Early, Carter's First Crop, Tom Thumb, Alpha, Blue Peter, Advance, Little Gem, Dwarf Marrowfat, Laxton's Prolific, Champion of England, and Challenger. These are set down in the order in which they are matured. The kind planted for fodder was the large black-eye marrowfat. A quart of each of these varieties will give a good daily supply for a moderate family, and leave some for canning or drying. It may be a pertinent hint just now that it is a good time to get a supply of pen-sticks.—New York Times.

—Lazarus Stern lost $20,000 during several years of business in Chicago as a money lender. He was old, want stared him in the face, and he desired to die, but did not wish to leave behind him the reputation of a suicide. In this dilemma he broke open the money box in his room, tied his own hands and feet, wrapped a quilt about his face in a way to indicate that he had been smothered, and then swallowed poison. The real cause of death, however, was readily discovered.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

Indians at Hoocheno, Alaska, are reported to have burned two of their number at the stake for some offence not started.

H. L. BOWKER, State Assayer, Mass.

Miss Eliza Gowell of Bowdoin, Me., eighty-two years of age, was burned to death March 29th, by her clothes taking fire from the stove.

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1881.

News and Notes.

A heavy storm prevailed all along the Atlantic coast on the 30th ult., and serious disasters are reported in New Jersey. In the west there was a heavy fall of snow, and in Chicago the streets were again partially blockaded. In some places in Ohio the snow-fall was two feet. There was a disastrous tornado in Virginia, which caused much damage to property, but no loss of life is reported.

Steamboat Inspectors Jayne and Mathews, of New York, are on trial for manslaughter in connection with the Seawanhaka disaster. Several boiler-makers have testified that the Seawanhaka's boilers were totally worn out, and should have been condemned three years before the disaster occurred.

Lord Milltown, an Irish peer, writes to the London Times to bear testimony in favor of the Fenian Brotherhood. He states that during the whole period when that organization was in full swing, and when their power for mischief was very great had they chosen to exercise it, not one single outrage against the persons or properties of private individuals in Ireland was ever committed by them.

At Terryville, Conn., on the night of March 28th, Timothy Kearney laid in wait for Lawrence Fagan, and assaulted him. Fagan resisted, and in the struggle Kearney was stabbed, and died next morning.

A remarkable case of abstinence from food is reported at Battle Creek, Michigan. Last October, Mrs. Henry Ingram had some teeth pulled. This brought on nausea at the stomach, and inability to retain food. The woman is still alive, having eaten and drank nothing since October. She is nourished by being bathed in beef tea, milk, etc., which acts by absorption, the quantity absorbed being nearly a quart per day from these baths. She feels a sort of hunger which is soon allayed by the bath, after which she feels as if she had eaten. A bath of water will quench her thirst. Her stomach is said to be totally paralyzed.

Miss Lelia Robinson of Boston, who has successfully pursued a course of law studies for the past three years, has made an application to the supreme court to be admitted to the bar. She is the first lady to claim the right to practice law in Massachusetts.

The Newburyport Herald of Thursday, the 31st ult., says that on the previous day the schooners Alice S. Hawkes and Jennie P. Phillips arrived at Swampscott, Mass., the former with 9000 and the latter with 3000 lbs. of cod-fish, both fares being disposed of to Boston buyers for $6 per hundred weight.

The sardine factory at Lubec Mills, Me., is doing a brisk business. There are some forty people engaged, and the factory is worked to its fullest capacity. There will soon be three more in active operation, and all are looking forward to a good season's work.

Naval Affairs.

President Garfield on the 30th ult. sent to the Senate the name of Capt. Henry Erben, to be restored to his former relative position on the active list of the navy. Capt. Erben has for several years been in charge of the school-ship St. Marys.

Lieut. R. M. Berry has been ordered to the command of the steamer Mary & Helen, on her proposed Arctic voyage in search of the Jeannette.

The steamer City of New York, of the Pacific line, being reported a week overdue at San Francisco, and great apprehension expressed for her safety, the U. S. S. Wachusett was late on the afternoon of the 30th ult. ordered to proceed to sea in search of her from the Mare island navy yard, as soon as she could be coaled.

The Wachusett arrived at San Francisco March 26th.

The Alaska arrived at Acapulco March 27th, and sailed for Panama next day; all well.

The Vandalia arrived at Havana March 30th, from Aspinwall. Intended to sail for Key West April 2d.

The Tennessee, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, arrived in Hampton roads on Tuesday morning, March 29th, from a winter cruise in the West Indies. All well.

Political.

The destruction of the Kemper county court house in Mississippi, by fire, has effaced all the records of the Chisholm case, which would otherwise have been prosecuted to a new trial. It is believed that the building was burned in order to destroy these records.

While Senator Mahone's position as a repudiater must be condemned, it is nevertheless encouraging to find the old party-lines in the southern states breaking up. The greenback party is rendering good service in this respect. The discussion of local and financial questions indicates the disappearance of the color line, the end of the Ku-Klux raids, the close of the era of tissue ballots and social proscription. Upon this dawn of a better day for the south and for the country, will inevitably follow a reorganization of parties; and no public man can afford to be too far found, when the reorganization comes, on the wrong side of the main question.—Portland Advertiser.

—If there is to be a tax on matches, why not put it on walking matches.

—Overheard at one of the society clubs; "He's almost a perfect brute; he only lacks instinct."

—"There" said Mrs. Ragbag, "I've tried four times to give that shirt away, and it's so worthless nobody 'll take it. But I'll get rid of it! I'll leave it out on the clothes-line to-night."

—Says Murat Halstead: "If theatrical people read the barometer correctly, there is impending a tremendous storm, in which the star combination business will disappear like chaff in a whirlwind."

—The Philadelphia Times has been discussing the problem whether a woman can dress "fashionably" on $500 a year, and reaches the conclusion that she can, if she will wear mourning and keep out of society.

—Thirty days after a Michigan man got a divorce from his wife to marry one with a handsomer face, the divorced woman fell heir to $287,000. You bet that ex-husband feels like a man with the jumping toothache.

—Prosper Merimee was far from good-looking, and he knew it very well. In the midst of a fete one summer day in Paris, he came accidentally upon two English ladies who were unable to find a cab. As he was politely helping them in their embarrassment he heard one of the ladies remark in English that he was amiable, and dreadfully ugly. Merimee, who spoke English perfectly, turned round briskly, took his hat off, and said: "Madame, a lady so beautiful as you are ought to be more indulgent."

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphites and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

Schooner Eva May, of Gloucester, arrived at this port on Thursday with 3000 lbs. of cod-fish.

The tide was higher at the north mill, on the night of the 30th ult., than at any time for the two years previous.

D. F. Borthwick has one of the finest stocks of dress goods in the city which will interest those in search of a spring suits.

A. J. Hinds & Co.'s patent brushes, which have been sold in this city by Wm. K. Peaslee, may now be obtained by addressing P. O. Box 81, this city.

It is stated that Mr. E. W. Cochrane has leased the Melcher lot on the corner of Congress and Chestnut streets, and will erect a livery stable thereon.

A small building was blown overboard from the Noble's island bridge, and some damage done to telegraph wires, fences and trees in this vicinity, by the gale on Wednesday night.

The schooner Mystery, of this port, Frank Seaward master, which has been hauled up for the winter in Gloucester harbor, has this week been getting ready for sea. She runs between Bangor, Me., and Hingham, Mass., with lumber.

Two of the telephone lines in this city came to grief in the gale of Wednesday night, the 30th ult. Some of the wires of the main line were broken down also, in the vicinity of Exeter, preventing communication with Boston by telephone.

W. A. Greenough & Co., the old and reliable publishers of the Portsmouth Directory, have commenced to canvass this city for the new work. We hope the citizens will encourage this enterprise, as it is one well worthy of their patronage.

Mr. A. R. Chilton, agent for Bennett & Moulton's Juvenile Opera Company, was in town last Thursday making arrangements for the appearance of this company at Franklin hall on Thursday (Fast day) afternoon and evening, in the opera of "Bells of Corneville."

A letter received in this city from Capt. Hontvet, of the shooner Maud S. Wetherell, which was caught by the ice last fall at Georgetown, Prince Edward's island, says the breaking up of the ice is taking place along that coast this spring a month earlier than usual, and the schooner is likely to be soon released.

The Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad Co. have filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the United States in this city a demurrer to the bill of complaint of the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York, which seeks to have the earnings of the road in this state applied to the payment of interest on the mortgage bonds held by the Trust Co.

The sidewalk on Middle street, at the Baptist church, was on Thursday last in a worse condition, if possible, than at any time during the past winter. The city authorities ought to see to this place. The water was held back by the snow, and the complaint was general throughout the day at the neglect of whoever has charge of the church to see that the walk was cleared.

It was the schooner Jacob & William, and not the Jacob Williams as reported, which was abandoned off Boon island on the 29th inst. The vessel was thirty-four years old, registered 103 tons, hailed from Brooksville, Me., and was uninsured, her captain being half owner. She was from Bangor for New York, with 120,000 feet of lumber, and was full of water in twenty minutes after the leak was discovered. The captain, mate and two seamen clung to the wreck for fourteen hours before being rescued, the sea all the time making a breach over them; the captain had one hand badly frozen, and all the men were more or less frostbitten. The unlucky seamen lost all their personal effects. The Jacob & William was formerly owned at this port, and was run in the trade between this city and Bangor by Capt. A. Tappan Goodrich.

It is reported that all the employes of the Eastern railroad are to be uniformed immediately. The section hands are to have gray suits, and train hands are to be dressed in blue.

William S. Goodwin, who for three years past has been a clerk in the Newburyport city railroad freight office, left Newburyport on Thursday last for this city, where he takes a position as clerk in the freight department of the Eastern railroad.

"THE PHOENIX."

Mr. Milton Nobles, who with his company will present "The Phœnix" at Music hall to-morrow evening, is an easy, graceful actor, fully up in stage business, and is well supported. Of the play, the New York Herald says it is "very powerfully constructed; no admirer of a good play and good acting can afford to miss this excellent drama." The Sun calls it "the best of its kind—in fact, the masterpiece of American dramas." The Cleveland Leader says "Mr. Nobles is a queer, eccentric, and withal a good actor, with a strong sense of the comic and a happy faculty for expressing it. At times he seems to be rising with power to heroic flights or pathetic tenderness, when, for reasons best known to himself, by a broad stroke of ridicule he turns the situation into burlesque. But perhaps it is better so. The scene of the Bohemian's literary labors in this play is of raciest description, stamping Mr. Nobles as a comedian of a high order."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, March 31st:

Quarterly bills of fire department, amounting to $1421.79, were ordered to be paid. Also a small bill of Morris Tobey.

George H. Jackson was granted permission to encumber Court street for building purposes.

W. H. Smith and the owners of the Kearsarge house were granted permission to open the street to repair a drain.

Request of J. W. Caswell for permission to put up telegraph poles on Middle street between his residence and Mr. Mendum's, was referred to the committee on streets.

The mayor was authorized to pay such quarterly bills as may fall due before April 14th.

The mayor reported that the city had not received the amount agreed upon by the owners of Music hall, for licenses the past year. Referred to the mayor with power.

The city was asked to accept a naphtha light at the corner of Gates and Water streets. Referred to the committee on gas lights.

An unfavorable report was made on the petition to accept Elm court. Subject indefinitely postponed.

The committee to whom was referred Mr. Hill's request for permission to enter the drain on State street reported that they had granted his request, as the matter required immediate attention on account of sickness in his family. The action of the committee was approved.

The committee on court house tenancy reported that formerly the tenant paid rent, but that lately, for several reasons, no rent had been collected. They recommended that the tenant be requested to move out, and that a room be fitted up in the engine house for one person to stop in at night, to harness horses, etc., in case of fire. Report adopted.

The following-named persons were appointed to take the vital statistics: F. W. Rogers, ward one; Simon R. Marston, ward two; Frank W. Rand, ward three; George S. Leach, ward four.

A request of Henry S. Hartshorn for two hitching posts, one on Daniel street and one on Bow street, was referred to the committee on streets.

In Common Council, the annual appropriation bill was reported, and referred to the committee on bills on their second reading.

Thursday, April 7th, being Fast day, the boards adjourned for two weeks.

MILLS AND MILLS.

Mr. Editor: I learn that last week a despatch was sent to Mr. Thompson that the sum of a hundred thousand dollars had been subscribed in Portsmouth towards the rebuilding of the Kearsarge mills, conditioned that the sum promised by the Boston parties should also be subscribed, but that a reply was returned that the Boston end of the yarn had fallen through, and the subscription in that city could not be obtained.

Now, why not have our active men make a united effort to have the contemplated increase of Sawyer's mills located in Portsmouth? If water is lacking, let us take some means to have it provided. At any rate, let an attempt be made to have this concern, which is a substantial and successful affair, have its works in our city. It is too important an acquisition to delay action for a day. There is no use in wasting time concerning railway shops, of which there never was the slightest chance of their being located here, or of an eight-hundred-thousand-dollar cotton mill, which no one who was informed in such matters believed would be established as suggested; but let us make a strong pull all together to induce the Sawyers to save money by coming to Portsmouth and locating where a saving in freight, etc., will be an item worth considering. TRADER.

BANKS ON MARKET SQUARE.

The banking house on Market square owned by the First National bank and the Portsmouth Savings bank has been much improved during the past winter, and the banking rooms which have been temporarily vacated by these banks, will henceforth be re-occupied, with many improvements resulting from enlarged space, better light and air, and the conveniences suggested by the progressive spirit of the age in which we live and transact business.

The site of this banking house is a spot which has been devoted to banking business for nearly a century. Upon this spot was the place of business of the New Hampshire bank, chartered by the legislature of this state in 1792, to continue for fifty years, under the management of a president and seven directors, and with a capital of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. This was the first bank chartered in New Hampshire. The capital was fixed at $100,000, and the bank was organized soon after its charter. Oliver Peabody, a well known lawyer of Exeter, and the grandfather of the Peabody brothers of the present far-famed banking house of Kidder, Peabody & Company of Boston, was president, and the earlier directors were Jacob Sheafe, Reuben Shapley, Nathaniel A. Haven, James Sheafe, Henry Ladd and Mark W. Peirce.

The first cashier was Daniel R. Rogers. It is related of Mr. Rogers, who was the father of the late Daniel R. Rogers, that on one occasion a package of fifteen thousand dollars belonging to the bank was missing and Mr. Rogers could give no account of it. The bank officers finally removed Mr. Rogers, and he was sued for the sum and his property attached. He died broken-hearted, and after his death the package was found in some remote part of the safe, where it had been overlooked, and restitution was made to his family. The interior of a bank safe was not as neatly finished in those days as in our time, and the package had been hidden away beyond the sight of the searchers for several years.

When the bank started business the following announcement was promulgated: "On Mondays all notes for discount must be presented; on Tuesdays monies are paid out. The other days of the week (Sundays excepted) the bank is open for the receipt of bills, etc. All payments must be examined at the bank. Suggestions of errors afterward are disregarded." People in those days came to Portsmouth from many distant parts of the state to hire money. The wealth of the state was in a great degree held here; and the importance of money transactions, and the time required to dispose of loans in those days, compared with the multifarious affairs of a bank in these times, are in singular contrast.

After Mr. Rogers, William Haven was cashier up to the winding-up of the bank; and Henry Ladd, father of Henry H. Ladd, Esq., of Middle street, was president. Half a century ago, the directors of this bank were Messrs. Ladd, Mark W. Pierce, Daniel H. Treadwell, John W. Foster, Alfred W. Haven, Edward F. Sise and George Manent.

On Sunday, Dec. 26, 1802, about five o'clock in the morning, fire was discovered in the building on what was then, and for many years after, called the Parade, occupied by the New Hampshire bank. The building was partly occupied as a boarding house, and on the first floor was the banking room, far less pretentious than those now upon the site. Above was the office of John Peirce. The building was of wood, with gambrel roof fronting upon the parade, upon the line with the market, now the city hall. The fire extended northerly through Market street, and the amount of property consumed was estimated at the sum of two hundred thousand dollars. The New Hampshire bank rebuilt on this spot, and occupied the new structure until the charter of the bank expired in 1842.

The building was then purchased jointly by the Piscataqua bank and the Portsmouth Savings bank, which had occupied the building on Pleasant street where the New Hampshire National bank is now located, the entrance being where Davis Brothers' doorway leads up-stairs. In 1845, the charter of the Piscataqua bank expiring, many of its stockholders were incorporated as the Piscataqua Exchange bank; and in February, 1845, the latter bank purchased the interest in the estate owned by the Piscataqua. This bank, in 1864, was succeeded in its ownership by the present First National bank, which took a conveyance of the property from the Piscataqua Exchange bank. During these years of occupancy, there was the banking room on the southerly side where the First National bank is located, while on the northerly side was a large room for the directors. In September, 1864, there was a division of the property between the two banks, and several years afterward a division wall was built on the first story, and the rooms were thenceforward occupied by the respective corporate owners.

But the business of the banks had increased of late years. The deposits in the Savings bank had gone up to nearly two and a half millions of dollars, and the general business of the National bank, since the war, had also increased, so that the accommodations were insufficient. The light from the small windows beneath the piazza was found inadequate; and as much space could thereby be utilized, the southern wall was carried out, as was also the line toward the square. The result shows the wisdom of the change. The buildings have ample accommodations for the business for which they are occupied, and what is of great consequence, the occupants have much-needed light and air.

The offices above stairs have been occupied by many celebrated lawyers. Jeremiah Mason rented the rooms on both sides, removing from the northerly to the southerly side, and here John Elwin, Samuel P. Long, Lory Odell, Charles W. Cutter, Hampden Cutts and a long list of lawyers read their profession. On the northerly side at one time Levi Woodbury had his office, and here Ex-President Frank Pierce and others studied law. Albert R. Hatch for many years occupied this office, as also did the late William H. Y. Hackett. Charles B. Goodrich occupied the office over the present First National bank for many years, and subsequently Geo. Wallis Haven, who was succeed as a tenant by William Jones & Son.

In the economy of the alteration, the entrances to the banks are now where the stairs led formerly to the second story, and the offices are reached by a stairway in the centre of the building. These rooms are to be occupied—on the right hand by Ezra H. Winchester and Wallace Hackett, and on the Savings bank side by Wm. Russell Foster.

In front, in the lower story, large windows of plate glass succeed the former lights of smaller size, and inside is found enlarged space for the customers of the banks, with entrances which permit the rooms of the bank officers in the rear to be reached without going behind the counters, as was the case formerly. The business of the banks can be transacted with far greater convenience and ease than before, while the trustees of the savings bank and the directors of the national bank can visit their rooms without disturbing the clerical force. Indeed, with neatly painted walls, handsome and extended counters, excellent light, cheerful surroundings, and convenient arrangements both for bank officials and depositors, a marked improvement has been made, fully justifying the outlay.

The work here has been done under the direction of a joint committee of the banks, the National bank, in view of the fact that it was determined that the accommodation to it was greater than that of the Savings bank, paying a certain stipulated part of the outlay above one-half required to make the change in the outside of the building. The clear glass, and changes in the inside arrangements, will afford an additional security from burglary, as at night the safes can be seen on the street by every one passing.

Ex-Gov. Goodwin, who is president of the First National bank and the Piscataqua Savings bank, is the only surviving director of the Piscataqua bank which was chartered in December, 1824, and of which the late Samuel Hale was president and Samuel Lord cashier. He is also the only surviving trustee of the Portsmouth Savings bank in office forty years ago, at the time of the purchase of the half of this building by the savings bank. Since his election as a director of the Piscataqua bank in 1832, Gov. Goodwin has been continuously a director in that bank and its successors, the Piscataqua Exchange and the First National, for a period of half a century, an instance of faithful and uninterrupted service which it is rarely vouchsafed to any man to perform.

Venner's April Weather.

Mr. Venner, of Montreal, has made his calculations on the weather for the present month, as follows:

There will be a sharp frost in the beginning of April, with a snow fall on the 4th or 5th, but the spring will open favorably, and everything will be pretty well advanced by April 15th. Floods may be expected in Chicago about the first week in April, with high winds also prevailing in the early part of the month. Snow falls are probable about April 5th. Navigation is likely to be open on Lake Ontario about April 7th. The St. Lawrence will be open about the 9th or 11th; the first steamship will probably arrive about the 17th or 18th. The weather will be very stormy in the lower provinces about the 20th, with very high water prevailing, but, in the west, April will be a dry month. There will be warm weather just following the 20th, ending in thunder storms on the 24th and 25th. Snow storms are probable in the far west on the 25th and 26th, and snow falls are not unlikely to occur in England at the close of the month. The month will end wet and cold, but, on the whole, will be like a May month.

A Ruffian Disposed Of.

Information comes from Las Vegas, New Mexico, that James Currie, the murderer of Porter, the actor, was shot and killed at Las Vegas on March 24th. Currie threatened to kill several people, among them a bartender, who, in self-defence, shot the Texan murderer. A party of friends of the dead man attempted to lynch the bartender, but the sheriff succeeded in getting him to jail. A coroner's inquest was held, and the jury at once returned a verdict of killing in self-defence. The "high-toned" ruffian who so bravely murdered an unarmed man who endeavored to protect a woman from his insults, and was acquitted by a jury because at the time of the murder he was chock full of Texan "emotional insanity" at ten cents a glass, made a blunder when he assailed the "well-heeled" man of strong drinks in the New Mexican city.

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

George F. Chandler, of Minot, Me., and George Gregoire of Newport Centre, Vt., are under arrest, charged with criminal violence toward their own young daughters.

Liebig Co's Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel quickly relieves periodical sufferings of females. "It possesses a peculiar power," says Professor Pattison, in his celebrated work on diseases of women, of relieving the sufferings of painful periods. "It wards off the suffering without in any way interfering with the proper and natural flow." Beware of cheap counterfeits. It is invaluable in most of the commoner diseases of women. Cures disfiguring pimples and eruptions. Sold in fifty cents and dollar sizes.

One Chastaine, a leader of a gang of burglars, while attempting to escape from officers at Montgomery, Ala., March 29th, was shot dead. Another of the gang, named Bailey, is under arrest, and several suspected parties have fled. A large quantity of plunder was found on Chastaine, with burglars' tools, etc.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

Maurice F. Dearborn, butter peddler, was sentenced at Lawrence, Mass., March 29th, to pay a fine of $100 and costs for selling a firkin of oleomargarine from which the brand had been removed.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

Elisha Piper, an eccentric old gentleman and former resident of Parsonsfield, Me. bequeathed his property, amounting to $10,000 or $12,000, to Parsonsfield for the purpose founding a free high school. His heirs have been for several years trying to break the will, but it has been decided in favor of the town.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

In Randolph county, Alabama, March 29th, a cyclone destroyed the home and killed the entire family of Mr. Jack Embrey, consisting of himself, wife and two children, while asleep. The four bodies were buried in one grave.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit once by taking a life insurance for this amount? If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I began your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their galling, irksome, disparaging, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost every one.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

If you are young and indiscretion or disease or sin, old or young, feeling the effects of youthful indiscretion, or are married and find yourself weak and low spirited, or your blood impure, or your system needs cleansing, invigorating or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

MacVeagh vs. Chandler.

One of the interesting questions of the the hour is whether President Garfield is going to be president, or some other person is to steer the ship of state. All sorts of sensational rumors are in circulation as to what will be done if certain men are appointed by the president without the consent of certain other men. In short, the question occurs, "Does the administration administer the government?"

In regard to Mr. MacVeagh's hostility to Mr. Wm. E. Chandler we are informed that the difference between these two distinguished gentlemen is said to date back to the time when the now attorney-general, as plain Mr. MacVeagh, joined with some other citizens in a successful effort to pull the legs from under the legitimate state government of Louisiana, and substitute for it the illegitimate offspring of the White League and the bull-whip. To this contracted-for conciliation, consummated by a commission as illegitimate as the government it constructed, Mr. Chandler protested at the time, and has not since ceased to protest. As solicitor-general, it would be the province of Mr. Chandler to make the appointments of the officers of the department of justice, whose duty it is to look after the enforcement of the laws for the protection of the citizens, white and black, in the exercise of their political rights. Of course, as the superior officer, the attorney-general has the right of revising such appointments, and the very fact that he has protested against Chandler's appointment indicates a belief on his part that the duty of revision would become one of the chief occupations of his office. Probably the appointment of Mr. Chandler will not be withdrawn, as the best elements of the republican party have entire confidence in his peculiar fitness for that position. The Washington Republican says:

Stalwart republicans in this city were cheered by a rumor that the attorney-general had tendered his resignation. There was some depression among them afterward over the rumor that the president hesitated to "quaff this kind nepenthe," and thereby to forget the error into which he had originally fallen by calling Mr. MacVeagh into his cabinet.

Mr. MacVeagh is said to be unhappy because the president has, in his passion for surprises, sent in the name of Mr. Chandler as solicitor-general without previous consultation with his attorney-general. It was a somewhat novel proceeding, but we may reasonably conjecture that his failure to confer with the head of the department was because he knew, as in another very recent case where a conference was omitted, that his wish would not be concurred in. Mr. MacVeagh was equally unhappy over the appointment of Mr. Jones, of Illinois, as United States marshal, after that gentleman had frankly told him, in reply to questions, that, "Yes, he would, if marshal, take part in conventions and republican campaigns," and that: "Yes, he did know that his interrogator was a civil-service reformer, but that he (Jones) was not, and did not intend to join that fraternity."

It is because of these and other cases of unpleasant ignoring of his wishes that this member of what Mr. Whitelaw Reid calls "the extreme or nincompoop wing of civil-service reform theorists" has tendered his resignation. We sympathize with the president in his reluctance to have a break in his cabinet during the first month of his administration, but we have a fact for him which may aid him in a determination of the question.

On Sunday, the 20th instant, a southern member-of-Congress-elect, to whose defeated opponent a Bourbon governor has of course given a certificate, called upon the writer of this and asked his good offices with the president to have him understand who he (the congressman) was and who were the true republicans then in the city from his state, to the end that a great wrong might be prevented. Said our friend (and no truer man lives on the continent,) "We had recommended a man for appointment as United states district attorney in our state, and yesterday we called at the department of justice to learn of the prospect of the appointment being made. The chief clerk informed us that, by order of the attorney-general, he had addressed letters to the Bourbon senators from our state to inquire whether the person they had recommended would be acceptable to those senators."

We submit to the president that the superhuman exertions made for his election were not intended to place in the hands of senators manufactured by bulldozers and ballot-box stuffers the choice of district attorneys to prosecute their pals, nor of marshals to serve venires for juries or subpoenas for witnesses. The republicans of the Nation have a right to expect that this very fastidious attorney-general shall make way for a stalwart republican, who will not be afraid to offend Bourbons by maintaining the majesty of the law, and who will not allow its ministers to be chosen by the very lawbreakers whose career the American people intended, by their votes in November, to check. And since Mr. MacVeagh cannot abide William E. Chandler for solicitor-general, we hope the president will accept the resignation of the former and put the latter in his place.

The president is under orders of the people to execute the laws, and the incident we have mentioned shows that he has not chosen as the chief law officer of the government a man who is reliable on the side of the government in its conflict with the breakers of the law. Let him go!

News and Notes.

Don Martinez, the new Chilian minister to the United States, states that Lima, at the end of the last month, was quiet and orderly. The people seemed to welcome the Chilian soldiers as deliverers. The conditions of peace between Chili and Peru are that the province of Tarapaca, with its port of Iquique, containing the nitrate deposits, will be retained by Chili, as well as the Lobos islands, with their guano beds. A heavy war indemnity will be demanded as reparation for the loss of 3,000 lives and $30,000,000 of treasure.

A letter from Durango, Col., states that Thomas Greatorex of New York, son of the artist, while defending a woman from a ruffian in the street, was shot dead by the rough. An effort to lynch the murderer was frustrated by flight.

Mrs. Albright, a widow living near Youngstown, Ohio, hung herself with a skein of yarn to a beam in her woodshed, March 30th. On receipt of the news, her uncle, John Elizear, living two miles away, fell dead. Mrs. Albright leaves five children.

There have been three cases of poisoning in New Haven, Conn., recently, one of them fatal, as is alleged owing to carelessness in selling medicines.

Mrs. Anson Meigs of Westbrook, Conn., aged eighty years, was fatally burned recently through her clothes taking fire from a stove.

Dwight Wheaton, the alleged murderer of James O'Neil, an engineer, who was waylaid and shot mysteriously in Chicago three years ago, has, it is reported, fallen heir to quite a fortune by the death of a relative. Wheaton has been confined in the Indiana penitentiary at Michigan City for highway robbery for over a year, and during his confinement was indicted by the grand jury for the murder of O'Neil. It is reported that the amount of property left Wheaton is quite large.

Milford, Ind., is panic-stricken over a small-pox epidemic. A woman named Clem returned from the hospital too soon, and inoculated about forty persons.

It is expected that President Garfield and several members of his cabinet will visit Boston on the 17th of June, when Story's statue of Gen. Prescott will be dedicated on Bunker hill. Hon. Robert C. Winthrop is to deliver the formal address.

The body of the late Colonel J. N. Ross of Holden, Mass., was cremated at Washington, Penn., March 31st. This is the twelfth cremation which has taken place in the Lemoyne crematory.

Luther G. Riggs, publisher of the Recorder of Meriden, Conn., has been arrested on a charge of slandering Mayor Curtis of that place.

The terrible oriental plague known as the "Black Death," that in former centuries caused such devastation in Eurpoe, is not a thing of the past, but has recently appeared in Armenia and on the borders of the Caspian sea.

Nearly 15,000 immigrants arrived in this country during the month of February, only 896 of whom came from Ireland. Germany furnished 5,292. During the last eight months 82,609 German immigrants have landed in this country.

There is now at Nashville, Tenn., an autograph letter of Andrew Jackson to John Bell, inviting him to accept the post of attorney-general when twenty-seven years old. Mr. Bell declined, preferring to go to Congress.

The ladies of the families of cabinet officers at Washington are trying to decide whether or not they will formally return the calls of the many ladies—residents or strangers—who leave cards at their houses on reception days. The custom has become very burdensome.

The English Language.

An Englishman of some note dined with a Boston family one day, and a pet boy was much interested in watching him and listening to conversation. After dinner the guest took him on his knee, with the remark, "I hear that you know a great many languages; tell me how many you know."

"Oh, I know French, and German, and Italian, and Spanish, and that is all."

"Don't you know English?" asked the visitor.

"No, I don't know English," he answered, with a very positive shake of the head.

"Yes, you do, certainly," persisted the Englishman.

"I tell you I do not," replied the child, almost impatiently, very emphatically. "My papa knows English, I s'pose, but I only know two words in English."

"And what are they?"

"'Onse and 'orse."

Preserving Butter.

Many farmers experience difficulty in keeping butter made in the early part of the season, and consequently sell it even if the price is low. Mr. Sullivan Kilbeth, an experienced dairyman of Manchester, according to the Farmer, thinks the butter might be kept after it is well made and packed in jars to within an inch or two of the top by covering the butter with a cloth and filling the jar with the best butter salt and placing the jar in a clean flour barrel, having previously put four inches of salt in the bottom. Then fill up with salt, so as to cover the top of the jar to the depth of six to eight inches. Place the barrel in a cool cellar. By adopting this plan he says that farmers need not sell their butter at such ruinously low prices as they are often obliged to do in the height of the season. The butter not only comes out sweet, but preserves all the aroma for which June butter is famous, and tastes as if just churned. This is a method which seems likely to prove effectual, the salt being an efficient protector from any impurity likely to be found in any ordinary cellar.—Lewiston Journal.

—If an old sheep can only jump a fence they call it a spring lamb.

—A lady was standing with a friend before Zola's greatly admired picture of Lot and his daughters, which was exhibited in an art store on Fifth avenue. "Oh!" remarked the friend delorously, "what do you suppose Lot thought when he beheld his poor wife turned to a pillar of salt?" "I suppose," replied she, with admirable gravity, "he thought how he could get himself a fresh one."

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * * * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 16th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

PROF. EDISON'S POLYFORM.

After much persuasion, Prof. Edison has been prevailed upon to give to the world his truly wonderful discovery for alleviating pain. For years he suffered from neuralgic pains, unable to find any remedy among the hundreds which he tried that would give him permanent ease. Finally he became convinced that he must become his own physician and seek, by experiments, for the desired relief. He had taken all the well known sedatives, which gave only temporary relief, and produced nervousness, loss of appetite, &c. He now sought for a combination of such remedies as would, by outward application, cure him of his distress and at same time not be injurious to his system.

Trials and experiments followed this determination until he at last produced a compound which, by application, entirely subdued all pain and allowed his system to recuperate, and throw off the disease.

POLYFORM.

Gratified with the result upon himself, he tested his discovery upon others who suffered from nervous pain, and in every case the relief was perfect.

The cures performed by his gifts of Polyform became so celebrated and the demand upon his time and attention so great, Prof. Edison finally yielded to the solicitation of those who knew the merits of his preparation and allowed a company to be formed for the manufacture and sale of Polyform under his supervision.

The number of remarkable cures, and the suffering Polyform has saved, attest the wisdom and philanthropy of this course.

MENLO PARK, N. J.

I CERTIFY THAT THE PREPARATION KNOWN AS EDISON'S POLYFORM IS MADE ACCORDING TO FORMULA DEVISED AND USED BY MYSELF.

THOMAS A EDISON

For many other complaints beside Neuralgia, such as Rheumatism, Headaches, Sciatica, Gout, Pain in Back or Side, or wherever pain exists, without abrasion of the skin, Polyform will give prompt relief.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

The steamer Fearless made a trip to Kittery on Friday.

The schooner Daniel Marcy went on the ways at Kittery, Friday.

Schooner Eva May, in going out Friday morning, struck the beacon ledge.

The steamer built and formerly owned by Mr. Duncan of Kittery made a trial trip to test her engine, Friday afternoon.

The schooner Mary Willey leaves for Portland to-day, and will take a cargo of corn from that place to Bangor.

The armory of Company C, New Hampshire National Guard, of this city, has been removed to Rechabite hall, on Market street.

Capt. Albert Rand will take his steamer, the Clara Batemen, to Boston next week, to have put into her the new boiler made by the Atlantic Works at East Boston.

The Library Association of Hampton have given their library, containing eight hundred volumes, to that town, for a free library, and the town has accepted the gift.

The rumor of the removal of Mr. Joseph R. Curtis from the position of internal revenue storekeeper, through the consolidation of that office with the office of gauger, is incorrect. Mr. Curtis remains on duty.

For the present the Public Library will be opened on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from four to six o'clock, and on Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings, from seven to nine o'clock. Wednesdays and Thursdays it will not be opened.

The Gibson house is head-quarters for showmen visiting this city. The Banker's Daughter company, which played at Music hall to a large audience Friday evening, put up there. One hundred and twenty-five persons came from Dover by special train, to attend the show.

Secretary of the Navy Hunt it is said has reached the conclusion that he cannot go back of Secretary Thompson's decision in regard to the working hours in the navy yards and shore stations. This means that ten hours will continue to constitute a day's work, although eight hours was fixed as such by an act of Congress many years ago.

Capt. Wm. Corliss, of the schooner Edith M. Pew, which arrived in Boston on Thursday last, reported that on the previous Tuesday, sixteen miles southeast of Boon island, he passed the wreck of the schooner Jacob & William, with her masts over the side. The wreck is in a dangerous position for coasting vessels, and Capt. Corliss laid by until night in an endeavor to sink her, but was unable to do it.

Mr. Samuel Lamprey announces the opening of his dancing school for girls and boys, on the afternoon of the thirteenth inst., at three o'clock, in Franklin hall, the school to continue Wednesday and Saturday afternoons for a course of twenty lessons. Mr. Lamprey many years ago took the first place in this city as a teacher of dancing, and has held i ever since; he keeps up to the times in his profession, and teaches all the new and fashionable dances now, the same as he always did.

The high tide of Wednesday night, the 30th ult., and the accompanying storm, did great damage to wharves, sail-boats, wherries, etc., in Newburyport, and badly undermined portions of the city railroad track. No particular harm has been reported to us as having been done by the tide in this city, although it was higher that night than for some years previous, according to the marks at the north mill, and was within four inches of reaching the highest point ever marked there.

At the Land League meeting in Franklin hall, on the evening of the 31st ult., it was voted to have a public meeting some time in April, to be addressed by prominent speakers. It was also voted to forward $75 to the treasurer of the National League.

The state of Nevada, and York county in Maine, have by the returns of the tenth census exactly the same population, each footing up just 62,265. When it come to area, however, there is a little difference, Nevada embracing 112,000 square miles of territory, and York county 820 square miles.

The first schooner to unload at Dover this year was the G. W. Raitt, Coleman master, which went up the river without the aid of a tug, and arrived at the wharf of Converse & Hobbs shortly before noon on Wednesday, the 30th ult., with eight hundred barrels of lime from Rockland. Her cargo was put out inside of three and one-half hours.

Hon. Daniel Marcy sailed from Boston this week in company with his youngest son, per steamer for Liverpool, on business connected with the ship Wm. H. Marcy, which vessel was very roughly handled by the winds and waves on her last passage across the Atlantic. The ship was reported some days ago as having sailed from Liverpool for Cardiff, to load coals, probably for some port in Asia.

The City Item of Lynn, Mass., in its report of a recent reform club fair in that city says: "E. C. Stickney, the boy champion heavy weight performer of Portsmouth, N. H., executed his new acts and powerful feats of strength, and his pupil, J. E. Brown of Lynn, appeared for the first time in public after three weeks' practice, performing with an eighty-five-pound dumb bell, and received a hearty applause from all."

The Newburyport Herald of March 31st says: "A sharp shock of an earthquake was felt in this city shortly before midnight, last night, particularly at the north end." Two persons in this city informed us on the morning of the 31st ult. that they were awakened from sleep the preceding night by what they were confident was an earthquake, but as we were unable to find anybody else that had noticed it we thought they must have been mistaken. We are now inclined to believe that there may have been some kind of a two-cent earthquake, after all.

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean we learn that Mr. Charles W. Adams, formerly of this city but for four years past the general western passenger agent of the Erie & Chicago Line, with his office in Chicago, has been appointed assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in Chicago, assuming the duties of his new position on the 1st inst. The Inter-Ocean says: "Mr. Adams had occupied his late position during the past four years, ever since the office was opened here; that he has been a good servant to the company he represented is evidenced by the very large business that the line is doing here to-day. Mr. Adams is exceedingly popular, and brings a number of fitting qualities to his new position that will aid him in discharging his new duties creditably to himself and the company."

The long storm at the latter end of March interfered seriously with the business and comfort of the fishermen at the Shoals. The occupants of Londoner island were not able to launch a boat for a period of nine days; and the sea broke over the wharf on Star island so as to preclude landing upon it, or mooring a boat to it. On Saturday, the 26th ult., Messrs. Thomas Lynch, Benjamin Hart and George Ingerbretson started in a dory from Appledore island to visit some friends on Smuttynose. When off Malaga island point a squall capsized the boat, pitching Ingerbretson and Lynch clear of her, they managing with great difficulty to swim to Smuttynose. Hart clung to the boat, and drifted ashore. The sea was running very high at the time, and the escape of the men from drowning was a narrow one. On the 30th ult. the boat Flying Dart carried away her maintopmast and foresail, while coming into this port from the Shoals.

Intelligence has been received of the death of Capt. E. P. Dorr, which took place recently at Aiken, South Carolina. Capt. Dorr was born in New Hampshire, lived in Salisbury when a boy, and left that town in 1824. He began life as a cook in a "pinky" fishing schooner, sailing from Newburyport, but early removed to Buffalo, N. Y., where he became a sailor on and afterwards master of a vessel on the great lakes. For many years he had been in the insurance business, was general agent of the Ætna insurance company, and also agent of various insurance companies. Capt. Dorr was well known both in this city and in Newburyport, as a genial, whole-souled gentleman. He had been out of health for some years past, and went south in hopes of gaining renewed vigor. He leaves a wife, three sons, and a daughter grown up and married.

"THE PHOENIX."

This evening, at Music hall, Mr. Milton Nobles will appear in "The Phoenix," supported by a dramatic company of his own selection. Of the play the Toledo Blade says:

The plot is good, and the several combinations that are made prior and subsidiary to its ultimate development well sustained; even among the tragic portions of the performance a happy bon mot will convulse the audience with laughter, and form a pleasing diversion to the nervous tension exercised by their interest in the pathetic or tragic situations. And a noticeable and commendable feature in the concomitants of the play is the absence of anything objectionable or that will cause any feeling of uneasiness lest the bounds of proper decorum should be trespassed upon.

Mr. Nobles is favorably known to theatre-goers in this city, having never given an inferior entertainment here; and the one to be offered this evening is said to be one of his best.

A CARD.

The undersigned having been requested to receive and dispose of the proceeds of a musical entertainment given at the house of Mr. C. M. Gignoux on Wednesday, March 23d, would announce that the sum of one hundred and thirty-five dollars has been put into our hands, and that we have paid the same into the treasury of the Howard Benevolent society for the relief of the poor of this city.

We desire to thank very heartily Mr. and Mrs. Gignoux for the pleasure of a musical entertainment of so high an order, and for that generosity which, having provided for all the expenses of the evening, conveyed the entire proceeds from the sale of the tickets, for the purposes of charity.

Signed, { ICHABOD GOODWIN, WILLIAM H. SISE, JAMES DENORMANDIE.

Received from Messrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Rev. James DeNormandie and William H. Sise, one hundred and thirty-five dollars, being the proceeds of the concert held at the house of Mr. Gignoux, which was most generously tendered free of any expense for the good of the poor by Mr. and Mrs. Gignoux.

The Association is in a flourishing condition. A large number of new books were added during the past year, and a generous appropriation was voted at the late meeting for the purchase of books for the coming year.

A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions of respect on the death of Frank W. Miller and Charles Robinson.

—Green Mount cemetery, Baltimore, was owned by John Oliver, a wealthy Englishman. His daughter was engaged to a young man between whom and the father there was a bitter personal feud. An elopement was planned. The father found it out, and gave orders to his servants to patrol the grounds and shoot any one seen within them. Disguised in man's clothing the girl tried to escape, and was shot dead at the gate. Grief stricken, her father erected a mausoleum upon the spot, and deeded the entire property to the city.

Public Sectarian Schools.

In Hornellsville, N. Y., the Catholic priests made a proposition to the board of education to take charge of their parochial schools. The matter was referred to Superintendent Gilmour, who has written a letter deciding against the proposal, in which he uses the following language: "The policy of free schools is to educate the children to become good American citizens. This is their business, and this can best be accomplished by having all the children associate with each other, and having no exclusive sect, either religious, political or social. The whole idea of adopting as a part of the public school system any sectarian institution is against the spirit of the American free school. The proposition as submitted to your board to adopt the school referred to is sectarian in its nature. Practically it would be a division of the public money for the support of a sectarian school. The adoption of such a policy would be a step toward the extinction of our system of public instruction. Neither the plan proposed, nor any other plan that would tend even in the slightest degree to encourage sectarian schools, should be adopted."

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. E. Farmer.

Wilbur F. Bartlett, twenty-one years old, recently blew his brains out at Shelburne Falls, Mass. The cause of the act is unknown.

This is indeed an enlightened age, and yet there are thousands of people ignorant of the fact that a slight cold neglected often terminates in consumption. Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures coughs and colds as by magic. Trial size, 10 cts. Larger bottles, 75 cts.

The Connecticut legislature has adopted a proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

Not the least important feature in Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, is the comfort, buoyancy and vigor which is inspired by its use, as the patient recovers from sickness. No other preparation known contains the same potent and direct effect on the nervous system.

Over 600,000 letters pass through the New York post office daily; 1429 mail bags are filled per day, and 1176 men are employed in the city postal service.

The Best Remedy for Chapped Hands

Is Hegeman's Camphor Ice. It should be rubbed upon the part affected. The warmth of the skin will soften it sufficiently, under ordinary circumstances, but in extreme cold weather, it may be necessary to warm it by the fire. If the hands are badly chapped, apply every night, and protect the hands by wearing an old pair of kid gloves. Hegeman's is the best and most popular of all the Camphor Ices made. Hegeman's Camphor Ice is also a cure for sore lips, chapped face, and sunburn. It is compounded with glycerine, which renders it more emollient than any other Camphor Ice; it will be found a most soothing application to the face after shaving.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recollect, to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With best wishes I remain yours respectfully.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 24th, 1880.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, in usual is are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their galling, irksome, cripplring, and ill-combining trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that preventive affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The April number of "The Illustrated Scientific News" is just out. Among the various illustrations in this number is an engraving of the late Emperor of Russia's steam yacht Livadia; a series of views illustrating wood working attachments for foot lathes; Prof. Secchi's solar photographic apparatus, with six distinct views of the sun taken by this instrument; engravings of the boats and apparatus used at Geneva for determining the velocity of sound in water; a new machine for decorating enameled surfaces; engravings of several curious animals and objects in natural history, and an elaborately illustrated article on bee culture. Every number contains thirty-two pages, full of engravings of novelties in science and the useful arts. Published by Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, New York, at $1.50 a year, and sold by all newsdealers.

"Campbell's hand-book of Synonyms," Messrs. Lee & Shepard have just issued a hand-book of English synonyms, with an appendix showing the correct use of prepositions, also a collection of foreign phrases, by D. J. Campbell. Mr. Campbell has been known as the compiler of a pronouncing hand-book, and the editor of "Young Folks' Book of Poetry," etc. The hand-book is a snug volume containing many words commonly sought for in works of this kind, and to many writers it will prove a valuable and timely acquisition. Sold at the bookstores, at fifty cents per copy.

"House of Ross, and other tales," by A. G. Riddle, author of "Baby Ridgeley," "The Portrait," etc. This work is published by Hall & Whiting, of No. 32 Bromfield street, Boston. The scenes which the author depicts are from the Western Reserve, the time from forty to fifty years since, in that transition period between the era of the pioneers and the present day. The author here succeeds in giving us stories abounding in interesting incidents of the then newly-occupied region which became the early homes of so many from the older states. There is no attempt at embellishment, only a natural portrayal of the occurrences of the times referred to, and the book will be found interesting by many who can appreciate its natural style of narration. Price $1.50; sold by W. G. Myers.

Number nine of Geo. M. Baker's Reading Club Company Selections of serious, humorous, pathetic, patriotic and dramatic selections in prose and poetry, for readings and recitations, has been published by Lee & Shepard, of Boston; price fifty cents, in cloth covers.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

William A. Andrews of New Bedford, Mass., the silly hero of the Nautilus trip across the ocean, is again to cross the Atlantic, and thence proceed overland and by steamer to Yokohama, from whence he expects to cross the Pacific to San Francisco. He says his boat will be smaller than the one he crossed the north Atlantic in.

I have no hesitation in certifying to the absolute purity of "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey (obtained for analysis at random from leading druggists,) as bottled by Messrs. Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston.

Sir Julius Benedict, the famous London composer, who as pianist and director accompanied Jenny Lind in her American tour in 1850, has written a biographical and critical paper on "the Swedish nightingale" for the May "Scribner's." The article is said to contain interesting comparisons of her with Malibran and other contemporary artists. The accompanying portrait of Jenny Lind, engraved by Closson from an old daguerreotype, taken while she was in America, will be a striking feature of the number. At the end of his article, Sir Julius hints that he may follow this paper with another, upon the subject of musical conservatories in this country.

Having examined the formula from which Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is prepared, we recommend it as a safe and reliable medicine for the cure of asthma, coughs, colds, and all diseases of the throat, chest, and lungs.

The Ashuelot Bank Villainy.

The Winchester correspondent of the Nashua Telegraph charges upon the trustees of the Ashuelot bank the grossest negligence concerning Albee. The writer says:

What he has done with the money is a question. He has not spent it in fast living. I think time will prove that it is the same old answer—stock speculation. When will men back in the country learn to keep out of this worse than hell-fire? His cash and journal book, which was all one, has not yet been examined enough to say how much of this loss came from the loss of interest in funds taken twelve or fourteen years ago, as it looks as though the cash account was not right in 1868, for in his statement, Jan. 1, 1869, he claimed to have over $10,000 in the Winchester national bank on deposit, when in fact he had but a little over $600. Had the trustees only spent five minutes they could have verified his statement, and the whole thing would have been nipped in the bud. There has not been any examination worthy of the name since he took the bank in the fall of 1865, by either trustees or bank commissioners, until Mr. Lyman came here. The people have all supposed that the proper examinations were made every six months.

Albee kept his own books, and it would seem that for years no one looked over his shoulder, but as is often the case with small country banks, the treasurer was the bank. The correspondent further says:

Only this last January, in one day, he forced his interest account from July to January up from $4500 to over $7000. He brought his figures over from one page $4500 and something, and at the bottom of the page, where less than $100 I think had been paid in, footed it too great by $2800. The trustees took his word for everything. All thought him honest.

* * * * * *

Mr. Albee has a wife and two children, and they have the deepest sympathy of all here. Mrs. Albee has given up all her rights in his property to the bank. She has done all she could, and more than she ought, placed as she is, to make amends for his shortcoming. An examination will shortly be made of the journal to see when and where his money has gone. Albee keeps his own counsels, and I think he will.

The Telegraph says editorially:

The slipshod neglect of the officials deserves more than a passing notice, and will demand a thorough investigation at the hands of the legislature soon to assemble. This thing ought not to be passed over without a rigid examination. It has long been apparent that there is a screw loose in our whole system of savings bank supervision. This view has been urged upon the legislature in recent years, but it has fallen dead. Some such sharp warning as the Winchester defalcation was required to arrest public attention. Experience is a costly school, but even legislatures will sometimes learn in no other way.

The editor of the Telegraph ought to know that many of the men who are selected as trustees could not examine a savings bank properly if they should die for it.

Many others are placed on the board to lend a credit and standing to the bank, while they expend no time in looking after the management, because it is a gratuitous service they have not time to perform. Commenting upon the system of examination by the state bank commissioners, the Telegraph says what every practical person who has given the subject attention knows:

The second defect, and it is a gross one, is the method of the commissioners' compensation. Here is an interest involving more than twenty-five millions of dollars, all trust funds, the property largely of women, children and working people, who stand in need of the state's close protection. The supervision provided by the state, which is their only security against such wholesale robbery as Albee has been guilty of, is paid by the banks, at the rate of three dollars per day for actual service and mileage. Thus placed at the mercy of the banks for his compensation, and practically forbidden by the very language of the statute to have one of his associates with him, there is every opportunity for collusion between the bank and commissioner, and every temptation to make the examination a farce, as it has been for years in the case of the Winchester bank. A more forcible illustration of "How not to do it" could not be conceived.

The remedies are obvious. There should be one commissioner, or at most but two. He should be well paid by the state, and devote his whole time to the duties of his office, as the insurance commissioner does. He should be an expert, of approved standing, but no way connected with or dependent upon any bank. Upon such a basis savings bank defalcations would be much less frequent than now, and possibly would wholly disappear.

But if Bro. Moore, or any other member of the legislature, should advocate the passage of a bill which should make the state properly pay its own officials instead of having them receive their compensation from the bank, with large figures for mileage, which comes quite hard on the small banks, some members from the back seats would cry out against the increased cost of the expenditure to the state, and appeal to the farmers not to submit to this attempt to make their taxes heavier—and away would go the proposition, killed by the very class it would most surely benefit.

News and Notes.

The citizens of New Mexico have organized to exterminate a gang of banditti who have for years been depredating through New Mexico and Texas, murdering and stealing. One of the ruffian leaders has been caught and hanged. Gov. Wallace has called out the militia, and the country will be scoured until the desperadoes are captured or killed.

A woman at Montague, Mich., enraged by jealousy, threw sulphuric acid over a young girl, burning her face and the upper part of her body terribly.

Five hundred negroes left Huntington, Tenn., between Tuesday and Saturday of last week, for Kansas; one thousand more will go in May.

The debt statement, issued April 1st, shows the decrease in the public debt during March to have been $6,102,819.14.

Lewis Boyle shot and killed J. S. Ballard in a quarrel arising out of a family trouble, at Leadville, Col., Friday.

Mary C. Tarbox, wife of Hon. John K. Tarbox of Massachusetts, died last Thursday afternoon at the Danvers asylum, of paralysis of the brain.

Cincinnati has had a Charley Ross case, and in one respect it offers a striking contrast to the Philadelphia case. In the latter the affair was kept out of the newspapers for several days, and left entirely with detectives. In Cincinnati the whole city rang with the loss of the child before twenty-four hours had elapsed. Charley Ross has never been found, while the little Cincinnatian was discovered through the womanly instincts of a Mrs. Gray, who knew nothing of the affair except what she had read.

An old colored man, once well known in anti-slavery circles, has passed away. Louis Napoleon, aged eighty-one years, died on Monday, March 28th, at his house in Brooklyn, New York. He was born of slave parents in Virginia, and remained a slave till 1828. Soon after gaining his freedom he went to New York city. He was active in helping fugitive slaves to escape, by what was known as the "underground railroad," assisting over 3,000 to reach a land where they were not subject to be sold like cattle.

Advices from Durango, New Mexico, dated April 1st, state that Jack Roberts, one of the band of noted desperadoes which has for a long time been a terror in southern Colorado, was captured a few days ago by Thomas Nance and John Benning. While they were taking him to Farmington they were overtaken by a band of vigilants, who paid the reward that had been offered for Roberts, and then took Roberts, and hanged him to a tree. The particular act for which he was hanged was the killing of John Greaterex at Durango two weeks ago, when the ruffian shot Greaterex dead for attempting to protect a woman from his abuse.

A son of Willard Langmaid of Danville, Vt., has shot himself on account of disappointed love, and is not expected to live.

A shingle jointer in Runnell's mill in Caribou, Me., exploded Friday, killing Guilford Harris, literally cutting him in two.

Secretary Windom intends to avail himself of laws in reference to national loans, passed as far back as 1862 and 1864, authorizing the treasury to accept deposits as a temporary loan from individuals or associations to the amount of $150,000,000 for the purpose of redeeming the maturing bonds. This with the treasury surplus will enable the treasury to redeem $360,000,000 fives and sixes this year.

Mr. Daly, immigration agent, has returned to Montreal, Canada, from an extensive visit to Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Maine, where he was disseminating information among the French Canadians regarding the inducement held out by the government in grants of land for their return to Canada. He reports finding a strong feeling among the Canadians in favor of returning, and that in many localities clubs have been formed for the purpose of organizing an emigration movement.

Gen. Grant arrived at Galveston, Texas, on Saturday morning, and left for Vera Cruz on Sunday.

There are now on file at the navy department one hundred and twenty-six applications for the position of assistant-paymaster in the navy. There is no vacancy at present, and only one in prospect, which depends upon the confirmation of the nomination of Paymaster Caswell for the position of pay inspector.

New Hampshire Items.

Daniel F. Hoyt, employed in Presby's mill at Bradford, was caught on a shaft, March 31st, and so badly injured that he died in two hours. He was thirty-eight years old, and leaves a widow and four children.

The suggestion from Washington that Mr. Chandler will withdraw his name as a candidate for solicitor-general provokes a broad smile among those who know him this way. Mr. Chandler's confirmation may be defeated by the votes of democratic senators, who know that he will not administer the office to suit their ends, but the ends of justice and the republican party. Mr. Chandler is not the man to withdraw from a fight. He always goes through, and doesn't know even when he is whipped, which is not often.—Nashua Telegraph.

Veteran Senators.

The oldest ex-senators of the United States now living are Hon. Joseph Cilley of New Hampshire, and Hon. David L. Yulee of Florida, both of whom entered the Senate during the first session of the 29th Congress, (1846)—thirty-five years ago, the former having been appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hon. Levi Woodbury, appointed by President Polk to be judge of the supreme court of the United States. Col. Cilley was born Jan. 4th, 1791, and is still living at the ancestral home in Nottingham, at the greatly advanced age of ninety years, in the possession of his mental and physical powers to a remarkable degree. He served with distinction in the war of 1812-15, as did his father in the war of the Revolution. The late Hon. Jonathan Cilley, who was killed near Washington city, February 24th, 1838, while a member of Congress from Maine, in a duel fought with William J. Graves, member from Kentucky, was a brother of the ex-senator. Of the parties to the memorable duel alluded to, only one is now surviving—Ex-Senator George W. Jones of Iowa, who was Cilley's second. Gen. Jones, then a young man, was delegate from the then territory of Michigan. After the admission of Iowa into the Union in 1848, he was elected United States senator, serving two terms. He visited Washington during the late session of Congress, and though considerably advanced in age is still active and in good health.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

THE lot of land and buildings thereon situated at Kittery Point, formerly owned by Thos. O. Hoyt. The land is a knoll of about five acres, pleasantly situated, overlooking the lower harbor and ocean. It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and ere long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. On the land are buildings recently erected for an extensive nursery, which can easily be converted into outbuildings for a boarding house. Apply to

A gentleman from New York state was in this city on the 31st ult., hunting for a coat-of-arms that was thought to have been left here by a captain of a vessel in 1810. He went away without meeting any success.

The schooner War Eagle, Frisbee master, which has been hauled up for the winter at Kittery Point, is fitting for sea, and will sail shortly. Her regular trade for several years past has been the transportation of saw-dust from Wiscasset, Me., to Boston, to be used in packing ice.

Two full trains of cars of elegant interior finish, the wood used being principally mahogany, are to be built for the through-train service at the Eastern railroad car-shops in Salem. New baggage cars will be built for these trains. Four new cars have thus far been turned out at the shops the past winter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Libby of Eliot, mother of Orlando T. Libby, who served in Co. D, 5th New Hampshire Volunteers, during the rebellion, has been granted a pension of eight dollars a month from the date of the death of her son, June 1st, 1862. Deceased's company was commanded by Capt. John Murray.

A pitch-pine tree was recently blown down on the farm of Mr. Ezra Barker in Stratham, which measured three feet in diameter at the butt, and furnished a good log seventy feet long. The rings or layers indicated that it was over a hundred years old, and it is believed to have been the largest tree of its kind in the state.

Mr. John Peterson came up from Leach's island to Russell & Odion's wharf on Friday night, with the first scow-load of rocks to be used in the foundation of the new Episcopal church at the west end. There were about thirty tons of stone in the load, some of the pieces being estimated to weigh from three to four tons each.

The schooner G. W. Raitt, Coleman master, came down the river on Saturday from Dover, light, bound for Camden, Me., to load plaster there for Converse & Hobbs of Dover. The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Garland, arrived at Portsmouth bridge Saturday afternoon with a load of bricks from the banks of the Cocheco river, bound for Milton, Mass., at the head of navigation on the Neponset river, south of Boston. At the late town meeting in Eliot an attempt was made to give the medical practise at the almshouse to Dr. J. L. M. Wallis instead of to Dr. Guptill. It was tried first by hand vote, then by dividing the house, and then a ballot was taken, resulting as follows: Willis sixty, Guptill ninety-five.

At auction in Boston, Saturday, four shares in the Concord & Portsmouth railroad sold at $135.25 a share; New Hampshire state sixes at 123; Plaistow town sixes at 106, 107 1-4, 108 1-4, 109 1-8 and 110, according to the time the bonds have to run; Laconia Manufacturing Co., 546; Great Falls Manufacturing Co., 108 1-4; Eastern railroad 4 1-2s, 104.

Mr. George Herbert has taken the wharf premises occupied by the late Mr. John Dixon, and will carry on the fish business on an extensive scale. It is said that persons representing a capital of $100,000 will be associated with him in the business, and that boats selling their fares at this establishment will save two cents on each hundred weight of fish, through not having to pay any wharfage.

The dispute concerning the possession of Londoner island at the Shoals has been settled, for the present at least, the men sent out from this city several weeks ago, and who took forcible possession of the island on behalf of the heirs of Nathaniel Folsom, having yielded it to Mr. Elvin Newton, who acts under a lease granted by Mr. Hatch. Mr. Newton goes out today, and will carry on the fishing business there.

The compensation for work on highways was fixed as follows: For each man, fifteen cents per hour; horse and cart, fifteen cents; yoke of oxen, cart and plow, seventeen and a half cents.

A new front is to be put into the store occupied by E. S. Fay; plate glass will be used for windows, and the door will be in a recess six feet deep, so as to allow side lights. Plate glass windows are to be put into Tibbetts' millinery store on Market street, immediately. It has been decided to put plate glass fronts in the three stores in Congress block, and work will be commenced in a short time. More plate glass has been set in store and office fronts in this city, within the past year, than had ever been put in before all together.

The three netting schooners which fish from this port came in on Saturday, with their gear considerably demoralized. The Mary E. Caswell, which made her first trip with nets, had four of them torn, and lost three anchors. The Grace Choate had twelve nets broken, some of them being in a very bad condition, and she also lost three anchors. The Flying Eagle was more fortunate, her nets receiving but little damage. The mishaps were owing to the heavy undertow, which detached the grass from the bottom, and filling the nets caused them to drag their anchors and strike on rocks, where they became a tangled mass of twine and sea-weed. The fishermen, who are used to the fickleness of an ocean life, are not disheartened, but are looking ahead with the hope of better luck in the lull of old ocean's revelry.

A SUGGESTION.

Mr. Editor: I presume great regret is felt at the failure of the Boston parties to make up the subscription for the rebuilding of the Portsmouth mill. I have not once thought that the Messrs. Sawyer would be induced to build here. I learn they have made a profitable business for many years, owing doubtless to the manner in which it is conducted. In the first place, they have uniformly made a fine quality of goods, leaving no room for a doubt on the part of the purchaser, thus saving the expense of an outside agent. I have yet to learn of any want of success, where such principles have been adopted. Now we have in Portsmouth men who can manage business with the greatest economy, in the manufacture of some kinds of woollen goods, and succeed as well in the end as some of our Dover friends. Where for such a position can you find a better man than Chas. H. Mendum, with his well known wisdom and experience? And if cotton manufacture would offer better prospects, where could a better man be found than Mr. A. H. Ladd, with his long experience in the selection of cottons? It is said the remains of the Kearsarge mill can be obtained for a small sum; there is no need of a large mill. Call the subscribers to the hundred thousand dollar fund together, and see if some plan cannot be suggested for some such enterprise. There are men here capable of conducting this work to a successful end, and mechanics who can work as cheaply and as well as elsewhere; men too can be found, who would be good judges of the best machinery. These remarks are thrown out for the consideration of men of better judgment than THE WRITER.

KITTERY POINT.

There is no place in this region possessing more beautiful resorts, affording better opportunities for invigorating rambles, and having finer sea views or more interesting sights in-shore, than Kittery Point. Had we not in and around Portsmouth so many inviting places to visit in the warmer months, we should see a tide of visitors constantly going to this place.

No more enjoyable trip can be made during the coming months than to take passage in the little steamer "Fearless," and go to Kittery Point. Mr. Keen has sagaciously established his Portsmouth landing at the north end, not far from the railway stations, to accommodate persons who may visit the Pepperrell house for summer board, etc. Many of our residents know as little of Kittery Point, from personal visits, as they do of the Rocky mountains, and the opportunity is now afforded for making a visit to our neighboring attraction in a safe and comfortable steamer, avoiding the delays and risks of two bridges and a hard road, and having a view of the most beautiful river in the United States. Mr. Keen will find, as the summer approaches, that picnic parties and family excursions will begin to appreciate his efforts to bring the enjoyment of the beautiful scenes of the point within the reach of every one in our city.

The Fearless is a stanch and reliable steamboat, and the hours of departure and arrival are conveniently arranged. Newcastle can also be reached on every trip, and as a summer recreation at a merely nominal cost nothing can exceed the inducements afforded by the Fearless.

"AN UNNATURAL SISTER."

Under the above heading the Evening Journal of Minneapolis, Minnesota, of date March 15th last, has the following:

Three years ago Mabel Cutts, now fourteen years old, was brought to this city from Kittery Point, Maine, by an aunt, who wished to provide for the girl better educational facilities than the hamlet of Kittery Point afforded. The girl was placed in the family of her sister, Mrs. Gowdy, living at 1913 Eleventh avenue south. Since then Mabel's life has been a series of cruelties and persecutions inflicted by this unnatural sister, Mrs. Gowdy, who deserves the contempt of the community. Facts concerning her conduct, in the possession of the Evening Journal, support and confirm the above mildly-drawn terms. The girl was frequently imprisoned in a dark closet twenty-four hours at a time, without food, for no other reason than that she had in some manner displeased her sister. Three times, in the most inclement weather, Mabel was turned out of doors by the inhumane woman, utterly destitute, without other relations from whom she might expect aid. On these occasions she was taken in by Mrs. Flannery, of 1200 Second street south, and for the past five weeks was fed and lodged by her, receiving far better treatment than her cruel sister gave her. Mrs. Gowdy was remonstrated with, and always replied that she would not have the girl around, that she was able to provide for herself, and advised Mrs. Flannery to turn the girl out, even in the coldest weather of the past winter. The girl's ill-usage had not improved her understanding, which was not the most brilliant or acute, and as the result of her troubles she is now in a condition bordering upon imbecility. Through the interposition of benevolent friends Mabel has been sent to her home in Maine. Supt. C. H. Prior gave her a pass to Chicago, the city purchased a ticket from there to Boston, and others contributed means to defray the incidental expenses of the journey. She was provided with letters to railroad men in the east, and it is hoped that at her home she will meet at least the humane treatment which her repulsive and brutal sister refused her here. It is alleged that money forwarded to her had been appropriated by Mrs. Gowdy, who of course denies it.

—Ex-Senator Thurman, talking to some friends at Columbus, O., the other day, in relation to his appointment on the silver commission, said: "Yes, they think I am a petulant old fellow, and they want to send me out of the country as soon as they set me free. I am not petulant, though," he continued, laughing, "and have never asked anybody for office."

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that the effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

Cattle Starved to Death.

A representative of the Chicago Times who has just returned from a tour through the cattle ranges lying between the Missouri river and the Rocky mountains, reports that the winter in that section has been the severest ever experienced, and that the loss of cattle will exceed 400,000 head, valued at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. The poor brutes have died in myriads, whole herds being wiped out in a night. He says:

"The death rate among the cattle in that tract which is embraced within lines extending north and south through Sidney and North Platte, towns on the Union Pacific railroad, in Nebraska, 125 miles apart, is, in all probability, larger than anywhere else in the entire grazing country. The cattle men have designated this and the dry belt in Colorado as the 'burnt districts.' The Nebraska burnt district is 200 miles one way by 125 miles across on the south, and 175 on the north. There is an immense number of cattle in this area—a half million or more. There is a succession of mammoth herds on the North Platte, Loup, and Niobrara rivers, and the mortality among them is believed to be between twenty-five and forty per cent, according to location. West of the Black Hills stage route from Sidney the loss will be great, but east of that line they have died by thousands. On the Niobrara ranges, east of Antelope creek, owners themselves admit a loss of fifty per cent, and south of that there is a bovine cemetery until the Platte is crossed. The great loss in this particular region is due to the heavy snow storms, which were preceded by sleet and rain that converted the earth's surface into a sheet of ice. Even had there been no snow the cattle could not have gotten at the grass, which was under a coat of ice, but the snow aggravated the trouble somewhat, and for weeks the cattle endured the horrible torture of slow starvation. Thousands upon thousands drifted down upon the South Platte after grass and water, but, as the river was frozen, they could get nothing."

—A little girl said of her sister: "She was so fainted that they couldn't come her to."

—A faithful ground hog is described by a Reynoldsville Pa., paper: "A black woodchuck, more commonly called ground hog, in the possession of J. A. Burgoon, burrowed itself on the 16th day of October and has been in a lethargic state, with one exception, ever since until last Tuesday. The exception was on ground-hog day, when it poked out its nose, sniffed the atmosphere and withdrew. True to the sign, it has been in six weeks from that day. It has altogether been bur-rowed, without a drop of water or a pinch of food, one hundred and fifty days, or about five months."

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large rectal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

With a Bonus of Stock.

The pavement made by this Company has met with the highest praise, both in this country and in Europe, and it is considered to approach perfection more nearly than any other.

The Works of the Company are at Providence, R. I., and at Hastings, N. Y., and the needs of its business will soon require additional ones at Chicago and other large cities.

Negotiations are now pending with capitalists in London and Paris for the right to manufacture and use this pavement in those cities.

☞ Few enterprises now on the market promise as profitable business as this one.

The Company require additional means to extend the facilities for manufacturing, and offer for sale the second $100,000 of their six per cent bonds (convertible into stock) at par and interest. These bonds carry a bonus of stock, which is fixed for the present at fifty per cent.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife influced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES.

The thirty-third anniversary of Spiritualism was appropriately celebrated by the society of Spiritualists in this city on Sunday last. Thirty-three years ago, in the year 1848, at Hydesville, New York, were first heard the tiny raps that marked the advent of a new faith. A faith, in many of its essential features, not new however, as the Quakers had long held many of its cardinal principles. But the communication of the departed spirits with mortals was and is the point of difference between the adherents of the new belief and the Quakers, and, in fact, with nearly all the churches, although the latter utterly repudiate affiliation with the Spiritualists. Notwithstanding considerable odium has been and still is attached to those who openly announce a belief in the intelligent communion and the possible return of the so-called "dead," their ranks have been steadily recruited during the past three decades, so that the present number of believers in Spiritualism in this country alone is set down at twelve millions; while in England, Germany, France, Russia, Australia, and in fact, in almost every country in the world, its adherents may be found in astonishingly large numbers.

And this steady accession to its ranks has occurred in spite of a dead weight always attached to it of so-called reformers, that have been confounded by its censors with the single-minded believers; in spite of misrepresentations by both its friends and enemies; in spite of every-day "exposes" that cannot be numbered, and in spite of a lack of organized effort that has been a marked characteristic of this religious sect. Of late, however, there seems to have developed in many places an attempt to concentrate its forces, by forming societies. An organization once existed in this city, and meetings were regularly held, but for the lack of pecuniary support and for other causes, none has been in active operation here for the past few years. Last November a few zealous believers founded a new society, and have held meetings regularly every Sunday afternoon throughout the winter, it is reported with excellent success.

On Sunday, April 3d, services were held in the morning, afternoon and evening, in the hall of the Good Templars, (over Morse & Ilsley's). The audiences were large, many being unable to gain admission in the evening. We give a brief abstract of one of the discourses:

Thirty-three years ago the dawn of a new era in the history of the world came quietly stealing upon us. With the advent of this new light, forthwith there sprung up a new faith. A faith whose foundation is a knowledge of the return of our spirit friends from the life beyond, to communicate with us intelligently and unmistakably. The advent of this new gospel may be likened to the advent of Jesus the Christ. He brought precisely the same simple truths that are taught in Spiritualism. There does not nor cannot live one who was a more thorough Spiritualist than Jesus. Hence this faith of ours is not new by any means. The command of the Master was, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature;" adding that these signs should follow: "in my name ye shall cast out devils; shall speak with new tongues; shall heal the sick," etc. These results have certainly been realized, as every one must be aware who is at all conversant with the brief history of modern Spiritualism.

But there are more vital questions concerning it. Is it an improvement over all other religions? Is it more reformatory in its character? Does it cause people to grow better under its influence? Well, there is one thing that I claim can be said in its favor, (however strange this may sound to one who knows nothing of its interior merits,) that it is founded upon common sense, in the full meaning of that expression. I don't know how highly you may prize this mental quality, but for myself I will say that I will never surrender mine to any one, even should he who demanded it claim to be an Archangel from heaven. Because it is my birth-right, whose title deed thereto is signed by the Infinite. I am aware that this is contrary to our earlier teachings. In our earlier days it was taught us, and is even now, that we must lay aside reason (common sense) nor attempt to use it in relation to the soul, its destiny and its salvation. It was told us that it would make shipwreck of our faith, and that human reason was the devil, speciously seeking to lead the sinner to damnation.

I would not proselyte; much less would I try to unsettle one who had an implicit belief and faith in the evangelical doctrines of the church. It is the teachings of far wiser spirits than any known on earth, that that religious faith which brings comfort and joy to the believer, that imparts to him a moral strength by which he can withstand the many temptations that are always at hand, is fully sufficient for the time. What better church could there be for the turbulent Irishman than the Catholic? and although in that church there are many refined and highly spiritual souls, still for the masses there is no other system of worship that would prove so effectual a check upon their animalism as the glaring trappings and ceremonials of this organization.

But gradually there will come forth into the light many (perhaps not of this church to which I have just alluded, but from churches a little more advanced in free thought,) who will fail to be stimulated or fed by creeds or forms of worship. They will desire something more substantial. Something that will stand the test of the most searching criticism of intelligent thought. Something that cannot be waived away by the too common assertion among our clerical expounders of religion that "this or that is not for us to know;" that "it is a mystery that belongs alone to Jehovah." Then, and for these inquirers, I have to offer our beautiful faith. Then, and for these, I would show by the help of our dear spirit-friends, as well as those in this life, we may be able to practice what is preached by all—when doctrines can for the moment be lost sight of—that it is righteousness and righteousness alone that exalteth a man or a nation, and that wordy exhortations or long-winded pulpit orations amount to nothing without moral character behind them.

I cannot see, however, how it is possible for one who realizes that he lives in the full light of the spirit world every hour, to be otherwise than better under such an inspiration. And then, when we learn from those who have exchanged mortality for immortality, of the uncompromising requirements of the laws of the higher life; how that we cannot advance to brighter spheres until we have builded so well here that the fire of the holy spirit will leave us unharmed—as the apostle expresses it: "Every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is." I say when we learn all this, as all spiritualists do, "what manner of persons ought we to be, in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for new heavens and a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness." It has been frequently remarked that spiritualists have bitterly assailed the churches. I don't think this charge is true. That comparisons have been drawn, however, I am ready to admit. But these are as inevitable and as natural as drawing the breath. And if the churches or their theology suffer thereby, so much the worse for the churches. The great mistake that has been made in times past is that of regarding the church as infallible authority for all those matters within the domain of religion. The church is well enough, if it is taken at its true value. But its true value must be measured by the fruit it yields. Like Spiritualism it must be judged by its fruits—and these fruits must be "the peaceable fruits of righteousness." If Orthodoxy fails here, it must go down. So also if Spiritualism fails it must also go down. But it will not fail. It cannot. It has come to stay. It has come to bless the world. "To be the gospel to the poor. To heal the broken hearted. To preach deliverance to the captive (under sin.) To give sight to the blind. To set at liberty them that are bound. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. E. Farmer.

Sold by druggists. So positively certain is it in its results that its former proprietor used to offer a reward of $500 for a case it would not cure.

News and Notes.

At Hartford, Conn., Friday evening, a lecture by Bishop MacNamara of the Independent Catholic church was broken up, and the doors, windows and seats of the hall smashed. In connection with the exhibition of Forepaugh's show in Washington, it is announced that "Madame Zulla will wheel her little child over a slender wire 100 feet in mid air." Mr. George B. Corkhill, United States district attorney, makes public the announcement that "this attempt upon the life of this little child cannot be allowed in this district; and, if persisted in, the necessary legal means will be used to prevent it, by the prompt arrest of the parties attempting it." Correct.

Reddy McDonald, head musician in a low dance house at Sidney, Nebraska, and a noted ruffian, was taken from jail on Sunday by vigilantes, and hanged. He was one of sixteen desperadoes who have held the town in terror for years, but who were jailed by the citizens last Friday. It was expected that at least three other murderers would be lynched by the mob.

MATTERS IN RYE.

RYE, April 4th.

The "Old Folks' Supper" at the town hall on Tuesday evening, the 29th ult., was attended by about five hundred people, a portion of them coming from out of town. All of the old folks were not there, but those who were present seemed to enjoy themselves very much. There was no regular order of exercises, but the Rye cornet band volunteered their services, and played selections during the evening to the satisfaction of the large audience; Hon. E. B. Philbrick and G. H. Jenness, Esq., made remarks; and "Auld Lang Syne" and "America" were sung by the Rye Musical association. Tables were set in the lower hall, which seated about one hundred persons, and these were filled at first by the "old folks" and their children, some of the latter not being very young. At one of the tables were six old folks, each over eighty years of age, viz.: Widow Polly Jenness, who was 87 in July, 1880; Widow Dorcas Caswell, who was 87 in November, 1880, (they being the oldest persons in town;) Mr. Joseph Rand, (who now resides in North Hampton, but is a native of Rye,) 85; Capt. B. W. Marden, whose hair is as black now as it was half a century ago, 82; Widow Eliza Foss, 82; and Mr. Wm. Caswell, 81. There were quite a number present between 70 and 80, but the great majority, of course, were younger. The supper was abundant and good, and the tables were filled over and over again, and still the supper was not exhausted, although the fair waiterresses were, and at the close there was still a very large surplus on hand, which was the next day distributed among the deserving poor. The sum taken at the door for admission being more than was necessary to pay the expenses, was equally divided, and given to the two Sunday schools connected with the Christian and Congregational societies. After the supper was over the young folks indulged in dancing for an hour or two, and a portion of the old folks remained to see them trip the light fantastic, etc.

The annual meeting of the Congregational society was held on Monday evening, the 28th ult., and Chas. A. Drake, Dr. Warren Parsons and Supply F. Trefethen were chosen wardens, and Fred D. Parsons clerk. From the wardens' report for the year past it appears that the total amount of cash received was $1038.80, of which $993.36 was expended, leaving a balance on hand of $45.54. In addition to this sum about $50 was contributed during the year for benevolent purposes, in other localities. The "Martha Washington society," which is composed of members of this society, has on hand at this time $330, which is the result of their public entertainments and sociables given during the past year.

Rev. Ira S. Jones, the pastor of the Christian church, arrived home from Florida on Wednesday last. He brought with him oranges and sweet potatoes, and also accounts of strawberries, green peas and string beans, which he had subsisted on in that genial clime—which was all the more interesting to the listener, when told in the midst of a driving snow-storm on the 1st of April.

The tides were very high on Thursday and Friday of last week, and the bridge at the harbor, and the tide-gate to the old mill there, suffered to such an extent that the former is impassable to teams, and the latter is left in no condition to do any more grinding at present, if ever again.

The prudential committee of the south school district has posted a warrant on the school house, agreeably to three petitions, calling a meeting on Monday afternoon, April 11th, to act on these subjects: 1st, To see if the old house shall be repaired; 2d, To see if they will build a one-story schoolhouse, and utilize the material of the old one; and 3d, To see if they will build a new schoolhouse. They don't need any advice over in that district, but perhaps no harm will ever result from just reminding them that Daniel Webster once complimented the women very highly upon a certain public occasion, in regard to the success which at once followed their efforts, when there were serious doubts of the completion of Bunker Hill monument by the efforts of the men alone—and that was before the ladies had a right to vote in school meetings.

A gentleman from New York state was here one day last week, looking over the old town records with the hope of finding evidence whereby he could lay claim to untold possessions in England. Some of his ancestors, or rather one of them, so it is believed, brought over from the old country a "coat-of-arms" which, if it could only be discovered, would prove the claim to be just at once. The search of the records revealed the fact that there was an allusion to a "coat-of-arms," which was to the effect that certain persons claimed that they had heard their ancestors talk of it, as having been in the possession of a woman who formerly lived here; but no evidence that it had ever been seen by any person. The gentleman proposed to search the Newcastle records for further light on the subject.

Mr. Charles E. Foss, who for several years past has been in the employ of Hon. E. H. Winchester at his place on the Lafayette road, is soon to leave for the purpose of taking a position on a railroad in Arkansas. NAT.

Charles Miller, aged nineteen years, and John Miller, aged twenty-one, brothers, were shot dead in a house of ill fame in Cincinnati, Saturday night, in a drunken brawl.

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

AROUND HOME.

Elbridge Brooks was last week appointed postmaster at South Eliot.

We had a pleasant call on Monday from Mr. James Ashton, son of Old Father Ashton of Dover.

Hon. Frank Jones was down town on Monday, after an enforced vacation of several weeks by reason of illness.

Rev. James DeNormandie on Sunday announced as the subject of his Fast day sermon, "Fasting from our immoralities."

Frank G. Sherburne and Leonard Manson have been drawn from ward three to serve as petit jurors at the April term of the supreme court to be holden at Exeter.

There was one sinner before the police court on Monday, for drunkenness. A fine of $1.9 was imposed, costs being taxed at $5.76, and the whole sum will be boarded out in jail.

The Newmarket Manufacturing Co. has closed a contract with Lewis Killam for the erection there of twenty double-tenement houses. Mr. Killam was the contractor for the company's new mill.

Mr. Geo. W. Butler, who has been confined to his house for a few weeks by sickness, has recovered his health, and will soon resume his duties as cashier of the National Mechanics & Traders' bank.

The Methodist church of Newmarket, after struggling for years under a heavy burden of debt, is at last free. Since July, 1879, the small society has paid off $2850 of debt, besides providing for the current expenses, $1800 of the debt having been cancelled last year.

A four-tenement house in Dover, owned by John Scott and situated on the New Association land, was burned on Monday morning. Mr. Scott was the only occupant, three of the tenements being vacant. The house was built in 1880, at a cost of about five thousand dollars. The fire was supposed to be incendiary.

The schooner Daniel C. Baker, on coming up the river Monday afternoon to go on to the ways at Kittery for repairs, when off Pumpkin island encountered a dory containing a man and boy, who were struggling against the winds and waves to cross the river. The schooner in order to keep from running down the boat was obliged to haul on the wind, and in so doing was blown directly on the northern end of the ledge that forms the island, and though it was only two-thirds flood when she went on, all efforts to get her off were unavailing, owing to the strong wind. There was no leak discovered Monday evening, and it was hoped she would float off during the high tide at night.

A case on the equity docket of the supreme court, brought against the Portsmouth Savings bank, has been heard before Albert R. Hatch as referee. The plaintiff, Mt. Sinai Encampment, No. 19, I. O. O. F., contends that a certain book of deposits pledged to the bank by A. F. Craig was the property of the encampment, and that the funds were the funds of the encampment, but that the bank allowed the sum to be withdrawn, and a note of Craig's held by the bank to be paid from the proceeds. The plaintiff contends that the bank acted without due caution; while the bank contends that Craig was one of the trustees of the encampment, and having the control of the book, by the rules of the bank had control of the deposit, and the bank under the contract of deposit was obliged to pay the sum to whoever presented the book and called for the money. Mr. Page appeared for the encampment; Messrs. Rollins and Foster for the bank.

Rev. Mr. Cook of North Berwick has resigned the pastorship of the Free Baptist church there, and will locate in Dover, Maine.

Mr. Alvah S. Brown of this city, who has been in the employ of James R. Connell for some time past as watchmaker, has accepted a similar position with Messrs. Clarke & Dixon, formerly of this city, at Manchester.

Fashion has even been brought to the color of horses that a person should drive, and has decreed that a black horse is not at all in style, but bay is the color that is desirable. If you have any other colored horse you may as well dispose of such at once, if you want a nobby animal.—Weekly.

Peter Le Grau, of Biddeford, was drowned in Portland last Sunday afternoon, by falling into a ditch alongside the Ogdensburg railroad. There were only a few inches of water in the ditch, but he was intoxicated, and fell on his face. He and a man named Blanchard were in trouble recently, through stealing some harnesses in Biddeford.

The April term of the supreme court for Rockingham county will open in Exeter on the 12th. Hon. Lewis W. Clark, who has held the last four terms of this court, will preside. On the docket are 218 civil actions, sixty-six equity cases, fifteen state cases and appeals, and five cases in sessions. It is probable that the court will have to appoint a solicitor for this term, owing to the illness of County Solicitor Harriman.

Valentine Smith of Newmarket, having for a long time been annoyed whenever he appeared on the streets in that town by the whistling and hallooing after him of many young men and boys, on Tuesday of last week caused a number of the offenders to be arrested for brawl and tumult, and Justice Shackford fined them $3 and costs, amounting to $9.77 each. The Advertiser of that town, while deprecating the "rude, disorderly and ungentlemanly" conduct of the aggressors, virtually takes their part by suggesting that Mr. Smith's course in prosecuting his persecutors was "a little severe, and perhaps unwarrantable," and that "it will eventually do more harm than good to all concerned." We do not know who Mr. Valentine Smith is, what he does or what he looks like; but if he cannot appear on the streets without being insulted by a gang of street bummers, it is about time he appealed to the law for protection. Would the Advertiser advise him to appeal to the knife or the revolver, in preference?

WOMAN AS A SAFEGUARD.

Mr. Editor: I am much pleased with anything I see in the papers, especially in your valuable journal, (I believe correspondents who expect their communications to be inserted always use this phrase,) concerning the security of savings bank depositors. The negligence of the trustees of the savings bank at Winchester, I think, is deservedly rebuked and a remedy is sought. Now, Mr. Editor, it occurs to me that the true solution of the problem is to put women upon the board of trustees. Why not? Are we not depositors? We hear savings banks designated as the places where the money of widows and orphans is safely kept. We are interested in the care of our funds, in the integrity of our officials, and in the thorough investigation of our securities. Who could overlook the prosperity of a bank and make a thorough examination, better than a committee of women who had a personal interest in the bank? We of the tinder sex are beginning to be allowed, in this progressive age, to fill the offices to which are attached no honors, or from which can be derived no profit, and it seems that the office of trustee of a savings bank, like a place on the school board, is a suitable one for women to fill. SADIEX GAMP.

ROMAN CATHOLIC TEACHERS.

Mr. Editor; I have been interested in your communications about the employment of a teacher in the public school at Greenland, because they refer to a principle of our educational system which is not fully appreciated. Is a teacher indeed to be selected or rejected on account of holding or not holding any sectarian views? Can it be possible that anybody is so sectarian or bigoted as to be disturbed at the appointment of a teacher whose religious views are different from his own? And if there is no anxiety as long as teachers are chosen from the various Protestant sects, is the line to be drawn against a Romanist or a Jew?

Two conditions of appointment ought to be inflexibly followed: the best teacher among all the applicants should be selected, without any regard to sectarian affiliations; and once engaged in teaching, no word to any pupil about sectarian matters should be excused—this should always be regarded as a sufficient reason to dismiss any teacher.

Need we have any fears lest the ears of own pupils are not wide-open to catch any words which might drop from a Roman Catholic teacher in the way of proselytism, or praise of that church? Have Protestants themselves always been sufficiently careful in this respect; or being so greatly in the supremacy both in the teachers and pupils, (in the former thus far almost unanimous,) have they not forgotten the essential idea of the public school system, and helped on the opposition to it from the Romanists? I remember a few years since, during the progress of a so-called religious revival—one of those abnormal and spasmodic occasions which generally revives everything except religion—that two or three teachers were known to make it the subject of considerable interest among their pupils, to encourage their attendance, and to favor them in their lessons on that account—a sufficient reason surely for those teachers to have been instantly and unconditionally dismissed, as helping to bring into serious disrepute that very educational system of which they ought to be wise supporters.

No honorable or thoughtful persons will take advantage of the weakness or the fairness of those who differ from them, to introduce subjects which do not belong to the public schools. The great principles of religion, and especially religion in its moral results, do belong there, but sectarianism never. The presence of even one Roman Catholic child ought to make every conscientious teacher extremely careful to avoid any matter which is an offence to that church, or which shall increase its efforts to keep all its children from what is claimed to be one of the chief advantages of our public school system, the moulding of all the children into a common American citzenship.

Of course the whole Roman Catholic idea is antagonistic to that system, and as shown by its historical record where it has had supreme direction, antagonistic to popular education altogether. Its claim that all education is harmful unless it is religious, and that it must be under the direction of the church as the guardian of religion, is not without strong support. Secular education, as separated from and entirely neglecting religious, is perhaps impossible, certainly a most disastrous thing, and until some more harmonious and consenting definitions of the essentials of religion can be formed by Protestants and Romanists, the discussion of this subject must continue, and unhappy differences arise. It may be that the Romanists will withdraw their children altogether from the public schools; but while they are there, in numbers however small, their religious scruples must be respected, as long as that is one of the main principles of our educational plan. Indeed it would seem to be only justice, considering that thus far only Protestant teachers have been chosen, that where two equally competent apply, the Roman Catholic should have the preference, to balance the disproportion, and remove prejudice. It might do something to improve and commend the school system to the whole public. INQUIRER.

HUTCHINGS. In this city, March 2nd, George W. Hutchings, aged 18 years and 8 months.

His death, though saddening in the thoughts that a young life so full of bright promise should have been blighted just as it was entering upon its more manly duties, yet leaves in the memories of the past, recollections that soften the separation of earthly ties. The were few young men who possessed his moral rectitude of character, strong filial affection for home, the aptness for gathering knowledge, the respect due to companions, and the strong reverence and devotion to a religious life. His dying hour was cheered with the happy hope of a life hereafter, and after parting with his friends and with a prayer to his Maker on his lips, he passed into the unknown, the home of rest. G.

Trade for beef cattle has been moderately active at an advance in price of 50 to 1-4c per lb over those obtained one week ago. There has been a fair demand for shipping cattle, most of those sold at our highest quotations being bought up for the English markets. The quality of the offerings was full as good as those in one week ago. Cattle comes hither in fine condition, and the advance in prices has been more upon the common grades than upon those of an extra quality. The cattle from Maine were mostly working oxen and milch cows.

Working Oxen—Supply in market not so large as has been for several weeks past; in fair demand. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $120; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3200 lbs, $141; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2400 lbs, $110; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3000 lbs, $130; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 11 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2500 lbs, $112 50; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $133; 1 pr three-years-old steers, live weight 1600 lbs, $65.

Milch Cows—Extra $50 to $70; ordinary $20 to $45; springers $18 to $35 per head. The cows from Maine were not so good as those which have been brought in for several weeks past. We quote sales of 1 cow and calf for $42; 1 new milch cow $35; 4 springers $30; 2 cows and calves at $40 and $45 each; 2 milch cows at $45 each; 2 cows and calves at $45 to $45.

Veal Calves—Demand from 4 to 6 1-2c per lb live weight. We quote sale of 29 at $5 per head; 46 calves, average weight 120 lbs, at 5c per lb live weight; 14, average weight 120 lbs, at 6c per head.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep cost, landed at Brighton, from 6 1-4 to 7 1-4c per lb. Lambs from 6 1-2 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight—all owned by G W Hollis, Esq, and taken to be slaughtered. None offered on the market for sale.

Swine—Fat hogs 6 3-4 to 7c per lb, live weight; all owned by butchers. Store Pigs—Only a few offered in market for sale, which are brought in wagons from the immediate vicinity, selling by the head at prices ranging from $2 50 to $10 per head. Prices depend much upon the size and weight of them.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

Patrick Sharen, a railroad man, was murdered Friday night, at Gold Creek, Conway county, Ark. Mrs. Mayer, his divorced wife, was arrested on suspicion of having committed the deed.

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

By the explosion of a boiler in a sawmill near Norfolk, Va., Saturday, one white man and three colored men were instantly killed, and two colored men fatally scalded. Three other colored men were badly injured, but may recover.

The Best Remedy for Chapped Hands Is Hegeman's Camphor Ice. It should be rubbed upon the part affected. The warmth of the skin will soften it sufficiently, under ordinary circumstances, but in extreme cold weather, it may be necessary to warm it by the fire. If the hands are badly chapped, apply every night, and protect the hands by wearing an old pair of kid gloves. Hegeman's is the best and most popular of all the Camphor Ices made. Hegeman's Camphor Ice is also a cure for sore lips, chapped face, and sunburn. It is compounded with glycerine, which renders it more emollient than any other Camphor Ice; it will be found a most soothing application to the face after shaving.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

It he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, degrading, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced terms, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaint; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Parsnips.

Parsnips make a very fine growth in most portions of the northern states, as their leaves afford considerable shade, while their roots extend a long distance into the ground. In fact the roots are entirely covered, and are so long that they will reach moisture if it is within a reasonable reach of the surface of the ground. The yield of the crop is very large, and the labor required to cultivate it is not very great. The roots afford desirable food to most kinds of animals, especially to milch cows. They are sweet, and on this account they are relished by young cattle. They are, however, difficult to keep. They contain so much water that they freeze easily. Exposed to the sun and wind they become almost as dry as hay. Freezing does not injure them. In fact, it improves their taste by converting part of the starch into sugar. But parsnips that have been frozen decay very readily, or send out sprouts that absorb the substance of the roots. But with all these objections parsnips afford excellent stock-food late in the fall or early in the spring.

The Sunflower.

We have lately met a paragraph in several of our exchanges, recommending the planting of a sunflower seed in the middle of each hill of pole beans, so that the stalk of the sunflower, growing faster than the beans and always keeping a little ahead, would serve instead of a pole, saving to the grower considerable labor and expense. How this would work in practice we cannot say; but we do know that for many uses the sunflower is a valuable plant to raise. It grows very rapidly, and when thickly planted around sink drains, and other unsightly and offensive places, it not only serves as a screen, but it also is said to have the property of absorbing malarious exhalations and purifying the atmosphere. The seeds are much relished by the poultry, and, if not fed too liberally, are very wholesome. A correspondent of the Country Gentleman recommends the seeds as a cure for the heaves in horses, and says: "A gentleman told me that there is nothing equal to sunflower seeds for that purpose." He had one bushel of the sunflower seeds ground with two bushels of oats, and gave a horse two quarts of the mixed meal, wet in water, three times a day. He took the time when the horse was not used at hard work. In two weeks not a sign of the heaves could be observed, and the horse looked as sleek and bright as if his hair had been oiled. He had cured two horses of his own of this distressing complaint, and recommended it to others who had experienced a like result. In cases of horse distemper and coughs it is an excellent remedy.

—It was Artemus Ward who said that there are two things in this world for which no one is ever prepared—twins.

Centaur Liniment.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

Charles Harger, managing editor of the Evening Wisconsin, of Milwaukee, has been arrested on complaint of Walter Gardner, the city editor of the same paper, for violating the new anti-treat law of Wisconsin. The proceeding is to test the validity of the new law.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Cleveland has an ordinance against the opening of barber shops on Sundays; but a judge has decided that it cannot be enforced, because an Ohio statute permits "necessary work" on Sunday, and he regards shaving as that kind of work.

From numerous cases of dyspepsia and constipation, cured by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, after every other known remedy has been used in vain, its efficacy in restoring the functions of digestion and evacuation is manifest.

Smith F. Manson, passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central railroad, fell under the cars at Whitewater, Wis., Sunday night, and had his head cut off.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

News and Notes.

Hon. Hecum Horsford, manager of the Boston & Lowell railroad, died in Lowell on Tuesday, in the 56th year of his age.

A horrible story comes from Peru, of the massacre of more than 2000 Chinamen in the valley of Canete by the negroes and Cholos. Immense amounts of property have been destroyed by the murderers, and the work of death and plunder is still going on. All the foreigners have fled.

The parish meeting of the First Religious society (Unitarian) of Newburyport was held Monday evening. It was voted to raise $2500 for the expenses of the parish for the year, and to extend a call to Rev. D. W. Morehouse to become the pastor.

The delay in the arrival of the steamer City of New York at San Francisco, was caused by the breaking of the crank pin on the 5th of March, when the vessel was four days out from Aukland. The repairs took twelve days to accomplish, during which time the ship proceeded slowly under sail.

A letter from the editor of the Drovers' Journal, of Liverpool, Eng., says: "The steamer Manitoba arrived here last week from Baltimore with two hundred cattle, mostly bulls from distilleries, affected with the foot and mouth disease." The Baltimore Sun says the Manitoba sailed from Portland, Me., March 5th, and on her arrival at Liverpool reported that two cattle and one sheep were lost on the voyage. The Manitoba never took a cargo from Baltimore, and never was in that port. The Liverpool Drovers' Journal is apparently assisting in the organized attempt of British speculators to injure the market for American provisions, by spreading the most reckless and improbable lies.

Richard Welch, an old man living at Derby, Ind., on Friday saw his son "Mont" watching him, as he was entering the house of his paramour, and he shot five times at the son, missing him. Sunday, "Mont" and his mother, who had been consulting a lawyer about proceeding against the old man, met him on the road, when the old man drew a revolver and said one of them must die. "Mont" at once also drew his pistol, and fired three shots, one piercing his father's brain, another his heart, and a third his abdomen. The son and mother then coolly walked off, leaving the old man lying in the road.

At Panama, March 22d, on the arrival of Gen. Prado, Ex-President of Peru, a sheet was issued in which he was described as "the prototype of the traitors to the cause of American republicanism." In the evening he was tendered a tin-can serenade, accompanied with explosions of Chinese bombs, cries of "bring out the traitor," etc. The authorities finally dispersed the mob.

Frederick Douglass was once almost mobbed in Vergenness, Vermont, for attempting to disseminate abolition sentiments. Now that town has a negro sheriff, a French mayor, and a young woman as town clerk.

A despatch from Constantinople, dated April 4th, says: A shock of earthquake on the island of Chio yesterday destroyed many houses in the town of Chio, and seriously damaged nearly all those left standing. Many inhabitants were killed, and the remainder are encamped in the fields. Many of the neighboring villages were destroyed. Shocks were also felt in the island of Syra and at Smyrna, but no damage is reported. There were fresh shocks of earthquake at Chio today. The inhabitants are taking refuge on board the steamers in the harbor. The governor and some of the officials have quit the town. A government despatch has been received at Athens concerning the earthquake at Chio, which states that the effects were felt at Tseome, and the persons killed and injured are estimated at 3,000. The shock was felt at Carosto, Eubola and at Tinos. At Syra one house fell.

Political.

An investigating committee appointed by the Arkansas senate during its recent session, reports finding the accounts of State Treasurer Thomas J. Churchill $47,000 short. Churchill is now governor of Arkansas, and will have to order the attorney general to prosecute himself (as late treasurer) and his bondsmen. He claims that the alleged deficit is simply the result of a clerical error.

The Wisconsin legislature adjourned on the 4th inst. A sensation was created in the assembly on the 1st, when Mr. Sloan of Appleton, a leading democrat, arose to a personal explanation, renounced his allegiance to the democratic party, and joined the republicans.

A Western correspondent of the New York Tribune thus succinctly states the question concerning the banking system: "The national banking system is the best that has ever existed in this country. It has done more toward bringing about prosperity, by giving us a stable currency, than all the acts of the democratic party in the last twenty years. Consequently, there has been a deep-seated jealousy in the democratic heart, an itching desire to be able to make an attack on the banks should there be anything done by them that could be tortured into the semblance of an offence. The republican party is the father of the national banking system. Proud of its child, it will defend it from the attacks of the demagogue or the communist."

Frogs as Food.

Eugene Blackford, the great New York fish dealer, tells a correspondent that New York consumes to-day more frogs than Paris. "We frequently sell to our own customers over 200 pounds of frogs' legs a day. They are on the bills of nearly all our hotels and restaurants, and are in great esteem among epicures. Anybody can eat them, for they are just like chicken, in that they have no peculiar taste." "Where do you get your frogs?" "Mainly from Canada, where they are raised in great quantities for city markets. Three frogs will furnish a pound of meat; and we get twenty to thirty-five cents a pound, so it pays pretty well to raise them. We keep a large supply on hand all the time. They are caught in nets, or with hooks baited with a bit of red flannel."

A Splendid Room.

A dashing young fellow was recently very attentive to a young lady who did not secretly favor his attentions, and who is blessed with an observing little brother of only a few summers' growth. The lady's admirer was visiting her a few days ago, when the little chap broke into their presence, and mounting the dashing young man's knee, said:

"Haven't you got a fine room?"

"Oh, yes," proudly replied the dashing young fellow, whose vanity was evidently touched by the remark. Seeing, as he thought, in the circumstance an opportunity to make a favorable impression on the sister, he gave his moustache an extra twist, and reiterated his reply with emphasis: "Oh, yes; a very fine room!"

"I thought so," said the young hopeful, musingly.

"But what made you think so?" asked the young lady's admirer, his curiosity by this time fully aroused.

"Because," was the crushing reply, "sister Maggie said she liked your room better than your company."

A Rival to Kerosene.

M. Kordig, a Hungarian, has been lately performing some experiments at scientific meetings in Paris, with a combustible liquid, which is offered for lighting purposes. Having arranged on the table several lamps in which the fluid burns with a beautiful flame, M. Kordig states that the substance presents no danger of fire or explosion, and gives the following tests: "He pours a quantity of liquid on the hat and lights it, whereupon a long flame springs up to the ceiling. He puts his hat on his head and waits till the flame goes out, and the hat is then shown to be intact. Next he pours some of the liquid on the floor, and on a handkerchief, and lights it; the floor and handkerchief are noways damaged. Some drops may be put in the hollow of one's hand and burned without producing appreciable pain. These facts are readily explained. M. Kordig's mineral essence boils at about thirty-five degrees Centigrade, and the tension of its vapor is considerable, so that it is not the liquid that burns but its vapor. The new liquid is said to be obtained from natural oil beds recently discovered in Hungary. It has a slight smell of petroleum, and produces on the hand a cold sensation like ether.

—Bernhardt says of American men that they are "too practical; not poetic enough; chew too much tobacco; do not lift their hats freely when they meet ladies."

—A little boy of seven had been ordered to take claret by the doctor. A person, dining with the family, said to him: "You should put a little water with it; it brings out the taste." "That's very fine," responded the seven-year-old, "but I prefer the taste left in."

—"Henry is so practical!" said Mrs. Youngwife. "When mother went into the country last year, Henry sent all her things after her the very next day; he said she might want some of them, you know. And it's kind o' funny," she went on, "mother did want them, for she has never come back to live with us since. Wasn't it queer?"

A Romance of the Crescent City.

In New Orleans on a warm day early in February, a Mr. Isaac Kern strolled into an office of the Louisiana State Lottery and laid down one dollar, received a half of ticket No. 30,588, put it in his pocket and quietly awaited the drawing, and to his joyful surprise, like Aboo Ben Adhem, his ticket led all the rest, and he obtained $15,000—if he had spent another dollar it might have been $30,000. The next drawing takes place April 12th. Write those who have written to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y., or the same person in New Orleans, La., may anticipate a pleasant surprise.

Beecher's Latest.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher created a sensation in his church last Sunday by making the following statement: "There came to me," he said, "a member of my own church, the mother of a young woman, who said that her daughter had become fascinated with the Roman Catholic worship, and wanted to unite with that church. I said to her, 'Tell your child to wait one year until her own mind and judgment are settled, and if at the end of that time she shall find that she is drawn nearer to God and to heaven through that church, let her come to me and I will take her by the hand and carry her to the door.' At the end of the year she was still anxious to enter that church, and I sat down and wrote a letter to an honored Catholic pastor of this city, and said, 'This lamb has found greener pastures in your fields than in mine.' She joined the Catholic church, and is to-day a happy Christian girl in that communion."

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

HELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that the effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * * * * * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his first belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a large number of the ills complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

About five thousand pounds of fish came in on Tuesday, and sold for five dollars a hundred weight.

The schooner Daniel C. Baker came off Pumpkin island ledge on Tuesday morning's high tide. No damage discovered.

Mrs. John Tanton has among her window plants a rose-bush about a foot high, which has yielded thirty blossoms this winter.

The schooner Flying Eagle, in coming into the harbor on Tuesday, in jibing her mainsail broke her main-boom in the middle, and had to replace it with a new one.

It is reported that Hon. Daniel Marcy, before starting for Europe, sent the trustees of the Children's Home a check for $50 to aid in putting the new building in repair.

Rev. Mr. McGinley will preach in the North church Fast day, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, on "The growing demands of the Nation upon the patriotism and piety of the people."

Chas. E. Batchelder, Esq., has resigned the position of secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which he has so efficiently and acceptably filled for some years past.

Dr. J. Wm. Van Namee will hold a public circle in Good Templars' hall on Wednesday evening, April 6th, for the purpose of giving psychometric tests. Admission 25 cents. Circle will form at 7:30.

The incendiary who set fire to the building on Clinton street which was burned a short time ago, has been caught. He is a boy about sixteen years old, named Harvey Downing, and lives on Christian Shore. He confesses the crime.

Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, have received their new hats. They are of the regular fireman style, black, with red fronts and white letters. The officers are distinguished by their hats having white fronts with black letters. They were obtained from Anderson & Jones of New York, and are finished up in No. 1 style.

If it will be any consolation to those who are made unhappy by the present style of weather, we shall feel happy to inform them that in the month of April, 1862, there was a twenty-four-days gale, and persons living at the Shoals were unable to communicate with either the main land or among the islands, during that time.

Mr. Charles E. Akerman opened a grocery store on Daniel street, Monday, and will offer for sale goods of the best quality. Mr. Akerman was formerly with Mr. David Norton at the Creek, and removed to Great Falls about two years ago. At the solicitation of friends he has brought his stock to this city, and persons who visit him will receive courteous treatment, and can purchase goods at the lowest market prices.

The Pullman train from this city for Boston, Tuesday morning, killed an unknown man at Newburyport. It would appear that the man must have been walking through the tunnel when he was struck by the train, and dragged outside to where the body was discovered. His head was horribly mangled, his right arm completely crushed, his right foot torn off, and the flesh and muscles stripped off his legs, leaving the bones entirely bare. His body was also terribly bruised. The man was neatly clothed in a dark suit.

O. A. Frost, proprietor of the Atlantic house at Wells beach, is dangerously ill at his home in Great Falls.

Boatswain H. P. Grace, U. S. N., stationed at this navy yard, has just sent to Hon. Alexander H. Rice, as a token of personal esteem, a very handsome and unique cane, which was cut from the frame of the United States steamship Kearsarge directly after her glorious fight with the Alabama, and the head is of metal which came from the hull of the same vessel.

Mr. Editor: I was very glad to see by the paper of Tuesday morning that women are beginning to be appreciated in a business sense. It is perfectly splendid. Pa says we all ought to be able to earn our own living. But when Sairey Gamp's piece was read at the breakfast table, Pa almost growled at the idea of women looking after savings banks, and he said something about there being "plenty of old women managing these banks now." Is it possible that the capacities of our sex will ever come to be appreciated?

DORA SPENLOW.

Bennett & Moulton's Juvenile Opera Co., which is to appear at Music hall on Fast day, afternoon and evening, in the Bells of Corneville, recently performed in the town hall at Beverly, Mass., and the local reporter said: "All parts were well taken, being represented with elegant costumes and fine music. The audience showed their high appreciation of the various parts, by frequent applause. They are greeted with full houses wherever they go. The played at Amesbury a few nights ago. The hall was literally packed, there being hardly standing room." At the afternoon performance children will be admitted at fifteen cents each, and adults at thirty-five cents.

RUSSIA.

Dr. A. P. Peabody's lecture on Russia, in behalf of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which was postponed from December, is at last definitely announced for Monday, April 11th, at eight o'clock P. M. The recent tragedy in Russia, which has drawn the eyes of all nations upon her, and has awakened so much interest in her history and present condition, gives an increased value to this lecture. Dr. Peabody visited Russia in 1878, and spent considerable time in her capital and travelling through her territory, and no one can better satisfy the natural curiosity now felt in everything connected with that vast empire. This will probably be the last opportunity afforded to our people to hear our distinguished townsman before he again sails for Europe, to be absent for a long time. The lecture was to have been given at Miss Morgan's seminary, she having kindly offered her rooms for the purpose, but the desire to hear the lecture has proved so general that it has been decided to have it given in the Middle street chapel, and to put the tickets on public sale. All friends of the distinguished speaker and of the society for whose benefit the lecture is given, and all who are interested in the subject of the lecture itself, should take pains to secure tickets early, lest they find themselves too late. Tickets at Myers', Goodrich's and Preston's.

NORAH BARTLETT.

Miss Norah Bartlett is rapidly winning her way to a high position in her chosen profession, as is evidenced by the following extracts from the Boston papers. The dramatic critic of the Advertiser, referring to the performance of the Heart of Mid-Lothian at the Museum, says:

The acting was of different degrees of merit and demerit. Most of the company had a terrible time in wrestling with the Scotch dialect, and were utterly overthrown. Miss Clarke was easily best at this, Mr. Warren and Mr. Wilson coming next. * * It was not alone in her mastery of dialect that Miss Clarke led. Her impersonation of "Jeanie Deans" was the dramatic incident of the evening, the frankness, simplicity, nobility and unselfishness of the humble heroine being interpreted with singular naturalness, dignity, grace and charm. The spirit of the Scottish lass seemed to have entered the actress, and her costume, speech and action, were all fitted to the "very quality" of the character. A more unaffected and yet artistic assumption could not be desired. Miss Norah Bartlett certainly came next in "Madge Wildfire," her performance having a striking freedom, picturesqueness and vitality, and being happily free from the appearance of effort. Miss Bartlett's make-up was exceedingly good, and seemed to have been studied directly from the sketch of "Madge" in the long-famous engravings of Scott's heroine.

Speaking of the same performance, the Post remarks:

The ladies rather bore off the honors of the evening, in spite of the excellent work done by the gentlemen. Miss Clarke, as "Jeanie Deans," beautifully portrayed the simple, honest, true-hearted Scotch lassie, and Miss May Davenport, as "Effie Deans," has seldom appeared to better advantage. Miss Norah Bartlett made her reappearance at this theatre in the part of "Madge Wildfire." She made a decided hit, looking and acting the half-crazy gypsy girl to the life. The good impression she made in "The Guv'nor" is more than confirmed by her last night's performance.

The Boston Journal says:

Miss Norah Bartlett sustained the character of Madge Wildfire with great spirit and skill.

The Boston Herald of Sunday last announced the engagement of Miss Bartlett as a member of the Museum company for another season.

A LOCAL WANT SUPPLIED.

Messrs. Greenough & Co. are engaged in a canvass of the city for a new edition of the Directory, and we are glad to note the fact that our business men have given every encouragement to the work by renewing their advertisements and their subscriptions. It is two years since the last publication of the Directory. The new work will be ready in June, and in addition to its statistics and former recitals will contain lists of the senators and representatives in the state legislature, and of the courts (state and federal) which hold sessions in this city; city government officials, fire department, etc.; military organizations; Masonic, Odd Fellows and other similar societies; United States naval and civil officers; churches, schools, lists of officers of the various benevolent and reformatory societies, and much information of this nature, with not only a list of the householders but a street directory, a feature peculiar to Portsmouth. The book is a source of information, a repository of historical worth, and every family should possess a copy. Such enterprises should be encouraged always. It is a costly enterprise, the canvassing and publication requiring a great outlay, for which the enterprising publisher can only be repaid by a corresponding liberality on the part of our citizens in encouragingly subscribing for this work.

—One hair in the hash will cause more hard feeling than seven mottoes on the wall can overcome.

—Mr. J. S. Brown, the President's private secretary, is a native of Washington, the son of a carpenter there. The Syracuse Journal says that "his Sunday-school teacher, Mr. Lattimore, inspired the boy to aim higher than carpenter's work as assistant to his father, and gave him instruction in Latin, which he learned at night after handling carpenters' tools through the day. After a year or two of study his teacher advised him to learn short-hand. To this he applied his patience and industry, always practicing at night after the day's labor. Thus he worked on, till at length he was employed by Garfield to write for him evenings. Proving expert, he was engaged to go to Mentor, where he survived the siege of office hunters." His present pay is $3,200 a year.

Naval Affairs.

Rear-Admirals E. R. P. Rodgers, E. T. Nichols and Donald McN. Fairfax, who were appointed a board of officers to examine and report upon a new type of vessels for flagships, met at the department in Washington on Thursday last, and prepared their report. The board was appointed especially for the purpose of examining plans submitted by Commodore William G. Temple, which plans are approved, with suggested modifications. Commodore Temple believes that each squadron should have a flagship of a smaller and faster type than the vessels at present used. These flagships would carry simply the fleet commander and his staff, and in event of necessity they could be transferred to a larger vessel, and the smaller ship could be used as a fast dispatch boat. Commodore Temple holds that each squadron should have a vessel equal in size, speed and armament to the Trenton. The report of the board has been handed to the secretary of the navy.

Lieut. Robert M. Berry has been detached from duty at the Washington navy yard and ordered to command the Mary & Helen and the expedition to be sent in search of the Jeannette; Master Howard S. Waring is detached from the training ship Saratoga, and ordered as executive officer of the Mary & Helen; Assistant Surgeon M. D. Jones, on duty at the naval academy, and J. D. Costillo, on duty at Boston, have been ordered as the medical officers upon the Mary & Helen.

The United States ship St. Marys is preparing to start on her summer cruise, beginning May 1st. She is first to cruise in Long Island sound, and about June 1st starts for Plymouth, Eng., Lisbon, Madeira, etc., returning to the New England coast about the first of August. There are on board about ninety boys, the ship being used as a nautical school under supervision and direction of the board of education of New York city. The St. Marys is commanded by Capt. Henry Erben, formerly stationed at the navy yard near this city, and has on board instructers who teach the boys all branches taught in public schools, with navigation, sail-making, splicing, etc. The boys from their education acquired in this mode are able to command vessels in after life, and become successful men as ship-masters.

The U. S. S. Quinnebaug arrived at Barcelona on the 20th of March, from Marseilles.

—It is stated that Senator Hamlin and Postmaster General Maynard were recently talking together of the unsatisfactoriness of public life. Mr. Maynard complained that he had been a quarter of a century in public life, and was poorer than when he entered. "Well," replied Mr. Hamlin, "I am not. I had nothing when I commenced, and I have nothing now."

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

The 1804 dollar, in fine condition, is said to be valued at $1,000 by collectors. There are twelve of this date known—two in the United States mint, two in New York, three in Boston, one in Salem, Mass., two in Philadelphia, one in Cincinnati, and one in Liverpool, England.

General Wm. T. Withers, the celebrated blooded stock raiser and proprietor of Fair Lawn Stock Farm, Lexington, Ky., says, Liebig Co.'s Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel "should be in every stable in the country." Cures founder, spavin, bursal enlargements, broken knees, speedy cuts and sore eyes. Sold in fifty cents and one dollar sizes; reduced rates by the half gallon or gallon. Beware of worthless imitations. Depot 60 Maiden Lane, New York.

A Berlin despatch says Prince Carolath has obtained a decree of divorce against his wife, nee Countess Hertzfeldt, for adultery. It is said that Count Herbert Bismarck's marriage with the divorced woman will soon take place. The count now appears to be reconciled with his father.

It Is Not Strange

That the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey has grown in popularity since its high character has been maintained from the beginning. Druggists and grocers sell it. See that the signatures of the proprietors, Chester H. Graves & Sons, is over each cork.

A Santa Barbara, Cal., despatch says Mrs. Louisa Sargent of Santa Rita started alone on horseback, Saturday, to visit a neighbor. Sunday her body was found buried near a shepherd's camp. She had evidently been outraged and murdered. A Mexican shepherd has been arrested, and is in danger of being lynched.

Having examined the formula from which Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is prepared, we recommend it as a safe and reliable medicine for the cure of asthma, coughs, colds, and all diseases of the throat, chest, and lungs.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 45 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

In five years a New Hampshire judge has divorced 227 couples.

By a misplaced switch, a through freight train ran into the Concord railroad car-house at Concord, on the night of the 4th inst. The locomotive of the freight knocked in a large wooden door, and drove one of three passenger cars standing on the track inside through the brick end of the building. Two of the passenger cars, the locomotive, and some freight cars were more or less injured. The entire damage will probably not exceed $1,000.

Found Him at Last.

Captain G. W. Neilson, of New Orleans, has just come into possession of a magnificent silver telescope, awarded to him over twenty years ago by the British government for brave and noble conduct in rescuing during a fierce gale on Nov. 6th, 1859, the crew of the British brig Penelope, waterlogged and at the mercy of the waves. The crew numbered eleven, and were discovered clinging to the rigging of the helpless vessel. The telescope was first sent to Washington, then to Boston, then to New Orleans, where it remained during the war. The owner was advertised for in 1878, but not until a short time ago did the captain hear of it. The old sailor is now happy in the thought that his action did not go unrecognized by the British admiralty.

There was a gathering of Spiritualists at Essex Junction, Vt., April 2d and 3d. This sect is growing rapidly in Vermont, for the reason that it is conducted as a religious organization, and does not tolerate anything objectionable to those who do not agree with their tenets. The Vermont Spiritualist State society, chartered by the legislature, is about locating a camp-ground on an island in Lake Champlain, not far from St. Albans. It is said to be a lovely spot.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

Smith Arnold of West Sutton, Mass., committed suicide April 2d by hanging himself.

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

William Schultz, a boy who was thrown from a car by a conductor and permanently injured, has recovered $15,000 damages from the Third Avenue Horse Car company of New York city.

General Wm. T. Withers, the celebrated blooded stock raiser and proprietor of Fair Lawn Stock Farm, Lexington, Ky., says, Liebig Co.'s Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel "should be in every stable in the country." Cures founder, spavin, bursal enlargements, broken knees, speedy cuts and sore eyes. Sold in fifty cents and one dollar sizes; reduced rates by the half gallon or gallon. Beware of worthless imitations. Depot 60 Maiden Lane, New York.

Elections.

On the 4th inst., in the city election at Cincinnati, William Means, democrat, was elected by about 2500 majority. The republicans elected all the rest of the city ticket, excepting one member of the board of education. The city council stands thirty-two republicans to eighteen democrats. The republican candidate was defeated on his record.

In Chicago, on the 4th, the democrats carried the city by a fair majority.

John T. Rich was elected to succeed Hon. O. D. Conger as congressman from the 7th district of Michigan, on the 4th inst., by over 3000 majority.

Columbus, Ohio, elected a democratic mayor April 4th. The republican candidate (who was up for re-election) was scratched by the temperance men because he didn't do enough last year toward closing up the saloons, and by the liquor men because he did too much.

The New Hampshire Fish and Game League.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Fish and Game League was held at Mirror hall, Manchester, April 5th. Col. John B. Clarke was elected president; Charles L. Richardson, secretary; Ex-Gov. Frederick Smyth, treasurer.

Mr. A. H. Powers, one of the New Hampshire fish commissioners, made an interesting report, detailing the operations of the state hatching house in Plymouth, and the plant of young fry in our inland waters during the year. There are now in the hatchery 3,000 California trout eggs, 124,000 Schoodic salmon eggs, and 50,000 shad waiters now hatching. There were received from Germany 50,000 saibling eggs, of which there now remain about 36,000 young saibling to plant. Of brook trout there are about 100,000. There are also about 60,000 salmon eggs, taken last fall, and 450,000 young salmon will soon be ready for the Merrimack river. The commissioner reported a universal interest in the subject of restocking the inland waters with fish.

An interesting discussion followed with reference to field and forest game, and several speakers favored protection to partridges. Commissioner Webber believed that the low water in the Merrimack last summer was the only reason why salmon were not seen in abundance.

Commissioner Hayes thought there would be no trouble in restocking the Merrimack with salmon, if the Massachusetts fishermen would let them alone.

In the afternoon, Rev. Henry Powers delivered an address, and was followed by Geo. P. Whitman, Esq., who read an interesting paper on "North American grouse," and an address by Col. Waterman Smith on "Messina quail." After a somewhat protracted discussion on general topics, the meeting adjourned, with a resolution of thanks to the speakers.

A Western Flood.

Advices of the 5th inst., from Yankton, Dakota territory, report a disastrous overflow of the river in that vicinity, owing to ice blockades and freshets. The lower portion of Yankton was submerged, and much damage done, but no lives were lost. At Bonhomme two families were known to have perished, and seven other families were supposed to have gone. The village of Green Island had been swept away, and its site was covered with twelve feet of ice, but no lives were lost. It was supposed that the flood was caused by the ice choking up the channel of the river a short distance below Yankton, which turned the great volume of water across the low lands on the Dakota side, causing it to flow eastward thirty miles before it re-entered the old channel at Vermillion. This point on the river bank was reported to have been carried away, with the loss of thirty lives. The river at Yankton was about six miles in width, and its surface covered with broken ice. Further east a few miles, the water broadened to fifteen miles, retaining that width for forty-five miles.

The Earthquake at Chio.

A despatch from Constantinople to London, April 6th, gives the estimated number of the victims at Chio at 5000. All the foreign men-of-war at Smyrna had started for Chio; the U. S. S. Galena had been ordered there by Minister Longstreet. A despatch from Vienna, on the same date, reported thirty villages destroyed in the island of Chio, and 40,000 people rendered homeless; at Castro, the chief town, four hundred corpses had been found.

News and Notes.

Ex-Secretary William M. Evarts and Ex-Senators Allan G. Thurman and Timothy O. Howe, sailed on the 4th inst. from New York for Paris to represent the United States government in the International Monetary Conference. Mr. Evarts was accompanied by Mrs. Evarts, his unmarried daughters, Miss Rachel Sherman, a daughter of Gen. Sherman, and Mr. Perkins of Boston, who goes out as his secretary, and who is to be married to Miss Louise Evarts in Paris.

The handsome new church of the Unitarian society in Hartford, Conn., was dedicated on the 3d inst. It is exactly like an opera house, with opera chairs, a gallery, and a platform arranged like a stage, and which can be used for concerts and light theatricals. The cost of the church, site and organ was $28,000, and the society has a fund of $30,000 left over.

Maggie Hamm of Bangor, Me., who marched through the Presidential campaign with the Bangor Hancock Legion as "daughter of the regiment," sent her photograph taken in costume to Gen. Hancock, and has lately received a handsome autograph letter from that distinguished soldier.

Charles Patch of Newfield, Me., who is represented as a steady young man, was tarred and feathered recently by two young females, according to the Sanford News. After he went home he applied kerosene oil to remove the tar. In consequence he was seized with insanity, and ran for the woods. The neighbors caught him and carried him home, but it is feared he cannot recover.

Aaron Cragin of Weston, Vt., father of Ex-Senator Cragin of New Hampshire, has just died at a great age.

The first suit in Vermont under the civil damage act, by which sellers of liquor are liable for injuries received by intoxicated buyers, has been brought by the heirs of the late Chauncey Richards against D. P. Moore, hotel proprietor at East Berkshire. Damages are set at $5,000. Richards was returning from the hotel one day last fall, drunk, when he was thrown from his wagon and killed.

Henry Wallace, a colored man, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his house at Palmer, Mass., on the night of the 2d inst. He was intemperate.

A story comes from Waterville, Me., of a case of domestic infelicity, wherein a wife suspected her husband and her sister of improper conduct, and so told the parties she was going away, but instead, hid in a closet. She watched the pair, and found her suspicions confirmed. Having provided herself with a revolver when she went into ambush, she opened a vigorous fire on the enemy. Of three shots which were fired, one took effect in the naughty sister's nose and another in her arm. Her wayward partner was not hit, but precipitately fled from the scene.

A Custom-House Scare.

A writer in a contemporary describes a terrible scare that upset the custom-house authorities in Venice, some time since. There came to the city a curiously-shaped box, and this contained a still more curiously-shaped contrivance—implement—instrument — article, which gravely alarmed the custom-house officers, who sent for their superiors, who in turn sent for the police. The thing was made of leather, and upon it were extraordinary lumps or elevations. At length an astute official hit upon the idea—it was an infernal machine! This was just about the time of the Bremerhaven explosion, and every one was on the lookout for one of these dreaded objects. What to do next nobody knew. In the end a reckless porter was bribed to carry the article to an outhouse, and there it reposed for some days, the most daring of those who had the right to approach looking through the window furthest away from the terrible affair to see whether it looked as if it were going to explode. Their main object was, of course, to catch the criminal who sent it, and one day the desperate villain—a wealthy English gentleman—appeared and actually dared to complain of delay in forwarding the machine. He said it was not an infernal machine at all—simply his wife's side-saddle. So it was; and for the first time in their lives the custom-house authorities were made acquainted with what in Venice was more than a novelty.

The Stage Driver's Death-Ride.

About forty-five years ago Boston experienced an unusually severe winter. It was so cold that one January morning, as two rural members of the legislature were warming their purple hands at the cheerful open fireplace of the Old City Tavern one of them remarked to the other, "Purty cold weather, cap'n." "Yes," replied the addressed party; "I heerd a man in the Plymouth stage say last night, that the thermometer down there was below zero." On that night the stage from Newburyport arrived at its headquarters, the Eastern Stage House, No. 84 Ann street, under circumstances peculiar and extraordinary. The frost-laden wind howled around the ancient tavern with such effect that landlord, guests and stable-hands kept as far as possible within doors. While thus making themselves comfortable, the Newburyport stage, quite prompt to its usual time, dashed through the archway into the yard in gallant style, but the driver seemed in no hurry to dismount. He was spoken to, but no answer. Upon investigation he was found to be frozen stiff, and dead; his icy hands still clasping the reins, which during the latter portion of the terrible ride had been powerless to guide the sagacious animals. They, with instinctive sagacity, had sought their accustomed shelter in the stable of the old stage tavern.

Danville, Olney and Ohio River Railroad of Illinois.

A safe seven per cent investment at a first cost in the neighborhood of par is new in large demand among all classes of investors. The Danville, Olney and Ohio River railroad is a standard gauge road, 100 miles in length, traversing the most productive portion of the fertile state of Illinois, running through a fine stock, grain, lumber and coal section, now barren of railroad facilities. Its northern terminus is the flourishing city of Danville, 125 miles south of Chicago, where it connects with the Wabash system, and has traffic arrangements with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, one of the best paying properties in the west, of which it is practically the direct southern extension. This railroad, to be equipped and ready for operation in August (50 miles now constructed and the remainder in process of construction,) bonded with equipment at only $8000 per mile, would seem to be attractive and safe for large and small investors. This seven per cent thirty years coupon bond now offered at par should speedily increase in value and the bonus of stock which now is offered with it. It is stated by the officers of the company that they speedily hope to make an actively quotable stock by listing it on both the New York and Boston markets.—Boston Journal.

Compound Syrup of

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurances by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * * * * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

FAST DAY.

This is the day on which the people of this state, by the appointment of the governor, are expected to observe the ancient custom of fast. It is not as universally observed in our day as was the custom many years ago. Some people attend church, a few from motives of conscientious duty, others to listen to what startling sayings the pulpit may see fit to utter on this privileged occasion, and not a few for the purpose of countenancing the observance of the ordinances of religion. But few persons attend church from choice on such days. In fact, Fast day is neither a holy day or a holiday, but a period when there is a cessation from business,—a legal vacation.

Filled with respect for the proclamation of the governor as we are apt to be, and in the performance of our duty as legal citizens, we shall abstain from publishing a daily paper on Friday morning, and trust that our readers will show their appreciation of our suggestions by such a proper observance of the day as will best satisfy their consciences.

According to Gov. Head's proclamation this is a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer, "the cheerful performance of the duties of which we may not disregard it we would, and would not willingly if we could." This gives us a wide range in the observance, and we need not disfigure our faces and appear unto men to fast,—and then quietly slip round to Preston's and engage seats for the opera at Music hall in the evening.

AROUND HOME.

Services will be held at the South Parish this forenoon.

A gondola load of two hundred barrels of alewives, caught in the weirs of Swampscott river last fall, was delivered at C. Morris Tredick's wharf on Wednesday.

A game of base ball was played on the circus ground, Wednesday of this week, between a Creek nine and a nine of the south end boys, and was won by the latter, twenty-one to six.

Henry Fredet, a Frenchman twenty years old, was arrested in Dover on the evening of the 5th inst. on a charge of setting the fire in No. 1 mill, March 9th. He was employed in the mill at the time of the fire, and confesses the crime, saying he did it because he did not want to work. In the police court he pleaded guilty and was placed under $2000 bonds for appearance before the supreme court in September.

While three little boys from Kittery were playing about the vessels in "rotton row" at the navy yard, running from one to another, on the 6th inst., one of them, about six years old, hit his head against a port-casing in attempting to pass from the Sabine to the Omaha, and fell into the water, a distance of about fifteen feet. Some workmen hastened to the spot and lowered the little fellow a rope, by which he was hauled part way up, when he let go his hold and again fell into the water. A man then went down in a bowline, and the boy was gotten out in a very exhausted condition.

This afternoon and evening, at Music hall, Bennett & Moulton's Juvenile Opera Co. will present the "Bells of Corneville." The company have met with remarkable success in their many presentations of "Pinafore," and in this role they appear to no less advantage. The pretty costumes, the graceful carriage, and the charming vocal performances of the company all combine to render their entertainments exceedingly popular and pleasing to the eye and ear. The afternoon performance, which commences at half-past two o'clock, offers an excellent opportunity to give the children a treat at a small cost. See adv't.

Quite a large number of absent "sons" arrived home on the 6th inst., to enjoy the festivities of Fast day in the bosoms of their families.

Addison Carroll and George A. Perkins have been drawn as petit jurymen from ward four, to report at the April term of the supreme court.

Rev. F. A. Dillingham, formerly pastor of the Universalist church in this city, has accepted a call from the Universalist society in Danvers, Mass., to become their pastor.

The steamer Allentown, Swasey master, which arrived at this port from Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon of this week with a cargo of coal for the Portsmouth coal-pockets, made the run in fifty-five hours, which is said to be the best time on record.

The lecture on "Russia," by Rev. Dr. Peabody, will be given in the Congregational chapel on Middle street. Some of our readers were misled by the announcement of yesterday that it would be delivered in the Middle street chapel, inferring that the vestry of the Middle street Baptist church was meant.

The schooner Robert Pettis, Snow master, arrived at this port on the 6th inst. from Deal's island, Virginia, with a cargo of oysters to W. Freeman. She was mighty glad to get in, having experienced a succession of heavy northwest gales ever since she left the capes of Virginia. She brought the first cargo of oysters to arrive here this season.

Mrs. John J. Pickering of Portsmouth, who has for several years been a very active and efficient worker in the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, visited this city on Saturday last for the purpose of co-operating with the friends of the cause here. She called upon some of our most distinguished citizens, and visited several prominent ladies at their residences. Mrs. Pickering, who is an ornament to the best society in Portsmouth, and a director in the New Hampshire S. P. C. A., was led to take an active interest in the work of the organization by personally witnessing the most inhuman treatment of animals which had been sold to butchers and were awaiting slaughter.—Manchester Mirror.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Apr. 6; Batchelder, J.

Harvey Downing, for feloniously setting fire to a house on Clinton street owned by Mrs. Searcey, was committed to await the action of the grand jury.

THE NEW STREET.

Mr. Editor: On Friday next, April 8th, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the court house in this city, the county commissioners will give a hearing on the new street which the Eastern railroad proposes the city shall make from the foot of Vaughan street through the Raynes shipyard to Elm street.

I hear there is some opposition to the building of this street, though why there should be any it is difficult to conceive. It is urged that it would cost many thousands of dollars, and would be of no possible benefit to the city or citizens. The question of cost may be put aside as unworthy the consideration of a wealthy, flourishing city like ours, where the taxes are light and the debt infinitesimal; suppose it should cost eight or ten thousand dollars to build it—what of it?

And I do not think well taken the objection that the street will not benefit that portion of the public which has occasion to travel to and from the district north of the Eastern railroad. True, the tracks will have to be crossed just the same, and at exactly the same point, and a man's horse will be frightened by the cars just the same, after the new road is built, as now. But then think what an advantage it will be, when you are going toward Christian Shore, to have your horse run straight ahead and jump into the dock, instead of being compelled to run into the soap factory as at present. Or if coming the other way, how much less likely your horse will be to take fright when he unexpectedly pops out from behind the big house on the corner directly into the face and eyes of a snorting, clanging locomotive, than he is now, when he has to see the locomotive for a hundred or two feet before he reaches it.

But even allowing that the travelling public will not be in the slightest degree benefitted by the building of the new street; just consider what an excellent thing it will be for the Eastern railroad. Of course it is not pretended that a street can be built that will be any better, as a street, than the one now existing; the only possible advantage to be gained is in having the turn from Vaughan street to Elm street near the river, instead of as now beside the railroad tracks; and even this will be of no advantage, if people are still allowed to use the old route. They must be made to go the new way, and this of course will necessitate the discontinuance as a highway of the street from the Vaughan street crossing to the Elm street ward room, and the fencing off of Elm street at that point so as to make it merely a lane. This will of course cause the private property on that street to deteriorate greatly in value, but then it will enable the city to sell the discontinued piece of street to the railroad at a merely nominal price, and thereby supply the railroad with much coveted facilities—at the expense of the city. Then the removal of the ward-room building, and the concession of a small slice off the ancient burial ground, would enable several extra lines of track to be laid, which would make the pleasure of running the gauntlet at the crossing even greater than at present.

And perhaps, if the city will only expend ten or twenty thousand dollars to increase the facilities of the Eastern railroad, the railroad at some time will put a gate at a crossing somewhere.

I trust that what I have written will convince every reader of the duty of the city to at once build the asked-for new street, and that the city government will see the propriety of withdrawing all objection to the scheme. GLANG.

VIRTUE REWARDED.

One day this week a respectable appearing stranger called upon a resident of this city, said he had a whiskey barrel he wished to soak out, and asked permission of the Portsmouth man to put the barrel in his barn, fill it with water, and leave it there for a few hours, which permission was at once granted to the gentlemanly unknown, who soon afterward brought the barrel, filled it and left it, according to programme.

A little later, one of our grocers (who also deals a little in the ardent) was called upon by a stranger, who wanted to dispose of a barrel of very superior old whiskey, a sample of which was produced. The stranger would sell very cheap. "The fact is," he remarked confidentially, "that I havn't paid for the whiskey, and don't intend to; I hav'n't got any money, but I must have some, and I'll let you have the whiskey at eighty per cent on the cost. It's down in Mr. Blank's barn now." A bargain was finally struck, the grocer agreeing to pay half price for the whiskey if it proved equal to the sample, and the pair proceeded to the barn, where the sampling bottle was put into the bung-hole of the barrel, and came out full of very choice stuff. The money was paid, the barrel loaded into a wagon, and the stranger departed.

On the way to the store, the bung of the barrel became loosened and some of the whiskey escaped; and after the purchase was safely stored in the cellar, the grocer very naturally went for his gauge-rod, to ascertain how much of the precious liquid had been lost. Thrusting the rod into the bung-hole until it struck the other side of the barrel, he drew it out, and was astonished to find only about an inch of its end moistened. Shaking the barrel, he found it full; but again the rod was thrust in, and came out dry. Further investigation shew that the barrel had been fitted with a tin tube long enough to reach across it, with its open end carefully fitted around the bung-hole; and that all the whiskey the barrel contained was in this tube.

The wronged grocer has lost all faith in human nature. He has arrived at the conclusion that honest dealing is a myth, and says he will never again attempt to do a generous and charitable act.

HOTEL CHANGES.

The Catholic population of Dover now numbers five thousand, and when the new mills are completed it is estimated the number of resident Catholics will reach six thousand. They have bought the New Hampshire hotel property, and will tear down the stable and remove the main house to front on Church street, and on the site of the hotel will erect a great church. The New Hampshire hotel and the Dover hotel opposite, owned by Hon. C. W. Woodman and once kept by Dea. Wrisley, were formerly the places where travellers stayed in Dover. In the Dover hotel yard the country stages were put up. Portsmouth passengers would go to Dover in the afternoon stages, and proceed thence toward Conway, Meredith, Wolfeboro' and other sections of the state, and when the stages around the Dover hotel were starting out there was a busy scene. There was a hotel at the landing and one in Franklin square, but here was the great amount of entertainment. Long after, an attempt was made to run a hotel called the United States, near the Boston & Maine railroad station, but that did not succeed. Now all the hotels are near the railway stations, and the fact that on the Berwick side of the river at Great Falls, and at Farmington, the hotels are quite well kept, seems to have reduced the chances of the Dover hostelries. The furniture has been sold from the New Hampshire house, and as a hotel its career is finished.

Rev. Dr. Alden will preach in the Middle street Baptist church on Fast day, at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

Rev. Mr. McGinley will preach in the North church Fast day, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, on "The growing demands of the Nation upon the patriotism and piety of the people."

—It is singular coincidence that the famous Italian discoverer of America came into the New World under a foreign flag, and that all Americans to-day go to Europe under foreign flags.

Political.

Baltimore is a city where the republicans never stand a ghost of a chance on election day, and the reason has been unearthed lately by an investigation into the doings of the registers. They were charged with refusing to strike the names of persons disqualified as voters from the poll books, and it came out in the evidence that in one ward the books contained over 3000 names, while there were but 1600 bona-fide voters in the ward. The register who refused to strike out the superfluous names said he was placed there by the democratic party, and he proposed to do his duty by it. The registry books in other wards of the city are found to be loaded with fictitious names, and names of persons long since dead or removed from the city, and it is believed that the same tactics have been employed all over Maryland.

As the votes in the Senate show the democrats in a minority of three, it is about time that they ceased their policy obstruction and allowed business to proceed. Fillibustering within reasonable limits is allowable to a minority, but it long ago became unreasonable on the part of the democrats, passed the limit of stubborness, and has now reached that of mulishness. Unable to accomplish anything of importance themselves when they controlled both branches, they now seem determined not to allow the republicans to do any more. If they succeed, it will be their first success in many years. They will fail, however, as usual.—Telegraph.

The Biddeford Observer has been discontinued, after a three months' existence. The editor says "the paper was started as a weekly anti-republican paper, in the hope that it would receive suitable support. We did not have to run the paper but a few weeks when we found that the chances were that our venture would prove an unprofitable one. We concluded to continue to run it as an experiment, hoping that the self-professed friends of the enterprise would rally to its support. We have this fact to console us in printing our farewell number, that we have sunk considerable money in endeavoring to establish a paper to support what would seem to be a dead democracy."

The Rutland, Vt., Herald of April 4th says: "In Franklin and Berkshire, the drifts are now worse than at any time of the winter. Travellers are obliged to take to the fields, and Franklin pond is much used as a highway. In some places the drifts are six feet high."

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. E. Farmer.

A son of Mr. Daniel Hill of Alfred lower village, Me., was suddenly killed on the 1st inst. by being caught in a loose belt connected with machinery in the basement of the saw mill. He was ten years old.

Captain Courtney!

Says: When on the coast of Africa I had three men sick with malarial fever. I cured them with Sulphur Bitters. It is the greatest blood purifier I ever saw. I always keep them in my medicine chest. —Ship Nautilus, Baltimore.

A Pittsburgh girl was devotedly attached to the little child of her brother-in-law, who was a widower, and in whose house she lived. She was about to be married, and she asked permission to take her niece to her new home. The father declined the proposition, and thereupon the girl attempted suicide.

It Is Not Strange

That the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey has grown in popularity since its high character has been maintained from the beginning. Druggists and grocers sell it. See that the signatures of the proprietors, Chester H. Graves & Sons, is over each cork.

According to the official returns, the exports of Swiss products to the United States in 1880 were greater than in any year on record, exceeding those of 1879 by 15,000,000 francs. Watches alone showed an increase of 5,000,000 francs. The improved trade is greatly benefitting the federal finances, for instead of the usual deficit, the receipts of 1880 exceeded the expenditure by upwards of 3,000,000 francs.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir; I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large ventral rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1863, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my previous condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiring, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precurious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of those cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all classes, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 45 Milk street, Boston. Office in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

INTERNATIONAL Pavement Co.

With a Bonus of Stock.

The pavement made by this Company has met with the highest favor, both in this country and in Europe, and it is considered to approach perfection more nearly than any other.

The Works of the Company are at Providence, R. I., and at Hasting, N. Y., and the needs of its business will soon require additional ones at Chicago and other large cities.

Negotiations are now pending with capitalists in London and Paris for the right to manufacture and use this pavement in those cities.

Few enterprises now on the market promise as profitable business as this one.

The Company require additional means to extend the facilities for manufacturing, and offer for sale the second $100,000 of their six per cent bonds (convertible into stock) at par and interest. These bonds carry a bonus of stock, which is fixed for the present at fifty per cent.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Popular Notions.

An exaggerated sense of self-importance brings with it, not only the tendency to criticise everything not in accordance with each person's notion of what is right or expedient, but, inasmuch as conflicting currents of thought and action are unavoidable, a profound feeling of dissatisfaction with one's own environment. In place of the intense patriotism and personal loyalty of past ages, we find a widespread belief in all highly civilized nations that things are better managed elsewhere than at home, and the newspapers, here and abroad, are crowded with this not always well-based self-criticism. * * * The elevation of an honest, sober, intelligent citizen to a public office makes him straightway an ass in the estimation of his fellows. A public officer who declines to do what certain citizens want him to do, is believed by them to be corrupt; if he does what they wish, certain other citizens are equally certain that he has been bought. And not only are our public officers all supposed to be open to corrupt influences, but when they are put into office they are believed, ipso facto, to become suddenly ignorant of all they knew before. And not only are they taunted with ignorance, incapacity and an itching palm, but they are continually reminded that things are much better managed elsewhere, and that the sooner they learn how a city ought to be governed, by observing how other cities are governed, the sooner they will become of some use in their places.—DR. TRACY, in Popular Science Monthly.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

—In the lunatic asylum at Utica, N. Y., much trouble has been caused by the conflicting claims of two madmen to the throne of the universe. It was finally resolved to bring them together, when the larger man, who stands something over six feet two, rose with ineffable dignity and asked, "Are you the man who presumes to set himself up as the Almighty in opposition to me?" "I was," humbly replied the other; "but I give up—I only want to be attorney-general of the United States." "I appoint you to that office," said the admitted ruler of the universe, benevolently; and Peace folded her wings over that part of Utica included under the roof of the lunatic asylum.

—A Newburyport man wanted a wife, and so called on a respectable widow lady of his acquaintance for assistance. "Madam," he says, "I'm looking for a wife. I don't think you'll hardly do, but I didn't know but that you might think of some one who would, and so I called." History does not record what answer he received.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

—"Do you realize it, Angelica?" whispered Clarence to his betrothed; "only two weeks more and we will be one; but, remember, darling, I am to be that one." And then the angelic creature silently stole to the piano and touchingly warbled, "Oh, to be nothing."

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 960 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—Professor of rhetoric: "What important change came over Burns the latter part of his life?" Senior: "He died."

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—"We men of the Bourse," he said to his friend, "are much calumniated. I have new been at the Bourse for more than ten years, and I never knew but two rascals who amounted to anything." "And who is the other?" Asked the friend.

From numerous cases of dyspepsia and constipation, cured by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, after every other known remedy has been used in vain, its efficacy in restoring the functions of digestion and evacuation is manifest.

The New York Tribune.

We refer our readers to the claims of the New York Tribune as a leading metropolitan journal, comprising in many respects more desirable components than any paper in the country. The reputation of the Tribune as a newspaper is world-wide. As a journal it is comprehensive, broad and liberal, and its editorials are fresh and fearless. Just now it is engaged in sustaining President Garfield's course as against the senatorial dictation as to federal patronage, which is sought to be brought under the control of senators under the plea of "the courtesy of the Senate," and the result will show that the position of the Tribune is the only safe ground upon which this custom can be placed. The selections of the Tribune are carefully made, while its enterprise in gathering news from the entire globe is unlimited, and ahead of any of its contemporaries. The Tribune has always been a favorite paper in New Hampshire, and has done no small service in turning the state in times past from its ancient political path, and keeping it on the right track ever since.

Political.

Complete returns of the election in St. Louis, Mo., show that a most remarkable revolution has taken place in the democratic party. Returns from all the precincts give the following vote for mayor: Wm. L. Ewing, republican, 24,608; Henry Overstoltz, democrat, 11,353; Ewing's majority, 13,255. The remainder of the republican ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 12,000 to 16,000, and the six republican members of the upper house of the municipal assembly receive majorities of from 4500 to 5000 each.

At the Rhode Island state election a very light vote was cast. The republican ticket was elected by about 5,000 majority, the governor being Alfred H. Littlefield. The Senate comprises twenty-nine republicans and five democrats, with two vacancies; the House, sixty-three republicans and seven democrats, with two vacancies; a republican gain of two in each house compared with last year. The republicans gain 370 on the popular vote, and the democrats lose 2,202. The prohibitionists lose 4,417.

New Hampshire Items.

The grand jury at Keene found seven indictments for false entries, one for perjury and five for embezzlement against Ellery Albee, treasurer of the Winchester savings bank.

Miss Harriet G. Thomas, who is supposed to have committed suicide with laudanum at the City hotel in Keene, on the 6th inst., had been engaged as teacher at Brattleboro', Vt., in the Canal street school, for forty-six consecutive terms until last year, when, owing to ill health, she was succeded by another. She was highly respected and respectably connected at Cutingsville, Vt., her home. No cause is known for the deed.

News and Notes.

By the capsizing of a boat on Ashley River, S. C., near Branchville, on the 2d inst., two women, two children and three men were drowned. Two men were rescued.

George Lamb and William Allen have been arrested on suspicion of killing Henry Wallace in a drunken brawl at Wallace's house in Palmer, Mass., on the night of April 2d, and then burning the house to conceal the crime.

Edward Herman Sagert, a blackmailer, was shot dead in New York on the 7th inst. by Detective Samuel J. Campbell, while resisting arrest. The crime for which it was sought to arrest Sagert was the attempting to terrorize a wealthy Hebrew, Mr. Lewis Strasburger, into paying Sagert and an accomplice, Albert F. Vogel, $60,000. Vogel is under arrest, and confesses his guilt.

The board of trade of Portland, Me., on Thursday morning adopted a resolution urging Congress to distribute the balance of the Geneva award to those who had lost vessels and cargoes by the depredations of confederate cruisers, or who paid war insurance.

Wisconsin is fast becoming one of the wealthiest of the western states. The actual value of the real and personal estate in Wisconsin is greater than that of California by $60,000,000, five times as much as that of the state of Texas, four times as much as that of Kansas, three times as much as that of Minnesota, and twice as much as that of Virginia. The average wealth of each person, supposing the wealth to be distributed equally to every man, woman and child, is $765.90, while that of Kansas is $618.35, Michigan $607.41, Iowa, $601.03, Texas $194.30. And yet Wisconsin is but a new state, and only a small fraction of its resources have been developed.

They had quite a lively school meeting at Bakersfield, Me. Mr. N. Wells charged that Lawyer Starr, one of the committee, had one of three cords of wood he had charged to the district carried to his office. This led to some words and a personal attack on Wells, an attempt to bite off his ears being one of the features.

The question what degree of heat is necessary to destroy trichinæ in swine's flesh is of importance. A German expert says that if the pieces put into a pot to boil are large, trichinæ in the middle are not certain to be killed by such degree of cooking as they are subjected to. As long as meat retains the pink color known as "raire" it has been insufficiently cooked to destroy the parasites. Smoking and pickling the meat are of no use whatever.

Two men at Waynesville, Ill., through whose farm a railroad had been built, soaped the rails and thus delayed the trains. Every morning they went out with brooms and pails of soft soap to coat the track for a distance of half a mile. Their mischief was finally stopped by arrest.

—The wild storm still raged furiously. Ever and anon the vivid lightning, in fantastic shapes, illumined the darksome and angry heavens. At last our young hero making a sudden, strategetic movement, surrounded the band of fifteen howling red demons, and with no other weapon than a seven-shooter, a cavalry sword, a dime novel, a Remington rifle, deck of cards, bowie-knife, and a pair of brass knuckles, he mowed down his pursuers like grain before the scythe of the reaper; then seizing the fair Ethelinda around the waist with one arm, and plunging a bayonet into the breast of a lusty Indian who exhibited signs of returning consciousness, he vaulted into the saddle of the swiftest horse in the territory, and cried in a delirium of triumphant joy—"To be continued in our next."—Norristown Herald.

CONSUMPTION.
Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, it not suspicious, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.
* * * * *
While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.
With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.
FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.
Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and are long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. Charles B. Goodwin of this city, late manager of the International hotel, Boston, has been engaged as manager of the Rose Standish house at Downer's Landing, Boston harbor, from May 1st.

The man killed by the Pullman train in Newburyport on the morning of the 5th inst. was Caleb Woodwell of that city, a farm hand. He was of intemperate habits, forty years old, and leaves a widow and three children.

Union Rebekah Degree Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., of this city, has received an invitation from York lodge of Rebekah's of Kittery to visit that organization this (Saturday) evening. The invitation is accepted, and large numbers will attend, leaving the Odd Fellows' hall in this city at 7:15 P. M.

Friday was more spring-like than any previous day this year, and the frogs were heard in the swamps in the suburbs for the first time this season. Additional evidences of the arrival of gentle spring were seen in Rye on Fast day, when and where the girls were out playing croquet, and the men pitching cents.

The schooner Flying Cloud, of Newcastle, is being repaired at Call's wharf by Mr. Warren Keen, who is putting a new deck into her. The schooner Fairfield was hauled through Noble's island bridge on Fast day, and put on the ground at Noble's island, where she will be repaired by Mr. Daniel Littlefield.

The first gondola load of coal for Newmarket this season started up river on Thursday last, in charge of Capt. Harry Watson. Capt. Watson's craft was icebound all winter at "the roundabouts" of Exeter river, and commenced her season's work on the 1st inst., when she sailed from Exeter for this port with two hundred barrels of alewives shipped by Elliott & Cram, being a part of last year's catch.

The earnings of the Eastern railroad for the month of February were nearly $17,000 larger than for the corresponding month in 1880. For the five months from October to March 1st it is stated that the net earnings were nearly $60,000 larger than for the same period in 1879-80. Since the establishment of the lunch-room at the station in this city there has been a marked increase in the number of through passengers who study the chances of getting something to eat en route.

The Boston Opera Company Artists' Quartette, who are booked for Franklin hall on Wednesday evening, April 13th, in the pleasing opera of "Betsey Baker, or Too Attentive by Half," promise to make a great hit. The music embraces some of the most popular and successful operatic melodies of the day, from such operas as Fatinitza, Boccaccio, Pirates of Penzance, Chimes of Normandy, and the latest and greatest success since Pinafore, Olivette. This is the first appearance of this company in Portsmouth, and we think they will have, as they deserve, a full house.

The Rockingham Shoe Factory at the Creek has closed up its business in this city.

Work on Gangway rock commenced on the 7th inst., and a good part of the "band-stand" was in position Friday evening.

The schooner Flora Temple is laid by from fishing for the present. The schooner Lone Star is to resume her fishing trips.

Capt. R. B. Bradford, U. S. N., has sold his fine driving mare "Nettie" to John W. Caswell. The mare is one of the best roadsters in this vicinity.

James M. Knapp, Washington Freeman, William A. Hodgdon and Horace P. Webster were drawn as petit jurors from ward two, to report at Exeter on the 13th inst.

Rev. Frank Haley has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church at Seabrook on account of his health. He will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday, May 8th.

A domestic employed in a family on State street, near the Middle street church, broke one of her legs last Thursday evening by falling as she was entering the house.

The dwelling of Moses Riley at Brave Boat Harbor, Kittery, was totally destroyed by fire on the 7th inst., with most of its contents. The fire is supposed to have caught on the roof from a spark. Estimated loss $1200; insurance reported at $500.

Leonard Wilson, an old resident of Buffalo, N. Y., where he was long engaged in real estate and insurance business, is dead. He was born at Kittery Point, Me., in 1812, and went to Buffalo from Boston in 1837. He was for some years a resident of this city.

The Times says it was Rev. W. A. P. Dillingham, instead of Rev. F. A. Dillingham, recently called to the Universalist church at Danvers, Mass., who was formerly pastor of the church in this city. He was called in February, 1851, and remained but a year, his health causing him to resign.

A New York despatch of the 8th inst. says: "The customs officers seized yesterday from the captain of the ship Paul Jones a Chinese chair and thirty-four fancy teapots and flower-pots directed to T. H. Winn, of Portsmouth, N. H. A few days ago a quantity of smuggled silks and curios were captured on the same vessel."

Friday noon a number of children made a fire near the Eastern railroad embankment at the Creek, and Barbara Burns, seven years old, fell into it; her clothing instantly took fire, and despite the efforts of her companions, and of Mrs. Richard Keating, she was probably fatally injured. Mrs. Keating's hands were badly burned.

A meeting took place on Thursday between Mr. William H. Thompson, treasurer of the Kearsarge Mills Co., and the committee of citizens appointed to solicit subscriptions toward rebuilding the mill. It was conceded that the original scheme for erecting another mill had failed, though the citizens of Portsmouth had done all that was asked of them; and other plans submitted to the committee they failed to approve.

The little steamer Lottie, which has been housed the past winter on Furnald's wharf, has been overhauled, and found in good condition. A new engine-bed has been put in, and the fastenings of the engine have been strengthened to render it perfectly steady. A new and larger guard rail has been put on, and the accommodations for passengers have been improved. She will be put in the river about the first of May, and will afford our citizens an opportunity to sail on one of the prettiest rivers in New England.—Exeter News Letter.

The hearing before the county commissioners, Friday, relative to the new street which the Eastern railroad would like to have the city build, was largely attended. City Solicitor Foster and J. S. H. Frink appeared as counsel for the city; A. R. Hatch, John Hatch and Calvin Page for the petitioners and those behind them; Wm. H. Rollins for the Raynes heirs; and Chas. E. Batchelder for Frederick W. Rogers. Several statements were heard, the commissioners and counsel viewed the premises, and the hearing was adjourned to a date in May.

ODD FELLOWS' SOCIABLE.

Another of the unique entertainments for which Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., is famous, was given on Fast night to an audience of some three hundred persons. The supper was fully up to the high standard which has always been maintained, and the proceedings were of a pleasing nature. Very interesting remarks were made by Rev. John A. Goss of this city, and Rev. Mr. Jones of Rye. The piano solo by Miss Whidden, and the duet by Misses Tebbetts and Montgomery, were extremely well rendered and received merited applause. Their teacher, Mr. S. W. Cole, should feel an honest pride in the attainments of these talented young ladies. Miss Emma R. Martin of North Monmouth, Me., read "Before the Wedding" in a very charming and acceptable manner; she entered into and fully appreciated her subject, which was replete with good points, and fairly won the applause which was so worthily bestowed upon her. Miss Carrie Brown, a tiny six-years-old daughter of Amos P. Brown of Rye, sang "Somebody's coming when the dew-drops fall" remarkably well, and gave great pleasure to the company. Miss Fannie S. Hoyt of Newington, who always charms her audiences by her lady-like deportment and great skill as a violinist, placed us under renewed obligations; her marked improvement was a matter of general comment, and she was repeatedly recalled, and as often electrified the delighted listeners by her brilliant performances. She will take a high place as an artiste in the near future. The Freewill Baptist choir, Constructor Mallet, U. S. N., leader, rendered several pieces in a wonderful manner, "We'll have to mortgage the farm" being especially fine; and the comic song "Mr. and Mrs. Snibbs," as sung by Mr. Mallet and Miss Mary E. Fabyan, almost literally "brought down the house." Miss Fabyan has a very clear, powerful voice, which is evidently highly cultivated; she is a fine singer. "The California Uncle," an amusing farce, was well acted by several ladies and gentlemen, and their efforts were received with much applause. The tableaux "Friendship, Love and Truth," and "To the cross I cling," were beautiful conceptions, and received with marked approval. At midnight the company reluctantly departed, the pleasant hall was vacated, and "silence reigned in Warsaw." H.

OF IMPORTANCE TO SEA-SIDE LANDLORDS.

The supreme court of Maine has rendered a decision in a case brought against the proprietor of one of the hotels at Old Orchard beach, Me., which is of much consequence to the managers of sea-side summer resorts.

In August, 1877, a guest at the Old Orchard house went in bathing, leaving his clothing in a bath-house belonging to the hotel, and on his return found that some thief had made off with his watch, chain, ring and money. The despoiled guest therefore brought suit against the proprietor of the hotel, Mr. Staples, as innkeeper, to recover the value of the stolen property, which was agreed upon at $287.75. The court has decided that an innkeeper is not chargable, as such, for property stolen under such circumstances; that keeping an inn and keeping a bath-house are separate and distinct employments, involving separate and distinct duties and liabilities—that is, on the ground that one may be an innkeeper without having a bath-house keeper, and vice versa; that bath-houses, separate and distinct from hotels, are not subject to innkeepers' liability, and that while down at the breakers at Old Orchard beach, the visitor is not such a guest as makes his landlord liable under the ordinary rule pertaining to innkeepers.

GERRISH'S ISLAND NOTES.

Wm. H. Goodwin, president of the Elliot national bank of Boston, has purchased the old Gerrish farm at Gerrish's island, Kittery, owned by Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, and will erect thereon this season an elegant summer residence, with stables and other required outbuildings. This farm lies next east of the Burnham farm, and is one of the finest on the island; it has an extensive sea-front, magnificent views, and splendid facilities for bathing, yachting, fishing, etc. There is a walnut grove on this farm said to be finest in York county.

Parties in New York are in correspondence with Capt. Charles Frisbee of Kittery Point, relative to the hiring of the old Frisbee mansion, north of the earthworks, for the summer.

Sea-Side Lodge, Pocahontas point, was opened for the first time this season on Fast day. Green peas and salmon formed the principal dishes of the menu.

Allen Burnham, of the firm of Choate Burnham & Sons, of Boston, is spending a few days at the island, overseeing some improvements to their farm.

Perfectly Scandalous.

Mrs. Homespun threw down the paper and pulled off her spectacles with a vicious jerk. "It's perfectly scand'lous!" she exclaimed. "For my part I can't see how any respectable woman could ever wear such a thing as that. When I was a gal we used to wear low necks and short sleeves, cut mercy!"—and here she cast a withering glance at the paper in her lap before flinging it to the floor.

"Why, what is the matter, aunt?" asked Cicely, picking up the paper.

"Matter? matter enough, I should say!" cried the excited old lady. "Just look at that fashion plate there, if you are not ashamed to look at it. It is perfectly scand'lous, I say."

"Why, aunt?" said Cicely, her eyes brimming with fun, "that is only a liver-pad picture!"

"I don't care what kind of a new-fangled name they give it," persisted her aunt. "It's scand'lous and disgraceful, and no woman that's got a spark of modesty about her would ever be seen in one of them."

Canada Thistles.

—Rhode Island papers are telling a beautiful story of a clergyman who visited an insane asylum and was attacked by a maniac, but who broke into a song and sang it so sweetly that the lunatic was calmed. A Vassalboro' man recently visited the Maine insane hospital, and while there sang a song. Several of the inmates were so touched that they tried to escape.

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—A conscience-stricken man confessed to a Syracuse lawyer the other day that he voted for President when he was but nineteen years old. As he is an influential citizen and of good family, he will not be prosecuted. The vote was cast in 1804 for Thomas Jefferson.

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. Y. Farmer.

—The Boston girl does not say: "What are you giving us? Taffy?" She remarks: "Of what do you wish to make me the recipient; a confection whose main ingredient is molasses?"

Captain Courtney!

Says: When on the coast of Africa I had three men sick with malarial fever. I cured them with Sulphur Bitters. It is the greatest blood purifier I ever saw. I always keep them in my medicine chest. —Ship Nautilus, Baltimore.

—Consolation misapplied: "You must feel lonely since your husband went away," consolingly observed a neighbor to her lady friend. "Not at all," she replied; "it is the first holiday I have had since I was a school-girl."

It Is Not Strange

That the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey has grown in popularity since its high character has been maintained from the beginning. Druggists and grocers sell it. See that the signatures of the proprietors, Chester H. Graves & Sons, is over each cork.

—Distressing accident: A man went into a house last night and picked up a gun. Of course he didn't know it was loaded. It went off. So did the man. And the man who owns, or rather, who owned the gun, would give $50 to know where it went.

General Wm. T. Withers, the celebrated blooded stock raiser and proprietor of Fair Lawn Stock Farm, Lexington, Ky., says, Liebig Co.'s Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel "should be in every stable in the country." Cures founder, spavin, bursal enlargements, broken knees, speedy cuts and sore eyes. Sold in fifty cents and one dollar sizes; reduced rates by the half gallon or gallon. Beware of worthless imitations. Depot 60 Maiden Lane, New York.

—A father urged his boy either to be a clown in a circus, a canal boat captain, a fireman, a railroad engineer, a pirate or an Indian fighter, and the boy at once decided to study for the ministry, which was what the old man, who understood the perversity of boy nature, wanted.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years. I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

The Leading American Newspaper.

THE

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

For 1881.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

During the past year the New York Tribune reached the highest circulation it ever attained, with the single exception of a short period in the first Lincoln campaign. It is a larger circulation, and more widely distributed over the whole country than any ever enjoyed by any other newspaper in the United States. This fact may be taken as the verdict of the American people on The Tribune's political force, its fidelity to sound principles, and its merits as a newspaper.

For 1881, The Tribune will try to deserve equally well of the public. It will labor for, and it confidently expects the present administration to promote a free and fair suffrage, South and North, sound money, protection to home industry, judicious liberality in internal improvements, and a Civil Service conducted on business principles, on the theory of elevating, not of ignoring or degrading politics.

The well-known special features of The Tribune will be sedulously maintained. Its Agricultural Department will remain the fullest and best. The Home Circle and the Young Folks' Departments, the literary, scientific and religious features, the standard market reports, with all be kept up, and, as opportunity offers, extended.

The Tribune Premiums.

The Tribune has never been equalled in the substantial and permanent value of its premiums to agents and subscribers, and it adds to its list this year two of the most desirable it has ever offered. Note the following:

THE GREAT BIBLE CONCORDANCE.

Analytical concordance to the Bible, on an entirely new plan, containing every word in alphabetical order arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each and its pronunciation; exhibiting 311,000 references, 138,000 beyond Cruden; marking 300,000 various readings in the New Testament; with the latest information on Biblical Geography and Antiquities, etc. By Robert Young, LL. D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, etc.

In one handsome quarto volume, containing over 1,100 three-column pages, very substantially bound in cloth. The pages and type are the same size as those of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. It is at one a Concordance, a Greek, Hebrew and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a Scriptural Gazetter. Every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible reading and study.

This great work was originally published in England in October, 1879, and was sold at $15. We can now offer it in connection with The Tribune at the following remarkably low rates: for $6 the Concordance and one copy of The Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies one year.

FOR $11 the Concordance and one copy of The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies for one year, or ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

FOR $20 the Concordance and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

The postage on the Concordance is forty cents, which the subscriber will remit if wishing it sent by mail. Except for short distances the mail will be cheaper than the express.

Our second new premium for this year is the following:

The Library of Universal Knowledge,

Embracing Chambers' Encyclopædia complete, omitting only some of the cuts, with extensive additions by an able corp of American editors, treating about 15,000 additional topics, thoroughly Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over twenty-five per cent of the latest, freshest and most valuable matter, the whole making fifteen thick octavo Volumes of six by nine and a half inches in size, printed in large type on good, strong, calendered paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

We can offer this valuable work in connection with The Tribune as follows:

FOR $15 The Library of Universal Knowledge complete in fifteen octavo volumes, substantially bound in cloth as above described, and The Weekly Tribune five years to one subscriber.

FOR $20 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years to one subscriber.

FOR $19 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

FOR $28 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

Eight volumes of the work are now ready, the ninth is nearly through the press, and the rest will rapidly follow. It will be sent by mail or express at the subscriber's option. The postage, if sent by mail, will be twenty-one cents per volume. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

RUPTURE

Wesley Phillips' Case.

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—Dear Sir: I am happy to inform you that I am entirely cured of my large scrotal rupture. It is one year ago to-day that I received your treatment. I have tested the cure by going without the appliance. My business is that of a locomotive engineer. My rupture, as you will recall to your mind was similar to Mr. Jordan's, in your pamphlet of illustrations.

I was ruptured in the year 1862, while in the army. I have tried spring and elastic trusses with great discomfort and injury, my rupture always growing worse. Finding I must get some relief or give up my business, I determined to try you as a last resort, and I must say that I found your treatment a complete success. My improvement and cure have, considering my terrible condition, surprised my friends as well as myself. During your treatment I have worked hard in my business, enjoying both safety and comfort, and have not lost a day's work. My general health has also improved. I will take pleasure in recommending the afflicted to you whenever I have an opportunity.

You may publish this letter for the benefit of humanity. My address is 211 East 44th st. With the best wishes I remain yours respectfully,

WESLEY PHILLIPS.

Its Relief and Cure as Certain as Day follows Day.

Since the reduction of Dr. Sherman's terms, thousands are crowding upon him for treatment, gladly throwing away their griping, irksome, despiriting, and life-punishing trusses. His treatment for the affliction makes the patient comfortable and safe in the performance of every kind of exercise and labor. It is a grand thing, and those who are ruptured and do not provide themselves with it must endure the dangers of that precarious affliction and the use of trusses all through life. Thousands of these cured give the most flattering testimonials of gratitude to Dr. Sherman. He is the author and inventor of his popular system; he imparts his secret to no one; it is applicable to all diseases, and, under his reduced rate, within the reach of almost everyone.

Patients can receive treatment and leave for home same day. Dr. Sherman's Book on Rupture gives convincing proofs from professional gentlemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photograph pictures of bad cases before cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office 251 Broadway, N. Y. Branch office 43 Milk street, Boston. Days in New York—Monday, Tuesday, Saturday. In Boston—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The pavement made by this Company has met with the highest favor both in this country and in Europe, and it is considered to approach perfection more nearly than any other.

The Works of the Company are at Providence, R. I., and at Hastings, N. Y., and the needs of its business will soon require additional ones at Chicago and other large cities.

Negotiations are now pending with capitalists in London and Paris for the right to manufacture and use this pavement in those cities.

Few enterprises now on the market promise as profitable business as this one.

The Company require additional capital, and offer for sale the second $100,000 of their six per cent bonds (convertible into stock) at par and interest. These bonds carry a bonus of stock, which is fixed for the present at fifty per cent.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case

Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Galskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country."

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Daily Chronicle.

The Guinea Fowl.

We are glad to see that the Guinea fowl is receiving so much attention at the hands of breeders and farmers generally, for it has merits of no mean order—merits which are just beginning to be fully appreciated.

Despite the many years of domestication which the Guinea fowl has undergone, it still possesses, in a marked degree, its wild, untamed nature, preferring to roost in trees to roosting in an enclosure, and almost invariably stealing its nests in some secluded far-away spot, where the eggs are shelled out in great numbers.

Young Guineas are the prettiest, cutest little things imaginable, reminding one of young partridges, which we often come across in the woods and openings during the early summer. When quite young, before they change their dress of soft down for one of feather, they are exceedingly tender and difficult to raise; but after they have passed this critical period, they are just the opposite, and assert their wild nature by preferring to care for themselves in a great measure. Corn meal should never be fed to the young Guineas during their "babyhood," but the food should be the same as that given to young turkeys, such as stale bread soaked in fresh milk, cottage cheese, (made from thick milk after the whey has been strained off,) bits of hard-boiled egg, chopped onion tops, etc., not forgetting that, when feathering up, they require the food little and often, as much as they will eat at a feed, and no more.

Guinea fowls are very useful where there are many enemies to poultry, such as hawks, crows, snakes, rats, etc., for they are ever on the alert to detect danger, and give the alarm so quickly, and in such shrill and oft-repeated tones, that the enemies generally leave ere the owner of the fowls can come upon the scene with his overloaded gun and dog. The flesh of these fowls is relished by many; in fact by all who like gamey flavor and dark meat, which the Guineas supply, while their eggs, though small, are exceedingly rich, and the numbers they lay fully make up for any want of size.—Poultry Magazine.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and removes all diseases of the blood, one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

—It is often asked what the new secretary of the navy, in Garfield's cabinet, knows about a life on the ocean wave. He may never have been sea-sick, but he has been married four times. There is an impression that Mr. Garfield has chosen well.—Peck's Sun.

Having examined the formula from which Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is prepared, we recommend it as a safe and reliable medicine for the cure of asthma, coughs, colds, and all diseases of the throat, chest, and lungs.

—They had just been married. He seized her hand and said, in a low, tremulous voice: "It was your innate modesty and apparent indifference, dearest Sallie, that made me register a vow to marry you at all hazards." "Yes," she sighed, "but I slipped up on three or four of the most eligible young men in Galveston before I found that out."—Galveston News.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged livers, nervous or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

—A susceptible youth connected with the Washington Republican inviewed Forepaugh's "$10,000 beauty" last Monday, and found her all his fancy painted her. He says that when she smiles "she displays a row of magnificent molars." Either the young man's knowledge of human anatomy is defective, or the "Beauty" must have an exceedingly capacious smile.

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

—The price of human hair has advanced to such a figure that jute is now used for ornamentation in the manufacture of oleomargarine. This is a world of deceit.—Argo.

General Wm. T. MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1881.

News and Notes.

The double track of the Boston & Maine railroad has been completed as far east as Haverhill, from Boston.

It is now reported that 6,000 persons were killed by the terrible earthquake in Chio, and that nearly as many more were injured or disabled.

The steamer Verbena on the 9th inst. landed at Nantucket two survivors of the barque Hazard, picked up by the South Shoal lightship, Feb. 11th. When rescued they had been on a raft for thirty-six hours. One man, Thomas Brown, died on the raft, and others went down with the vessel. The saved are Jenson Olson, second mate, and John Sheridan, seaman.

Two children of Fred S. Lutz of Philadelphia have died from trichinosis.

The trial of a suit of Miss Mary A. Murray, against Gen. Tyler, postmaster of Baltimore, for defamation of character, claiming $20,000 damages, has been commenced at Ellicott City. This suit grew out of charges preferred against Postmaster Tyler in 1879. The charges were dismissed, but they involved to some extent the character of Miss Murray, and to vindicate her name this suit for civil damages was instituted.

Wm. H. Denning was instantly killed at the Washington mills, Lawrence, Mass., Friday.

Alexander S. Sawyer was drowned in Portland, Me., harbor, Friday afternoon, by the upsetting of a boat.

The residence of Edwin Reeves, near Staunton, Va., was destroyed by fire Thursday night. One of Mr. Reeves' children was burned to death, and another so badly burned that it died Friday morning. Mr. Reeves himself was severely if not fatally injured.

Five steamers from the Mediterranean with fruit cargoes were reported as overdue in New York on the 8th inst. The steamer Crosby, 1500 tons, from Bermuda April 1st for Philadelphia, had not arrived on the 8th, the usual passage being three or four days.

The annual boat-race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews was pulled on the Thames on Friday, the former winning by four lengths.

Schooners N. H. Skinner and Fred Brown ran into each other head on, off Cape Cod at midnight on the 5th inst., [illegible] the captain, mate, mate's wife, three children and one seaman. One seaman got on board the N. H. Skinner. The lost vesssel had no lights set, and on lookout, when the collision occurred.

The widow of John Brown, the abolitionist, is living in obscurity and poverty on a farm near San Jose, Cal., dependent in her old age upon the exertions of a daughter, who though a lady of culture, is able only to poorly support her mother. The San Jose Mercury calls upon the friends of the agitator to do something in aid of these women.

A little son of J. H. Spaulding of Pittsfield, Me., about nine years old, recently taken to Portland to have his tonsils removed, died under the influence of ether, while the operation was being performed.

The enthusiastic fellows who drew young Kalloch through the streets of San Francisco after his acquittal of the murder of De Young, now propose to give the jury a benefit concert, admission fifty cents.

A package containing $7,000 in $20 gold pieces was dug up recently at Chino Store, Cal. It was the property of a man who was murdered twenty years ago, and was found by a person to whom the dying murderer confessed, and to whom a map was given, showing the locality where the ill-gotten treasure was buried.

Stephen N. Stockwell, for many years connected with the Boston Journal, and for several years past its managing editor, died at his residence in the Highlands on Friday, April 8th. He was born in Hardwick, Worcester county, Mass., Aug. 31st, 1823, and at the age of seventeen was apprenticed to the printing trade. In 1842 he removed to Boston and entered the composing room of the Journal. After some years' service Mr. Stockwell began reporting; soon became chief reporter, then managing editor, and subsequently one of the proprietors of the Journal, a position he held until a few weeks since, when he was compelled to resign on account of his failing health, which had been undermined by his close attention to business.

Political.

The democratic Vicksburg Herald says: "There can be no doubt now that the attack on Mahone was not justified by his course. There can be no doubt that he was true to the combination that elected him, and it was a grave blunder on the part of the democrats to attack him. He has not only shown there was no ground for it, he has attacked those who attacked him with telling effect. He was given an opportunity such as few get even in the Senate of the United States, and he made splendid use of it. He has demonstrated that he is fully able to take care of himself, and henceforth he will occupy a prominent place in American politics. Millions of southerners will glory in his spunk, for he is the first southern man who successfully resisted southern bulldozers and taught them a lesson. He is the pioneer of tolerance in the south, and the able advocate of manhood suffrage, that is as certain as the sun shines to win in the end."

New Hampshire Items.

At a meeting of the trustees of Dartmouth college, held on Thursday of last week, Judge C. W. Stanley of Manchester was elected a trustee in place of Judge Eastman, deceased. Prof. John H. Hewett, of Illinois, was elected professor of Greek.

Hon. E. H. Rollins' fine residence and outbuildings, at Rollinsford, were burned Saturday morning about three o'clock. The loss is given at $10,500; insured.

Josh Bedard, one of the men who recently escaped from the jail in Haverhill, was caught at Stanstead, Quebec, Friday, and taken back to jail.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The American Journal of the Medical Sciences," for the quarter ending April 1st, is issued. It is needless to remind the medical profession of the value of this excellent publication, and we will merely say that the usual large amount of matter is contained in the present number. Henry C. Lea's Sons & Co., publishers, Philadelphia; price $5 per year.

The first number of "Harper's Magazine" for the English market appeared during last February, under imprint of Samson Low, Marston, Searle & Rivington, of Fleet street. Fifteen thousand copies were sold. In place of the local and American matter at the close of the magazine, with which all the American readers are familiar, the same kind of matter, applicable to England and the Continent, is substituted. The price is twenty-five cents of our currency, which is cheaper than the retail price here.

The "Sanitarian" for April has a number of valuable and seasonable papers on the preservation of health, and the avoidance of diseases of various kinds. It is one of the best and most practical health journals published. Price $3 per year; address "The Sanitarian, 113 Fulton street, New York."

A Serious Loss to English Society.

Since the unlooked for death of Lord Anglesey in the early part of last year, no similar occurrence has created so much [illegible] and [illegible] articles as the sudden cutting off in his prime of Count Jaraczewski. Those who dined and danced in his company at Mrs. Cavendish Bentinck's the night before, or played whist with him at the Turf Club afterward until an early hour of the morning of the day on which he died, might well discredit the sad news of his servant having found his dead body on the floor within a short time of having seen his poor master in bed apparently in his usual health. The cause of death, it transpired at the post-mortem examination, was heart disease of so aggravated a form as to create astonishment among the most intimate friends how he lived to the age of forty-three, considering the hard and exciting life he led, the late hours he kept, and the extraordinary fluctuations in his finances underwent through betting and cards. Count Jaraczewski will be missed both in clubs and drawing-rooms. Probably no foreigner about whose family or antecedents so little was known ever succeeded so quickly in effecting an entrance into the exclusive penetralia of English society. But "Sherry-and-whiskey" played high and paid promptly, which recommended him to men, and was a good and indefatigable dancer, which helped him with the other sex. Count Jaraczewski was well known to be the most abstemious of mortals. His only supper the year round consisted of one fruit, a pear or peach, whichever might be the fruit most choice and best in season for the moment. One cigar was all he allowed himself after the latest sitting-up night, and while at his regular meals, the smallness of his appetite and his care in selection of the wholesome were proverbial. Of his family and early antecedents little is known. He was a Prussian Pole by birth, and was supposed to have some relative in Frankfort from whom he obtained his resources. His life, on dit, was insured for £10,000. —London World.

About Editors.

Every editor loves to have his friends, and particularly his readers, call on him. They belong to the same family, as it were. But when you call to see the editor don't stay too long. Editors are generally very busy in business hours. If you have any suggestion to make or news to communicate, state it in as few words as possible. Don't offer any excuses, or indulge in a long preface to what you have to say. Blurt it right out; tell the editor you wish him well, and bid him good day. Editors dote on such men as that; they love to receive such calls from them. Do not argue with them; don't try to do it; he has no time for argument while at his work.

When you write to an editor for publication, make it short—boil it down. Pitch right into the middle of your subject, and be sure to stop writing when you are through. Editors always like something fresh and original in the way of communications, and are especially fond of news. But the editor must always be the judge of what is worthy of publication. Of course, every writer thinks his own production the best, just as every mother thinks her baby the prettiest that was ever born. But the editor may be so stupid as to have a different opinion. If so, it can't be helped. Don't try to argue him out of his notion. If he is too stupid to appreciate a good thing, you can't expect to remedy his dullness. You may think you are a good deal smarter than the editor, and that may be true, but the editor may be responsible and you are not. There is no class of men so anxious to please a majority of the people as editors are. There is no class of people so covetous of the good opinion of others. It is well to remember that fact.—Printer's Circular.

The Post Apologises.

The Boston Post makes the amende honorable as follows: "Chicago and Cincinnati have gone democratic. If we have ever said that Chicago people have big feet, it was because we had seen them in the distance walking on snow shoes, and didn't know it wasn't their feet we saw. If we have said Cincinnati worships hogs, we hasten to add that the sentiment is a credit to her. If we have said she insists that orchestra leaders shall beat time with a ham, we add that a ham is really the best thing to beat time with. Both are highly moral cities."

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale.

THE lot of land and buildings thereon situated at Kittery Point, formerly owned by Thos. O. Hoyt. The land is a knoll of about five acres, pleasantly situated, overlooking the lower harbor and ocean. It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and are long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. AROUND HOME.

The leave of absence of Capt. G. Frank Towle, U. S. A., has been extended for one month from March 29th.

About 20,000 pounds of fish arrived at this port on Thursday and Friday last, and brought from $2.75 to $4.50 per hundred weight.

First Lieut. C. W. Harrold, U. S. A., has been detailed as a member of a general court martial ordered to convene at Fort Schuyler, N. Y.

Schooners Mayor Jones and Daniel Marcy, of Mr. Valentine Doane's fishing fleet, sailed last week on a southern mackereling trip. The schooners Grace Choate is fitting out for the banks.

Rev. Hezekiah Short, of the 1st Christian church of York, has resigned, and will remove to Michigan. He closed his ministry in March. The society are to make extensive repairs on their church.

The last dance of the season at the Dover Point hotel took place on Wednesday evening of last week. Visitors were present from Newington, Dover, Eliot and South Berwick, Me., and from this city; and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Dr. Alfred Langdon Elwyn of Philadelphia, a grandson of John Langdon of New Hampshire, who furnished the funds without which the battle of Bennington could not have been fought, remembers the patriotism of his grandsire by contributing $100 to the Bennington monument.

O. A. Frost, widely known as a former landlord of the Merrimac house in Boston, the Great Falls hotel in Great Falls, N. H., the Mansion house in this city, and some for years past of the Atlantic house at Wells beach, Me., died in Great Falls in the 5th inst., at the age of fifty-four years.

A recent letter from Glasgow, Scotland, says: "Among the 'Circassia's' passengers we noticed Engineer John A. Tobin, U. S. N., whom your navy department has sent out here to observe the new features in marine engineering in the Clyde districts. He has met with a very warm reception here."

Persons in this city and Kittery are contemplating the establishment of a steam ferry between Portsmouth and the navy yard village, to run a boat large enough to transport horses, carriages and heavy teams, and to save quite a distance in travel, as well as to avoid the danger incident to crossing the bridges and railroad tracks.

Mr. Charles S. Drown, successor to Mr. Charles Walker, the veteran sailmaker, gives the utmost satisfaction to his patrons by the prompt and workmanlike manner in which he fills all orders. Sails, awnings and tents are made and repaired, and all kinds of work incidental to his business done, at the lowest rates and in a manner warranted to suit.

The horse attached to the store wagon of Dearborn & Co., stove dealers, ran away Saturday afternoon, going through Bow and Daniel streets at a rapid gait, and being stopped on Market square. When the animal was caught the only portions of the wagon attached were the shafts, the rest of the vehicle being impartially distributed all along the route. The horse was drawing the fore wheels when he turned into Daniel street, but he hit a stone post on the corner of Mulberry street and left one wheel there, and deposited the other wheel beside a tree on the other side of the street a few hundred feet further on. There were many persons, mostly children, on Daniel street at the time of the race, but luckily no one was hurt.

The first real indication of spring is the removal of part of the wooden covering of the post-office steps.

Chanfrau will appear at Music hall on Monday evening, April 18th, in his celebrated character of "Kit, the Arkansas traveller."

The Newburyport Herald says "It is now feared that the prospect of securing the location of the Eastern railroad shops at Salem will fall through."

Barbara Burns, the little girl who was so badly burned through her clothing being ignited from a bonfire at the Creek on Friday, died during the night from her injuries.

The enlargement of the Marshall house at York beach will greatly add to the accommodations at that establishment. The rooms have been waiting for the weather to permit of their being plastered.

Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody's lecture on Russia will be delivered this evening in the Congregational chapel on Middle street. Tickets at 35cts each can be procured of Myers, Goodrich or Preston, at their several stores.

Miss Belle Schurman, the girl who broke her leg by a fall at her place of service on State street, Thursday evening of last week, died on Saturday, having probably been injured internally by the fall. Her parents reside in Nova Scotia, but she has relatives living in this city.

Mrs. Abby Goodall, Mr. Albion Hammond, Mr. Frank Adlington and Mr. S. B. Leibman, of Eliot, have all been "surprised" recently by parties of their friends. Eliot certainly takes the palm for surprise parties this season, for there must have been at least fifty of them in that town since last fall.

The semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of New Hampshire was held in Rochester on Wednesday, April 7th. Resolutions were presented and adopted relative to the death of Hon. Frank W. Miller. Speeches were made by Rev. John A. Goss and Mr Charles S. Dodge of this city, and others.

The Boston Sunday Herald says: "The steam yacht Louis Irving, owned by J. C. Jellison of Portsmouth, N. H., has been sold to E. H. Hathaway of New Bedford, to be sent by rail to Troy, N. Y., from which port she will hereafter hail. She was built in Portland, Me., in 1878, and is thirty-five feet long, nine feet beam and four feet draught."

There was an unusual press of business in the yard of the Eastern railroad on Friday, necessitating a great deal of car-shifting at the Vaughan street crossing just at the time when the county commissioners were inspecting the line of the asked-for new street. On Thursday and Saturday, at the same hour, the shifting-engine was not in sight from the crossing.

Mr. Frank Marr, for some time engineer of the steamer Mystic, has resigned that position on account of ill health. He is a capable and reliable young man, and his restoration to complete health is hoped for by all who know him. He is succeeded as engineer of the Mystic by Mr. James Ricker of Portland, who comes highly recommended. Mr. Marr was owner of the steamer Little May, recently sold and sent south.

The county commissioners of York county met the selectmen of South Berwick in that town on the 5th inst., and again on the 6th, to consider the matter of laying out a new road from the end of the new Eliot bridge road at the junction of the same with the old Eliot and South Berwick road, so as to save three or four miles of travel round the corners in getting from Dover to York beach. No decision was reached, and another meeting will be soon be holden.

Miss May Alice Vars has received a flattering offer from J. M. Hill, manager of Den Thompson and "All The Rage," to play in the latter company, but has decided to remain with the Boston Opera Company Artists' Quartette, with whom she has made a marked success in the part of "Betsy Baker," in which she will appear on Wednesday evening at Franklin hall. "The Torpedo and the Whale," from the new comic opera "Olivette," as given by this company has not failed to receive from three to six encores nightly. The sale of tickets for Wednesday evening commences at ten o'clock this forenoon, at Alfred Stavers', Franklin building.

A lady accompanied by two little girls, and carrying a bundle of goods just purchased, entered a store on Congress street, Saturday, placed her bundle on the counter, and proceeded to fit herself and her daughter with boots. While they were thus engaged a woman who lives at the south end entered the store, looked at some articles, but did not purchase, and then left, taking with her the bundle placed on the counter by the lady, which she concealed beneath her shawl. The action was noticed by one of the little girls, who informed the lady, and a messenger was despatched after the shoplifter, who at once gave up the bundle on being overhauled, at the same time expressing considerable astonishment at having inadvertently made such a mistake!

The liquor business at Kennebunk is prosecuted under difficulties. April 1st, at the Boston & Maine railroad station in that town, a deputy sheriff seized a five-gallon keg of whiskey consigned to Annis & Senter, a mythical firm; on the 2d, at the same place, the same officer captured a barrel of bottled lager directed to "S. A. C." On the 4th a town constable seized six quarts of liquor at the depot, on the 6th ten gallons of whiskey, and on the 7th five gallons of whiskey.

The N. H. GAZETTE of this week alludes to our article concerning the arrest of the boys last week for "brawl and tumult," and states that we virtually take the part of the aggressors, and implies that we uphold insulting persons on the street. In answer we say "yes" and "no." Of course the GAZETTE is unacquainted with the particulars of the case, and we have not space nor inclination to enter into the details, therefore that paper can not, perhaps, form a correct opinion of the matter. But we do not want the impression to go abroad that we uphold law-breaking, for such is not the fact. We do most emphatically disapprove of whistling or hallooing at any one, whether directly or indirectly, and our article last week was not intended to convey the idea that we upheld the boys in so doing. We do think, however, that the manner in which the arrest and prosecution was conducted is deserving of the most severe censure, and we have yet to find one person (except of course, those concerned in the prosecution) who, being acquainted with all the particulars, approves of the proceedings. We think if the GAZETTE knew all the facts in the case it would agree with the Advertiser.—Newmarket Advertiser, 8th inst.

Naval Affairs.

The training ship Constitution sailed from League island for Hampton Roads on the 7th inst.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge passed Cape Henry on the 8th inst., bound for Hampton Roads.

Commander George B. White is ordered to hold himself in readiness to command the Kearsarge.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson has been placed on the retired list.

Medical Directors John M. Brown and A. L. Gihon, and Surgeon J. H. Kidder, have been appointed to represent the navy at the meeting of the American Medical Association at Richmond, Va., on the 3d of May.

The Lancaster is expected to be ready about the 1st of August. It is understood that she will relieve the Trenton on the European station, though we are requested to state that she is bound for the Straits of Magellan, to somewhat restrain the pressure upon the navy department for assignments to her.—Army and Navy Journal.

Consumption.

Consumption, says a medical journal, generally begins with a slight, dry cough in the morning; then, on going to bed, getting more and more frequent, with more and more phlegm; increasing debility, thinness of flesh, shortness of breath, and quickening pulse. In fatal cases its average course is about two years; hence the importance of arresting the disease at as early a stage as possible, and the sooner rational means are employed for this purpose the greater the chances of success.

The disease is owing to an irritation commencing in the throat and extending to the lungs, so that their action is interfered with, and the blood does not receive sufficient oxygen to purify it. The first thing to be done is to remove the obstruction, which is the irritation or congestion of the lungs. Four ounces of glycerine, two ounces of alcohol, two ounces of water and one grain of morphine make an excellent mixture for relieving the cough. It should be taken in doses of two teaspoonfuls every two hours until the cough is relieved. The chest just below the neck should be rubbed with tartar-emetic ointment every morning over a space as large as the hand, until a thick crop of sores is brought out; then rub the ointment between the sores to bring out a new crop. Meantime the patient should take regular and vigorous exercise in the open air.

There is nothing that equals horseback riding as a remedy for this disease. If a consumptive were to "live in the saddle" and sleep out of doors, taking care to keep the feet dry and warm, and to live upon good, nourishing food, in short to "rough it," he would recover his health in a few months, even if the disease had made considerable progress. The trouble is that it requires a strong will to carry out so severe a course, in spite of the languor and debility which disposes an invalid to quiet despondency. The most marked sign of lung disease is emaciation, and the most positive indication of returning health is increase in weight.

—A naughty man who had the contribution box "shoved under his nose" just after an appeal to strive to enter in at the strait gate, said he supposed they wanted to make sure of the gate money.

—Every cloud has a silver lining. The boy who has the mumps can stay away from school.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with causic and most suspicious, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renovating properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, and that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir; Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

Carrots.

The great difficulty with growing carrots is the slow germination of the seeds. This may be avoided to a considerable extent by soaking them, or by inclosing them in a bag which is buried in the ground for several days. The crop does not require a very rich soil, or one which much labor has been expended on in preparing it for planting. An old pasture sod that was turned the previous fall is well suited to the growth of carrots. The labor of sowing, thinning and weeding the first time is considerable. After the leaves shade the ground, which should be free from the seeds of the grass and weeds, the crop requires but little attention. The value of the roots for stock can hardly be overestimated. The amount of them that can be produced on an acre of land in suitable condition is very large. Their value as winter food for stock of all kinds is acknowledged by all feeders. They constitute an agreeable change from grain and dry fodder. They aid digestion, sharpen the appetite and help to keep up the general health and condition of animals. For milch cows they are very desirable. They not only increase the flow of milk, but improve its quality. Young stock of all kinds derive very great advantage from roots. Quite young animals tire of hay, and desire some sort of succulent food.—New York Herald.

Canada Thistles.

An effective method of eradicating Canada thistles is as follows: As soon as they appear in the spring strike them off with a sharp hoe below the lower leaf, or even with the solid earth. Repeat every time a sprout starts, and your efforts will be crowned with success the first season. Cultivating about them increases their growth as it does other plants. They cannot, however, live without a top. It is a waste of time attempting to dig up the roots. Mowing closely when in full bloom will check them seriously, but the only sure method is that first mentioned above. Thistles are such a nuisance that farmers can afford to spend some time in their effective eradication. A few may appear the second year after this treatment; if so, repeat the cutting of the stalks, and if thoroughly done sure death is the result.—American Cultivator.

—"Lick your own stamps," is a sign displayed in the Millville, N. J., post-office.

—Will Hays has written a new song, entitled, "Kiss the baby once for me." After you have finished, Will, spank him two or three times for the rest of the folks.—Chicago Tribune.

—At a Newburyport dance the other evening he was introduced to a very modest and bewitching girl, and so of course was doing his best to merit his good luck. Feeling a sudden indisposition, he excused himself for a minute, and on returning was in the act of removing a few kernels of coffee from his vest-pocket, when the damsel astonished him by saying: "Don't chew that; I had rather smell the new rum."

Captain Courtney!

Says: When on the coast of Africa I had three men sick with malarial fever. I cured them with Sulphur Bitters. It is the greatest blood purifier I ever saw. I always keep them in my medicine chest. —Ship Nautilus, Baltimore.

—"Madam," said a kind-hearted woman pointing to a little boy who was leaning far out the window of the third story in a New York tenement house, "your little boy is in danger. He may fall and break his neck." "Faith," exclaimed the kind-hearted mother, "if he does he'll be laid beside me other five childers."

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. E. Farmer.

—Logan Dameron, the religious publisher of St. Louis, who was refused a pew in St. John's, the wealthy Methodist church of the city, made a decided sensation the other Sunday by stalking up the broad aisle with a camp chair under his arm, and planting himself in the open space directly in front of the pulpit.

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—If you were to tell a man he could make a fortune by shaking a knife and hollering, he might not believe it; but that's the way Buffalo Bill has accumulated $100,000 on the stage.—Boston Post.

It Is Not Strange

That the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey has grown in popularity since its high character has been maintained from the beginning. Druggists and grocers sell it. See that the signatures of the proprietors, Chester H. Graves & Sons, is over each cork.

The Leading American Newspaper.

THE

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

For 1881.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

During the past year the New York Tribune reached the highest circulation it ever attained, with the single exception of a short period in the first Lincoln campaign. It has a larger circulation, and more widely distributed over the whole country than any ever enjoyed by any other newspaper in the United States. This fact may be taken as the verdict of the American people on The Tribune's political force, its fidelity to sound principles, and its merits as a newspaper.

For 1881, The Tribune will try to deserve equally well of the public. It will labor for, and it confidently expects the present administration to promote a free and fair suffrage, South and North, sound money, protection to home industry, judicious liberality in internal improvements, and a civil service conducted on business principles, on the theory of elevating, not of ignoring or degrading politics.

The well-known special features of The Tribune will be sedulously maintained. Its Agricultural Department will remain the fullest and best. The Household and the Young Folks' Departments, the literary, scientific and religious features, the standard market reports, will all be kept up, and, as opportunity offers, extended.

The Tribune Premiums.

The Tribune has never been equalled in the substantial and permanent value of its premiums to agents and subscribers, and it adds to its list this year two of the most desirable it has ever offered. Note the following:

THE GREAT BIBLE CONCORDANCE.

Analytical concordance to the Bible, on an entirely new plan, containing every word in alphabetical order arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each and its pronunciation; exhibiting 311,000 references, 115,000 beyond Cruden; marking 300,000 various readings in the New Testament; with the latest information on Biblical Geography and Antiquities, etc. By Robert Young, LL. D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, etc.

In one handsome quarto volume, containing over 1,100 three-column pages, very substantially bound in cloth. The pages and type are the same size as those of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. It is at once a Concordance, a Greek, Hebrew and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a Scriptural Gazetteer. Every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible reading and study.

This great work was originally published in England in October, 1879, and was sold at $15. We can now offer it in connection with The Tribune at the following remarkably low rates: for

$6 The Concordance and one copy of The Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies one year.

$11 The Concordance and one copy of The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies for one year, or ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

The postage on the Concordance is forty cents, which the subscriber will remit if wishing it sent by mail. Except for short distances the mail will be cheaper than the express.

Our second new premium for this year is the following:

The Library of Universal Knowledge,

Embracing Chambers' Encyclopædia complete, omitting only some of the articles, with extensive additions by an able corp of American editors, treating about 15,000 additional topics, thoroughly Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over twenty-five per cent of the latest, freshest and most valuable matter, the whole making fifteen Handsome Octavo volumes of six by nine and a half inches in size, printed in large type on good, strong, calendered paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

We can offer this valuable work in connection with The Tribune as follows:

$20 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years to one subscriber.

$19 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

$28 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

Eight volumes of the work are now ready, the ninth is nearly through the press, and the rest will rapidly follow. It will be sent by mail or express at the subscriber's expense. The postage, if sent by mail, will be twenty-one cents per volume. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

For any further information desired, address

THE TRIBUNE,
New York.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

With a Bonus of Stock.

The pavement made by this Company has met with the highest favor, both in this country and in Europe, and it is considered to approach perfection more nearly than any other.

The Works of the Company are at Providence, R. I., and at Hastings, N. Y., and the needs of its business will soon require additional ones at Chicago and other large cities.

Negotiations are now pending with capitalists in London and Paris for the right to manufacture and use this pavement in those cities.

Few enterprises now on the market promise as profitable business as this one.

The Company require additional means to extend the facilities for manufacturing, and offer for sale the second $100,000 of their six per cent bonds (convertible into stock) at par and interest. These bonds carry a bonus of stock, which is fixed for the present at fifty per cent.

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar promptness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy," as I did."

—After having passed sleepless nights owing to the horrible noise made by a Cochin China cock in a neighboring garden, Carlyle interviewed the proprietor of the fowl, and expostulated. The owner, a woman, did not think Mr. Carlyle had much cause for complaint; the cock only crew three or four times in the night. "Eh, but woman," said the unfortunate philosopher, "if you only knew what I suffered waiting for him!"

—In France the damage caused by the ravages of wolves has been roughly estimated to reach a sum of 50,000,000 of francs a year. Such a winter as the past is very favorable to the depredations of these animals, which swarm in the departments into which the Alps and Pyrenees extend. Several deaths have recently been reported in outlying districts, the wolves showing a boldness which they have not exhibited since they followed in troops in the wake of the invading German armies ten years ago.

—In the French chamber of deputies a few days ago, M. Laroche Joubert, a Bonapartist, proposed the sale of life titles at the rate of 10,000 francs a year for duke, 5,000 francs for marquis, 4,000 francs for count, 3,000 francs for baron, and 2,000 francs for the particle de. He calculated the receipts at 100,000,000 francs, and considered this better than the present system of usurping titles, under which it was not easy to distinguish the spurious from the genuine. The proposal was referred in the ordinary course to the bureaux.

—Car wheels are now kept in their places without being keyed on. In former times the keys would drop out by the constant jar, and be almost sure to precipitate an accident; besides, they weakened the axle and wheel. Axles are turned to fit the wheel snugly, and are driven in place by hydraulic pressure. Previous to being driven, the axles are covered with a thin coat of white lead and oil, which hardens in a short time, and holds the wheel so firmly in place that a pressure of from one hundred to one hundred and forty tons is required to remove a broken axle from the wheel in which it is placed.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—Ella Wheeler, the dreamy-eyed Wisconsin poetess, in a poem recently published, says if she could be aught inanimate she would like to be an engine. Ella is a beautiful piece of machinery as she is. All the trouble with her is that she is disconnected. What she should have is an engineer.—Cleveland Leader.

From numerous cases of dyspepsia and constipation, cured by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, after every other known remedy has been used in vain, its efficacy in restoring the functions of digestion and evacuation is manifest.

—The story is told of a San Francisco man of sudden wealth, who desired a gallery of family portraits, and supplied the want by buying a lot of old portraits, while travelling abroad. He had the noses of all rubbed out, and his family nose, which is peculiar, carefully painted in, thus making the pictures probable.

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit."—N. E. Farmer.

—At a marriage lately in Maine the bride's voice faltered, and she paused in the midst of the impressive ceremony. Her little niece, a bright three-years-old, thinking the naughty minister was compelling poor aunty to say something disagreeable, stamped her little foot and exclaimed in a tone of authority, "Aunty, don't oo thay it."

A Beet-Sugar Speculation.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Franklin Beet Sugar company was held at Franklin, Mass., Saturday. The proposition to sell the real estate and all of the personal property of the company, consisting of a large brick and wood building, valuable machinery and other stock, which cost the company $132,000, was adopted. The price fixed was $60,000. The sale was necessitated by the debts of the company, which amounted to the sum paid for the mills by the new company. The stockholders received no money. The new company, to be known as the Union Beet Sugar company, was organized immediately after the vote of dissolution of the old company was passed. Some of the stockholders growled as they witnessed the legal absorption of their money, but there was no alternative between that and bankruptcy.

News and Notes.

A child four years old, named Etta Frank, suffering from small-pox in its most virulent stage, was taken from New York to Boston by her grandmother, Sunday night, in a train filled with passengers. The sick child was then kept in the Old Colony railroad station several hours, waiting for a train to start for Provincetown, the station being thronged during the time.

Against Jeliaboff, Kibaltschitisch and Sophie Pieoff-ky, on trial last week for the murder of the late czar, a verdict of guilty was returned, and all three of the criminals were sentenced to death by hanging. The woman's sentence will be submitted to the czar for confirmation, as she is of noble birth.

Contrary to the ordinary experience, the calamity at Chio gains in magnitude as the particulars are learned. To say that out of seventy thousand inhabitants nearly seven thousand, or one-tenth, have been killed, and that of the remainder one-quarter are wounded, while all are mourning, if not destitute, is to say that which we intelligently understand but cannot sentimentally realize or appreciate. Upon one of the finest spots of earth now rests utter desolation.

A vessel, apparently a two-masted steamer with yards on the foremast, was seen on fire ten miles off Highland light, Cape Cod, on the night of the 9th inst.

Steamship Bristol City, which left New York for Bristol, Eng., Dec. 28th, has been given up for lost, with all hands. She carried twenty-seven men, and was only eighteen months old.

The latest advices received by the government are to the effect that Sitting Bull is on his way to surrender to the American authorities. His band has become weak in numbers, owing to lack of food.

Quite a sensation was created Saturday night at the Rock Island depot in Chicago, by the discovery of two or three cases of smallpox among a party of emigrants that had just arrived via the Michigan Central railroad from New York. They were sent to the pest house.

A Gallatin, Tenn., despatch says; "A revenue officer named Seagraves, while on his way home in Macon county, stopped at a farm house to spend the night. He was called out by five men, taken to the woods, and shot twice through the head."

Brigands near Salonica have captured an Englishman, and demand £15,000 ransom for him.

Capt. Lull of the navy, who has in years past had connection with the United States surveys for canal purposes, on the Nicaragua and Panama routes, was recently ordered to Panama to take command of the Wachusett. When there he gave some attention to canal matters, and he writes that De Lesseps has several small surveying parties, composed of French engineers, with native laborers, at work on different points of the route. So far no construction work has been commenced. Capt. Lull is more than ever convinced that De Lesseps' scheme of a tide-level canal is impracticable, and that no Panama canal will ever be constructed, unless the original plans are so modified as to entirely change the character of the work.

Smith Ransom, an old farmer and rum-seller of Springfield, Mass., was found in his bed Sunday morning in a dying state, with his skull smashed in two places. Henry Bridge, an intemperate quarryman, has confessed the crime.

Mary Lizzie Bridges went to Marblehead, Mass., from Hamilton about a month ago. She soon became engaged to William Adams, and they were to have been married on Fast day evening. Miss Bridges had her wedding dress and other things ready, but on Thursday morning Adams told her he guessed he would not get married at present. At noon he told her he should not marry her at all. She begged of him on her knees to keep his promise, but he would not yield. She then went to her room and cut up her wedding dress with a knife, and then swallowed a dose of laudanum. Medical aid was called, but the girl died on Saturday. She was about twenty-two years of age.

Dr. James A. Tilton of Newburyport, well known in Essex county, Mass., as a physician and surgeon, died April 10th of congestion of the brain, aged sixty-five years. He was born in Canaan, N. H., graduated from Dartmouth, and has resided in Newburyport since 1852. He had an extensive practice in Essex county, and parts of New Hampshire. He leaves two grown-up sons.

Gen. M. W. Gary died at Edgefield Court House, S. C., on the 9th inst. He was a brigadier general in the confederate army, and state senator from 1876 to 1880. He was one of the leaders, if not indeed the leader, of the infamous "Edgefield massacre" by which the democrats carried that district in 1876. It is not impossible that a greater scoundrel than he may at some time have dishonored the world by existing in it.

Samuel Christy, alias Lamb, visited the store of Patrick Casey at Vanceboro, N. B., and began to abuse him. In self defence Casey threw blue vitriol in his face, destroying the sight of both eyes.

Mrs. Charles Ballou of Saranac, Michigan, the far-famed fat woman, known as the "Mammoth Queen," died in Detroit on Friday. Her weight when she was with shows is stated to have been 570 pounds. She has been living at home for some time past. Her weight before death was 400 pounds. The casket containing the body was 6 1-2 feet long, three feet wide and twenty inches deep.

Otto Heinze of Woodbury, Vt., while exercising by jumping over a fence, March 17th, sustained injuries which resulted in his death a few days ago. He was married only the day before the accident.

A Mrs. Currier of North Troy, Vt., wants to be divorced from a husband to whom she was married in 1831. It would seem that fifty years' companionship ought to have enabled them to get along together.

The safe in the Boston & Maine railroad depot at Andover, Mass., was blown open Friday night, and $60 taken. No clew to the burglars.

John Regan, a married man, thirty-six years old, was arrested at Worcester, Mass., Saturday evening, for larceny from the person and an attempt to ravish Mrs. Relief A. Felton. Regan is a button pedlar, and entered the house to sell his goods to Mrs. Felton.

Three lads named McNarama, Kane and Finnell have been bound over to appear before the next term of the superior court in Danbury, Conn., charged with assault on Henry W. Wright of South Egremont, whose body was found at the bottom of the Rubber pond at New Haven, about two weeks ago.

Baron de Friedland, and the baroness, arrested at Paris in December, charged with forging bills to the amount of 198,000 francs, in the name of the late Princess de la Moscowa, grandmother of the baroness, have been acquitted.

George Girouard, a French lad of thirteen years, was caught in an elevator at the Harris Privilege mill at Woonsocket, R. I., Saturday morning, while looking down to see a companion, and had his head nearly severed from his body. He died instantly. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Hon. Silas C. Crandall, a prominent man of Richmond, R. I., was found dead in the highway Friday evening. It is uncertain whether he was murdered. He had been in a low drinking den, where he interfered to stop a fight, when Geo. Ammond struck him with his fist, and was subsequently fined for assault. Mr. Crandall, who was intoxicated, was afterward found in the wheel of his wagon, dead. The theory of some is that he was killed and placed in that position.

The Kearsarge, Comdr. Picking, arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 8th inst. from Havana. All well.

Pleasure before Business.

There has been a feud of long standing between two Galveston darkies. They were continually fighting and quarrelling. Not long since one of them died, and, to the astonishment of the colored population, the other one attended the funeral. After the funeral services were over the Rev. Aminidab Bledso, of the Blue-Light Colored Tabernacle, met the surviving enemy and said impressively: "I was much pleased to see yer at de obsequies of yore ole enemy. Hit does credit to de goodness ob yore heart. Hit shows dat yer don't carry yore presentiments beyond de grave. Everybody is praisin' yer for yore goodness." "I dunno about dat ar. I had to lose half a day's work attendin' dat ar funeral, and de Bible says, 'Bizness first and pleasure afterward,' and I tuck de pleasure fust and did my work afterward; I reckon I ought to be ashamed of myself."

—The secret marriage of a young Canadian couple was only recently disclosed to their fond parents after an existence of over two years.

—A burglar entered a miser's residence at Corpus Christi, Texas, stole a trunk supposed to contain money, carried it a mile away, opened it, and found nothing of value. Then he returned to the house in anger, demanded the miser's money or life, and received a bullet.

Land & Buildings at Kittery Point for Sale

THE lot of land and buildings thereon situated at Kittery Point, formerly owned by Thos. O. Hoyt. The land is a knoll of about five acres, pleasantly situated, overlooking the lower harbor and ocean. It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and speedy mode of conveyance, and ere long this place must be quite valuable for the erection of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its pure air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any one seeking a summer residence. AROUND HOME.

The street sprinklers were out on Monday, and did good service.

The schooner Christie Campbell sailed for the banks Monday forenoon.

Capt. John C. Hurst of Kittery Point will run timber from Bangor to Salisbury this season in the schooner Leonora.

A dozen or more trees have been set out on Richards avenue this spring, to take the places of others which had died.

J. E. Ham & Co., custom clothiers, have secured a gentleman from Boston to attend to the cutting at their establishment.

The schooner Flora Temple was sold on Monday to John Glenn of York, and others, for $1850. She will continue in the fishing business.

The tug Ann towed the schooner Laura Robinson, Luce master, to Dover on Monday, and returned to her wharf on the same tide. The schooner had a cargo of coal.

Plans are being prepared for the alteration and improvement of the building occupied by the National Mechanics & Traders' bank and the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co.

The schooner Loella, Amee master, arrived in the lower harbor from Boston on Sunday, and came up to town on Monday. She brought around salt for Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell, at the Shoals.

Senator Rollins passed through this city on Monday afternon, to visit the homestead in Dover, the scene of the late conflagration. He will at once rebuild upon the site of the former family mansion.

Next Sunday will be Easter, and the musical exercises at the Episcopal church will be much more elaborate than usual, a triple quartette selected from the best male and female singers in the city having been secured for the occasion.

W. E. Cochrane has commenced work on his new stable, which is to be situated on Warren street, and have drive ways on Chestnut and Congress streets, leaving a lot suitable for a store on the corner of the last-named two streets.

Miss Maude Forrester and her trained horse "Lightning" will appear at Music hall on Friday evening in "Mazeppa, or the wild horse of Tartary." The same scenery and mechanical effects used in Boston will be used here. See adv't.

The CHRONICLE of Wednesday will contain the sermon preached in the South Parish church on Fast day by Rev. James DeNormandie, on "Fasting from Immorralities." Copies of the CHRONICLE and the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE can always be procured at the news-rooms of Moses Brothers.

Mr. F. S. Bhanfrau, who is to appear at Music hall next Monday evening as "Kit, the Arkansas traveller," will be greeted by a large audience. The piece is the best known of all the border dramas, and Mr. Chanfrau's success in it has been almost phenomenal. The sale of tickets commences at Preston's on Thursday. See adv't.

Mr. T. C. Meagher, practical gilder, has opened rooms at No. 24 1-2 Market street, for the repairing and re-gilding of picture and mirror frames, and the restoration of oil-paintings injured by age or lack of care. Mr. Meagher has just finished an extensive job for Hon. E. H. Winchester, and is now ready to do work for the public at large. We have looked over a lot of old frames renovated by him, and no new work could look any better. His charges are reasonable, and we should suppose he would not lack for patronage in his special line of business.

The May breakfast and fair of the Unitarian society at Exeter, will be held this year on Wednesday, May 4th.

A large quantity of hay is being pressed by the farmers of York and Kittery Point, who receive a handsome price for their product.

Mr. William Furbish, of Beech ridge, York, recently lost his well-known horse, "Standwell," aged twenty-nine years. He contemplates starting a grapery over the remains.

Newichewannock Tribe, No. 4, Improved Order of Red Men, of this city, will visit Manchester on the evening of the 14th inst., to assist in organizing a new tribe of the order in that place.

It is rumored that a gold mine has been discovered within a short distance of Market square, and that a bit of rock from the outcroppings, weighing three ounces, yielded nearly an ounce of gold. We do not vouch for the truth of the rumor.

The schooner Commonwealth, Burding master, from Rockland, has just finished discharging a cargo of lime at the Portsmouth coal-pockets, and the schooner J. W. Kennedy, Pomeroy master, has just arrived there from Rondout with a cargo of cement, for J. Albert Walker.

A young lady living in Newington has employed her leisure moments during the past winter in making a quilt which contains four thousand, four hundred and eighty-three pieces. Our informant says this industrious maiden is waiting to be tolled into matrimony by some eligible young fellow.

Rev. Wm. R. G. Mellen, of Dover, preached quite acceptably at the Unitarian church in this city on Sunday. Since Mr. Mellen's pastorate at Dover, the attendance at the Unitarian church services in that place has largely increased. Mr. Mellen for many years was settled at Toronto, Canada, and has also preached at Staten Island, N. Y., for the society where Geo. W. Curtis so frequently officiated on Sabbaths. Mr. Mellen has made many friends in Dover, and the society in that city, under his ministration, seems to be gaining in strength and religious interest.

About three o'clock Saturday afternoon fire was discovered issuing from the roof of the dwelling-house owned and occupied by John M. Palmer at Hampton beach. The wind was blowing strong from the southeast at the time, and the fire spread with great rapidity, destroying the house, stable and confectionery store of Mr. Palmer. The dwelling house of Mrs. Horace Marshall was next to take fire, and this, together with a cottage belonging to Mrs. Hastings of Manchester, N. H., were totally destroyed. From these buildings the fire spread to the cottage of Charles Morrill of Malden, Mass., agent of the Valentine Varnish company, and this, with a barn belonging to William P. Davis of Lawrence, and another barn belonging to James Perkins of Hampton, also became a total loss. The origin of the fire was a defective flue in the house of Mr. Palmer. The fire spread so rapidly that it was with the greatest exertion that a large quantity of property was saved. Mr. Palmer's loss will be about $1300, on which there was an insurance of $700.—Newburyport Herald.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANKS.

The Portsmouth savings bank, which has for some months occupied premises in Franklin buildings while the bank building was being remodelled, on Monday removed to its new (and old) quarters.

This bank was chartered in 1823, and the act of incorporation was signed by Governor Levi Woodbury, June 26th of that year.

Of the twenty-four prominent citizens of the town who were named as its incorporators, including the pastors of four churches, but one descendant is now connected with the bank as an officer, namely, the treasurer, Joseph Hiller Foster, whose father, the late Deacon John W. Foster, was one of the first trustees, continuing in office from 1823 to 1839. Mr. Jos. Hiller Foster has been a member of the corporation since 1852, and is the senior trustee in this respect, that is, duration of membership of the corporation He was chosen a trustee in 1864, and treasurer in 1877. He is the third person elected to the latter office during the existence of the corporation, now nearly sixty years.

PILSEN BOCK BEER.

The Eldredge Brewing Company, which has of late years quite successfully produced this celebrated Bock beer, will on Wednesday ship to their agents in Manchester, Concord, Dover, Great Falls, and other places in this state, and to Worcester, Lowell, Lawrence, Salem, Lynn, Newburyport and Haverhil, and the Boston branch this bock beer, which at this season season is a favorite beverage to many who appreciate it.

The beer is produced with much care the malt being selected expressly for this brewing, while the hops are imported from Bavavia directed by the company. These superior ingredients with the pure spring water used at the brewery, and the brewing made precisely as in Germany where this is such a universally favorite beverage, enables the company to place upon the market an article second to none sold in the United States.

The beer is loaded into refrigerator cars at the breweries, and sent out on Wednesday evening in season to reach the wholesale dealers on Thursday forenoon. The brews in former seasons of this beer have been sold by many leading family grocers and dealers in other cities, and have found a ready sale in the market. Dealers and families in Portsmouth are supplied by C. E. Boynton from his bottling establishment, No. 18 Bow street. The beer was brewed quite early during the past season, and in its production, care and component parts no pains or expense have been spared to have it maintain the high repute heretofore attained by the company, for their celebrated Pilsen Bock, which by many connoisseurs is pronounced superior to any in the New England market.

BETSY BAKER.

On Wednesday evening, at Franklin theatre, the Boston Opera Co. Artists' Quartette will present the comic opera "Betsy Baker, or too attentive by half." Tickets can now be obtained at the store of Alfred Stavers, Franklin buildings. Of this performance the New Bedford Standard says:-

The entertainment was a grand success, the charming comical operetta, "Betsy Baker," being given, and as we predicted, the hall was far too small to contain the people who flocked there. Early in the afternoon every ticket was sold, and even standing room was disposed of and still there was a steady demand. Hundreds must have been disappointed, but for all such we have a piece of good news, as we are able to announce that the same company will again visit our city in March. Every one was delighted with the entertainment last evening, the singing and acting being very fine, even surpassing the anticipations of those who attended. It is safe to say that the Boston Opera Co. will always receive a hearty welcome here.

A Woman turning to Bone.

"Mrs. Mollie Utz," says a new Albany, Ind., letter, "is a highly respected widow of this city, whose husband, a well-to-do farmer of Georgetown township, died about one year ago. About eight years ago Mrs. Utz felt her health failing; her symptoms being those indicated by a disturbed circulation of the blood. These symptoms grew upon her, often producing sinking or fainting attacks. A little over a year ago she noticed numbness at the end of her fingers, and this slowly spread itself upward until all the fingers on both hands became involved. But it was more than numbness—it was ossification. The hardening process still continues, and has now reached nearly to the elbows on both arms. Flesh, muscles, and nerves have alike undergone the hardening process, and are now apparently solid bone, the skin covering the ossified parts being hard and alabaster-like in appearance. Eminent physicians have been called to see the case, but they only examined it to tell the lady that she was beyond the reach of aid from medical skill, and that the process of ossification would continue until a vital part was reached, when death would ensue. Mrs. Utz fully realizes her condition, and bears up under it with fortitude and resignation. Her heart is seriously complicated in the disease, and the slightest excitement provokes an attack of fainting, in which suspended circulation continues until a reaction is produced by severe friction. Ossification of the principal arteries of the heart has no doubt set in. Nevertheless Mrs. Utz is very cheerful, and a few days ago left the city to pay a farewell visit to relatives and friends in the country. She says this will be her last trip to the scenes of her happy married life."

—A Delaware man, arrested for murder, proved that on that night and at the hour of the murder he was at home, mauling his wife, and this fact saved him.

Producing as Rich and Cleanly Appearance as if Nature Alone had Imparted it.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE is the best and cheapest Hair Dressing—kills dandruff, allays irritation, and promotes a vigorous and healthy growth of the hair. No other compound produces these results.

The superiority of BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently result in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. CONSUMPTION.

Owing to a popular idea that a remedy said to cure a variety of maladies should be treated with caution, if not suspicion, the inventor hesitated some time in placing it before the public; but from the gratifying assurance by a great number of the rare vitalizing and health-renewing properties of his preparation of Hypophosphites, under a variety of circumstances, he is equally satisfied that these effects are secured by its use, that its action is peculiar to his preparation, and that Consumption is not only curable, but, up to a certain stage, is as easily controlled as most other organic diseases.

* * * * * *

While it is the aim of the inventor to convey information to such as require his Hypophosphites, it is his firm belief that its use will be valuable to all who desire a long life or who are struggling for health.

With a faith based upon the experience of twelve years, he would not despair of restoring a patient suffering from the above-named disease, even though reduced to a very low state and not complicated by actual organic loss.

FLINT, MICH., May 10th, 1880.

Dear Sir: Allow me to say that I esteem your "Hypophosphites" most highly, and for those engaged in professions which draw largely on the nervous system it is invaluable. I have used it myself with the most satisfactory results and have introduced it to a large number of my people.

The Russian Priest's Wife.

There is only one happy woman in Russia; it is the priest's wife, and it is a common mode of expression to say, "as happy as a priest's wife." The reason why she is happy is because her husband's position depends upon her. If she dies he is deposed, and becomes a mere layman; his property is taken away from him, and distributed, half to his children and half to the government. This dreadful contingency makes the Russian priest careful to get a healthy wife, if he can, and makes him take extraordinary good care of her after he has got her. He waits upon her in the most abject way. She must never get her feet wet, and she is petted and put in hot blankets if she has so much as a cold in the head. It is the greatest possible good fortune for a girl to marry a priest, infinitely better than to be the wife of a noble.

A Practical Story.

Dr. Wilm, the clever physician, who married a princess of Wurtemberg last year, much to the disgust of her noble relatives, is said to have made her very happy. He has a great practice at Breslau, and his accomplished wife aids him in the care of those of his patients who are too poor to procure the necessary remedies. The baptism of their little daughter was the occasion recently of many pleasant rejoicings among the grateful people. The story of the princess and the doctor is essentially a modern romance—practical to the last degree; but is none the worse for that.

—A stock broker returning to his office the other day, after a substantial luncheon with a client, said, complacently, to his head clerk: "Mr. Putkin, the world looks different to a man when he has a bottle of champagne in him." "Yes, sir," replied the clerk, significantly, "and he looks different to the world."

—A report on the state of religion in Nevada would be almost as brief as the famous chapter on "Snakes in Ireland." The following anecdote might, however, be inserted: "At the recent opening of the Nevada legislature, an eastern minister was invited to perform the religious service. He accepted the call, and closed the ceremony with the Lord's Prayer When he had finished, State Senator Doolan turned to Senator Hammond and remarked audibly: 'He stole that prayer, and I'll bet on it. I heard it almost word for word in Eureka at a funeral, over ten years ago.'"

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

—Mr. Swinburne is not the only light of English literature who calls those who differ with him "lepers" and other base things. Mr. Halliwell-Phillips, the Shakspearean scholar, complains that the director of the New Shakspearean society, in a preface to a fac-simile, assails him as a "leading member of the firm of Pigsbrook & Co.," and styles some of his theories "porcine vagaries," while others are said to be promulgated "on the prongs of a dung-fork."

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is specially and exclusively subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

—They found a dead man on the pavement in front of a newspaper office in a western town, with a poem on "Spring" clenched in his stiff, cold fingers, and the coroner didn't even hold an inquest on him. He simply looked up at the editorial rooms on the top floor, and measuring the distance to the ground with his eye, remarked: "It would kill any man to throw him out of that window. Take the remains to the undertaker."

It Is Not Strange

That the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon" Whiskey has grown in popularity since its high character has been maintained from the beginning. Druggists and grocers sell it. See that the signatures of the proprietors, Chester H. Graves & Sons, is over each cork.

The Leading American Newspaper.

THE

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

For 1881.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

During the past year the New York Tribune reached the highest circulation it ever attained, with the single exception of a short period in the first Lincoln campaign. It is a larger circulation, and more widely distributed over the whole country than any ever enjoyed by any other newspaper in the United States. This fact may be taken as the verdict of the American people on The Tribune's political force, its fidelity to sound principles, and its merits as a newspaper.

For 1881, The Tribune will try to deserve equally well of the public. It will labor for, and it confidently expects the present administration to promote a free and fair suffrage, South and North, sound money, protection to home Industry, judicious liberality in internal improvements, and a Civil Service conducted on business principles, on the theory of elevating, not of ignoring or degrading politics.

The well-known special features of The Tribune will be sedulously maintained. Its Agricultural Department will remain the fullest and best. The Household and the Young Folks' Departments, the literary, scientific and religious features, the standard market reports, will all be kept up, and, as opportunity offers, extended.

The Tribune Premiums.

The Tribune has never been equalled in the substantial and permanent value of its premiums to agents and subscribers, and it adds to its list this year two of the most desirable it has ever offered. Note the following:

THE GREAT BIBLE CONCORDANCE.

A analytical concordance to the Bible, on an entirely new plan, containing every text in the alphabetical order arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each and its pronunciation; exhibiting 311,000 references, 118,000 beyond Cruden; marking 300,000 various readings in the New Testament, with the latest information on Biblical Geography and Antiquities, etc. By Robert Young, LL. D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, etc.

In one handsome quarto volume, containing over 1,100 three-column pages, very substantially bound in cloth. The pages and type are the same size as those of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. It is at once a Concordance, a Greek, Hebrew and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a Scriptural Gazetter. Every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible reading and study.

This great work was originally published in England in October, 1879, and was sold at $15. We can now offer it in connection with The Tribune at the following remarkably low rates: for $6 the Concordance and one copy of The Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies one year.

FOR $11 The Concordance and one copy of The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies for one year, or ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

FOR $20 The Concordance and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

The postage on the Concordance is forty cents, which the subscriber will remit if wishing it sent by mail. Except for short distances the mail will be cheaper than the express.

Our second new premium for this year is the following:

The Library of Universal Knowledge,

Embracing Chambers' Encyclopædia complete, omitting only some of the cuts, with extensive additions by an able corps of American editors, treating about 15,000 additional topics, thoroughly Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over twenty-five per cent of the latest, freshest and most valuable matter, the whole making fifteen thousand Octavo columns of six by nine and a half inches in size, printed in large type on good, strong, enameled paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

We can offer this valuable work in connection with The Tribune as follows:

FOR $15 The Library of Universal Knowledge complete in fifteen octavo volumes, substantially bound in cloth as above described, and The Weekly Tribune five years to one subscriber.

FOR $20 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune five years to one subscriber.

FOR $19 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

FOR $28 The Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

Eight volumes of the work are now ready, the ninth is nearly through the press, and the rest will rapidly follow. It will be sent by mail or express at the subscriber's expense. The postage, if sent by mail, will be twenty-one cents per volume. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story--A Hopeless Case Cured--A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to me a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

Daily Chronicle.

Fasting from Immoralities.

A sermon preached on Fast day, April 7th, 1881, by James DeNormandie, minister of the South Parish, Portsmouth, N. H.

Isa. 58: 6. Is not this the Fast I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness?

Fast Day in New England has had a somewhat peculiar signification in the popular mind, a day set apart in the spring of the year as a prayer-time for good harvests, and a fruitful season,—with its corresponding Thanksgiving Day in the autumn—and it was no unmeaning thing when scanty supplies of food brought the phantom of starvation near to the early settlers; but a vast realm with harvests sufficient almost for the world, and a deepening sense of that divine order which waits not upon our petitions have greatly modified all this. Fast-day now is an appointment from custom, not from conviction; the religious motive in it is well-nigh lost. It is more a day for the first great champion base-ball game; for persons from the city to make a tour of observation of the watering places, or to see in what condition the winter has left their summer residences. But a far deeper meaning has been connected with fasting, in the religious ceremonies of all ages. It has been supposed, through the mysterious association of body and spirit, that some power of purifying the soul, of increasing the moral self-restraint, of mortifying the flesh, lay in abstinence from food—that in some way, by denying the appetite the sensual part of man was weakened, and the spiritual part strengthened; hence the fasts which have so long been joined to the temple-worship; hence the whole growth of this present season of Lent, which is observed through the greater part of Christendom; hence the custom of setting apart a day of fasting before men entered upon any work of serious moment, as when a church was formed, (this was quite common in our early settlements,) or when the nation suffered some signal defeat,—a time when a great sense of need seemed to bring one nearer to the Infinite Dependence, or when under a great pressure of sin man craved the infinite forgiveness—in this sense a day set apart for fasting is never out of place. If any denial of bodily appetites and passions for awhile, can purify the spiritual vision, or increase the spiritual strength, if it can loose society or individuals from the bands of wickedness, surely now is a time when it should be practised. Christianity is a religion which keeps in constant sight the moral obligations of man. It was not so much its theological dogmas as it was the pure life of its followers which gained the victory over the decadent Roman Empire.

It is extremely difficult to gather together sufficient facts to show the relative moral condition of one age with another, but if Horace's testimony is of any weight in counts for anything, in moralities of all kinds had eaten the very life out of Rome at the introduction of Christianity; and Christianity, as if it were some divine principle of moral transformation, for a while over came and banished them. Seneca, one of the Roman moralists, says "all things are full of crimes and vices. * Daily the appetite for sin increases, the sense of shame diminishes. Casting away all respect for right and justice, lust hurries whithersoever it will. * Iniquity has so free a course in public, it so dominates in all hearts that innocence is not only rare—it does not exist at all." Seneca De Ira, ii. 8. There is no doubt that for a long time the morals of the Roman realm were very high. Domestic and public virtues were cherished, and it was one of their boasts that for the first five hundred years of their history, no instance of divorce had been recorded; but it was the old story which repeats itself with us,—the increase of empire, the reign of prosperity, the accumulation of wealth, the introduction of oriental habits of luxury and evil, the rivalry and jealousy which come in the state for success among all professional classes in a crowded civilization, the envy and bitterness produced by the thirst for position, the rule of fashion which adopted unnatural habits, weakened and broke down the grand old Roman character. Here and there it stood out in some life struggling to be true, Seneca, or Tacitus, or Agricola, like the lone column of Phocas among the ruins of all its former companions, or lingered like the memory of some sweet music whose strains were lost, but its power over the social life had vanished. "If the inner life had been presented to us of that period which in political greatness and in art is the most brilliant epoch of humanity, we should have turned away from the sight with loathing detestation. The greatest adorners of old heathen virtues, the man endowed with the finest sensibilities for beauty and form, would feel at once that there was a great gulf fixed between us and them, which no willingness to make allowance for the difference of ages or countries would enable us to pass." (Jowett on Romans, "On the state of the heathen world, p. 77.") Then comes St. Paul, eye-witness of the immoralities which were so open and universal throughout the imperial city,—and what a confession it is in that first chapter of Romans, of slander and lust, of crime and cruelty, of irreverence and disloyalty, of dishonesty, of unnatural vices not even to be named,—a broken-down civilization where the virtues had disappeared.

In the midst of such a condition Christianity came—and as what? Not as some system of philosophy which the learned were to discuss. Not as some scheme of doctrine about the Trinity or vicarious atonement, but as the example of a few men and women of personal purity amidst the all surrounding immorality, who bore about with them the inspiring memory of One who had shown them how pure human life could be. Now and then a Roman lady, yearning for that domestic virtue which was so rare a thing, would go to the little synagogue beyond the Tiber, and hear some of those sweet sentences about purity to which the world still owes its safety and its hope:—"To be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace;" "Brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh to live after the flesh;" "Dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God;" "Use not liberty for an occasion of the flesh;" "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

Here and there some woman in the Imperial family, in the midst of dissolute rulers whose only aim and study were to find some new sensual delight, whose leering eyes of lust were always searching for new victims, heard such words as these: "Make not provisions for the lusts of the flesh;" "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God? If any man shall defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are;" and that divine law of inward purity, "Whosoever looketh [even looketh] on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultry with her already in his heart;"—and women who in their hearts were longing to be delivered from the bondage of sensuality, and men who in spite of the power of passion could not fail to pay homage to even a dream of purity, saw there were those around them—the humble and despised Christians—in whom the dream was a day-reality.

Wherever the gospels went; wherever, still earlier, the letters of Saint Paul went; wherever any of the Christians went, the sentences which most frequently fell upon the ears were sentences which appealed to men to forsake their low, sensual life, and through personal purity find the beauty and loftiness of holiness.

One who calls to mind the frequency of the expressions bearing upon this subject, especially in the letters of Paul, whose life was spent in mingling with the old world, who well knew the vastness of its corruption, and the secret spring of moral purity in Christianity, is hardly astonished to find that the one great message of Christian teaching and Christian living was to escape from the immoralities, which had destroyed both body and soul in the imperial civilization. The sin against which men were warned was not some indefinite, abstract thing, which could have no personal application; not some intellectual rejection of this or that theological dogma; not some hypocritical confession of sin, which had no bearing upon the reformation of life; but the sins the apostle meant, and directed all his soul against, were lust, avarice, drunkenness, slander,—actual vices which man has always to fight against, and alas! how often to find rising up again with triumphant power. It is surprising to see how far the Christian church has wandered away from this plain teaching of sin, and as a result how these immoralities have asserted their sway—for they are like the fires which are so beneficent when guarded and fed, and kept within their bounds, and so utterly reckless and destructive the moment they are unrestrained. You might hear many ministers preach about sin forever, and not infer it meant any one of the Immoralities—or at least only some of the immoralities of the Pharisees in Judea eighteen hundred years ago—none of those which abound in the respectable, well ordered and reverent congregations of to-day—but what says the apostle?

"Let not sin reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof;" "Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness with sin." "Yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness." "That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh but after the spirit." "Keep no company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, with such an one, no not to eat."

Is it the infidels, or the heretics or athiests, or the persons who may have departed from the popular theology, who are lost? No; but, "Be not deceived. Neither fornicators, nor idolators, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, nor thieves, nor coveteous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God." "I keep under my body and bring it into subjection." "That the life of Jesus might be made manifest,"—in Lent, or at the experience meeting, or on Sunday, or in the profession of belief chiefly? no, but "in our mortal flesh."

Call to mind that stricking contrast in Galatians between the works of the flesh, and the fruits of the spirit; the inexpressible, inexhaustible power of the divine law, "he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption."

What was learning Christ? To get the Westminster Catechism, to repeat the Nicene or Athanasian creed? no, but "to put off concerning the former conversation the old man which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts." Think of these lists in Ephesians, in Colossians, where the service of Christ and of God is set forth in deliverance from the all surrounding immoralities. What a glorious gospel of the blessed God was that to bear to a world dead amidst its sins of the flesh—but it was borne to it by humble men and women whose lives manifested the moral regeneration to which Jesus had called them, and on and on, and up and up the new movement crept, until the Magnificat of Mary became the song of Christendom. "He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree." Exceptions there were, even in the time of St. Paul, exceptions there were in the early Christian churches of New England, but the prove the prevailing sentiment, and were brought to a speedy trial and condemnation.

Then, after coming into power, Christianity began to go through the old experience of the Roman Empire: the glory of the world was its own, but alas! the immorality of the world as well. With prosperity, and wealth, and dominion, came luxury and vice, rivalry and jealousy in the strife for success, and the mighty rule of fashion which ignored the laws of nature, and wherever and precisely to the extent that Christianity was turned into glittering generalities of faith, or mysterious sentimentality about sin, and forgot that the spiritual life is a moral in contrast to an immoral life, that the sin most hideous, most persistent and deadlier most to be dreaded was immorality, then Christianity lost its early transforming power.

It is the great but only too common reproach, that we cannot go far in Christendom to-day without finding churches which give any breadth or indefiniteness to their articles of belief or disbelief, so only they can gain numbers and influence to their fold; which are willing to excuse or overlook, or cover up, any glaring immoralities, if they should touch prominent parishioners; which if any great immorality is eating away the spiritual life of a community, are as silent as the sphinx before it; which, in fine, are willing to give up every essential of religion in order to insure a show of worldly prosperity. Said a man before the New York courts, tried for murder, "No man gets hung in America with such a purse as that," and he was freed; and no matter how immoral, a man who generously supports the altar services is pretty sure of no condemnation in this life from that quarter, and is entirely willing to risk the penalties of the future; and it is hardly too much to say that most churches prefer an increase of numbers and income, to an increase of righteousness, a loss of vital Christianity to a loss of heavy tax-payers. Here is the difference between Christianity in our day, and in its earliest estate; and we need not one day nor forty days set apart for special fasting, but every day some stronger and more effectual resistance against the immoralities which are only too general among us, which there is reason to fear are increasing with a power which threatens great destruction to domestic peace and personal purity.

We need fasting from detraction. When we call to mind the ambitions, the rivalries, the jealousies which embitter so many lives, and the calumnies and reproaches which we spread abroad concerning one another, yet all the time with no honest, earnest effort to set the guilty persons in their true light before a community, and save it from further injury, we have reached one of the chief sources of social truths. "It is not expressible," says Coleridge, "how deep a wound a tongue sharpened to the work will give, with no noiseand a very little word. This is the true white gunpowder which the dreaming projectors of silent mischiefs and insensible poisons sought for in laboratories of art and nature in a world of good, but which was to be found in its most destructive form in the world of evil, the tongue."

We need fasting on account of the recklessness and immorality of the Press. Here is the great new power which has come into the civilization of our day, holding the influences of good or evil with a wider grasp than any one agency of modern life,—not only as the newsbearer which puts us in communication every morning with the events of the whole world—but what a divine opportunity and responsibility to be the welcome messenger to a thousand homes of a higher intelligence, a purer literature, a better morality, and yet, alas! how often in the hands of ignorant and irresponsible persons is it merely the multiplier of every idle rumor, the medium of every corrupting jest, the vile encourager of every impurity and sensuality.

If, as Jesus said, his disciples did not express their rejoicings and gratitude "the very stones would immediately cry out," one would think that when this mighty power for good was used to send over the country, and into our schools and families, the literature which feeds the easily-aroused imaginations or morbid tastes of the young, or to lay before the public the arcana of nature which belong to professional confidence or scientific purposes, against so base a betrayal and exposure which only an equally morbid taste or guilt would attempt to excuse, against such a prostitution of the purpose for which they were made, even the very types would immediately cry out.

We need especially fasting from sensuality. We have seen how the burden of Christianity is against this pressing evil of our life, and how chiefly by personal purity it won its early triumph. What sublime sentences are these ringing down the ages with their heavenly call to virtue,—which can never grow weak or old, as long as in the recesses of any heart there are any vile imaginations, or in any eye the leer of lust. When there is no result of science, nor artifice, nor ingenuity of wealth which is not called in to conceal or to minister to the already overwhelming power of passion, is it not time that the whole energy of religion should be directed thitherward?

If there is a young man in my hearing to-day who knows his danger, who is fighting against this peculiar temptation, I plead with you to keep your fast, and break this band of wickedness.

Is there one here to-day, a parent, whose children are just coming to manhood or womanhood, who would have his own home preserved from these evils—I plead with you to remember every other home; to let no trifling word, no vile jest, show that you keep in any light estimation the possible ruin of a human soul. I plead with you to keep your fast until you break this band of wickedness.

Is there any one here to-day leading the low and miserable life of intemperance, wasting your outward substance and your inward life. I plead with you to keep your fast until you break this band of wickedness; then to all "Our righteousness shall go before us, and the glory of the Lord shall be our rereward."

And this is the special emphasis it belongs to us as a denomination to lay, the distinguishing feature we have always desired. We would inscribe as the very essence of all the articles of our belief, deliverance from immoralities as the power of an endless life. Others may fall from grace or faith; we must not fall from the virtues; and whenever a person speaks sneeringly of morality, or says "for my part I prefer religion," meaning some glittering and soothing ritualism, or some pleasing portrayal of mysteries which do not touch the actual sins of society, there is one whose religion is not seen in the consecrated life, or whose virtue is likely to be venal. All religion is but vanity unless it has its daily issues in truth, in honor, in purity, in trust. We profess it is religion, some ecstacy of devotion we prefer,—when there comes some immorality desolating to hearts and homes, and we find there can be no true religion but in moral fidelity.

A mortal is nothing without morals, but having these, in the midst of the corruptions of our time, shall he as a city set on a hill. And though worship should cease, though religion should become a broward, though sanctuaries should be deserted, though altars innumerable should go down before the encroaching power of worldliness, may there be those who give courage and hope to a broken-down civilization by planting themselve first, and last, and always, upon the simple moralities as the crowning glory of a human life.

The larder lean
And clean
From fat of beeves and sheep?

Is it to quit the dish
Of flesh, yet still
To fill
The platter high with fish?

Is it to fast an hour,
Or ragged go,
Or show
A downcast look, or sour?

It is to fast from strife,
From old debate
And hate
To circumcise thy life.

To show a heart grief-rent;
To starve thy sin—
Not bin—
And that's to keep thy Lent."

It would make an excellent site for a seaside hotel, or summer boarding house. A steamer makes, during the summer months, regular trips to Kittery Point, so that the place is easily reached from Portsmouth by a very cheap and especially mode of conveyance, and for long this place must be quite valuable for the direction of a boarding house or hotel. The beautiful scenery in and around this locality, its purest air, facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, &c., and the means of access either by road or river, make this a most desirable location for any seeking a summer residence. Mr. James Barr took his gondola through the Newcastle bridge, Monday afternoon, on the way to Leach's island to load stone for the new Episcopal church. After getting through the draw sail was made, and the gondola started to beat down to the island, but a sudden change in the wind let the gondola drop back against the bridge with the tide, and her sail caught in the uprights of the draw and was literally torn to rags.

Rev. Jas. DeNormandie of Portsmouth preached two exceedingly interesting sermons at the Unitarian church on Sunday. In the evening his text was from 2d Sam., 16: 13—"As David went by the way, Shimei went along on the hillside and cast dust." After speaking of the remarkable character of David, he referred to Shimei as notable in history as connected with that simple event, and that he was the representative of a great class of persons living in all ages, whose chief business was to throw the dust of slander at those occupying better or different positions from them, politically, socially and religiously. The subject was treated with marked ability, and persons guilty of throwing dust were held up in no enviable light.—Dover Republican.

Mr. B. Macauley will appear as "Uncle Dan'l" in "A messenger from Jarvis Section," Tuesday evening, April 19th.

Mr. Stephen Decatur of Kittery Point launched his yacht on Monday, and she now lies in her accustomed place at Pier wharf.

The Newburyport Herald of the 12th inst. says: "Quite a shipment of ore passed through this city over the Eastern railroad one day last week, from the gold mine in Eliot, Me."

The fishermen who have recently taken to fishing in small boats have brought in fares of from 500 to 3000 lbs. One whaleboat which brought in 3100 lbs. on one trip, it is hinted got some other boat's trawls mixed up with her own.

William H. Jackman, baggage-master at the Eastern railroad depot in Newburyport, who was injured at the depot two or three weeks ago while on duty, has recovered so far as to be out of doors, and will shortly resume his old position.

The schooner Sea Breeze, loaded with coal for the York Manufacturing Co., while going up Saco river in tow on the 11th inst. struck the old government pier, half a mile below the wharf in Saco, and sank in a few minutes. No lives were lost, and the vessel is not supposed to be seriously damaged.

Residents of Kittery complain that several young men of this city,—ill-bred and silly certainly, and intoxicated probably,—are in the habit of spending some of their evenings there, and making night hideous with their howls. On Sunday night last, about twelve o'clock, they were driving about the village yelling "fire," and the citizens threaten the adoption of vigorous measures to abate the nuisance.

The fishing vessels hailing from Swampscott, Mass., did some good work for themselves last week. The Dart sold one trip in Boston for $1050, getting six cents a pound; the Alice S. Hawkes sold 11,000 lbs. at $5 per hundred, 4000 lbs. at $6.62, and 1800 lbs. at $5.30 per hundred; the Jennie P. Phillips sold 10,400 lbs. at from $5 to $7 per hundred weight; the Mary E. The lecture of Dr. A. P. Peabody on "Russia" on Monday evening was, as might have been expected, both entertaining and instructive. The chapel of the Congregational church was nearly filled by an intelligent and attentive audience. The lecturer gave his hearers a descriptive account of his travels in many of the principal cities of Russia, leaving an impression that he was no idle observer of men and things while making a summer tour through St. Petersburg, Smolensk, Cronstadt, Moscow, Warsaw, and other important places of northern Russia. At the close of his hour's talk, Dr. Peabody held an informal reception in the hall, for the purpose of greeting his old friends, many of whom availed themselves of the opportunity of grasping his hand.

BETSY BAKER.

This evening, at Franklin theatre, the comic operetta "Betsy Baker" will be given by the Boston Opera Co. Artists' Quartette. The Haverhill Gazette says the piece "as presented by this company, cannot fail to please. As the plot develops, laughable incidents abound, and the listener is hurried from one perplexing incident to another. The quartette made a most favorable impression, and their pretensions were far distanced by their actual performances." The Great Falls Journal says: "The acting was good and the numbers rendered finely. The quartette singing was excellent—as good as ever given here." See advertisement.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK J.

TUESDAY, April 12th.

The April term of the supreme court for the county of Rockingham was opened at Exeter on Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock, Hon. Lewis W. Clark presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Street, pastor of the Congregational church.

The grand jurors returned to serve at this term having been sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties, were briefly addressed by Judge Clark, and then retired to their deliberations. The following is a list of the grand jury:

Frederic A. Woodman, Newton; Nathaniel B. Marston, North Hampton; Jonathan E. Whitcher, Northwood; Chas. H. Batchelder, Nottingham; Nathaniel F. Clark, Plaistow; George L. An order was made for the discharge from the Portsmouth jail of the following persons: Franklin C. Hoyt, Frank Watson and Frank Merry.

At 4:30 P. M. the court adjourned till ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

Be Temperate.

When sickness or depression comes, do not buy "tonic bitters." It is better to die of disease than drunkenness. Buy a bottle of "Favorite Remedy" and cleanse the system. The great multitude of human ills have their foundation in impure blood. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" attacks these at the fountain's head, and makes the stream of life pure. Only one dollar per bottle. All druggists sell it. Dr. David Kennedy, proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

The barque Kate Williams, from Cienfuegos for Boston with sugar, was spoken off this coast March 2d, since which time she has not been heard of. It is feared that she has gone to the bottom with all on board.

What They Lead To.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

A party of masked men rode into a town in Toledo county, Ark., Sunday, and while one half surrounded the court house, the others entered the treasury, blew open the safe, stole from $5,000 to $10,000, and escaped.

"Pinafore" never goes to sea without a good supply of that famous remedy, Adamson's Botanic Balsam, for colds and coughs. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

The Philadelphia Post says "an old couple in Maine have been married seventy-five years." It would have been much more remarkable had a young couple been married that length of time.

A four-years-old daughter of C. H. Elliott of Rumney was badly scalded on Monday by falling into a bucket of hot water.

Luther F. Hurd and P. Moran, agents for an illustrated bible, registered at the Grape hotel in Lancaster, Pa., March 29th. Some days afterward Moran went away without paying his bill, but left behind books and baggage. Wm. B. Finney, the landlord, had some words with Hurd about Moran's going off, and Hurd, whose board had been paid, said Moran would come back; Finney said the two agents were pious frauds, and on Hurd's remonstrating, Finney knocked him down and then gave him a kick, injuring him so that he died two days later. The day after the murderous assault, Finney received by mail from Moran the amount of the board bill. Finney is six feet high and weighs over two hundred pounds; Hurd was in delicate health, and weighed less than one hundred pounds. The deceased, who hailed from Boston, formerly resided in Dover; a brother, E. P. Hurd, lives in Great Falls, and another brother, Frank, in Springvale, Me. Finney has been arrested.

John T. Raymond, the actor, was married at the Continental hotel in Philadelphia, Monday, to Miss Courtney Barnes.

Charles Springstead, at present in jail at Passaic, N. J., on a charge of conspiring to rob and murder a citizen of that place, confesses that on the 12th of June, 1877, he murdered a boy named Samuel Asher at Lackawaxon, Pa. The boy was drowned on the date mentioned, as was always supposed by accident, but Springstead confesses that he purposely capsized the boat in which they were sailing, and then held the boy under water until he was drowned, because he hated the boy's father.

Captain Courtney!

Says: When on the coast of Africa I had three men-sick with malarial fever. I cured them with Sulphur Bitters. It is the greatest blood purifier I ever saw. I always keep them in my medicine chest. —Ship Nautilus, Baltimore.

Conversation by telephone was held on the 10th inst. between Bangor, Me., and St. John, N. B., a distance of about 214 miles. Every word was distinctly heard.

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and now I am a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

Frank Miner, of West Halifax, Vt., was fatally shot the other day by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of L. H. Ballou.

Mr. Patterson Meant What he Said.

I hereby testify that my boy, ten years of age, was taken sick with typhoid fever, followed by congestion of the lungs. Dr. Dyer, an eminent physician of this place, stated that he thought the boy would run down with quick consumption. A Mr. Patterson told me that Coe's Cough Balsam was curing similar cases, and advised us to purchase it. When I carried it home, my wife laughed at me, but I knew that Mr. Patterson meant just what he said, and I determined to try it. Two bottles effectually cured him, so that now he is as tough and healthy as anybody.

LYMAN DOREMAN.

Huntington, Conn., Aug. 29, 1866.

Jonathan Reed of Sterling, Mass., a charcoal vender, was struck by a train on the Worcester & Nashua railroad, as he was crossing the track with his team on Friday, and so badly injured that he died during the night. He was seventy years old.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m,w & f &g ias83

That $15,000.

On the 9th of March The News and Observer announced that a half of ticket No. 14,612 in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the capital prize of $30,000 in the drawing of March 8th, was held in Raleigh. It was since that time the inquiries as to who was the lucky man have been constant, and no efforts have been spared to find him. Information came to us yesterday from a perfectly reliable source that Mr. Peter M. Wilson, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, was the fortunate person. The news of Mr. Wilson's great good fortune will give general pleasure not only in this city, but in all part of the State, for his friends are legion.—Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer, March 31.

ILLUSTRATION. At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

TO GRATIFY HIS WIFE.

An Interesting Story—A Hopeless Case Cured—A Good Reason for Happiness.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill, Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints, and I assure the public that the "Favorite Remedy" has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the "Favorite Remedy," as I did."

IF I COULD KEEP HER SO.

BY LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON.

Just a little baby, lying in my arms—
Would that I could keep you with your baby charms;
Helpless, clinging fingers, downy, golden hair,
Where the sunshine lingers, caught from other where;
Blue eyes asking questions, lips that cannot speak,
Roly-poly shoulders, dimple on your cheek;
Dainty little blossom in a world of woe,
Thus I fain would keep you, for I love you so.

Roguish little damsel, scarcely six years old—
Feet that never weary, hair of deepest gold;
Restless, busy fingers all the time at play,
Tongue that never ceases talking all the day;
Blue eyes learning wonders of the world about,
Here you come to tell them—what an eager shout!—
Winsome little damsel, all the neighbors know;
Thus I long to keep you, for I love you so.

Sober little school-girl, with your strap of books,
And such grave importance in your puzzled looks;
Solving weary problems, poring over sums,
Yet with tooth for sponge cake and for sugar plums;
Reading books of romance in your bed at night,
Waking up to study with the morning light;
Anxious as to ribbons, deft to tie a bow,
Full of contradictions—I would keep you so.

Sweet and thoughtful maiden, sitting by my side,
All the world's before you, and the world is wide;
Hearts are there for winning, hearts are there to break,
Has your own, shy maiden, just begun to wake?
Is that rose of dawning glowing on your cheek
Telling us in blushes what you will not speak?
Shy and tender maiden, I would fain forego
All the golden future, just to keep you so.

Ah! the listening angels saw that she was fair,
Ripe for rare unfolding in the upper air;
Now the rose of dawning turns to lily white,
And the close-shut eyelids veil the eyes from sight;
All the past I summon as I kiss her brow—
Babe and child and maiden, all are with me now.
Oh! my heart is breaking; but God's love I know—
Safe among the angels, He will keep her so.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

—No grander thing can a man do than to give a helping hand to a young man who has been discouraged.

Old, Reliable, Sure,

The best and purest, is the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon." Highly recommended for medical use. Bottled only by Chester H. Graves & Sons, and sold by druggists and grocers everywhere.

—They attended the same little Episcopal church, and D——'s pew was directly in front of that of Judge Kent. Now, Judge D—— had a very slow and impressive way of repeating the responses, and sometimes lagged a little behind the rest of the congregation. Judge Kent waited one morning quietly till he got at just the right place in the service, and then as the creed was being said he leaned forward and whispered into the ear of his friend, Judge D——, not loud enough to convulse the immediate circle with unseemly laughter: "Judge D——, I wish you could manage to descend into hell a little quicker."

Abe Strauss, Esq., the well-known Stock Raiser of Lexington, Ky., says: "I recommend Liebig Co.'s Artificated Extract of Witch Hazel to all my friends. It has been used in the "thoroughbred" stables of H. B. McGrath, R. H. Owens, Lee Paul, W. B. Scully and other well known breeders and trainers and they all pronounce it the very best lotion and medicine for the horse which they have ever used, giving almost instaneous benefit. Cures breaking down, wind galls, capped and sprained hock, foot contraction and cracked hoof. Sold in 50 cents and dollar sizes; reduced rates by the half gallon or gallon. Beware of worthless imitations. Depot 60 Maiden Lane, New York.

—Mary Wise and Frank McDonnel, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, went before Alderman Barr to be married. After McDonnel had promised to take the woman to be his "wedded wife," she fell into a fit of boisterous laughter. The alderman reproved her for this "unseemly cachinnation," but she only laughed the louder. Then he discovered that she was drunk, and refused to go on with the ceremony. The half-married couple went away to drown their disappointment in strong drink; but before the asphyxiation was complete, both were arrested, and the husband is now serving thirty days in the county jail, and the bride-elect forty days. Why this discrimination?

What they come to.

Kidney troubles and liver troubles, unless checked in time by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," will end in constipation, piles, rheumatism and gravel. The latter are ailments of very serious character. "Favorite Remedy" acts upon the disordered kidneys and liver with quickness and certainty. It is nature's own device for this purpose. Ask for it when you are next in the store, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—"If you don't believe yourself I'll lock you up in the chicken-house," said a Galveston mother to her bad little boy. "You may lock me up in the chicken-house as much as you please, but I won't lay eggs; no, I won't."

The Life-Saving Service.

Mr. Sumner I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life-saving service, has made a very interesting report showing the amount and character of the work done in his department for the fiscal year which ended June 30th, 1880. During that time there were 300 disasters to vessels within reach of some of the 179 life-saving stations established along the lake and ocean coasts; 1,989 persons were upon these vessels and their lives were in peril, but only nine perished.

The vessels and cargoes endangered were valued at $3,811,708, but the total loss was but $1,191,901. Only sixty-seven vessels were a total loss. Of the vessel saved from impending danger and probably from complete ruin, 128 were piloted out of danger, or hove off when they were stranded.

There were more disasters during the year than during any previous year since the establishment of the service, but the loss of life was less than in any previous year since 1871, when the stations were first provided with life-saving apparatus; 10,010 lives, and goods valued at $12,130,215, have been saved by the crews in the past nine years.

Several modest appeals for increased aid from the government are made by Superintendent Kimball in behalf of his department, and thrilling accounts of the chief disasters of the year are furnished by members of the service who witnessed them. An appeal for the pensioning of the widows and families of the brave men who lose their lives while heroically battling to save others from watery graves is a just one, and but for the fact that the country is now being robbed of millions of dollars under a humbug pension act, this appeal would receive the serious attention which it ought.

Tragedy in North Andover, Mass.

Between one and two o'clock Wednesday morning, the 13th inst., Abiel Wilson, a wealthy bachelor living alone on the Salem turnpike at North Andover, Mass., heard footsteps in his house, and kept awake until four o'clock, when the door of his bedroom was burst open and two men rushed in. Mr. Wilson caught up his rifle, which was beside the bed, and fired at the foremost burglar, when the intruders fled down stairs.

Mr. Wilson followed, and about forty yards from the house found the dead body of Arthur Foster, a student at Phillips academy, behind a wall, the bullet having passed through the left arm and into his chest. A few minutes afterward Luther Foster, brother of the killed burglar, appeared on the scene and confessed that he and Arthur had conspired to rob the house. He said his brother fell dead after jumping from the window, and that he dragged his inanimate form to the place where it was found behind the stone wall, and then called his brother-in-law and told him of the affair. Luther was placed under arrest. In an interview he admits his guilt, and says that three weeks ago he and his brother entered the house, but that he persuaded his brother to leave without taking anything. On the floor in Mr. Wilson's room were found revolver, a box of pepper, and a heavy iron poker making it evident that it was the intention of the young men to use violence to gain possession of Mr. Wilson's money.

The parents of the young men reside in North Andover, and are among the most respected people in the town. The young men previous to this affair bore an excellent reputation, and were industrious and frugal, saving their earnings in order to secure an education. For two years they have attended Phillips academy, and are well spoken of by their preceptors. They were twins, and twenty-one years of age.

The Earthquake at Chio.

A Constantinople despatch of the 12th inst. says: "Earthquake shocks of considerable violence have begun again in Chio. It is estimated that barely twenty houses remain habitable in the whole island. Forty-five villages have been totally destroyed, and the population in many localities has entirely disappeared." The London Times correspondent in Chio, under date of April 13th, telegraphs as follows: "I have now visited or obtained information regarding nearly all the villages in the southern half of the island, and I believe the number of killed for all the villages in question does not much exceed 1,000, and is perhaps less."

News and Notes.

Miss Hattie Deuell died at Iowa City on Monday, after voluntarily starving herself for forty-seven days.

Charles Briggs, aged twenty-one years, on Monday night, April 11th, shot and killed Charles Stetson during a dance in a cider mill at Pelham, a little town four miles from Amherst, Mass. Stetson had separated from his wife partly because of Briggs' intimacy with her. Briggs took the woman to the dance, and in a quarrel between the men Briggs put three balls into Stetson's brain, either of which would have been fatal. Briggs was committed to the Northampton jail on the 13th inst. He claims that Stetson assaulted him, and he was forced to shoot. Stetson was highly respected, and aged twenty-eight years. Neither of the parties to the tragedy had been drinking.

At Newburyport, April 13th, Charles N. Aubin, a fisherman, unmarried and thirty years old, put the muzzle of a gun in his mouth and fired it off, blowing his head to pieces. He had previously told a friend that he should kill himself at four o'clock that morning, and did so.

Mrs. Wilson, late of Galveston, Texas, where she claims that three years ago her husband robbed her of a child six years old, found her little girl in Northampton, Mass., on the 12th inst.

A Chicago despatch of April 12th says: "Two old settlers of Chicago have passed away. Mark Beaubien, who came here in 1826 and achieved great fame as a tavern keeper, died this morning, aged eighty. He was the father of twenty-six children. David McKee, who came here in 1822 as a blacksmith to the United States troops, who were then the only whites on the spot, died at Aurora on Saturday, also eighty years old. His first friends here were the Pottawattamis, who owned the land."

By the premature explosion of a glycerine cartridge at West Point, N. Y., on the 12th inst., David Donney was instantly killed, Michael Broderick fatally hurt, and another man badly injured. Broderick resided at North Adams, Mass.

Mrs. Bertha M. Dennis, aged seventy-four years, was recently burned to death in Worcester, Mass., having fallen on the floor of her dwelling with a kerosene lamp in her hand.

Maj. Joseph Hawks of Goshen, Mass., dropped dead while ascending the stairs to the choir gallery in the Congregational church on Sunday morning, the 10th inst. He had been postmaster at Goshen for twenty-four years.

Michael W. Lonergan, a clerk in the Botanic drug store at Providence, R. I., has been adjudged guilty of manslaughter for putting up belladonna for extract of butternut, and so causing the death of a patient.

At Greensburg, Ind., April 12th, two whole families, the Ices and Lawrences, engaged in a fight, using pistols, knives, axes and clubs. Old man Ice was fatally wounded by Lawrence, who shot him through the left shoulder with a charge of buckshot. Lawrence himself was shot through the body with a pistol, and is expected to die from the wound. One of Lawrence's daughters was shot through the arm, and his two boys were badly beaten with clubs. Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Ice escaped with a few scratches and the loss of some hair, and the Ice girls were both pounded until they fled.

A Washington despatch says it is understood that the holders of six per cent bonds will nearly all present them to be restamped bearing three and a half per cent interest, and that Congress will not attempt to refund the bonds at the next session.

At the post-mortem examination of Miss Hattie Deuell, who starved herself to death in Iowa City, not a drop of blood was found in the body, nor an atom of sustenance in the stomach and intestines. The body weighed but forty-five pounds.

Judge John Chancey, of Winchester, Ohio, died on April 10th. He was born in 1790, was a Jackson presidential elector in 1832 and was elected to Congress in 1836, serving three terms.

The righteous Chinese-haters of California never rested until they had got a law against opium-smoking. Funnily enough, three white men in Sacramento are the first persons to be fined under the law!

John Grubb Richardson of Bessbrook, writing of the Irish question, says: "In this year of famine nearly £10,000,000 were consumed in spirituous liquors in Ireland by people who cannot pay their rents and debts." There's the rub, as usual.

New Hampshire Items.

The farmhouse and small buildings of Franklin Aiken, on Shirley hill, Goffstown, were burned Monday afternoon. The blaze started from the chimney. Loss $3000; uninsured. Mr. Aiken, aged eighty years, was burned to death. He went into a shed to get some harnesses, and was overcome by smoke and heat.

At Madbury, Monday, Charles A. Frost tried to choke his wife, from whom he has been separated for some time. Not succeeding, he fled, but was captured.

Seth P. Moore, a freight conductor on the Boston, Lowell & Nashua railroad, was run over and killed by the train at Nashua on the night of the 12th inst. He was twenty years of age, and leaves a wife, to whom he was married about a year ago, and an infant child.

The auction sale of the old state prison at Concord took place on Tuesday, the 12th inst. There were several bidders, including parties from Manchester and Worcester, Mass. The bidding started at $10,000, and reached $16,050, when it was struck off to Henry Robinson, Esq., who it is understood bid for Nahum Robinson and Oscar V. Putnam, of Concord.

"Bill" Chandler's Retort.

A pretty good story is current anent the MacVeagh and William E. Chandler unpleasantness. MacVeagh gives as a reason why Chandler should not be solicitor-general, that he was interested with Ben Butler in a large number of claim cases against the government, with which, as the first law officer of the department of justice, he would speedily be brought into embarrassing contact. A kind friend reported the objection, and probably, with equal kindness, took back the answer. "I don't remember," said Chandler, "that I have ever been connected with Butler in more than one case, and that was the defence of Gen. MacVeagh's respected father-in-law—Simon Cameron—on the breach of promise case brought against him some two years ago by the Widow Oliver."—Washington Post.

AROUND HOME.

The total loss by the recent fire at Hampton beach is given at $5,000; insurance about $3,000.

Drake, the liquor-spotter, has been pardoned out of the state prison, to which he was sent for perjury, by the governor and council.

Harper's Magazine for May is received by Moses Brothers and Willis G. Myers, and is now ready for delivery to subscribers, and for sale by the single number.

Mr. William S. Hazel on the 13th inst. had a piece taken off the end of the third finger of his left hand, by a machine with which he was trimming room paper.

At Mr. H. F. Wendell's auction store, No. 16 Congress street, on Saturday next, a large lot of furniture, carpets, etc., will be sold, the sale commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

The parsonage of the First Congregational parish at Kennebunkport was burned on Tuesday night of this week by an incendiary fire. Loss $1,000. The building was unoccupied

It is rumored now that a new steam tug is about to be built to ply between Portsmouth lower harbor and Exeter and this city. She will also "lay out" in thelower harbor on the lookout for tugging jobs.—Dover Democrat.

On Monday some person threw a stone through the window of the house occupied by Mr. William Snow on South street, scattering the glass over the room, and several pieces struck an infant, cutting it about the neck and face severely.

Mr. Charles Stewart, living on South street, in blowing out a kerosene lamp, Monday night, caused it to explode, scattering the burning oil and broken glass about the room, but fortunately no serious damage to person or property resulted.

A small audience greeted the Boston Opera Company Artists' Quartette at Franklin theatre on the evening of the 13th inst., but a good entertainment was given nevertheless, the singing being especially commendable. The performance merited a liberal patronage.

The "equestrian drama" will be presented at Music hall to-morrow evening, when Miss Maude Forrester will appear as Mazeppa. The scenery and mechanical effects used by the company in Boston are taken along with them, Miss Forrester's horse being one of the "properties."

The Boston Herald of this morning contains the following: "The Kearsarge mill corporation of Portsmouth, N. H., is said to have introduced a 'feeler' in relation to what inducements Salem would offer for a new mill to be located in Salem." As the Kearsarge mill corporation has voted to dissolve, and the chief officers have sold the company's property to themselves, at what they affirm was a grand bargain to the purchasers, the above should probably read Wm. H. Thompson, who seems now to be the only effectual "feeler" left.—Times.

The repair shop and locomotive house of the Boston & Maine railroad at Dover took fire on the roof, Monday night of this week, and before the flames were extinguished damage to the amount of $500 was done. Insured. Three locomotives in the building were gotten out unharmed by a locomotive fireman named Stephen Tebbetts. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion of oily rags and waste in a cupboard.

Major Urch is doing a large amount of work on the roads and bridges between this city and Newcastle, putting the bridges in thorough repair, and widening the roads on the islands so that two teams will be able to pass each other without difficulty at any point; he also proposes to made a good sidewalk on both islands before he stops. After he gets through with what he is now at he will turn his attention to the aquarium, which he intends to make more attractive this year that ever, and which he will have ready for public visitation early in the season.

We are told that the selectmen of Rye have not this year distributed the blank inventories to the tax-payers of the town, as the law requires to be done. The statute directs the distribution of the blanks "in hand to or left at the usual place of abode or business of every person or corporation" who the selectmen or assessors believe liable to be taxed, "on or before the twentieth day of March in each year;" and provides that "If any selectman or board of selectmen, or assessor or board of assessors, shall neglect to deliver or cause to be so delivered said blank inventory in hand," etc., "or shall willfully omit or fail to enforce any of the provisions of this chapter or of said laws, he or they shall forfeit for each offense the sum of two hundred dollars, to be recovered by any person who will first sue therefor." If our information concerning the failure of the selectmen to do their duty is correct, somebody may strike a bonanza in Rye.

The Transcript, of North Adams, Mass., informs us that Mr. A. W. Locke, formerly of Rye, has been appointed manager of the Troy & Greenfield railroad. Mr. Locke has been connected with the Hoosac tunnel and employed by the state of Massachusetts since May, 1869, when he went to the east end of the tunnel to take charge of the construction department of the tunnel at that place. He continued there for several years until the completion of the Shanley contract, when he removed to North Adams, and acted as principal assistant in charge of the tunnel during the time that B. N. Farren was finishing his contract. Subsequently Mr. Locke was appointed first engineer on the Troy & Greenfield railroad, having charge of the maintenance of way, with most of the duties of roadmaster to be filled by him also. The Transcript says "his last promotion is only an appointment of the best man for the position, as Mr. Locke probably knows more from experience and observation of the present condition, necessities and prospects of the Hoosac tunnel and its contingent railroads than any other available man."

SECOND METHODIST CHURCH, KITTERY.

This church, which has been heavily burdened with debt for the past twelve years, is now paying the entire debt. It has been so discouraged for years past that it had contemplated closing its doors, and winding up its affairs. In December last Bishop Peck visited it, and a subscription was started which has since been pressed until the whole debt of $2700 is pledged. Collections have now begun, and one-half of the whole amount will be paid the present week. The balance is to be paid in July and September.

The Ladies' Circle has rendered efficient aid in this work. It assumed $200 of the debt. A fair held the past week in Trefethen's hall netted $204, thus enabling them to promptly meet their pledge in full. They undertook the work with uncertainty, being few in numbers and representing a feeble, discouraged society, but the community gave them a liberal patronage, and they succeeded finely.

The Sunday School also made a pledge of $50, and by penny collections in the last two months has nearly paid that amount.

A feeling of hopefulness now pervades the society and church, and they expect to go on and do their full share in elevating, purifying and saving the people.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK J.

WEDNESDAY, April 13th.

The following is the list of petit jurors who are returned to serve for the first and second weeks, to report on Wednesday morning:

John S. Pike, Lyford Conner, Exeter; James M. Knapp, (excused,) Warren P. Webster, William A. Hodgdon, (excused,) Washington Freeman, (excused,) Portsmouth, ward two; Addison Carroll, George A. Perkins, Portsmouth, ward four; Eben O. Colby, George F. Billings, Derry; Henry A. Tuttle, Walter Wiggin, Newmarket; David Sloan, Charles E. Knight, Salem; Peter Lyon, South Newmarket; George A. Wiggin, Stratham; Absalom Haseltine, Windham; Charles S. Hoitt, Atkinson; Isaac F. Underhill, Auburn; John W. Dudley, Brentwood; Plummer W. Sanborn, Jonathan Pillsbury, Candia; Garland Suritt, Chester; Ransom F. Towle, Danville; Gilman M. Rand, John H. Whittier, Deerfield; Nathaniel E. Tuck, Stephen Currier, East Kingston; Jonathan Bartlett, Benjamin D. Wood, Epping.

No business was done in the forenoon.

In the afternoon, No. 23, Charles O. Towle vs. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Stone, was tried. This is an action to recover for certain charges and disbursements for keepers' fees made by Mr. Towle in October, 1875, when as a former deputy of the sheriff, he attached the property of Adna Lane of Hampton, at the time of Mr. Lane's failure, the defendant then being an attaching creditor of Lane. The case has once been referred to C. E. Batchelder as auditor, and after his report was made, Towle elected a jury trial. Jonathan Pillsbury was appointed foreman of the jury. This dispute was as to the cost of keepers over wood and two schooners attached. Towle was sued for this cost, which he had disputed. He notified the persons bringing the suits against Lane, to defend the suit against him, which they declined to do; he was obliged to pay a large sum, and now seeks to have the amount of Mrs. Stone's liability paid to him. The plantiff's evidence was put in, and one witness examined for the defendant, before the adjournment. Frink for pltf.; Lamprey and Eastman for deft.

The grand jury reported two bills just before the adjournment, one of which was against Warren for bigamy.

The grand jury are expected to report finally on Thursday afternoon.
